What next does He do? Puts you to work. Tonight there is some soul you can save. Who is there for you to save? I don't know, but it may be your son or your brother. You ought to go away from here saying 'God helping me I will save somebody.'

"The last thing Jesus does is to receive you up into heaven. One of the young men who came up here for prayer was laughed at on the streets and was asked 'What do you make by it?' He answered, 'I will make a blessed home in heaven.' After all our crosses and trials are over we shall wake up in heaven and looking into the face of Jesus, we will say 'Thank God, I am at home.' 'This man receiveth sinners.' Will you receive him in your hearts tonight? God help you to do so.'

A number of persons asked for prayer, and an after-meeting of exceeding interest followed the sermon.

A Voice From Graham County.
JOHNSON, N. C., July 24.—Times are very quiet here. Crops look promising. We have been having good seasons lately, though better times financially have not yet made their appearance. Unlimited free coinage of silver and a reduction of the tariff is what we want. That was what was promised, and that is what the people will demand. These two measures gave the Democracy power at the ballot box, and now that the whole power of the government is in their hands, they have nothing to do but roll up their sleeves and redeem their pledges.

An Improbable Rumor.
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 26.—A rumor reached Washington last night that the arbitrators in the Bering sea controversy between the United States and Great Britain, who have been in session at Paris since March, listening to arguments in the case, had decided in favor of the United States.

HE RECEIVETH SINNERS

DOCTOR WHARTON'S SERMON LAST EVENING.

The eminent Divine Points Out the Way of Life in His Plain, Practical Way, to a Very Large Congregation.

The congregation at the First Baptist church last evening was large enough to pack the auditorium and fill the gallery, while Dr. Wharton preached another of his plain yet practical and powerful sermons. His first scripture lesson was from the 15th chapter of Luke. The congregation was then given a rare treat in a solo by Mrs. Praley, of Nashville, Tenn., accompanied on the organ by Prof. Grabau. Mrs. Praley's voice is rich, sweet, beautiful, and her singing made the hearers wish that they might listen much longer.

Dr. Wharton preached from the text—'This man receiveth sinners'—Luke 15:2. 'It is a remarkable thing,' said Dr. Wharton, 'that some of the greatest truths spoken about Christ were spoken by His enemies, and in derision. This man receiveth sinners. That was so; he did not deny it. He said, 'Wouldn't you go and find your sheep? These are my lost sheep.' 'This man receiveth sinners.' So it is that out of the mouths of His enemies do we learn great truths. The text, every word of it, comes to us burdened with precious truths. They might have found some other mark of distinction about him. They might have said He was unselfish. He thought not of Himself. I wonder whether any thing that is entirely unselfish. I think if there is anybody in this world who is unselfish it is the mother. Many a time have you seen a mother cradle watching over you when you were ill, while she was worse than you were. And now you are paying her back, are you not? Jesus was utterly unselfish. Wherever there was anybody in distress, He was willing to go to their relief.'

At this point in the sermon the fire alarm sounded and a number of people in the congregation manifested uneasiness and soon after left the church. Among those who left were business men, clerks, boys and a few girls. Said Dr. Wharton, 'If anybody else feels like they can't get along at the fire without them, they can go now. I don't think girls in white dresses ought to go to a party they might catch fire.' The rebuke was merited, except by the firemen and, perhaps, the merchants, who felt interested in knowing whether the blaze was likely to affect their place of business. 'They might,' continued Dr. Wharton, 'have said that Jesus was perfect, for He was the most perfect man that ever walked the face of the earth. I am not talking to a set of perfect people. You know and I know well enough that we are not perfect. After 20 years of preaching, Paul said and am not perfect. I can tell you of a mistake you make. You expect to be perfect when you come into the church. Babies must crawl before they can walk.'

'There is another view: Jesus as a man. He looked like a man. He laughed like a man. You say, 'But, Mr. Wharton, it does not say in the Bible that He laughed.' No, nor does it say that He breathed. But I suppose He laughed. Mother, don't you suppose that when sweet little girls came to Him, and He took them up in His arms, that He laughed? 'I don't doubt His divinity—I never have since He saved me. This man whom I preach to you tonight is able to save you; He can save every one of you.'

'Do you feel like you are a sinner? When you do, there is hope for you. It is the man who holds up his head and says 'I'm not a bad man,' that the devil has a mortgage on and he will foreclose it, too, some of these days. 'This man receiveth sinners.' He is holding a reception tonight. I have read of receptions in a society where the host and hostess had to be put to bed before the company left, and where one fellow was actually found in the bath, when he had gone to bed, when he was going to bed. And this is the kind of thing that is going on in this world. Jesus invites you to the reception. Come along in. What does he do when you are invited? He forgives your sins. What next? He puts you in better company. Take the Christians out of Asheville tonight and what sort of a town would you have tomorrow? There are the salt of the earth. The best place in the world is the church. You might put me out but I would come back and ask you to receive me again. 'What next does He do? Puts you to work. Tonight there is some soul you can save. Who is there for you to save? I don't know, but it may be your son or your brother. You ought to go away from here saying 'God helping me I will save somebody.'

