

HE IS NOT A CANDIDATE

JUDGE CARTER DOES NOT WANT A SECOND TERM.

J. S. McElroy and Thos. A. Jones Applicants for the Office—Who the Candidates for the Other Offices Are.

It was three months from Monday, as months run, until the time for the election of officers of the Criminal court of Buncombe county.

It may be a little early for candidates, but they are in the field, nevertheless, and the race is to be the strongest in the estimation of the magistrates of the county.

One thing may be set down as being settled, however, and that is that Judge H. B. Carter, who will have held the office two years in June, will not be a candidate for re-election. This may be relied upon, because THE CITIZEN had it from the lips of Judge Carter himself yesterday afternoon. The judge was very emphatic in saying that he would not be a candidate. "When I say I will not be a candidate for the judgeship," he said, "I mean for the declaration to be taken in its fullest sense. I will not run again, nor would I accept the honor if it were given me."

This retractions of the part of the judge leaves the field between Col. J. S. McElroy and Thos. A. Jones, esq.; that is, these gentlemen are the only candidates known up to date. Col. McElroy is well known in Buncombe and Asheville legal circles. Mr. Jones is a prominent young member of the Asheville bar, and has for several years been the Asheville Street Railway company's attorney.

For the Solicitorship there are so far three candidates—Eug. D. Carter, Henry B. Stevens and J. H. Tucker. Mr. Carter is the present incumbent and has held the office for four years, since the establishment of the court. Mr. Stevens is one of Asheville's youngest lawyers, but is moving toward the front ranks in the profession. Mr. Tucker is a member of the law firm of Tucker & Murphy, and removed from the eastern part of the State a couple of years ago. He is already prominent in his profession here.

So far as is now known, J. R. Patterson is the only candidate for the clerkship. Mr. Patterson has held the position since the court was established, and has discharged the duties faithfully and efficiently.

SWANNANOVA HUNT.

The Inaugural Meet Yesterday Afternoon.

About fifty carriages, drags, and buckboards assembled yesterday afternoon on a knoll back of Tahkeestee farm, to witness the start in the inaugural run of the Swannanovia hunt. Scattered here and there in the field were some seventy-five horsemen and horsewomen waiting for the hounds to be thrown off. At about 3:30 the hounds were given the scent and quickly went away at a pace which made following them something like a steeplechase. But across the fields to a wood they went, through this to a ravine and across, going in the direction of Sulphur Springs. The field swept on in pursuit, and there were some falls, but no one was hurt. In the fields overlooking the race-track a check occurred, but the scent was soon picked up. Presently they turned towards the starting point, and after a spirited run of some thirty minutes, caught in full view of the spectators in carriages.

There was some rather reckless, not to say careless, riding, and one hound was overridden and seriously hurt. But in time it is hoped that the zealous sportsmen will have a cure about this, for no hounds can run if in constant dread of being overridden.

If the weather permits, another meet will occur this week, and at least twice a week during the remainder of the season.

INSPECTOR BREVARD

He Asks That Both Sides be Looked At.

Sanitary Inspector Brevard, speaking of the discussion caused by his monthly bill presented to the Board of Aldermen Friday, told THE CITIZEN today that in justice to himself both sides of the question should have been considered. He says the receipts for the department for last month were about $120, a great deal more than was ever collected in the same length of time before he went into the office. Regarding the winding up of the teams, Mr. Brevard says they are paid for at the same rate as other teams, and in using his own teams he is always sure of being able to send them out whenever necessary. It frequently occurs that teams cannot be procured at times when he needs them most, and in cases of this kind his teams can be put into service on short notice.

A SMALL FIRE.

The Oil Stove Once More Gets in His Work.

The Mission board of the First Baptist church wished to hold a meeting in the pastor's study last evening and about 6 o'clock the janitor fired up an oil stove to heat the room. In a few minutes the janitor heard an explosion and rushing to the study saw bits of the stove flying through the air, while the carpet was on fire. He ceased water with which to fight the fire while someone who was near ran to box 462, in front of Powell & Snider's, and turned in an alarm. The department turned out, but did nothing, as the fire had been extinguished in a short time. A few yards of carpet were ruined and the stove was wrecked.

Harris' Lithia Water.

The attention of the public is called to the testimonials of Dr. A. N. Tally of Columbia, S. C., and Judge J. B. Kershaw and Judge J. S. Cothran as to the virtues of the Harris Lithia Water. Dr. A. N. Tally is one of the most noted physicians of South Carolina, and the testimonial of such a famous physician speaks volumes for this noted water. The analysis made by Prof. R. Ogden Doremus, M. D., LL. D., of the College of the City of New York shows this water to be superior to any other water known. Noted physicians from all parts of the country are testifying to the superiority of the Harris Lithia water to any other water. This water is largely handled by the Pelham Pharmacy of Asheville.

SPIRITS ON THE STAGE.

Dr. Eddy to Give Manifestations in Full Gaslight Tonight, March 8.

Dr. J. Eddy, the famous medium, who has been exciting a great deal of comment and drawing large audiences through the South, will make his appearance in the Grand opera house tonight. Dr. Eddy proposes to demonstrate spirit power in full gaslight. He comes with endorsements from many sources, and he promises an evening of delightful entertainment. He proposes to fully demonstrate the methods employed by such spirit mediums as Maud Lord, Mrs. Hoffman, Professor Taylor, Charles Cook, Richard Bishop, Dr. Arnold and others, in plain open light, and every possible means will be used to enlighten the audience. Dr. Eddy is a mysterious being who has mystified the world by his superhuman power. He apparently defies all laws, natural and spiritual, and produces such unbounded evidence as to convince either the believer or the unbeliever. The manifestations which take place in his presence have been submitted to the cool, bright steel of scientific minds, who experience nothing but fact. Not a member among them but who says that in presence of Dr. Eddy there is a wonderful intelligence outside of the physical body which can annihilate space. But what that power is there is a diversity of opinion. Some scientific men have believed there was a grain of truth in the claims of spiritualism. It was believed more on account of the want of power to deny it than anything else. The idea that under some strained and undened possibilities the spirit of mortal man may communicate with the spirit of the departed man is something that many are prone to believe, anything that is written or said on the subject is of interest to them. A small admission fee will be charged.

Everybody going on the Sulphur Springs line notice that car will leave Sulphur Springs last trip at 5:30 p. m., instead of 4:30 as formerly.

AT THE GRAND.

The attraction at the Grand on Friday evening will be "Zozo," the Magic Queen, a revival of the immensely popular spectacular play. The Buffalo Courier thus criticizes the production: "Zozo," the Magic Queen, drew a large audience last evening. The play is a sailor's yarn, with the usual humorous improbabilities and exaggeration, and is presented in three acts. The scenery is the best ever seen in Buffalo, and, by the aid of strong calcium lights, is made to present a gorgeous spectacle. The loved and loving sovereign of the fairy realm, "Zozo," whose enchanted wand rules the flower land and its pretty occupants, and her favorite and bearer of the talisman, are two charming ideal characters. The demon captain of the Queen's Guards looks as though he might really be a demon, and acts his part well. The military parade of the Queen's Guards was one of the most pleasing features of the play. The Librettist presented elicited the admiration of all, and the musical part of the performance was above the average.
