THE DAILY CITIZEN, Democratic, is published every afternoon (except Sundays) at the following rates—strictly cash: ONE YEAR, $10.00; SIX MONTHS, $6.00; THREE MONTHS, $3.00; ONE MONTH, $1.00; ONE WEEK, 50c.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 5, 1893.

THE WHEELER CASE.

THE CITIZEN is glad—if the world is permissible in connection with such a distressing incident—to be assured that there has not been an intention anywhere to attempt to shield Mr. Wheeler from having justice and plenty of it. Such content as we have made has been solely to aid in the protection of society. It was reported, on what seemed good authority, that it was proposed to get full restitution from Mr. Wheeler and then to let him go his way. Such a result would have reflected on this community in a way it does not deserve; and THE CITIZEN was in duty bound to prevent any such action if it could.

It is therefore gratifying to know that Solicitor Carter took steps to see that the law of Buncombe county is for the great sinner as well as for the small one; for the rich as well as for the poor. We are assured that, in any event, such steps were not necessary; that Mr. Wheeler would, in any event, have been held to answer for his crime. That being the case the incident stands, in its present aspect, to the discredit morally of no one except the alleged criminal; and the community may be congratulated on that fact.

WOMEN AND THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

The Board of Aldermen did not give the matter of electing two members of the school committee as much careful consideration as they should. We judge that to be the case from the result.

A majority, if not all, of the members of the school committee should have children in the schools. They should be so situated, too, as to be able to devote no little time to their duties of the office. The committee as at present made up has outside the center of the city; the other members do not so much as pass a school house in going to and from business, while the Balfour street and extreme western districts of the city are practically unrepresented.

The CITIZEN does not wish to startle this community too greatly, but it is our plain duty to tell the Aldermen that the vacancies on the school committee should have been filled by naming two ladies. We do not need to urge justified precedent for this, they are women's worth can be questioned when given an opportunity to display itself on a school board, has gone by never to return. It would be a revelation to the other members of the committee, hard as they have worked and praiseworthy as they have been, to see that work, to see with what devotion and singleness of purpose an intelligent woman can give all her ability to making a public school system a success.

Let it be remembered in this connection, that it is the mothers of Asheville who second the work of the teachers in our public schools. Should not these mothers have also the representation necessary to secure a vote in shaping the school system itself?

Man is a very useful factor in his weak way and manner, but he must not have the idea that he has not much to learn from woman. Two ladies on the school committee would know more about the Asheville schools, their needs and their weaknesses, in six months than the members last named will probably know in two years. Make way for woman!

TRIAL TALK.

Times in Ireland. The Landmark, Asheville, N. C., writes last week a witness went on the stand to testify without any coat on. Judge Whitaker, who was holding the court, remarked to the witness that he was glad he had on his pants, and told him to get his coat. It came out that the man never wore a coat in summer and had none with him, consequently he was allowed to tell what he knew about the case in his shirt sleeves.

It strikes the Landmark that Judge Whitaker was just a little too tough for any use on this occasion. Considering the weather for the past month if a citizen should appear in public in his shirt tail we would not be disposed to criticize him. If it shocks Judge Whitaker's fine feelings to see men in their shirt sleeves he had better exchange courts with somebody before he comes to Ireland.

NEWS IN OUR OWN STATE.

The Goldsboro Headlight says that after suffering untold agonies, Elder John Scott of the Primitive Baptist faith died Sunday night of hydrophobia at his home in Wilson county. A few months ago he was bitten by a rabid dog. He had the madstone (of no use whatever) applied to his wound, but the disease broke out upon him in its full fury a few days ago, making his sufferings fearful reading to witnesses.

Morgantown Herald: On the farm of Peyton Moore, on Silver Creek, while several boys were attacking a wasp nest, one of them, a son of Aleck Duck, about fifteen years old, while running out of the wasps, stumbled and fell on an open knife in his hand, and the blade penetrating to his heart caused immediate death.

News has reached Raleigh of the collapse of five spans of the public bridge over Rockfish creek, in Cumberland county. The timbers fell 40 feet, killing Henry Nullally and injuring William Kaynor, Alford Gilmer, Jerry Baker and M. Cameron, all workmen who were making repairs.

Capt. S. A. Ashe says he has no thought of undertaking a history of the State.—Charlotte Observer. Capt. Ashe is a man of sense as well as ability.

The Agricultural Department has received reports that Person county's tobacco crop was badly hurt by drought, and that rains have come too late.

Governor Carr is informed of the disbandment of the Fayetteville division of the North Carolina Naval Reserve.

A REPLY TO MR. HOYT.