MR. WOLFE'S LETTER.

Mr. Beloit Has a Few Words in Reply.

EDITOR THE CITIZEN: I noticed a comment from W. E. Wolfe in your last issue on Mr. Starnes' letter, in which he knowingly does me a great injustice, as a contractor for the cement pavement. He well knows that the work was done in accordance with the specifications and under superintendency of the city engineer, and was tendered in a first-class and workmanlike manner, and accepted by the city on Mr. Lee's recommendation. He further knows that the injury to the work was caused by the severe weather immediately following the completion of same. He also knows that work laid on paved streets where it was well drained is in good condition now.

He willfully tries to mislead the public about the cost, as there was only about six thousand dollars worth of work done, and all repairs needed can be made for about seven hundred dollars instead of seven thousand, as stated by him. And the most serious part of the work done, done on North Main street by me, as far as I am able to judge, the worst work on that street was done in front of the Water works by him for which he received about 75 cents more per yard than the city paid. And in conclusion, I think before Mr. Wolfe again criticizes the work done by me, he should be well paid for doing first class plastering, and if he or any one can find a greater notch in Asheville or elsewhere than here, they can find more than I, after twenty years experience at the business.

FROM HOT SPRINGS.

More of the Fair Sex Still Needed.

HOT SPRINGS, N. C., July 26.—Doubtless your valued daily would find many readers in these shady regions if Uncle Sam's mail service would be more prompt, but your paper does not reach Hot Springs until 6 o'clock in the evening on the day following its publication, 26 hours old, when we receive the New York dailies of today, tomorrow at 12 noon or thereabouts sooner than THE ASHEVILLE CITIZEN.

What a contrast and reflection upon Uncle Sam's mails. We are having a nice time at the Mountain Park hotel here, thanks no doubt to some notices that appeared in THE CITIZEN a few days since. We had the pleasure of receiving at the Mountain Park hotel and entertaining quite a number of your society ladies and beaux on several occasions and right welcome they were, especially the ladies who came Monday, chaplined by Mrs. Hilliard and Mr. Foster, and last night another delightful gay party of ladies, chaplined by that old enterer, Col. M. J. Fagg, of your city, and on both occasions the hearts of our rather lonely young gentlemen were made happy and the elegant Germans were danced without a hitch. There are still about four gentlemen to each young lady at the Mountain Park, and another good headline, 'More young ladies badly wanted,' would be proper.

THE KANSAS STRIKE.

Negroes Put Inside of a Stockade and Being Deported.

WEEK CITY, Kan., July 26.—An interesting fact in regard to the strike among the coal miners was made public today. It is that negroes imported from Alabama, Tennessee, and other States to take the place of the strikers, have been placed under military discipline. They are confined in a well built stockade and whenever one mutinies he is immediately thrown outside the breast works. Capt. Cleary, of St. Louis, is in charge of the negroes. Capt. Cleary is famous for his service in protecting property during the great Burlington strike and also during the southwestern strike led by Martin Irons in 1886. His experience in this line is very great and his nerve unquestioned. He is now engaged in drilling the negroes in the stockade. Yesterday evening he went through a number of movements with them, telling them he wanted them to understand and act promptly as they might have to fight, and so on. This indicates that the negroes understand the situation thoroughly.

THE WAR CLOUD GONE.

The Report of a Blockade Was Premature.

PARIS, July 26.—It transpires that the reports current yesterday that the French government had notified the various powers of her intention to blockade the ports of Siam, were premature. No such notification has been officially addressed to the powers.

Lord Dufferin, British ambassador, and Develle, minister of foreign affairs, will hold another conference tomorrow, presumably on the question of territorial demands made by France on Siam.

Depositing in Canadian Banks.

HAMILTON, Ont., July 26.—City bank managers report that a large amount of money has been received from American cities during the past few days to be deposited in banks here. A deposit of $45,000 was received today from a woman living in Buffalo, N. Y., she having withdrawn the amount from a bank in that city.

A New York Failure.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The failure of H. I. Nicholas & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, is announced. The firm is composed of H. I. Nicholas, John D. Nicholas, Walter C. Taylor and Marcus Mayer. The firm was considered quite a prominent one in stock exchange circles.

Bank Closes in Bristol.

BRISTOL, Tenn., July 26.—The Bristol Bank and Trust company has gone into liquidation. The bank has not been doing a profitable business for some time. The total assets amount to $80,000, while there is only about $15,000 due depositors.

