HOUSE WILL REPEAL IT

HARTER SAYS THE WILSON BILL WILL PASS.

He Thinks There Will be a Majority of 100 For the Repeal of the Sherman Law—Bland Does Not Agree With Him.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—In the House today, after adopting a resolution calling on the Secretary of the treasury for information respecting silver purchases, the debate of the Wilson bill was resumed, McCall, Massachusetts, speaking for the bill. McCall was followed by Coombs of New York.

The executive committee of the anti-silver forces in the House, appointed at a conference last night, held a meeting this afternoon for consultation. A poll of the House has been practically completed by canvassers in the interest of the anti-silver faction which is said by one of the leaders to show an impregnable majority of 25 in favor of the unconditional repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act as provided in the Wilson bill. There is substantial agreement among the silver and anti-silver leaders as to what is to be the real test of strength of the two parties on the several questions to be voted on at the close of the present debate.

A wide divergence exists, however, as to the number of votes that would be cast by the two sides thereon. Harter estimates that if the House successfully passes what he calls the danger point of free coinage at a ratio of 20 to 1, the majority of silver at any specified ratio who will not vote to wholly abolish the use of silver as a money metal, which would be the effect, he says, of the passage of the Wilson bill.

"If there are any representatives from the silver district who would thus vote," said Bland, "they had better make terms with the administration for they cannot be in with their people."

Harter's doubt as the result of the vote on the proposition to coin silver at a ratio of 20 to 1 is said to be due to information conveyed to the anti-silver executive committee that there are upwards of 40 Republicans who will vote for establishing coinage at that ratio. Bland, however, believes that the ratio of 16 to 1 will be stronger in the House than any other, despite the reported 40 Republican votes promised for 20 to 1.

In the Senate the morning hour, after the introduction of bills, was largely occupied by discussion as to the overloading of government buildings in Washington with public books and documents. Vest proposed a remedy by the passage of a bill appropriating $300,000 for a building to be known as the "hall of records."

STANDARD OIL CHECKS N. G.

The Ohio Banks Won't Cash Them.

TOLEDO, Aug. 13.—For the first time since oil was discovered in the Ohio fields, the checks issued by the Standard Oil company are not honored. The monthly payroll is made up on the 10th day of each month. On Thursday the small army of paymasters in the employ of the Standard's various Ohio companies started out into the fields as usual, laden with satchels full of checks.

The country merchants and boarding house keepers have always readily accepted the checks after being properly endorsed, and have had no trouble in negotiating them at the Toledo, Findlay and Lima banks. So common were they that they were used about the same as currency.

Last week a few of the checks issued for July labor were accepted by country merchants, who promptly turned them over to the banks.

The latter refused to issue the currency on them or to credit personal accounts. Some banks even refused to accept them for exchange at three per cent. discount. The merchants have since refused to accept any more checks.

The effect is far reaching. Nearly all business in the oil field is done by credit; majority of the board once a month, but they pay their grocers and meat dealers when their boarders pay them, and the grocers settle with their city houses in the same way. The result is no one has yet settled for July's bills.—N. Y. Sun.

BURIED HIS GOLD.

When He Got Back Only The Tin Can Remained.

LEAVENWORTH, Aug. 13.—About two weeks ago Jacob J. Weisman of 720 Osage street had $1,200 in gold, which he placed in a can and buried in his cellar for safe keeping while he and his wife visited the World's Fair. He arrived home yesterday, and this morning went to examine his money. He found the can buried just as he had left it, but the gold was gone. He suspects several persons, and has searched their premises under a warrant, but has found no trace of his stolen gold.—N. Y. Sun.

Wanted—A Signature.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Yesterday was payday at the capital. The employees formed in a line as usual on the 15th of each month, but they received no money. The reason was that the President had not yet signed the resolution, which was rushed through both houses, making the necessary appropriation.

OVER THE PLATE.

Notes to Interest Lovers of the National Game.

The Invincible Highlanders, otherwise known as the Asheville Baseball club, are preparing for their visit to Knoxville next week, when they will play three games with the Knoxville Reds on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The Asheville boys are going to give the Knoxville boys the best they have in the shop and if they do not win they will discover the reason. The Asheville people who wish to see the first game may do so by going down to Knoxville Monday morning at 6 o'clock and, returning leave Knoxville about 8 o'clock Monday evening. This will give all an opportunity to see the first game. However, a number of people will doubtless go down and remain through the series. The excursion rate is only $3 for the round trip.

