MYSTERY OF THE FUTURE

WHEN WILL THE SENATE VOTE ON REPEAL?

It seems to be impossible to approximate a date—The Friends of Repeal Not Gaining Ground In The Senate.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The situation in the Senate as day after day passes, fails to show any encouragement for those who are making the battle for unconditional repeal. It is only a dispassionate statement of the truth to say that the repeal forces are apparently no nearer victory than they were 10 days ago; that it does not appear that they have made a converted United States Senator for 14 days and that the prospect for unconditional repeal is not so bright as it was when the repeal bill passed the House with the unexpectedly large majority a month ago.

That startling result and that phenomenal majority gave the cause of repeal an impetus which seemed likely to prove such public sentiment would, and there the measure through the Senate immediately by deterring those Senators who had been preparing to invoke the wiles of the parliamentary filibuster. But since the bill passed the House, and there has been no concerted attempt to force the issue in the Senate, and since every advance movement of Senator Voorhes and every demand of the chairman of the finance committee for a day definite on which the vote should be taken has been successively met by the vigorous opposition of the silver Senators with the plain intimation that every resource offered by the majority would be invoked by the opposition, the repeal Senators have apparently lost much of their confidence and the anti-repeal Senators have regained all that courage which they temporarily lost after the passing of the measure by the House.

FIGHT IN A CHURCH.

The Love Won as It Always Deserves To.

WELDON, N. C., Sept. 22.—During the progress of a revival meeting at Ebenezer Methodist Episcopal church, in this county, yesterday a free fight took place in the church.

Mr. E. W. Dickens had been paying his addresses to Miss Dona Hix for some time. The father and brothers of the young lady were openly hostile to the young man. Yesterday was the day appointed for the wedding. Mr. Dickens, hearing of threats being made by the irate father and brothers, notified the Sheriff to be present.

The three boys appeared during the sermon and, making their way to the altar, a fight at once began. The Sheriff rushed forward and other friends of both parties interfered, and soon the sacred edifice was turned into a pugilistic arena. Men were piled upon each other fighting in the aisles, and women were screaming as they rushed frantically to the doors. The scene was most disgraceful.

The friends of the young couple finally separated the combatants, and as soon as order could be restored the plucky young man and young woman were hurriedly united in the holy bonds by Justice Pittman, while the Sheriff stood by as best man.

The pastor of the church, Rev. Jesse Draper, decided at once to close the meeting, and Rev. Mr. Gilman of Northampton who was here assisting him, left for his home.—Richmond Dispatch.

BRECKENRIDGE'S DENIAL.

He is as Innocent as They Make Them.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Representative Breckinridge has filed his plea in answer to the declarations in the suit of Madeline V. Pollard for breach of promise of marriage. He says he never promised to marry her as alleged. He declares she wrote to him saying that she was distressed about an engagement to marry a fellow student of the University of Virginia which had assumed a condition far worse than divorce, and requested him to see the deendant at Wesleyan university.

He called and she gave him a full recital of her relations with one James C. Rhodes, and he advised her to consummate the contract between her and Rhodes by marriage, and subsequently, after a full conversation with Rhodes, renewed the advice. The deendant denies that any time, or by any means he attempted to take advantage of the youth and inexperience of Miss Pollard, that he at any time prevented her from going abroad or from entering on any career. He denies that there was at any time an agreement of marriage between them, and the plaintiff knew during their entire acquaintance that marriage between them was impossible.

83-Year-Old Eliza Bond Visits the Fair.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Sept. 22.—Mrs. Eliza Bond is the oldest woman to do the World's Fair. Although nearly 85 and an inmate, she made up her mind that she could not die content unless she saw the great Exposition. With her scanty savings she bought a $17 excursion ticket, spent two weeks in Chicago, and returned home well and hearty, and delighted with her experience. The long ride in the cars did not seem to inconvenience her a bit.

A Mexican Volcano Active.

GUADALAJARA, Mexico, Sept. 22.—The Colima volcano, on the Pacific coast, south of this city, is again active, and the people living near the base of the mountain are greatly alarmed. Many have abandoned their homes. The night is impressive at night. The flames may be seen for a long distance on sea and land.

Shook Bonaparte's Hand.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Jacob Hirsch, a Talmudist, died Thursday. He was in his one hundred year. He was born in Pinceny, Posen, Germany, was the father of 50 children and great-great-grandfather of 20. He shook hands with Napoleon Bonaparte on the Emperor's return from Russia after his defeat.

Will Roll It to New York.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—The Ferris wheel will go to New York city at the close of the Columbian exposition. This much has been informally decided upon at a meeting of the board of directors.

THE NEW TARIFF BILL

IT MAY BE READY ON NOVEMBER 1.

