A DAY WITH THE MISSION

HOW THE DISPENSERS OF CHARITY WORK.

there Was a Rush all Day Yester day, and Hundreds of Poor People Were Supplied-The City ols' Volunteer Relief Corps.

The Flower Mission and the Emergency Pund committee are, just now, oases in the desert lives of many a poor person in Asheville. The Mission central office, on Spruce street, was the Mecca toward which the eyes of men and of funds on Thursday had been told of all men, and the glad tidings had entered the house of the poorest as well as the palace of the wealthy man who read of he noble response in his evening CITIZEN. And the crowd!

It was a procession along Spruce street rom 11 o'clock in the morning till 6 o'clock in the afternoon. Never before had that usually quiet street had such a bustling appearance. Never before had the Mission office been besieged by such the Mission office been besieged by such a hungry, eager crowd as that which stood about the door.

The visitors—sometimes old men or old women, with the terrible word Hunger all too plainly written on their faces—went to the office with an expectant look, and came away with the smile of realization of some cherished hope. Frequently they came away with packages under their arms, while in other instances they carried orders to merchants of the city for articles such as were not at the city for articles such as were not at the office. Little ones, too, there were, sent by parents who probably could not leave their rooms. The little fellows, many of whose faces betokened scanty food, huddled together, stamped their feet, and breathed upon their benumbed fingers, while waiting for their turn at the office counter.

The crowd was so great that the little The crowd was so great that the little office was filled to overflowing, and a plan was adopted of admitting only a few at a time. In the office during the day were Miss Chester, the president of the Flower Mission, Mrs. Tucker, Mrs. Carmichael, Mrs. Ward, Miss Chapman, Mrs. Barnard, Miss Collins and Mrs. Lee, and the crowd's wants were attended to as rapidly as willing hands tended to as rapidly as willing hands could render the service. The name of every applicant was registered as he or she was served, and those not known were put through a close examination.
In various portions of the office were stowed away barrels of flour, meat, etc., and from these bundles were made up and from these bundles were made up and the applicants for charity were sent away with hands full of lood and hearts full of thankfulness to the noble ladies of the Mission and the generous public, without whose aid the organization could do little.

There was a crowd in the store of Chairman J. D. Brevard, or the disbursing committee, all day. The names of applicants were recorded and the applicants were sent to the Flower Mission with the request that the Mission give the bearer an order on the "emergency fund" for whatever was necessary, if found deserving. aid but who could not reach the Mission and for these cases the services of some on were needed, in carrying packages. The offer made by Prof. P. P. Claxton yes terday, to send a number of school boys our candidate for the Mexican terday, to send a number of school boys to deliver packages, was, therefore, doubly welcome. The matter was proposed before the school sclosed yesterday, and a number of boys volunteered. As soon as relieved of school duties the Volunteer Relief Corps, wearing badges of blue ribbon, went to the Mission office and were soon hurrying over the city with bundles, working with an earnestness that showed that their hearts were in it. They carried happiness into many in it. They carried happiness into many homes, and none were happier than these boys. The volunteers from the white boys. The vo

"PROCESSIONING DAY."

A Custom of Long Ago in East

The introduction of a bill in the North Carolina Legislature looking to the repeal of the law establishing "processioning day" brings to the attention of the public a very peculiar custom that obtained long ago in the eastern part of the State.

F. A. Sondley, esq., of this city, gives THE CITIZEN some facts concerning this old law. It was the custom in olden of the desert lives of many a poor person in Asheville. The Mission central office, on Spruce street, was the Mecca toward which the eyes of men and women, boys and girls, of both races, were turned.

The news of the generous outpouring The news of the generous outpouring to the street of the st ive properties. In cases of this kind the matter was taken to the clerk of th court, and a jury of six ordered to estab-lish the correct boundaries. What this jury said was final, and with its decision the parties to the controversy must

THE KINDERGARTEN.

Asbeville the Ploneer in Thi

Asheville has made a good beginning with four Free Kindergartens, and a normal training class of twelve members. It is the first city in the State to take up the work, and it is watched with deep interest by educators throughout the State. Many encouraging words of hope and wishes for success come to the association from friends of the cause all over the Union.

That "the Kindergarten solves the problem of pauperism and crime" is the verdict of every thoughtful man and wo-man in these times. Recent articles in the Century, Overland Monthly, Chris-tian Union and the foremost newspapers show the powerful hold this movement has upon the public mind. Every friend of the work in this city will wish that success may attend the efforts of the band of noble women who have made Asheville the pioneer in the State in this good work.

BURNED THE SLEEPER.

