THE GOLD RESERVE.

Sherman's Silver Law Must be Repeated.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The Senate finance committee has decided to report favorably Sherman's proposition providing for the issue of five year, three per cent. bonds to maintain gold reserve.

Secretary Charles Foster returned from New York this morning. He said, in answer to a question, that there was not at this time any probability of his resigning bonds to build up a gold reserve. He felt that he could continue to secure all the gold necessary to meet foreign shipments for some time yet to come.

He said the financial world in New York was a unit for the repeal of the Sherman silver law which they said would immediately put a stop to the export of gold.

Secretary Foster held this conversation while walking from the treasury to the White House to lay before a Cabinet meeting the result of his conference with New York bankers.

CLEVELAND'S CABINET.

As it stands now subject to change.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Mr. Cleveland is said to be very much surprised at the show of hostility to Judge Gresham's appointment on the part of some of the Democratic members of Congress. He is said to feel that in the selection of his Cabinet ministers, his own wishes should govern him entirely. In the matter of the other appointments in his gift he is said to feel differently.

As it stands now Judge Gresham will be Secretary of the Treasury; John G. Carlisle, Secretary of the Treasury; Daniel S. Lamont, Secretary of War; Wm. L. Wilson, Attorney General; W. S. Bissell, Postmaster General; Hillary Herbert, Secretary of the Navy; Hoke Smith, Secretary of the Interior, and Secretary of Agriculture yet to be chosen.

NOT THE ALDERMAN.

But Dr. J. S. T. Baird who is a Candidate for P. M.

Alderman Baird tells THE CITIZEN that the item printed yesterday in regard to his candidacy for the postmastership was an erroneous statement. "Why," he says, "I have had no petition out, and more than that, I have not thought of such a thing."

Mr. Baird is known by everybody as "Doctor," and this fact caused the mistake. THE CITIZEN's informant stated that he had seen Dr. Baird's petition, and it was supposed that the Alderman was referred to. It turns out, however, that Dr. J. S. T. Baird, who lives on Benavard, was meant.

DID YOU GET A VALENTINE?

IF YOU DID NOT, YOU'RE NOT IN THE FASHION.

Many of Asheville's Well Known People Received the Missives That Cheer But Don't Incubate —Some of the Inscriptions.

St. Valentine's day—"lovers' day"— has come again. This information can scarcely be called news. For who is there, interested in the coming of this festival every year, that has not known of the approach of the day; aye, that has not counted the hours, almost, until the arrival of the time when they might send to some loved one a dainty white missive, conveying the compliments of the day, or the message, veiled though it might be, telling of an affection that was more than mere friendship?

The postmen, in many cases, were the most anxiously awaited fellows in town today. Many a fairy form waited by the window and watched for the carrier, and, seeing him, ran lightly to the door and received the expected valentine—or valentines, for, you know, there is no law which says a girl may not receive valentines from more than one fellow.

Although the fair sex received the bulk of the valentines today (which, of course, THE CITIZEN could not print in a month) they did not receive all, by any means. And it is some of those that the girls did not receive, that this paper has got hold of and proposes to print.

From Hapel Hill, not a thousand miles from Asheville, came a valentine to Chas. A. Webb, from which this rhyme is taken:

There's a name that's never spoken Unless "we" boys are joking—Then it's spoken in a whisper And with pity, that is all;
We have got her on the list now And, though we sang unto her just now, We can never, hardly ever, Say "Asheville."

W. B. Gwyn, who cast some reflections on the importance of Atkin street received this:

Hey diddle-de-diddle,
The cat and the fiddle;
They're not going to pave Grove street.
The Advisory Board laughed And said "Why, he's daft—Our city, when paved can't be beat."

The initials H. C. H. appeared on the paper, and Mr. Gwyn has his suspicions.
Of course somebody was sure to remember Mayor Blanton, and that dignitary received a valentine that was pink tinted, hand painted, and bore this burst of heart-throb:

Chas. Blanton, on a winter's day Devised a plan to make some hay.
He ran a paper (in his mind), But never a copy can you find.

Tarara, etc.

The "swift-paver," John S. Key, laughed till he showed his solid gold tooth when he opened his mail and ran across this:

There was a lightning paver And his name was John S. Key—And he had a golden tooth, And he was a bustling youth—Some days he'd pave a mile perhaps—And perhaps it might be less.
He'd hang up when it rained a pint
And the workmen rest;
But now he's got a gait on him And the financial world in New York Is a unit for the repeal of the Sherman silver law which they said would immediately put a stop to the export of gold.

Secretary Foster held this conversation
while walking from the treasury to the White House to lay before a Cabinet

RECORDERS COURT.

A Case of Obstructing the Sidewalks of the City.

In Recorder Miller's court this morning Chas. Arnold, colored, was up for cutting Maria Williams, also colored, on the arm with a knife. The affair occurred on Poplar street. Arnold was sent up in default of a $100 bond.

Ren Haney, Dr. S. W. Battle's hostler, was arraigned for obstructing the sidewalk. Haney was in a crowd at the intersection of Eagle and South Main streets yesterday, and when Patrolman Glenn ordered the crowd to disperse, as it was blocking the walk, Haney refused and became very impudent. The Recorder reserved his decision until he could hear a statement from Dr. Battle, at the latter's request.

A pistol carrier was fined $30, a drunk $5 and a violation of section 802 $2.
Referring to the Haney case Mr. Miller said he thought it was about time a stop was put to the obstruction of sidewalks, especially about the square, by crazies. THE CITIZEN hears of a case that happened yesterday, while two or three patrolmen were near the square.

Three ladies wished to go down South Main from north court place, but on account of the crowd on the sidewalk in front of the court house, were forced to take to the muddy street. Mr. Glenn's endeavors to abate this nuisance are worthy of emulation by every member of the force.

MME. DE LESSEPS SPEAKS.

"The Enormity of the Sentence"

Commented On.

PARIS, Feb. 14.—The Figaro publishes an interview with Mme. Ferdinand de Lesseps obtained since the conviction and sentence of her husband. She said that her husband was very weak. A week ago he was seized with a delirium that lasted for a day. Then he had a stroke and had since remained in a state of coma. Mme. de Lesseps said:

"I prefer this result. It is a fitting climax that both father and son should be condemned. The very enormity of the sentences the better protects our honor than less thorough-going justice would have done."

"I do not need consolation, for I have reached the end of my Calvary. Nevertheless there is one thing above all I cannot forgive, and that is before striking at such a man they waited until physical infirmity had rendered it impossible for him to defend himself. It is better perhaps that Ferdinand de Lesseps should be unable to know the frightful character of the blow."

HOME RULE BATTLE ON

GREAT DEMONSTRATION IN GLADSTONE'S HONOR.

House of Commons Members Rush To Their Seats Like Cattle Into a Fresh Spring Pasture—An Old Man Trampled On.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—Timothy Harrington has sent circulars to members of the National League requesting them to send delegates to a convention of Parle-mentaries to be held in Dublin just before the second reading of the home rule bill.
The object of the convention will be to decide upon the acceptance or repudiation of the home rule bill by the Parlementary members of the House.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—From early morning the scene in the palace yard, Westminster, was one of the most animated descriptions. A crowd assembled to watch the arrival of members. H. J. Folly, nationalist member for Cymru was first to arrive, closely followed by David Sheep, secretary of the first National Federation. When noon arrived the inner lobby was packed with members and the approaches were crowded. When the doors were opened there was a disorderly rush for seats, the members
