A DESTRUCTIVE CYCLONE

IT DOES MUCH DAMAGE IN TENNESSEE.

Trees are uprooted and houses are blown down. But fortunately very few fatalities have been reported.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 24.—The path of a cyclone which entered Tennessee yesterday afternoon in a southwesterly direction from Mississippi appears to have been about 20 miles in width, although serious damage was confined to a much smaller area. The wires are down in all directions. There is no telegraphic communication with Nashville and intervening points and little news is obtainable from places visited by the cyclone. This city barely escaped. A heavy rain fell and a high wind blew at the time the cyclone raged and it became as dark as night for thirty minutes. Heavy damage was done to trees and small outbuildings. The train from Birmingham, Ala., arrived late last night and the passengers report much damage between here and Bahia, 20 miles east.

At 2:30 o'clock this morning a wire at Kelly, Miss., was tapped and the details telegraphed show that the early reports were not exaggerated. Not a house escaped the storm's fury and only a few are left standing and they are badly damaged. The house of Roland Cox was lifted bodily and blown away, not a piece of timber was left. The house of Robert Stevens was levelled to a heap of ruins. The residence of D. N. Harris, a wealthy planter was wrecked and the houses of his tenants were blown away. Three houses belonging to S. Hudnell were blown down.

The wind indulged in a queer freak with the dwelling house of C. B. Boggs which formerly faced north, still stands in a damaged condition, but now faces south.

VICKSBURG, Miss., March 24.—Additional cyclone news received from passengers on the night train, which left Memphis says the storm spent its force between Tunica and Shaw's station, which are about 70 miles apart and on the railroad. At Shaw's some stores were blown down and a few people wounded. At Tunica the cyclone was seriously damaged, a church and other buildings destroyed and a house of negro children blown to pieces. Many children were hurt, but none killed.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., March 24.—A terrible cyclone swept over this city last night at 7:45 o'clock. Great damage was done. The Louisville and Nashville round house was totally wrecked. About fifteen engines of the Louisville and Nashville were badly damaged. No lives were lost. William Ford's new building, one of the handsomest of the city, was unroofed, as were others.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 24.—A severe storm swept across the Mississippi delta yesterday morning doing considerable damage to early crops. One man was killed at Kelly's and another injured by a falling building. The damage elsewhere was not so property only.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 24.—A severe wind and rain storm swept over Nashville last night doing much damage to the northern part of the city. In south Nashville a store filled with people was blown down and a number injured. One boy was killed and another will die.

LAND FOR THE PEOPLE

Secretary Hoke Smith Makes His First Decision

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Secretary Hoke Smith today rendered his first land decision. It was the case of the Southern Pacific railroad company, and involved the question of the right of that company to lands within its granted limits, and the limits of the grant to the Atlantic and Pacific railroad company, basing its claim on the ground that the latter company never complied with the requirements of its grant in the matter of locating its road and the forests which it pledged to maintain. The Secretary holds that the Southern Pacific company had acquired no title to the lands in question under its grant. This decision operates to open these lands, aggregating many thousands of acres in southern California to settlement and entry. The commissioner of the general land office is accordingly directed to take such steps as may be necessary to restore them to the public domain.

ITS DOWNFALL CONCEDED.

The Third Party a Thing of the Past.

ATLANTA, March 23.—In an interview today with Hon. Thos. E. Wynn, Peoples party ex-Congressman from the Ninth Georgia district, he announces that there is room for only two great parties and says that if the Democrats carry out in good faith their platform the Peoples party will give them full credit and act accordingly.

Hon. Thos. E. Wynn, the most notable Third party leader in Georgia, takes the same position, saying that if the pledges made by the Democratic party in its national platform on which the party won are carried out, the people ought to be satisfied. The announcement of these interviews are received with interest here, indicating that the Third party of the South will rapidly go to pieces if the Democratic party stands squarely on its platform.

Killed by 'Jennie the Hugger.'

SAGINAW, Mich., March 21.—William Smith of this city, was thrown to the ground last night by a woman who caught him round the neck. While on the ground he was nearly smothered by kisses. The woman was tall and her face was fair and smooth, and yet she was apparently as strong as a man. She is supposed to be the same one that a few weeks ago came to be known as "Jennie the Hugger." For Jennie assaulted several young men the same way.—New York World.

Clayton's Slayer Not Arrested.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 24.—The murderer of John M. Clayton, of Arkansas, has not been arrested, as reported a few days ago, there having been a mistake made in the identity of a man arrested in Butte, Mont.

"ONE PISTOL ENOUGH."

That is All Jailer Jamison Wants in a Cell

Everybody has been talking of the plucky fight made yesterday by Jailer W. H. Jamison and his wife against the four men who made such a daring rush for freedom, and the bravery of Mrs. Jamison is especially commented upon. Had she been less prompt, Whittemore and Lewellyn would doubtless have reached the open air, after which their capture would have been a question. Whittemore, when the pair approached the main door, carried the keys in one hand and the jailer's pistol in the other, having wrested them from him during the fight in the cell. In another moment the key would have been fitted by the lock and these two men would have had nothing between them and liberty except a flight of stairs and a low plank fence. Had they once gotten outside the main door, who would say that these men, each of whom has killed his man, would have hesitated at the commission of another crime, perhaps the killing of the jailer's wife, in order to effect their liberty?

Mrs. Jamison is a small, pleasant-faced woman of 26 years, and such a thing as fear is something she has yet to be introduced to. Her maiden name was Brooks, and she was born and reared in Hancock, 10 miles west of Asheville. The farm on which she spent her girlhood is now owned by her husband.

