POLICEMEN REPRIMANDED

MAYOR PATTON'S REMARKS THIS MORNING.

Patrolmen Stephenson and Collius Censured, The First Because He Ran From Hunter, The Second Because He Did Not Keep Hunter From Ruanine Stephenson.

The reprimand to Patrolmen Stephenson and Collins, which the police committee decided on yesterday, was de-Mayor Patton, in the following words: "The duty has been imposed on the Mayor by the committee on police to committee as he understands them.

"On Wednesday night it seems that a man who had been drinking to such an extent as to produce disrespect for the laws of this State, and f -r the ordinances of this city, fired a pistol on the street. Two officers went in pursuit and andertook to arrest him. In this they did right; but in their manner of making the arrest they did entirely wrong, and deserve ser-officers resisted, and broke laose from Riverside cometery, both, and presented his pistol at Officer Superintendent I Stephenson. At that moment it was to duty of Officer Collins to have used all necessary force to subdue the offender, and protect his associate from the damger which seemed to threaten him, and for the failure to do so Officer Collins deserves and is severely reprimanded.

"It is a more difficult and serious question to decide what was the duty of Officer Stephenson under the then existing circumstances. Having good reason to believe as life to be in danger, the Mayor holds it to have been his duty to defend himself even to the taking the life of the assailant. Of course such a consummation would have been greatly to be deplored, but the responsibility would have rested upon the assailant. and not upon the officer, who was trying to execute the law. It appears that upon the offender's presenting his pistol at Officer Stevenson that the officer ran. e In this the Mayor holds him to deserve most serious reprimand, and reprimands

"It is my sincere hope that during my administration no repetition of these circumstances may occur. Should they do so, I charge you to complete the ar-rest of the officer in a cool, impersonal, dignified and determined manner, using as few words as possible, only enough being required as will make a reasonable man aware that you are officers, and have the right to make the arrest. Then proceed to complete the arrest and suidue all resistance, for which purpose exercise the least possible degree of force violence by which it can be accom-

"The Mayor hopes it may not again be necessary for bim to exercise this disagreeable duty."

THAT REPRIMAND. A Card From T F. Hunter on The

EDITOR THE CITIZEN:-lam very much surprised to see in your paper of yester day that Patrolman Collins has been re primanded for his part in the affair of Wednesday night. More unjust censure, in my opinion, was never given. The lasts while I was going home over Haywood street with a pistol in my hand, Mr. Collins overtook me and placing his hand on my arm said: "Tom, I'll have to arrest you." I asked "What for?" He replied: "There has been some shoot ing around here and I see you have a pistol. Give it to me." I said all right. and started to hand him the pistol, when Stephenson came up and laid bold of my right arm, saying "Yes, we will have to arrest you" Then, without giving the pistol to Collins, I folded my arms across my breast for an instant. I made some slight remark and spread my arms ipart, shoving the policimen aside Stephenson, I think, dropped his hat and stooped to regain it and then walked around me. I am not sure what followed, but think I shuffled my lect on the pavement at which Stephenson ran and before Collins had a chance to stop me I was after Stephenson, running at-ter him for fun. Stephenson fell near the stopped and told him to come back—that I would not hurt a hair of his head. Then I wolked back and met Collins and gave him my pistol and that was the end of the affair. I cannot see how the police committee could place the two officers on an equal footing in cen-suring them. Mr. Collins has been on the force for four years and this is the first time I have ever heard the slightest harge of cowardice made against him. He deserved no reprimand.

The citizens of Asheville drink the water of the Swannanoa river. If that water is impure, it must be conceded that the ice taken from its surface is likewise impure. BUT if there is dan-