Cotton in Liverpool.

LIVERPOOL, July 26.—Cotton in good demand; sellers reserved; prices steady. American middling, 4 1/2; sales 8, American 2,100, speculation and exports; receipts 3. Demand moderate.

THE SCHOOL OF METHODS

IT BEGAN ITS SESSION IN WAYNESVILLE YESTERDAY.

The State Convention Over-Plans for Erecting the W. C. T. U. Building Suggested, and will be Carried Out when Hard Times Stop.

WAYNESVILLE, N. C., July 26.—The W. C. T. U. Southern assembly glided into the work of the State convention on Tuesday morning. Mrs. Cadwalader, of Florida, opened the exercises by reading the 27th Psalm.

Mrs. Hilliard introduced the president, the key note of whose address was given in the opening sentence. Mrs. Woody said, 'To meet the needs of the present time is the work of the present generation,' conclusively showing that individual organizations and even churches, attempting to go forward on the plane of the last century's need, in reality fell backward and would ever be found in the rear of opportunity. She showed the call of women to a broader, less material sphere of service than our mothers were wont to fill, when strong men filled the forests and young women spun their bridal robes. As the needs of the day were changing so were its ideals. Along with these ideals come to woman the consciousness to meet the new requirements under the old regime. And so we now find woman organizing all along the line to meet her manifold destiny.

And thus began to grow the W. C. T. U. plan—for 'Schools of Method' for christian work. That these are christian in purpose and in result, is evidenced by the class of women they draw, and the character of work accomplished by them as shown in reports.

Mrs. Woody spoke of Waynesville as the ideal place for locating a building dedicated to this work, 'where mountains lie fold on fold against the clear blue sky.'

The corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. H. Walter, followed with a clear, full statement of work accomplished by her during the year.

Mrs. Branner then read an interesting paper on the memorial fund to be used in connection with the assembly building. A general discussion of affairs followed, in which Messrs. Gilmer, Boone, Rogers and Howell participated.

At the noon hour prayer was offered that God would open the way for the completion of this building. Mr. Howell moved to place two canvassers in the field as soon as the financial crisis shall have passed. This was carried and the executive committee was directed to appoint the canvassers. It was moved that we convene to remember these canvassers at the noon hour through the year. Carried.

The convention then went into executive session.

THE HARD TIMES.

This Sounds Just Like a Michigan Editor.

NEW YORK, July 24.—William E. Quinn, late editor of the Detroit Free Press, just before sailing for his post of duty as minister to the Hague, gave out this remarkable opinion as to the cause of the hard times: 'I think that in making money scarce is the fact that many thousands of people are saving their money to go to the World's Fair. Perhaps 3,000,000 are saving, say, $100 each, which will make the enormous sum of $300,000,000 temporarily hoarded. When this money begins to circulate it will help to relieve the financial situation.'

HEARD FROM.

The Wires Bring The Citizen Great News of Its Editor.

REESE'S CORNER, Haywood County, July 26.—[Special.]—Fishing only fair, but red bugs and gnats never known to bite better.

Failure in Texas.

DALLAS, Texas, July 26.—The old and widely known land, loan and collecting agency of Murphy and Bolans, the largest concern of the kind in Texas, made a general assignment yesterday. No schedule of assets or liabilities have been filed, but as the firm did enormous business the chances are that liabilities will reach $500,000. Assets fully that amount.

An Editor Caught.

NOBLESVILLE, Ind., July 26.—The announcement of the engagement of Dr. Albert Shaw, American editor of the Review of Reviews, of New York, to Miss Elizabeth Bacon, of Reading, Pa., has been given out in the local papers here. This affair is tinged with romance, as the eminent New Yorker never met the lady who is to be his wife until about six weeks ago.

Cotton Mills Shut Down.

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.—The extensive woolen mills of Scotland Bros., which have been giving employment to about 250 hands, have shut down in entirely owing to depression in trade. The firm has been in business over a quarter of a century, and this is the first time operations have been entirely suspended.

Execution Postponed.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—A telegram was received at the interior department from inspector Faison announcing that the execution of the nine condemned Choctaws has been further postponed from August 4 to September 8, by order of the Choctaw court.

More Cholera in Italy.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—A cable dispatch received today by Dr. Wyman, from Assistant Surgeon B. W. Brown, of the Marine hospital service, stationed at Genoa, Italy reads as follows: 'Cholera prevailing in the provinces of Genoa and Alessandria.'

To the City by the Sea.

MARION, N. C., July 25.—At least 400 people started from here this morning on Capt. Ramsaur's excursion to Charleston, and the number will be increased along the route. Two bands will furnish music for the occasion.

Receiver Appointed.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 26.—A temporary receiver was appointed for R. H. Snook & Son, furniture dealers. Assets and liabilities not given.