Yesterday was a great day for the colored sports, the occasion being a game of baseball between the Asheville colored team and the Statesville mine. The friends of the Asheville players were on hand promptly at Carrier's track and flourished their money but found few takers. The game was a victory for the home team, the score being 27 to 20. The Statesville players did not seem to buckle down to business until the last inning, but they had the golden opportunity slip and it was too late to catch it again. The best work on the Statesville team was by the pitcher, a long, loose, double-jointed fellow, who played ball as if he loved it. Had he been well supported the score might have been different. Statesville's second baseman also did very fair work. For the Asheville it was the best playing was done by Butler, the heavy-weight barber, who covered first base in good style.

Big Ivy is coming to Asheville tomorrow to try and beat the Asheville Baseball club. They will bring some Mars Hill's players with them and propose to make the game interesting, whether they win or no. The game will be called at 4 o'clock at Carrier's track.

Secretary Randolph, of the Asheville Baseball club, has received from Capt. A. Mendenhall, of the Greensboro team, a request for a game on the Asheville grounds on Friday, August 25. The game will probably be arranged.

The first game at Charlotte, played Monday, between the Danvilles and the Axters, was a whitewash for the Virginia boys, Charlotte making 5 to Danville's 0.

THE PRESIDENTIAL VETO.

It Will Prevent a Free Coinage Law.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Before he left the President said to a well known gentleman, who told a friend of mine, that he would veto any bill providing for free coinage of silver. The House may not pass a bill at a high ratio, say 20 to 1, but if it does it will certainly pass the Senate. In the conjunction of these events and their collision with a presidential veto lies the danger, but if the House repeals the purchase clause of the Sherman act unconditionally, and the Senate amends by taking on such a compromise measure as I have suggested heretofore, or the coining of the bullion in the treasury, the President would probably sign the bill.—Charlotte Observer.

COCKTAILS GALORE.

The Licensed Dispensaries of the Liquid Cheer in Charleston.

CHARLESTON, Aug. 14.—The dispensary is blossoming in Charleston in great shape.

Steinmeyer will have his petition filed.

There are still six vacancies and they will all be filled as the freehold voters of the city appear to approve of the dispensary.—Atlanta Constitution.

TRIED TO KILL HIM.

Mosher, of Toledo, O., a steamboat captain, returning from the World's Fair, was assaulted here by two tramps last night and robbed of his coat, hat, waistcoat, shoes, and a considerable sum of money. During the struggle they endeavored to throw Mosher under the wheels of a passing train, but the train stopped before they succeeded in doing so.

THEY AWAIT OUR WORD

HAWAIIANS HAVE A WORLD OF PATIENCE.

Blount Said to Have Taken a Definite Stand Back of The Provisional Government—Japan Is Pressing For an Answer.

HONOLULU, via San Francisco, Aug. 16.—The leading topic of discussion here for the past forty eight hours has been Minister Blount's announcement that he would leave by the steamer Gaelic. It has lately transpired that he has taken a definite stand back of the provisional government on certain demands made by the Japanese.

Prominent annexationists declare Mr. Blount to be favorable to the establishment of a protectorate over Hawaii. Royalists are not favorably impressed by the proposed new treaty from Washington, while on the other hand annexationists are elated and assert that they will have still other grounds for believing that the beginning of the end has been reached.

In reply to inquiries during an extended interval Minister Blount said in substance: "I am going home owing to the pressure of my private affairs. I am done with my work here. Besides I shall leave things here in good shape and there is no anticipation that trouble will be precipitated during an interval of 30 days, which will likely pass before my successor can arrive, if he does not come on the Australian before I leave. I shall turn over the archives of the department with other property to Consul General Severance at noon of August 18, if the Gaelic arrives in the morning."

"There is no danger of any disturbances from annexationists and in conversation with the leading royalists I have learned that they will make no further opposition to the provisional government until after the decision of the United States is announced on the proposition for annexation. I am confident the provisional government is capable of preserving the peace and quiet of the country."

Throughout the interview ran the prevailing idea that Minister Blount considered the provisional government as a fixture not to be disturbed unless the United States should see fit to change its policy hereafter.

It has been learned directly and positively that the Japanese government has been lately pressing the provisional government for some prompt assurance of future suffrage for Japanese immigrants here. After a consultation with Minister Blount the provisional government declined to answer the Japanese government pending the settlement of the annexation question by the United States.

CANTON, N. C., Aug. 15.—Sherman Stiles, a trackwalker on the Murphy branch, was seriously hurt by train No. 17 last night in a cut just west of Clyde.
