MR. CATCHINGS' OPINION

HE WOULD REPEAL THE MCKINLEY TARIFF BILL.

He Would Also Extend the Free List Materially and Restore the Duty on Sugar—He Also Favors An Extra Session of Congress.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Mr. Catchings, a leading member of the House Committee on Rules, is now in Washington. He is quoted in an interview as expressing the belief that the present Congress will do nothing to lessen the burdens of the incoming administration and that the new Congress will be compelled to take necessary steps to increase the revenues. He does not believe that a revision of the tariff can be successfully undertaken during the special session, but he does hold that in a special session the new Congress might properly repeal the McKinley act, thus restoring the duties of 1883. That would wipe out the sugar duties affecting a printing of $13,000,000 annually, and, at the same time, by restoring the sugar duties add about $50,000,000 to the annual revenues making the total increase of revenues approximate $65,000,000.

This increase, Catchings feels, would prevent any deficiency until after the next regular session and possibly for a longer period. Catchings would also pass the separate tariff bills that were passed last session by the House only to remain unacted upon by the Senate, and he would also add lumber and salt to the free list. The reduced prices of the necessities of life secured by the repeal of the McKinley bill would, according to his reasoning, reconcile the people to the reimposition of the sugar duties.

He favors an early special session of Congress; thinks that Crisp will be elected speaker without a protracted struggle, and believes that the pension roll could be revised with profit. Catchings says there is no danger of a "wild cat money" in the passage of a bill to remove the tax on State banks' circulation, and he favors that bill if States are obliged to insure these banks of issues.

He also favors the admission, as States, Arizona and New Mexico, and local government for Utah and Oklahoma. So far as this Congress is concerned he thought it would do no more than pass the regular annual appropriation bills.

THE LYCEUM.

"The Old and New" by Colonel Cameron Last Evening.

In an address lasting an hour, Col. J. D. Cameron entertained the members of the Lyceum society last evening with his impressions of "The Old and the New; the Past and the Present." Col. Cameron is peculiarly fitted to handle a subject of this nature in a manner that is at once scholarly and interesting. As was aptly remarked by a member of the society at the close of the address there is no man in the State better qualified for such a task. The address was warmly received by the audience.

The details of Col. Cameron's address embraced such details of domestic life, of the conveniences and comforts of present daily and nightly existence, of dress and fashions, of arts and sciences, of the transmission of the mails and the rates of postage, of the modes of travel by land and water, of the application of new inventions, of the familiar uses of scientific appliances to the facilities of labor, comfort and human conveniences, as to present startling and unexpected contrasts between the ways of the present and those of the past. Col. Cameron presented with emphasis the marvelous changes which had, within his day, marked the growth in territory and enlargement in population which had signified the progress of the United States. A population of eighteen millions had increased to sixty-five millions. A territory practically limited to the Mississippi region, had spread itself to the Pacific coast and added to our country perhaps its richest and most various productive possessions. And in connection with increase of population and expansion of territory was noted the corresponding increase in the number of an English speaking people, significant of the influence the English language is destined to hold upon the future destinies of the human race. For a language, one hundred years ago on the tongues of only thirty millions of people, is now the language of the laws, the business and the familiar intercourse of one hundred and thirty millions. The language of the Bible for centuries, if not the chosen vehicle for the diffusion of the Scriptures to the uttermost parts of the earth as the founder of the Faith destined it to go, before that fulfillment of Scripture in the end of all things comes to pass through the erroneous and precipitate readings of Totter and others called out the Democratic hosts. Chairman Harry, of the Democratic national committee, was present and was greeted with round after round of applause. Then followed speeches.

WILL TAKE A WALK

Another Fool Election Bet to be Paid Soon.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 23.—Hon. Mel Branch, member of the legislature from Columbia county (Watson's district) who was chairman of the platform committee of the People's party convention at Omaha, on his return from the joint debate between J. C. C. Black and Tom Watson, made an agreement with Joe M. White, traveling passenger agent of the Georgia Central railroad that if Black were not elected White was to walk from the court house in Augusta to the court house in Thompson, a distance of 35 miles. If he was elected Branch was to walk from the court house in Thompson to the court house in Augusta. Branch will begin his walk at an early day.