EDITOR THE CITIZEN.—I see that Col. John R. Hoyt expresses his disappointment at, and disapproves of the views and intentions of Congressman Crawford concerning the silver question, as set forth in a letter to Col. J. D. Cameron, published in THE CITIZEN recently.

Col. Hoyt seems to think a tremendous revision of sentiment has occurred in the South on this question since the presidential campaign of last fall. This may be as erroneous as I think some other of Col. Hoyt's opinions and conclusions. There has certainly been no change in the Democratic platform, state and national, since last fall. Both of those instruments are still in record with Congressman Crawford's views, and I cannot see how he could consistently change until his party changes, unless he change his political affiliations.

Col. Hoyt charges Mr. Crawford with being young, and at least intimates that it is an undignified thing for our Congressman to hold an opinion on questions of money in accordance with those of the majority of the bankers of the country. Col. Hoyt should remember that the constitution of the United States has made it the business of Congressmen, not bankers, to legislate on the question of money, and therefore it is Mr. Crawford's duty to inform himself and hold opinions on this subject.

Suppose I should say: "Mr. Crawford is a young man. He has never been in the railroad business; neither has he ever engaged in railroading in any sense of the word. During the few months he has been in Congress, he certainly has not had time to master this most difficult problem. His knowledge of railroading must, therefore, be very limited and purely theoretical. On the contrary, the great railroad men of the world are men, for the most part, whose lives have been devoted to the study of railroads. Their knowledge must necessarily be practical. If the railroad man is an evil, as Mr. Crawford would have us think, he is a very necessary one. The existence of the world would rather be in a sad state were he abolished. By whose opinions shall we be guided, Mr. Crawford's or those men who have made railroading a life study?"

Is there a young man in the world who would deem this good statesmanship? Railroads are no less a factor in our civilization than banks, yet it has been thought best by the wisest of men that railroads should be subject to legal restraints. Are railroad men only fit to legislate for railroads? Finance was always long before banking in the world; wisdom came, nor will it depart, with the banks.

As to Europe withdrawing its capital from the United States because of feared silver legislation, I do not believe one word of it. English capital lost heavily and was first frightened by the Baring Bros. collapse, and still later it has, lost by the wild speculation and failures in Australia, and it is simply doing what capital will do when frightened from whatever cause—putting its money in its pockets, so to speak, and leaving its alarm.

Col. Hoyt would have the people believe that silver has become so plentiful that it is almost valueless. As a matter of fact, silver is not so plentiful as it is put the product of gold in the world during the past 500 years as worth $7,240,000,000, and the product of silver during the same time as worth $7,435,000,000, which is practically the same as to both metals.

In the year 1832 the gold product of the United States was worth $65,000,000, while the product of silver in the world was worth $81,000,000. It would not have been wisdom to cut down gold in 1833, and it would be folly to cut down silver now.

It is true that silver is worth only what it will bring as a commodity. Suppose gold should be similarly treated, its money demand withdrawn, what would be the result? Prior to 1870, when the first underground strike was given silver by Senator Sherman, the reputed father of the present silver bill, it had stood as nearly at par with gold for an indefinite period as it is possible for any two values to remain.

As to whether Mr. Crawford will be representing his constituents by his votes on the silver question in Congress, it is sufficient to say that he will hardly be censured for standing upon and attempting to carry out the platform upon which he elected him.

As to Senator Vance, of course he stands where he always has stood, by the people and in the Democratic party.

As to Mr. Pearson's resolution, that depends. Neither Senator Vance nor Congressman Crawford are opposed to a change of ratio, as I understand it, if its wisdom can be shown. One thing, however, will have to be considered in this connection, and that is, the present price of silver due to natural causes, or is it the result of gold being backed by the government?

Had Enough of Kansas. From the Bryson City, N. C., Times. Kansas is fast losing its attractions for our people. The prodigals lately returned of whom we made mention last week, didn't tell there was a drought there, or that farmers there had been farming 10 years and harvested one crop, or a town with a $30,000 school house only had three people in it, but we'll forgive them if they will settle down just as we have done in the glorious west, but strive to make our own mountain country, a place worthy to be called Home.

PT TO FLIGHT. —All the peculiar troubles that beset a woman. The only guaranteed remedy for them is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. For women suffering from any chronic female complaint or weakness, for women who are run-down and overworked; for women expecting to become mothers, and for mothers who are nursing and exhausted; at the change from girlhood to womanhood; and later, if the critical period of life is a medicine that safely and certainly builds up, strengthens, regulates, and cures. If it does not, it even fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

What you are sure of, if you use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, is a steady, perfect and permanent cure for your Catarrh, no matter how bad your case may be, or $500 in cash. The proprietors of the medicine promise to pay you the money, if they can't cure you.

