M. J. ROLLINS BANQUETED

THE RETIRING COLLECTOR AND HIS DEPUTIES. The Major Gets a Gold Watch and a Silk Hat Which He Promises To Wear To Congress—A Case To Chief Clerk Nichols.

A number of the friends of Maj. W. W. Rollins were notified of a surprise party in store for that gentleman to take place at the federal building last evening and by 9 o'clock the court room contained a good number of deputies besides the clerical force of the Asheville office and their friends.

Chief Clerk John A. Nichols announced a banquet at the Battery Park for a later period of the evening and said that Zeb Vance Walser, of Lexington would voice the sentiments of his associates in an expression of personal attachment to their retiring chief.

Mr. Walser then presented to the Major a handsome gold watch and a silk hat. Presented to W. W. Rollins on retirement as collector of the fifth district of North Carolina, by clerks and deputies, July 1, 1893.

Major Rollins responded to the address, accepting the gift as a tribute of regard from devoted friends and paid his late subordinate a high compliment for the efficiency and integrity with which he had done four millions of dollars' worth of government business without the loss of a penny.

He rejoiced at the removal of his load of responsibility, but assured his friends of his belief that after four years they would be returned to official life.

R. S. McCall then surprised Mr. Nichols by the presentation of an elegant gold-headed ebony cane, which the audience supplemented with round after round of applause as the justly popular chief clerk rose to reply.

Mr. Nichols' looks corroborated his words when he said that he was the victim of a conspiracy and the most completely surprised man in the district. The cane bore the inscription: "Presented to J. A. Nichols on retirement as chief deputy, collector's office, fifth district N. C., by clerks and deputies, June 30, 1893."

In replying to the call of his name J. Wiley Shook stated that while it might seem to some people that he had been called upon because he was the best looking man in the house, such was not the case; in order to somewhat relieve the astonishment of the mountain friends of Wallace Rollins when they found out the reason for his being a watch, that he must also wear a silk hat, and the speaker placed upon the Major a glossy tile with the hope that it would not be used in the district and never to honey farm of its owner nor be turned into a hen's nest.

The recipient thanked his friends for their further attention and said he would wear it to Congress '04 when he would wear it to Congress and that when his constituents came to see him he would get them each a judge ship, to which Mr. Shook responded, "Say that again, please."

Chief Nichols then said "Supper at the Park" and the party left for the hotel where they were received and welcomed by Manager Nichols. The committee to invite the attendance of the Hon. Kope Elias, the newly appointed collector, returned with that gentleman and after an exchange of courtesies Collector Elias led the way to the banquet room, escorting the winsome daughter of the evening's guest, Miss Emma Rollins, and the party seated to the enjoyment of a bountiful and well served spread.

After the menu Major Rollins was again called upon, who, after expressing his gratitude for the honors of the collectorship had fallen upon such worthy shoulders, offered the congratulations of the company to Collector Elias, to which the collector responded and said that he could wish for no happier a consummation of his own term of office than the esteem of so devoted friends and as spotless an official career as that possessed by his successor. The collector then begged to be excused from further participation in the banquet because of engagements with other friends, and the evening adjourned with an hour's social chat in the parlors.

COLUMBIA IS DRY TODAY

A Wild Time Around The Bars To Celebrate The Last Hours Of The Saloon—A Test Case To Be Made.

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 1.—The inception of the operations of the dispensary law was attended last night in Columbia with the wildest bacchanalian revels. Under the new law the State takes the entire charge of the selling of intoxicating beverages. It has a big central dispensary in Columbia where whiskey, beer, wine and other liquors are put in bottles and kegs. This dispensary furnishes liquors to county dispensaries, which are established upon the petition of a majority of freeholders of a town.

Nearly every bar has made phenomenal sales this week, many people having enough to last for months. Columbia has been a scene of revelry since the law was passed. The saloons were immense. The consequence was there was much trouble in the streets. A double guard was on duty at the State dispensary as a result of having it up had been made. The bars are all closed today and the town is "dry," no county dispensary having yet been established here.

The State employs a large force of constables, whose names are not known, to detect "blind tigers." The possession of a United States revenue license is prima facie evidence of intention to violate the law. Failure to obtain a license will put the United States revenue force as well as the State constables on the track of violators. Barkeepers generally will obey the law.

A test case will be made to try the constitutionality of the law in the United States court and the State Supreme court have already decided that the law is valid. A new case will be made for trial in the United States Supreme court.