Mrs. Jamison has held the position of jailer's wife for five years. In all this time not one prisoner left in his care has escaped. He is 47 years old, and has proven that he is "clear grit." "Some one told me yesterday, 'If I were in your place I would take a dozen pistols into the cells with me.' The jailer laughed and shook his head. 'One is enough,' he said, 'for there is always another one outside the cells that can be trusted,' referring to the pistol in the hands of his wife.

The attempted escape yesterday emphasizes more forcibly the recommendation of the grand jury of the last Criminal court—that a wall be built about the jail. As it stands now, the prisoner who might be so lucky as to get into the jail yard would have nothing to separate him from freedom except a plank fence, the scaling of which would be the work of only an instant.

SUPERIOR COURT.

The Garrett-Boyd Case—New Trial of the Jordan Case.

The Garrett vs. Boyd suit in the Superior court was one involving a tract of perhaps 2,000 acres of land on Big Sandy Mtn. Years ago it was sold at sheriff's sale for John Garrett's debt, the purchasers being Thos. and Hugh Johnston. Several years afterward John Garrett wished to repurchase the land, or a part of it, and he claimed to have one of the defendant's in this suit, money with which to make the purchase. Boyd bought the land, but had the deed made out to Elizabeth Boyd. Garrett asked that the court decree that Mrs. Boyd be declared trustee for the reconveyance of the land to Garrett. The suit was decided in Garrett's favor. The land will figure in a suit in next court, Garrett being the defendant and Edward Burnett, who bought some of the land from the Johnston's, the complainant.

In the court this morning a nonsuit was taken in the case of D. E. Herndon, administrator, vs. E. Baird and others. The court is now hearing the case of Mrs. M. A. Jordan vs. City of Asheville, for damages. The case has been to the Supreme court, and the plaintiff was granted a new trial.

COUNTY ALLIANCE.

Regular Quarterly Meeting to Be Held April 13.

D. A. Blackwell, president, and B. Plamondon, secretary, of the Buncombe county Farmers' alliance, issue the following notice:

"The regular quarterly meeting of the Buncombe county Alliance will be held in Asheville on the second Thursday in next month, April 13. It is important that a full attendance be present, especially one from every sub-alliance in the county whether the sub-alliance in good standing or not, and as this meeting will, in the main, be public it is desired that all farmers interested in the general welfare of their vocation be present. Several questions of importance will be considered upon which immediate action is necessary.

"Col. A. Q. Holladay, president of the North Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical college, is expected to address the public on a subject in which all are interested. Let's have even a better meeting than our last, if possible."

IT MOVED!

If You See It in 'The Citizen' It's Sure to Work.

The expected has happened. The road machine that so long ago pitched its ungainly shape on southeast court place and refused to be moved, has gone the way that must be traveled by everything that cumbers the square. Capt. W. G. Carpenter, who owns the machine, mounted it about 1:30 this afternoon, and, calling to his aid a driver and a stout pair of mules, sounded the alarm to the crowd that was playing marbles near and moved away triumphantly. There was no music, but everybody on the square noted the changed appearance of things, and a feeling of dreamy gladness came over them as they contemplated the improvement. Six semper road machines!

Eustis Thinks Different Now.

From the New York World.

The nomination of ex-Senator Eustis to be Minister to France is rather surprising to those who remember the vigorous way in which he tried to read Mr. Cleveland out of the Democratic party, during the President's former term, as "a conspicuous and humiliating failure."

THE SOLID EARTH SANK

A TREMENDOUS CONVULSION OF NATURE.

A Great Mountain Ridge Sinks—A Volcanic Eruption Together With an Earthquake—Crops Destroyed—People Startle.

PANAMA, March 24.—In the Department of Cauca, in the Republic of Columbia, the volcano Sotara has been unusually active of late, and the people of that region have been greatly excited by the rumbling of the earth and the extraordinary violence of the volcanic eruption. Suddenly, while the volcano was recently belching forth flame and smoke to a great height, the earth began to shake as if the most violent convulsion was in progress. The great mountain ridge suddenly sank along its entire extension. The inhabitants in the vicinity who had a chance to escape, fled in terror from the scene, and not too soon, as the sunken ridge dammed up three rivers and added devastation to the terrors of the earthquake and volcano.

Twelve persons are known to have perished and many cattle were destroyed. More destruction is feared as the rivers whose channels have been obstructed are rising rapidly. Great suffering prevails in Cauca, usually the most flourishing department of Columbia, and many people are starving, owing to the failure of the crops. This new and unexpected calamity has added greatly to the general wretchedness.

LONG FIGHT ENDED.

Millions of Spindles Will Start up

MANCHESTER, March 24.—An agreement has been reached by which the great cotton strike will end Monday. The federation of master cotton spinners and the Amalgamated association of co-operative cotton spinners met yesterday afternoon to discuss terms for the settlement of the strike. The operatives were willing to accept a reduction of 2 1/2 per cent. in wages, but some of the masters insisted upon a five per cent. reduction. It was the refusal of the spinners to accept this reduction that precipitated the strike which resulted in a stoppage of about 14,000,000 spindles.

Many diverse opinions as to the proper method of restoring the trouble to its advanced, the representatives of the spinners holding out stubbornly against any proposal involving with it a reduction larger than the one they offered to accept. Both sides were determined to secure the best possible terms for themselves, and in consequence the meeting was adjourned until Monday, and thus had one of the longest fights ever known in the cotton trade.
