The Board of Aldermen Appoints a Committee Upon Application of the Ministers' Conterence-Other Board Business.

LY HOUSES.

The Joint Board was called to order bout half an bour late yesterday after-100n. Besides Mayor Patton there were in attendance Aldermen Cosby, Westall, Starnes and H. L. Gudger; Advisors Swyn, Millard and Redwood. Before yet. any business was transacted, however, the meeting was changed to a session of the Board of Aldermen, in order to hear from Revs. J. C. Troy and L. II. Baldwin, who composed a committee sent by which was put in with the idea of conhe Ministers' conference to beg of the necting it with the standpipe. In order nouses be enforced. Mr. Troy alluded the standpipe it was necessary to conto the alarming prevalence of prostitution in Asheville, and thought it strange that the ordinances had not been enforced, the facts being undoubtedly known to the police. He instanced cases coming to his knowledge which went to emphasize the need of action on the part of the authorities. He asked in the name of good government and in the name of God that the Board give its attention to this terrible evil with a view to its sup-pression. Mr. Baldwin, who is pastor of the Southside Presbyterian church, just south of the Scratch Ankle pest hole. cited cases which were enough to sicken
the heart of of every respectable citizen of Asheville. He, too, prayed for relief in some way, and thought the time had certainly come for something to be done.
Mayor Patton followed these remarks by the reading of a petition from colored people, complaining of houses on the north side of Eagle street. Alderman Westall moved the appointment of a special committee to inquire into the matter and the motion carried. The committee, which is styled "committee on nuisances and their abatement," is composed of Aldermen Westall and

The street committee was instructed to investigate the question of damages to the property of B. J. Alexander, on Bailey street.

Mayor Patton stated that the new 16Mayor Patton stated that the ach main between the water works and the pumping station had not been put to use as yet, because of Contractor Kelly's fears that the wall at the station against the pumping station had not been put to use as yet, because of Contractor Kelly's fears that the wall at the station against which the new pipe rested was not sufficiently strong. The matter was referred to the city engineer and water committee with p. t. a. The Mayor also stated that the personal property was not sufficiently strong. The matter was referred to the city engineer and water committee with p. t. a. The Mayor also stated that the personal property was a soon as possible. that the new steam pump would be the standpipe as soon as possible, ready for operation within 48 hours. In justice to Contractor Ke The street committee recommended that the city make proper entrances to the property of Mrs. C. L. Pleasants on French Broad avenue. Adopted.

Limit, Two Minutes.

Lime Pedwood submitted a resolution providing that speeches by citizens before the Board be limited to two minutes each, after which the arguments might be heard in committee meetings, Ugly, Unwelcome Visitors From thus expediting business while the Board is in session. Alderman Starnes objected, but was finally won over by Mr. Redwood, and the resolution passed.

A letter was read from Miss Raven Lewis, in which she proposed to accept $150 and release the city from all obli-gations for damages to her Bailey street property. Alderman Starnes moved that the proposition be not accepted, and the motion was adopted.

The action of the Mayor in ordering a he paving is put down, were submitted. Therewith was a proposal from M. H. celly to do the work for a certain sum, but the Mayor was interrupted in the reading by Advisor Millard, who said it would probably be better to let the work to bids, and in that event it would be set fire to tarantulas and bananas as unfair to Mr. Kelly to read out his pro-posal. On motion of Alderman Westall he plans were accepted and the water committee was instructed to procure bids on the work between now and Fri-Once More The Aldermen.

The work of the Joint Board over, the Big Six reconvened, taking up first the report of the Church street jury, which had just come in. The jury gave the had just come in. The jury gave the heirs of Wm. Johnston $150 damages and assessed $150 benefits against the property of F. A. Sondley. Further, the jury said damages and benefits were equal on the properties of John Cheesborough, M. E. Carter, M. E. church, South, F. Stikeleather, E. J. Aston, C. E. Graham, N. W. Girdwood, Thos. D. Johnston, and the Presbyterian and Episcopal churches. A recommendation that the banks on Judge Aston's property be sloped was also made. The jury was composed of C. T. Rawls, J. A. Conant, T. F. Orr, L. A. Farinbolt, Jas. Frauk and H. S. Harkins. There was a discussion on the report, as the jury did not report in accordance with the terms of the compromise between Capt. Thos. D. Johnston and the city-Juror Rawls said the jury thought they were doing right in considering the land of Capt. Johnston just as they did that of any other property holder. Alderman Starnes moved to accept the report, and Alderman Westall moved to reject, but there was no second to the latter. Mr. Westall said he was afraid the adoption of the report would lead to future trouble.