Harris' Lithia Water, Harris' Lithia Springs, S. C. Office of Dr. John Hey Williams, Asheville, N. C., April 24, 1893.

An extended use of Harris' Lithia Water, prompts me to the statement that I regard it as one of the best, if not the very best Lithia waters known to the profession. In the condition of "phosphatic urine" its action is marvelous. Its use in the rheumatic and gouty diathesis, affords me more comfort than either the Buffalo or Londonderry waters. Very truly yours, (Signed) JNO. HEY WILLIAMS, M. D.

R. P. Walker testifies: I have used Harris' Lithia Water and when using same was both pleased and benefited. In using it liberal quantities should be taken, for my experience teaches me that small amounts are disappointing, whereas a generous use is followed by most gratifying results. Yours truly, (Signed) R. P. WALKER.

STILL ANOTHER. Asheville, N. C., April 14, 1893. I am glad to be able to say a word with regard to Harris' Lithia Water. I have used it with the greatest possible benefit in chronic rheumatism. As compared with the Buffalo Lithia, I find it quicker and it requires less quantity. It has my hearty endorsement. Very truly yours, (Signed) MRS. T. W. BRANCH.

These are all bona fide letters from people we know and have confidence in their statements. Analysis on each bottle. Wholesale depot for Asheville and Western North Carolina.

The Normal and Collegiate Institute, FOR YOUNG WOMEN. ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Second Session, September 13, 1893.

This institution is located in the most beautiful suburb of Asheville, N. C. The spacious building, recently completed for its use at a cost of $60,000 is furnished with pure water from Springs on the premises, is lighted with gas, heated by hot water and provided with hot and cold baths.

The health and habits of the pupils are carefully guarded. Besides the ample space given for outdoor exercise, a well equipped gymnasium will be fitted up within doors. No expense has been spared to make the sewerage and sanitary arrangements perfect. Each pupil will have her share in the domestic work, as a part of her practical training for life, and whilst aiming at thoroughness in every department, the management will strive to provide for those committed to their care the advantages, not merely of a christian school, but a christian home. No pupil will be received who is not in reasonable health, or who cannot furnish credentials as to moral character.

FOUR SEPARATE COURSES OF STUDY ARE OFFERED TO THE STUDENT

1. THE NORMAL COURSE, for the thorough training of teachers under instruction from the best Normal schools.

2. SEMINARY OR COLLEGIATE COURSE, including ancient or modern languages, sciences, music, drawing, etc.

3. COMMERCIAL COURSE, including stenography, typewriting, bookkeeping, etc.

4. DEPARTMENT OF DOMESTIC SCIENCE, (a) Scientific cooking, the study of the production and manufacture of foods, etc. (b) Sewing—embracing the cutting and fitting of garments, millinery, etc.

The teachers at the head of this department are from the famous Pratt School, Brooklyn, N. Y., and the others from the best institutions in the country, chosen with reference to Christian character, experience and ability as teachers.

A thoroughly organized Preparatory department has been furnished for all such as are not prepared for the higher classes. The school year is divided into two terms; cost to pupil $50 per term, or $100 per year, which barely covers the expense of board, the school being practically free, having been provided for by a few liberal friends of female education. For further particulars apply to REV. THOMAS LAWRENCE, Asheville, N. C.

GLENN SPRINGS WATER IS A SURE REMEDY TO SUFFERERS.

What Hon. T. D. Johnston says about it: "About four years ago I commenced the use of the Glenn Springs water, to rid my system of the malaria from which I had been suffering for some time. The water has entirely relieved me and I cheerfully state that I believe it to be as good a water as can be found for all ordinary diseases of the liver and kidneys. For a general tonic and renovator of the system I believe it has no equal. Very truly yours, T. D. JOHNSTON."

From John P. Arthur, Esq., Attorney at Law: "I don't know the constituents of the Glenn Springs water, if I did I would make some for myself. Neither do I know how it acts, if I did I would act so myself. It is a well merited water and it acts well. I can only say that its effects on me and my forefathers has been more beneficial than any other water we ever used and I am glad it has been put in the reach of as poor a man as JOHN P. ARTHUR, To Pelham's Pharmacy, May 23, 1893."

What C. T. Rawls writes Pelham's Pharmacy, Asheville, N. C.: "Gentlemen—I have used Glenn Springs water and consider it, as compared with other mineral waters, the best I know of. Everyone in South Carolina knows about 'Old Glenn Springs.' In fact it has been most favorably known there for a century. Yours truly, C. T. RAWLS, Asheville, N. C., May 27, 1893."
