THE BIG SIX. An Important Omission. and How It Happened.

The Board of Aldermen held a short meeting, just to keep up its end of the procession. There were present several hucksters, all of whom became especially Church St. and Patton Ave. interested when they heard a call for the minutes of the meeting in which was adopted the hucksters' ordinance. And as the reading progressed a smile came over the faces present, because of a very important omission. Only five words, it is true, but just the words the omission of which made the ordinance an ironclad all-wool-and-never-run-down-at-the-heel order. It read that the sold with

Mr. Gudger wanted to show that the southwestern portion got very little paying, and, more particularly, desired that the board should grade French Broad avenue, on which he lives, extend the water main, and make a sidewalk. Then the inhabitants of that street would be satisfied.

The Mayor—"You ought to have an Alderman on the Board."

"Well" replied Mr. Gwyn, "if you will leave this question of paving alone until we get an Alderman I will say no more." He continued then, to explain how the Board should pave only the thoroughtares, and then do a great deal of sidewalk work on the side streets. He said that when the $500,000 of bonds were voted it was thought that we could sued the city for damages because of a fall she received several years ago on Merrimon avenue. The jury of the lower court decided in favor of the city. The decision of the lower court in the case of Ducker vs. Whitson, administrator, was affirmed. The judgment was for the payment of $400 by the detendant.

LONDON, Feb. 11.-The Allan Line steamer Pomeranian, from Glasgow, January 27, via. Mowile for New York, has returned to Greenock, after losing a number of its crew and passengers in a heavy storm.

The Pomeranian was about 1,150 niles westward from Glasgow, when she encountered weather of unusual severity. The gales increased with great suddenness on February 4, until a heavy sea unexpectedly swept over the deck, carrying everything before it. The deck saloon, chart house, bridge and boats were smashed and swept away by the tremendous force of the waves.

When the sea had passed over, the decks were the scene of ruin, and the shricks of the perishing sailors and passengers could be heard in the waves that surged about the dismantled steamer.

Captain Dalziel was on the bridge when the avalanche of water struck the vessel. He was swept from his post and dashed against the bulwarks, where he lay stunned and helpless. Mates John Cook and John Hamilton, also on the bridge with the captain, were swept out to sea and drowned. Besides the first and second officers named, two quartermasters the stewards, four first-cabin passengers the stewards, four first-cabin passengers and one second-cabin passenger perished by drowning. James and Lillian Ginson of Dalkeith, Jane Coffery of London-derry and John Stewart of Glasgow, were the first-cabin passengers lost.