Mr. Starnes' motion carried, and the street committee was instructed to have bury was second. The winner receives bury was second. The winner receives heirs of Wm. Asheville have cherished concerning the morning the funeral train bearing the remains of ex-President Davis drew up carly solution of the water puzzle, they are, it now seems, doomed to chew the at the depot in this city. Thousands of men, women and children, some of whom cud of disappointment for some time had waited for hours, greeted its arrival, besides the military escort composed of Last Saturday the authorities thought, members of Lee and Picket Camps Conand it was so stated in THE CITIZEN, federate Veterans and the First Virginia that water would be turned into the Infantry. The line of march was taken city through the new 16-inch pipe line, up with the Richmond Light Infantry Blues, who had gone to Danville with Board that the laws against disorderly to use this line before the completion of the governor to meet the train, at the head of the procession, followed by the neet the new main with the old 10-inch First regiment and Louisiana, Missisline. Contractor M. H. Kelly demurred, sippi, Georgia and North Carolina vetbut finally agreed to the connection provided the city would agree that no greater pressure should be put upon the new line than would have been borne if connected with the standpipe. This the erans as escort.

The march from the station to the capitol was very impressive. The wailing notes of the dead march on the fife and drum and the slow, steady, regular tramp of the veterans marching in fours city agreed to, and the connection was completed Saturday as promised. It was thought that this would end the trouble, but it did not, for Mr. Kelly ehind the bier in the grey dawn between the ranks of spectators on either the street, was exceedingly solemn. Upon reaching the capitol building, the milithe stability of a stone wall at the pumping station, built to hold the pipe line in place at that point. The wall was originally to be built by Mr. Kelly, tary opened the ranks at present arms, while the veterans marched through with heads uncovered, until the doors of the buildings were reached, when a halt to be paid for extra, but upon his request City Engineer Lee relieved him of that work and gave it to Contractor H. M. Smith.

was made and the casket was borne to the door of the senate chamber in the rotunda of the building, and placed in position under the guard of Lee camp.

From daylight until 9 o'clock hundreds of strangers and city people passed through the capitol and viewed the casket which was almost enveloped in floral tributes of various designs from North The Joint Board water committee went to the water works this morning and inspected the wall. The committee agreed to relieve Contractor Kelly of all esponsibility as far as the wall was tributes of various designs from North and from South. Between the hours of concerned, and to assume, all damages that might arise from a collapse of the wall, and an agreement to this effect 9 and 11 o'clock about 5,000 publi school children passed by the bier, each was drawn up and signed.

Once more the city thought every objection had been met, but it was disappointed. A letter was shown the committee from the Chattanooga Pipe cowpany, which furnished the pipe for Contractor Kelly. This letter stated consisted of General John Glynn, jr., The body then resolved itself into the Joint Board and the following business was transacted:

The street committee, to which was referred the matter of a supposed verbal contract with Webb, Oates, Eskridge & Co. for the paving of College street, reported that after an examination of the books it found there was no contract for that street with anyone, nor as to the quality of paving to be put down. Report adopted. It was considered by the old Board that this firm should have the paving of College street, in lieu of the paving between the rails of the street car track on other streets, which was a street with anyone and the street car track on other streets, which was a street with the capacity of the paving between the rails of the street car track on other streets, which was a street of the street car track on other streets, which was a street of the street car track on other streets, which was a street of the street car track on other streets, which was a street of the street car track on other streets, which was a street of the street car track on other streets, which was a street of the street car track on other streets, which was a street of the street car track on other streets, which was a street of the street car track on other streets, which was a street of the street car track on other streets, which was a street of the street car track on other streets, which was a street of the street car track on other streets, which was a street of the street car track on other streets, which was a street of the street car track on other streets, which was a street of the street car track on other streets, which was a street of the street car track on other streets, which was a street of the street car track on other streets, which was a street of the street car track on other streets, which was a street of the street car track on other streets, which was a street of the street car track on other streets, which was street of the street car track on other streets and street car track on other streets and street ca Foster of Louisiana: Brigadier General Vinet, chief of ordinance; Brigadier General McGurck, commissary general; Brigadier General Barksdale, judge advocate general; Col.
