FROM WAYNEVILLE. What is Happening and what will happen there. WAYNEVILLE, May 29.—Mr. Chatfield has been putting into first class condition the White Sulphur Springs hotel for its formal opening early next month. The Wayneville wool mill is kept steadily at work spinning wool and weaving cloth. The next thing in order is the beginning of an enterprise to cut and make up the cloth into suits. Shall that be done in Wayneville or Asheville?

Count Commissioner Wells and Miss Ellen Luther. J. Frank Wells, the popular County Commissioner, was in the city today, looking as happy as it is possible for man to look. Mr. Wells' happiness comes from the fact that on tomorrow he is to be married to Miss Ellen R. Luther of this county. The wedding will take place tomorrow morning at the parsonage at Acton, Rev. John Clarke being the officiating minister. After the marriage the couple will go to the groom's home in Sandy Mush township where a wedding dinner will be served. Mr. and Mrs. Wells will then go on a wedding trip to Tennessee. The bride-elect is a sister of Dillon M. Luther, esq., of this city. The friends of the couple will extend congratulations.

HEARD HIM SAY HIS SAY. WASHINGTON, May 30.—Dr. Briggs, at 9:50 a. m. resumed his argument before the Presbyterian General Assembly in defence of the charges made against him. He was heard without interruption or incident of moment.

TRIBUTE OF THE SOUTH

PASSING OF THE DAVIS FUNERAL TRAIN. The Whole Country Along the Line of Passage. Join in the Demonstrations—The Funeral Car Covered With Flowers. MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 30.—There was an imposing demonstration here yesterday as the remains of Jefferson Davis were borne through the principle streets. By the caisson walked the pall bearers, 25 or 30 of the most prominent citizens of Alabama, each wearing a purple satin rosette. By the side of the coffin a strong body of Confederate veterans marched in fours. Then followed the Louisiana veterans and behind these came a long line of infantry, a body of artillery men, squadron of cavalry and 50 cadets. The Alabama veterans formed in two lines at the capitol entrance and three maimed Confederate officers, two with battle flags, one the 64th Alabama, the other the 32nd Georgia, faced the coffin as it was borne up the steps. Then they advanced and laid the worn and tattered flags on the casket. The band played a funeral march and the veterans were measured, swinging tread, followed the body inside the hall from the main entrance. Fully 10,000 people were outside the capitol before the departure of the train.

GREENSBORO, N. C., May 30.—All night from Atlanta to Charlotte there were demonstrations along the route as the funeral train flew by. Here it was a bonfire lighting up the night sky and the track, and there cannon rang out. Gov. Tillman boarded the train at Greenville. He will go to Richmond and take part in the ceremonies there. At Charlotte the Honor Nest rifles and Queen City rifles fired three volleys as the train moved in. A body of Confederate veterans was drawn up in front of the line with a band of fife and drum and eagerly clutched. Then Captain Ramsay's light battery, the 10th North Carolina, saluted.

On the train. In passing the locomotive round house a workman, covered with oil and grease, drew himself up as it on parade, reverently uncovered, and so stood till the train passed from view. The funeral car was loaded with flowers. They are heaped and piled at the head of the casket for four feet out, and on the sides they had to be rearranged to allow passengers. Some of the cards attached read as follows: "A tribute from loving hearts and willing hands to the memory of our beloved chief, whose death was a national loss. This was another. 'In Southern hearts thy deeds all shine as from a star sublime. Compliments of C. W. Bradshaw, lieutenant-colonel Third North Carolina troops, Hoke's division.'"

Asheville went to bat first and started in to whack the sphere out of sight, but the batter, Nelson, in one, two, three order, Nelson, the left-handed pitcher for the Weaverville, was all arms and hands and the Asheville did not seem able to knock the pigskin out of his bullwink. Chambers, the first baseman, collided with another of his team and retired, giving place to Klouse, a shortstop who appeared to have a lodestone in his fingers, so difficult was it to keep the ball out of his hands. The first half, therefore, gave the Asheville a goose egg for their pie.

IN COURT.

The Grant's Pharmacy Assignment Case. Grant's pharmacy, on South Main street, which has been in the hands of Assignee Jos. E. Dickerson for several weeks, was closed for a time today under an order of the court. Suit has been instituted in the Superior court against J. S. Grant and Jos. E. Dickerson by the Western Carolina bank, Blumenthal & Bickert, Frank Loughran, Frank Cox, Shoemaker & Busch, O. W. Young & Co., French, Cave & Co., Hall & Ruckel, Roper, C. Brown, Powers, Taylor Drug Co. and Colgate & Co., creditors of Dr. Grant. One section of the complaint of the plaintiffs says that "the defendant made an assignment on February 10, 1893; that J. E. Dickerson took into his possession said deed of trust and collusively and secretly, by agreement and in combination with said J. S. Grant, held the same in his possession without the knowledge of the plaintiffs or any other creditor or person until some time about the 29th of April, when said Grant secretly, with intent to avoid service of process, as plaintiffs aver, departed from the State of North Carolina and yet secretly returned to the State. Said J. E. Dickerson on the 29th of April had said deed of trust duly recorded and immediately went into possession of all the property conveyed to him by said deed of trust, amounting, as the plaintiffs are informed and believe, to about $12,000, and has been and continues to rapidly dispose of the same, according to the terms of said deed of trust. "That said deed of trust is fraudulent and void on its face, and made and executed by the said J. S. Grant with intent to hinder, delay and defraud the plaintiffs and other creditors." The plaintiffs demand judgment for the amounts of the debts (several thousand dollars) and ask that the defendants be adjudged to account for all the property conveyed in the deed of trust and for all proceeds arising from the sale or collection thereof; and that the defendants be in the meantime enjoined from disposing of any property or paying out of any of the proceeds thereof, or in any way interfering with the same.

