STEWART ON CLEVELAND

DID THE LATTER REBUKE THE SENATE?

Stewart Chooses To Believe That He Did and Resents The Comment—Non-Purchase of Silver Bullion.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The Senate met yesterday at 11 o'clock with an unusually small attendance.

The resolution offered last Saturday by Stewart as to the co-ordinate departments of the government, was laid before the Senate:

"Resolved, That the independence of the co-ordinate departments of the government—the legislative, the executive, and the judicial—must be maintained, and that the use of the power and influence of one department to control the action of another is in violation of the constitution and destructive of our form of government."

Stewart began with a citation from President Cleveland's speech last Monday on the occasion commemorating the hundredth anniversary of the laying of the corner stone of the capitol. This speech had been made by a President having more than 10,000 federal offices to dispose of, and with veto power which had been designed only for extraordinary occasions, backed by concentrated capital and disinterested patriotism and legislative independence and courage and flattered by a venal press. He described Cleveland on that occasion as turning his face towards the Senate wing of the capitol, and in angry and menacing tones using the following language:

"If the representatives who have assembled to make laws for their fellow countrymen forget the duty of broad and disinterested patriotism and legislate in prejudice and passion or in behalf of sectional or selfish interests, the time when the cornerstone of the capitol was laid and the circumstances surrounding it will not be worthy of commemorating."

This declaration, Stewart said, had been cheered and encouraged by a thoughtless multitude and construed by a venal press as a rebuke from the President of the United States to the Senate.

Stewart charged that the President in disregard of his oath of office had permitted the secretary of the treasury to violate the law of January 18, 1893, which made the purchase of 4,500,000 ounces of silver bullion per month mandatory. He knew that an excuse was made that the bullion was not purchased because the holders asked more than the market price, but he insisted that the market price of property was that at which the owner was willing to sell.

However much, he said, some Senators might depreciate the law of July 14, 1890, all (both high and low) had to obey the law in civil liberty was to be maintained and if constitutional government was to exist, the President's oath of office commanded him to see that the laws were faithfully executed; but here was a plain man-made law that had been disregarded. Was it not time, he asked, to sound the alarm. If constitutional liberty was of any value, it seemed to him that all (friends and foes) should stand up and say to the President of the United States: "You have overstepped the mark, we cannot afford to have the laws of Congress disregarded."

Stewart then read from the Congressional directory of the present session the President's biography, making amusing comments upon it as he read. When he read the sentence that Cleveland had, when 18 years old, become a clerk in an assistant teacher of the blind in New York city, his comment upon it was that Cleveland had not entirely gotten over that habit yet. [Laughter.]

After talking more than two hours and a half, Stewart paused and said that he would now like to yield the floor to the Senator from Pennsylvania (Cameron) but he would go on with his speech whenever the Senate would let him. He had not got to the main part of it yet.

ROMANCE IN NEW ORLEANS.

Wedding of a German Baron To a Creole Belle.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 23.—At the St. Louis cathedral today Baron Otto Von Loosberg and Miss Valentine Cassard, daughter of Mr. John Cassard, a wealthy and prominent merchant of this city, were married.

Miss Cassard has been one of the belles in creole society. Baron Von Loosberg is a son of Gen. Von Loosberg of Hesse Darmstadt, Germany, and is highly educated.

Arriving in New Orleans a couple of years ago, without friends and money, and not being able to obtain a situation, he accepted a place as waiter in a restaurant.

A party of gentlemen dining at the restaurant one day noticed that he appeared out of place and questioned him. At first he was averse to talking, but finally told them who he was.

They interested themselves in his behalf and secured him a place with the New Orleans brewing company. His new employers were so well pleased with his work that he was rapidly promoted, and he is now one of the most trusted employees of the company.—N. Y. Sun.

HEAVY SNOW STORM.

It Sweeps Over England, and a Severe Winter is Predicted.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—A severe snow storm swept over Northern England Friday, following an unnatural spell of warm weather.

Dispatches from Italy say the Apennines are covered with snow, and meteorologists predict that these early snows are an indication that Europe will have an unusually hard winter.

With an American Edition?

PARIS, Sept. 26.—The Paris tailor's syndicate are preparing a new edition of their blank book, which was originally published seventeen years ago. The book contains the names and descriptions of persons who do not pay. Once a man's name is in it he is unable to obtain clothing at any establishment unless he is prepared to pay cash on delivery.

Train Robber Caught.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 24.—Passengers on the east-bound Vandalia train bring word that Joe Harding, whose home is in Danville, Ill., the last of the Centralia train robbers, was caught late last night at Caseyville, on the Ohio and Mississippi. Harding made a desperate resistance, but was knocked down from behind and overpowered.

BARNARDSVILLE BEATEN.

Mars Hill's Club Wins Saturday by a Score of 18 to 14.