Passengers Injured In Rallway Wreck. HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 21.—At Ducklow, the first station east of Skelton, this morning about 4 o'clock the fast train going east stopped to repair an air back. Then the second section creaked brake. Then the second section crashed on the all-absorbing subject taught. into it, demolishing the Williamsport sleeper, in which were four passengers. The car caught fire and was partially destroyed. Prof. Henry W. Rolfe, assistant professor of English literature in the University of Pennsylvania, was seriously hurt. Arthur A. Stern, wholesale eweler, New York, was injured about the hips; two others were hurt.

Washington, Jan. 18 .-- North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Texas have its salary attachment of $17,000 annually. The North Carolinians are making vigorous efforts to impress upon Mr. Cleveland that Mr. Wm. M. Robbins of that State, who was a member of the Forty-third, Forty-fourth, and the Forty-third, Forty-fourth, and the Forty-fifth Congresses, is the proper man for the place. His friends declare that he is as well qualified, if not better, than any one yet mentioned for the place, being a scholar, a statesman, and a soldier. PUBLIC BUILDINGS

A Large Amount of Public Funds Expended in That Way.

Washington, Jan. 21-In response to a House resolution calling for information as to what public buildings, appropriated for by this Congress and preceding Congresses, have been in part or in whole contracted for, and what other building have been appropriated for without any steps being taken up to the present time to carry the law into effect by awarding contracts, some rather startling figures are supplied by the treasury department. Contracts have been entered into for a partial work or for the completion of public buildings to the amount of $2,125,000.

The World's Fair and Sunday. WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 .- In the Senate today among numerous petitions on the subject of opening the World's Fair on Sunday, was one signed by Archbishop Sunday, was one signed by Archosnop Kendrick and Vicar General Brady, of the Roman Catholic church, Bishop Tutle, of the Episcopal church, and many other citizens of St. Louis, Mo., favoring its opening after 12 o'clock Sundays, and one from ministers of the Methodist-Episcopal church, South, of St. Louis against the Sunday opening.

GOV. CARR TO BUSMIT A PAPER THEREON.

Resolutions Embodying the Bes Thought of the Conterence Adopted-Convicts Should Be Employed-Speeches by Prominent North Carolinians.

RALEIGH, Jan. 19.-The campaign of education on the road question has been opened, and the speeches in the Road Congress today showed that the people have determined to grapple with the curse of bad roads, and will remove the incubus to the progress and prosperity of North Carolina.

The large number of responses to roll call at the opening session was a sur-come said he regarded the present sys-tem of working the roads as a signal fail-ure, and that he was so much interested in the questions to come before the Con-gress that he would at an early date submit a paper on the subject for the consideration of the Legislature. After the election of permanent officers the Congress was invited to continue its session in the House of Representatives, and the shivering delegates waded through the snow to that point. When ex-Governor Holt appeared on the platform he was given a warm reception, and in response to a call he stated his position to be that of an internal im-provement man; he suggested the great diversity of the needs in the various sections of the State, and counselled pru dent and conservative measures of relief The Committee on order of Business, of which Charles McNamee is a member, reported the following subjects at the afternoon session:

1. The benefit of good roads, and the yalues saved by their use.

2. Is there any need at this time for the improvement of our public roads? The special reasons therefor.

3. The kind of roadways needed in various parts of North Carolina, and the best manner of keeping them in repair.

4. Ways and means for building good permanent public roads and maintain ng them.

Suggestions for future organiza ion and miscellaneous subjects. Many resolutions thereunder were re ferred to the Committee on resolutions

An elaborate array of facts and figures relative to the building and maintenance of the macadam roads of Mecklenburg, was presented by W. E. Ardry and S. H. Hilton.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Jan. 21.—A bad accident is reported at Alton, on the Chicago and Alton road. A passenger train dashed into a train of oil cars, wrecking them, and setting fire to wreck.

The following resolutions were adopted:

"Resolved, first, That it is the sense of this Congress that the public roads should be constructed and kept up by taxation upon all the subjects of taxation, within the respective counties, partly by requiring labor from those subject to road duty, partly by the use of convict labor as hereafter declared.

convict labor as hereafter declared. "Second, That it is the sense of this Congress that the labor of said convicts as are not required by law to be imprisoned in the State penitentiary should be employed in the construction and improvement of the public roads. That in favorite sons, all of whom are willing the counties in which convicts are nume to accept the Mexican mission, with ous enough to be economically employed we suggest that the convicts, including those convicted of misdemeanor and sen tenced, to work out fines and costs, be turned over to and worked by the counties; in others we advise that the convicts be sentenced to the penitentiary and worked in detachments under management of that institution or of the counties being employed in those counties to be designated in some manner to be provided by law in which the whole of the expenses shall be borne by such counties or so much thereof as the legislature may determine.

'Third, That there should be such county commissioners in every county to employ a competent engineer, an expert in road building, to supervise and direct the work of road improvement upon all the public roads in the counties; that every county should own improved machinery for road making: If desired, several counties may unite in the employment of a civil engineer."