AN EXTRA SESSION CALLED

THE DATE IS MONDAY, AUGUST SEVENTH. The President Justly Arraigns The Republican Party For Enacting Vicious Legislation and Calls on Congress To Repeal It.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The President has issued a proclamation calling Congress in extra session August 7. In doing so he says that "the distrust and apprehension concerning the financial situation which pervade all business circles, have already caused great loss and damage to our people and threaten to cripple our merchants, stop the wheels of manufactures, bring distress and misery to our farmers and withhold from our workmen the wage of labor."

Secretary Carlisle will leave here for Chicago, next Tuesday, to be absent for ten days or two weeks. The new ordinance, recommended by the President power to suspend the purchase act or deal with it as he may deem best. Congress will then adjourn at once, the relation demanded by the people having been granted.

STANFORD'S WILL. The University and Relatives Not Forgotten. SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—The will of the late Leland Stanford was filed for probate in this city yesterday. Mrs. Stanford is named as sole executrix and she petitioned for the probate of the will. The petition states that the value of the estate is unknown, but that it consists of stocks, bonds and real property in this State. The will is a voluminous document. Stanford left $2,500,000 to the trustees of the Stanford University, $100,000 to Thomas W. Stanford, his brother, $100,000 to Jos. H. Stanford, his brother, $100,000 to A. B. Stanford, another brother, while the house and furniture at Columbia and Powell streets, San Francisco, go to Mrs. Stanford. The will sets apart $100,000 for the erection of a tomb for the remains of the Senator, his wife and son and leaves $100,000 to each of Stanford's nephews and nephews of whom there are a large number. His wife is made residuary legatee.

The instrument was originally dated November 29, 1885, but a number of codicils have been added. Some legatees have died since the will was originally made. A WILD RIPPER. Eastern Arkansas Devastated by a Cyclone. MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 1.—A cyclone swept across the eastern portion of Arkansas last night. As a result all the telegraph wires west of Memphis are down and details are meagre. It is known, however, that the loss to property is enormous. A special was received at Memphis from Little Rock last night saying that the wind was blowing at the rate of 70 miles an hour and that a large amount of property has been destroyed.

TO PAVE WILLOW STREET

THAT IS, AS FAR AS BRICKS ON HAND WILL GO. The Work of Two Boards in City Affairs—The Standpipe To Be Treated in a Few Days—The Sunday Closing Law.

The Joint Board and the Board of Aldermen were in session about four hours yesterday afternoon, with all present except Advisors McCallum and Nichols. The following business was transacted: The street committee was instructed to report at Monday's regular meeting as to the quality of paving to be put down on the sidewalks on Church street.

The city engineer's report of assessments on South Main and Depot streets was adopted. The damage to Mrs. Malone's property on Bailey street by the raising of the grade by the W. A. & S. S. road is to be inquired into by the street committee.

The report of the street committee with regard to the extension of curbing on numerous streets was referred to a joint committee composed of the finance and street committees. It was ordered that the bricks not used in paving Church street should be put on Willow street as far as they will reach, probably 100 feet.

Contractor Conner reported that he expected to complete the standpipe by Monday at farthest. The water committee was instructed to make a test of the standpipe and report to a meeting to be called whenever the test is concluded.

The following bills were ordered paid: Corn & Troy, $482.52; M. H. Kelly, $31.00; street way rolls, $345.55; The Citizen, $18; Woody & Kimble, $8.90; Buncombe Brick and Tile Co., $234.60; Albright & Roberts, $4; Geo. F. Scott & Co., $78.86.

The Aldermen a Little. The Board of Aldermen awarded the contract for constructing the market square watering trough to S. G. Bouis, at a price of $37. J. C. Brown bid $41.50; Kelly & Strachan, $39; Boyce & Burton, $65.25.

The assessments of paving on South Main and Depot streets was adopted. Dr. S. D. Pelham called attention to the ordinance prohibiting Sunday selling and asked that it be repealed or enforced. No action.

It was reported that there was $2,409.93 of the general fund on hand. The new ordinance, recommended by ex-Fire Chief Powell, relating to the fire department, were adopted on suspension of the rules and ordered published for one week.

Ordinances recommended by the Board of Health, requiring persons to secure a permit before erecting closets, and giving the Board of Health authority to direct the removal or change of construction of closets, were adopted on suspension of the rules, and ordered published.

A number of livermen complained that the new water rent placed on them was much too high, and on motion of Mr. Starnes the waterworks superintendent was instructed to purchase meters whenever renters so desire and put them into places of business, charging the meter rates established.

The hucksters ordinance was placed on second reading and passed. Mr. Westall, of the market house committee, dissatisfied of the beef petition sent in at last meeting, and nothing was done with it. Building permits: J. A. Tennent, 2-story house on Spring street; C. E. Moody, 6-room house on Riverside street.