But The Probability Is It Will Be Delayed—The New Law To Go Into Effect January 1895.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—This week will see the beginning of the work of putting into shape the tariff bill to be reported by the committee on ways and means. The committee is confronted with a serious financial situation. It admitted that in some way at least sixty millions of annual revenue must be provided to meet the ordinary current expenses of the government, and unless the sinking fund law is suspended or repealed, the deficit will amount to $100,000,000. How is this to be done? is the question the committee must answer by its work.

One of the leading members of the committee says the bill will embrace a "general scheme of reduced duties, the changes to be made with no reference to the persons or interests affected." And Chairman Wilson has been quoted as saying, "The tariff bill which the ways and means committee will report will fulfill in every respect the declaration of the national Democratic platform on the subject."

The member referred to was further asked if the committee would adopt the suggestion of David A. Wells, to increase the internal revenue taxes. "We must have more money from some source," he answered, "and I do not know any better way to raise it than by that scheme."

Representative Wilson declined to set a date for the introduction of the bill, but said, in his opinion, it would not be ready before November 1. A month later is believed to be nearer the time when it may be expected. An impression prevails that the first of January, 1895, will be agreed upon by the committee as the date for putting the law into effect.

KNOCK DOWN ARGUMENT.

J. B. Drake Makes Trouble For a Trio of Unknown Men.

A little after 12 o'clock this morning J. B. Drake, who conducts the fruit stand near the passenger depot, was awakened by voices outside his place of business. One of the persons outside called Mr. Drake, who made no answer. One voice then said: "Let's break in," and the persons then proceeded to carry out the idea. Mr. Drake arose, seized a hatchet and warned the men that he would make trouble for somebody if they came in. The men (there were three of them) ran and Mr. Drake came out of the stand and saw the men stop near the street railway crossing inside the depot grounds. He followed them with blood in his eye, but the third was not so fortunate. Mr. Drake picked up a rock and with good aim brought his game to earth. This knock-down diversion was repeated the next time, and then the man got on his pines and showed a clean pair of heels.

Mr. Drake says the men were unknown, and that this is the fourth attempt to break into his stand.

HELLO, CENTRAL!

Got a New Operator?—Yes, and a Young Lady This Time.

Manager C. W. Thornburg, of the Asheville Telephone exchange, believes in advertising in THE CITIZEN. A few days he used the want column to say that he wanted a young lady to stay in the office. He says that before he had had time to read his afternoon paper two ladies called on him in response to the advertisement. In all, he had more than 20 answers to this advertisement. One of them was from a Greensboro young lady, and she it was who was selected by Manager Thornburg for the position of day operator at the exchange. The lady is Miss Nettie Fowler and she went on duty this morning. Persons who use an "ad." in THE CITIZEN and the further fact that they must be careful of what they yell into the "phone hereafter.

WHO WAS IT?

Mr. McEachin of Laurinburg Asks Information.

Last Tuesday night as J. T. McEachin of Laurinburg, N. C., was on the west-bound train he was struck on the head by a rock thrown through the window by some scoundrel without. The railroad authorities took charge of Mr. McEachin, who was taken off the train at Alexander and his wound was dressed by a company surgeon. As the injured man was getting off the train a gentleman supposing that Mr. McEachin might need funds, placed a $5 bill in his hands, giving his name and stating that his home was Asheville. Mr. McEachin has returned home and writes THE CITIZEN that he has forgotten the name of the gentleman who gave him the money, and requests a publication of the item, in the hope that it may meet the eye of the gentleman, Mr. McEachin desiring to return the money and thank the friend.

FOILED BY DUMMY TRAIN

EXPRESS ROBBERS UNEXPECTEDLY MEET BULLETS.

Two are Killed and Others Captured—News Given in Advance of the Proposed Robbery of the Train.

St. JOSEPH, Sept. 25.—[Special.]—The Council Bluffs railway foiled an attempt to rob one of its passenger trains, killed two of the bandits and captured three others at Francis, one and a half miles from this city, last night. The dead are Ed. Kohler and Higs Tindall, and the names of those captured are Frederick Hensch and —Harvey. Train No. 3 was the intended victim. It left Kansas City at 9:05 last night and arrived here at 12:30 this morning. The officials of the railroad had been notified that a robbery of the road had been planned and they notified the police.

When the train arrived here a dummy train was made up and sixteen police officers in command of the chief of police were put aboard. In order to thoroughly deceive the robbers the dummy train was made the exact duplicate of train No. 3 and consisted of an engine and tender, express and baggage car and the usual coaches and Pullman.

At a point two miles out the robbers stopped the train and entered the express car. There they were met by a volley. Two fell dead and three were captured. The man who jumped into the engine cab escaped.

It is now learned that the couple have fled to his Texas home. Mrs. Sutton had been married eight years, she and her husband living peaceably. She left two little girls aged 6 and 4 years, behind.