The case was heard by Judge J. E. Graves at Murphy, where the court, ordered the defendants to show cause at Swain county court on June 13, why they should not be enjoined as asked for in the complaint. A temporary injunction was granted restraining the defendants from disposing of the assigned property or paying out the proceeds thereof. The plaintiffs are represented by C. A. Moore, W. W. Merrick and W. R. Whitson of Asheville. The store was opened this afternoon by agreement.

WEAVERVILLE BASEBALLISTS DEFEAT THE ASHEVILLES. The Asheville ball tossers went to Weaverville yesterday determined to win the second game from the Weaverville—if they could. But they evidently took Jonah with them, for, try as they could, the boys from Kings Creek and Mars Hill, as we might call them, won the game. A number of people went from Asheville and these, added to the Weaverville contingent, made a good crowd. Everybody cheered for his favorites, and the game, which was rather slow on account of the wet ground, was watched with the greatest interest.

Asheville went to bat first and started in to whack the sphere out of sight, but the batter, Nelson, in one, two, three order, Nelson, the left-handed pitcher for the Weaverville, was all arms and hands and the Asheville did not seem able to knock the pigskin out of his bullwink. Chambers, the first baseman, collided with another of his team and retired, giving place to Klouse, a shortstop who appeared to have a lodestone in his fingers, so difficult was it to keep the ball out of his hands. The first half, therefore, gave the Asheville a goose egg for their pie.

IMPROVE COUNTY ROADS

WHAT BUNCOMBE NEEDS IN THIS LINE. An Interesting Letter From State Geologist Holmes To Senator Campbell—Knoxville Drummer Wagons in Buncombe. Recently State Senator John M. Campbell of this city received from the State Geological Survey a copy of the Bulletin on Roads, issued by this department. He was so impressed by the publication that he wrote for 150 extra copies of the Bulletin. In reply to his letter he received the following communication from Prof. J. A. Holmes, the State Geologist, which contains so much of general interest to Asheville and Buncombe county that Senator Campbell has kindly consented to allow THE CITIZEN to print it. Prof. Holmes says: "I am glad that you think well of the Bulletin on Roads, and I send you by express the extra copies for which you ask. I most sincerely hope that the people of Buncombe county will vote the $250,000 in bonds for improving our public roads. She will never regret this step. Many counties have voted this amount and more, and not a one of them has gone back on the movement, or shown any desire to do so—because, everywhere in America, Europe, Australia and other countries, money invested in good roads has brought better and more prompt returns than almost any other investment, and it brings good returns to every citizen, poor or rich, whether he rides or walks. "I know of no other county in North Carolina where money invested in better roads will bring larger and more prompt returns than in Buncombe. The steady growth of Asheville in size and wealth is a matter of pride with every citizen of the State; and her street improvement during the past year, and now in progress, is doing much to make her future prosperity secure. But there is much yet to be done. Asheville should be the center for information, trade, and influence for practically all your mountain counties and she is gaining in the accomplishment of this aim. But the victory is far from being won. As I travel through that region I find drummer wagons from Knoxville and other places selling goods at country stores even within the borders of Buncombe county. Good roads leading out in every direction from Asheville would do much to remedy this condition of things. "But the people of Buncombe county cannot expect the people of Asheville to do more than their share in this great work of public improvement; and the people of the county should understand clearly that as long as Asheville has good streets and the county has poor roads, as is now the case, Asheville will flourish and the county suffer. The traveling public will not leave the railroads for the country as long as the put roads continue rough and muddy as they now are. Nor will intelligent and thrifty farmers pursue the bad roads of the region, chase land and settle in country regions where these roads exist. "During the past two years the Geological Survey has been investigating the mineral and timber resources of these mountain counties, and we will distribute reports on some of these subjects at the World's Fair. We have also prepared a number of large photographs illustrating the scenery of the mountain region. We are doing everything possible by the State, and by exhibiting samples of our minerals and timber at the World's Fair, to attract capital and settlers to this region during the next few years. But do what we may in these directions the bad roads of the region stand as a barrier in the way of material development of the country. I do hope that Buncombe county will make a great step forward by going to work in earnest to have good roads. "Senator Campbell will distribute the Bulletin sent him among the magistrates of the county when they meet here next Monday.

KILLED SIX MEN. And the Tigers and Lions Escaped—A Wreck. TYRAN, May 30.—This morning a special train on the Tyrone & Clearfield railroad, composed of Walter Main's circus cars got beyond the control of the train hands and flew down the mountain with fearful rapidity. At Vail station, the train was wrecked and animals, men and broken cars were piled up together. Several lions and tigers made their escape, and only after greatest exertion were they recaptured, and then not until one of the tigers had killed several domestic animals in the neighborhood. Six men were killed outright, 12 or 14 others were badly wounded, some of them fatally. The circus is a complete wreck.

QUICK JUSTICE. A Tramp Shot Dead by a Georgia Woman. SAVANNAH, Ga., May 30.—Near Hazelhurst yesterday, an unknown white tramp tried to commit a criminal assault on a white woman, Mrs. Crosby. She drew a pistol and shot him in the head. He staggered off a short distance and fell dead in his tracks.

Salem Female Academy. WINSTON, May 29.—[Special.]—The attendance at commencement exercises of the Salem Female Academy grows larger each day. The program being carried out grows daily more interesting. Dr. A. D. McClure of Wilmington, N. C., preached the baccalaureate sermon to the 41 young ladies composing the graduating class. It was an able effort and was attentively listened to by a large audience. This is one of the happiest and most successful commencements in the school's history.