Glad Democrats There.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 23.—The series of meetings of rejoicings which the Democrats of Maryland have been engaging in rejoicing since the election of Cleveland was brought to a close last night by a grand jubilee in this city. The booming of cannon and the explosion of fireworks called out the Democratic hosts. Chairman Harry, of the Democratic national committee, was present and was greeted with round after round of applause. Then followed speeches.

A PROHIBITIONISTS' TOWN

IT SEEMS TO BE GETTING IN VERY DEEP WATER.

The First Year There Were Quick Sales of Stock and a Big Salary For Fisk, But Now Stock Sells Slow and Money is Called For

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—A late edition of the Herald says: An unpleasant alternative has been thrust upon some of the stockholders of the East Tennessee Land company. The returns on their cash investments have not been what they hoped for. Now they are asked, in a letter issued by the company, to respond "promptly and substantially" to a call for subscriptions for the "first lien preferred" stock, or to expect the appointment of a receiver for the company within 50 days.

The East Tennessee Land company was organized three years ago by leading prohibitionists with the object of founding a town that should be forever free from liquor traffic. The capital of the company was $3,000,000. The scheme was advertised in prohibition papers and $2,000,000 worth of stock was soon disposed of. The town grew and General Clinton B. Fisk, prohibition candidate for President in 1888, was the first president of the company. He received a salary of $10,000 a year. The site chosen for the town was fifty miles west of Knoxville and eighty miles north of Chattanooga. The town grew and prospered; the liquor traffic was barred by provisions of the title deed. Today the population of the town is nearly 5,000 and growing. It has two banks and four newspapers.

Cash dividends of six per cent. were paid on the stock the first year. Last year, however, the semi annual dividend was paid in stock. When the time came for the next semi annual dividend, in July last, nothing was paid. Instead it was found that the company needed more money. The third million dollars of the company's stock has not been sold. It is this which is now to be issued as "first lien preferred" stock.

RECORDER'S COURT.

Charles Mills Fined for His Delights Yesterday.

Yesterday Charles Mills, colored, got on a Camp Patton car for a ride. Charles was the only passenger on the car, and was also very drunk. He demurred when asked for his fare by Conductor Moody, but finally paid it. The conductor resumed his stand on the platform, and shortly thereafter saw Mills draw his knife and start for the door. Moody shot the door and kept Mills from assaulting him. The would-be carver was locked up and in Recorder Miller's court this morning he was fined $11.50 for his diversion.

A WORTHY CASE.

Who Will Aid This Little Girl at the Hospital?

There is a case at the Mission hospital which offers opportunity for some one's benevolence. A little girl, blind for ten years, with a cataract in both eyes, has recently undergone a successful operation in one eye, whereby the sight is restored. The small sum required for board at the hospital (she being from another county) is exhausted, and she will stand the necessity of returning to her home, only half cured, unless help is obtained. The medical attention costs her nothing and the sum of $12 or $15 will be ample to pay all expenses while under treatment, and buy her a pair of glasses, which is absolutely necessary. An investigation of this case at the hospital by those interested will satisfy all of the worthiness of the case.

W. N. C. DIRECTORS.

Annual Meeting Held in Asheville Today.

The annual meeting of the directors of the Western North Carolina Railroad company, the organization from which the road was leased by the Richmond and Danville, was held in the Battery Park bank at 11 o'clock today. The meeting was attended by A. B. Andrews, president; Frank Cox, vice-president; Geo. P. Erwin, secretary and treasurer; S. H. Wiley of Salisbury; J. W. Cooper of Murphy, and J. E. Rankin of Asheville. Very little business further than the election of officers and a directory was transacted. The old officers were re-elected. The directors for the ensuing year are: J. E. Rankin, J. W. Cooper, S. H. Wiley, Frank Cox, W. P. Clyde, John A. Rutherford, W. G. Oakman, H. W. Miller and A. B. Andrews.

From the Three Big Wheat States.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 23.—The grain men have been estimating the crop of wheat from 85,000,000 to 105,000,000 bushels for the three big wheat states, but they are all beginning to hedge now. Those who have put their figures at 100,000,000 have added from 10,000,000 to 20,000,000 more, and those who figured more than that originally have gone up as high as 130,000,000 now.

Two Died of Paralysis.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 23.—W. J. Pirkle, Third party member of the legislature from Forsyth county, died this morning from a stroke of paralysis. This is the second death in the legislature since its opening, both of paralysis. A Democrat will probably succeed Pirkle.

Sort of a Half-and-Half.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 23.—William K. Potter, Democrat, was yesterday re-elected mayor by about 1,500 majority over the Republican nominee. Both branches of the city council are Republican.

A Bismarckian Chili?

BERLIN, Nov. 23.—Emperor William is suffering from a chill. He has returned to Potsdam where he is resting.

HAS TAKEN TO THE WOODS

OFFICE SEEKERS MUST SWIM TO REACH CLEVELAND.

He Has Gone, Or Will Soon Go, to the Pine Forests of an Island Off the Coast of Virginia Where He Can Fish and Reflect.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—While President-elect Cleveland's postoffice address at present is Exmore, Virginia, a small station on the Cape Charles peninsula reached by the Philadelphia and Norfolk railroad, his real destination is believed to be Broadwater Island.

This is known upon the coast survey and locally as Hog Island. It lies twenty miles north of Cape Charles between Great Machipongo Island on the south and Little Machipongo on the north. Broadwater island is maintained as a private hunting and fishing preserve by a club of fifty leading Philadelphians. It is reached by private steam yacht belonging to the Broadwater club, running down Pocomoke creek from Exmore landing, which is two miles distant from the village of the same name. The island is eight miles long with a magnificent beach on which the government has established a light house and life-saving station. In the recesses of a pine forest which covers a part of the island the club house and several cottages have been erected. Game is abundant and the president-elect will have ample opportunity to indulge his fondness for sport.

CHINESE HIGH BLOWERS.

They Wreck a Rival Laundry, It is Believed.

WARSAW, Ind., Nov. 23.—For several years three Chinese have been running a laundry here. About a month ago, W. Davis, came here from Kentucky and started a steam laundry. He had secured a good part of the city's trade. Within the last week two attempts have been made to burn Davis' building. Suspicion pointed to the Chinese and they were watched. Last evening one of them was seen running toward the depot; he has not been seen since. A few moments later a terrible explosion was heard, caused by a large dynamite bomb being thrown into the building Davis used. The entire building was wrecked, valuable machinery smashed, and the sleeping room Davis usually occupied totally demolished. No doubt the intention was to kill Davis, but it happened that he was not in the building.

Excitement is high here and everything points to the guilt of all three of the Chinese. Every effort is being made to find the missing one, while those associated with him are under close guard.

TO HELP THE SOUTH.

And We Badly Need Thousands of the Best Immigrants.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 23.—Arrangements are being made for a meeting of the presidents of all the southeastern railways in Atlanta, Dec. 3, to take formal action with regard to a direct trade project from Southern ports, and to consider what facilities for transportation and what traffic rates can be given to induce a sufficient amount of traffic to supply a line of steamships running from southeastern ports to Liverpool and other European ports.

Col. T. P. Stovall is authority for the statement that English capitalists are willing to establish a line of steamships to European ports provided they received assurances from the railroads that will give a guarantee of freight for their ships. They perceive the opportunities for development and in case of an investment will bring over large colonies of immigrants to improve lands which they are desirous of purchasing.

TRINITY WON.

Gov. Holt Out For a Foot Ball Match in Knoxville.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 23.—The first series of inter-collegiate football games was played here yesterday between the teams of Trinity College, North Carolina, and the Alabama State University. Score: Trinity 34, Alabama 6.

A CALAMITY.

The Cotton Crop is Very Short, Says Nell.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23.—Henry M. Nell's circular on the cotton crop, places his estimate at 650,000 bales. He says: "During the last two weeks we have received careful and complete reports from almost the entire cotton country. The unanimous opinion is that the shortage is so great as to amount to a real calamity."

Gov. Hoies' Ambition.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 23.—A conference of the Democratic party from all parts of the State was held here today. As a result Gov. Hoies is to be urged for a cabinet appointment to give him a good start in the race for the United States senatorship.

The Coy Thing!

TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 23.—Mrs. Lease, who arrived in town last night, said concerning the use of her name in connection with the United States Senatorship: "I shall not enter a race for the place. The office should seek the woman as well as the man."

South Carolina Railway to be Sold

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 23.—Judges Goff and Simonton have handed down a decree ordering the sale of the South Carolina railway April 11.

Kenna Getting Along.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Senator Kenna is considerably improved this morning.