BARNARDSVILLE, N. C., Sept. 25.—Barnardsville and Mars Hill came together in another game of baseball Saturday. This was the third of a series of games played between these teams. The first game was played at Barnardsville, the score standing 17 to 19 in favor of the home team. The second was played at Mars Hill by a score of 13 to 12. The great trouble at that place seemed to be in getting up to Mars Hill's ball ground. It lies west of the town and includes a low hollow, the runner going up grade, and the fielder trotting up the hill. We hardly doubt that they could beat Knoxville on their ground. The third game was played on level ground near Barnardsville on the 25th. Umpires were J. H. Brittain of Barnardsville and Mr. Sams of Mars Hill. At first there was some grumbling because a man from Weaverville had volunteered to play with our club. But after a few moments the boys came to themselves and the game began. Mars Hill scored five the first inning. In the second they made six runs. The first two innings for Barnardsville they made nothing. Our boys seemed to be excited these innings, and the consequence was bad hitting and other errors. Of the remaining seven innings Mars Hill was "skunked" five times and our boys made 14 runs, while the former made seven runs. Our teams was "skunked" four times throughout the game.

All Barnardsville needs is real good management, together with the exercise of great care in throwing. She will probably try Weaverville the 30th, and after that she is ready for another "22 of 3" game. The Mars Hill boys are nice young men and very hard to beat. Several hundred persons witnessed the game.

MILLION DOLLAR FIRE.

St. Joseph, Mo., Business Houses Destroyed.

St. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 26.—Three solid blocks of the finest business houses of St. Joseph are in ruins and a million dollars worth of property has been destroyed. About 10 o'clock yesterday morning fire broke out in the top floor of the eight story department house of Townsend & Wyatt. The entire building was soon in flames. A strong wind from the north soon carried the flames across the street to the magnificent Commercial bank structure, and it was soon destroyed. The Central Saving bank went next and then followed the Centre block. The Reigner and Soap Crocker company's new house was next to succumb and $75,000 worth of goods dropped into the cellar. The Carbery block was next attacked and then Binswanger & Co., the Honkong Tea Co., the Spencer Cigar Co., and a dozen smaller institutions went up.

The fire was then burning fiercely from four sides and the destruction of the best business interests of the city was imminent. At this time dynamite was resorted to and a number of buildings blown up and the progress of the fire stayed. With the help of the Topeka and Kansas City department, which were telegraphed for and arrived at this juncture, the fire was gotten under control. Three firemen were badly injured and several others hurt.

FOUR SEASONS CLOSURE.

Harrogate's Swell Hotel Has Proceeds of Fair.

CUMBERLAND GAP, Tenn., Sept. 24.—Chief Clerk Hess of the Four Seasons hotel paid himself off in full Saturday afternoon, bought a ticket for Middleborough, but left the train at Hamilton Springs and walked to Kentucky. Officers were waiting at Cumberland Gap, but were disappointed. He is now in Middleboro with his $86 in his inside pocket.

The Four Seasons hotel closed tonight. It has for four months past been in the hands of a receiver, during which time he had spent the greater part of $45,000 in receiver's certificates. The management claim the World's Fair did the work. The dozen or so guests who were there left tonight. Eighty people were thrown out of employment and were paid in receiver's certificates, which, it is said, will be cashed in one month. Many are offering to sell their certificates for 50 cents on the dollar.

The hotel will probably be reopened in February.—Knoxville Tribune.

DIXON DEFEATS SMITH.

Eight Thousand People Saw The Fight.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—George Dixon, the champion feather weight pugilist of the world met and defeated Solly Smith of California, at the Coney Island athletic club last night for a purse of $9,000, retaining the championship of the world. The winner gets $8,000 and the loser $1,000. The fight ended in the seventh round, Smith being knocked out. It is estimated that 8,000 people witnessed the fight. The betting ruled 2 to 1 in favor of Dixon.

THE SUIT AGAINST SAGE.

It Will Be Thrown Out Probably Tomorrow.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—[Special.]—In the Delia Keegan suit against Russell Sage for causing her ruin 24 years ago, the judge ordered the prosecution to bring proofs that the statute of limitation is not effective within 24 years. It is believed the case will be thrown out tomorrow.

Five of the seven fresh cases appeared yesterday in the dock districts. The official totals up to Friday evening were 54 cases and 15 deaths.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 26.—[Special.]—Sol Smith, the prize fighter, secured a writ of habeas corpus this morning to prevent his being returned to Indiana. At noon the judge decided he must return to Roby for trial.

RIO JANERIO BOMBARDED

THE HORRORS OF WAR EX-EMPLIFIED.

Several Women and Children Killed and Many Persons Wounded—The Revolutionists Successful.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—A cable from Rio de Janeiro says the city was bombarded yesterday by the revolutionary ships, under command of Admiral Mello.

The effect was terrific.

Many residences as well as business blocks were destroyed and perhaps a score of women and children killed, while a larger number were wounded.

It is now believed that Mello, commander of the revolutionary navy, has completely subdued the authorities, some of whom have fled, and that he will occupy the city tomorrow. He has refused to listen to a compromise.

COL. CLAY KING.

A Convicted Murderer Allowed to Publish a Statement.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 26.—Col. H. Clay King, the murderer of David H. Poston, now serving a life sentence in the Tennessee penitentiary as punishment for the crime, has issued an address to the public in which he makes some sensational charges. He alleges that his conviction was brought about by a conspiracy between Judge Julius J. Dubose of the Shelby county criminal court, and the relatives of Poston. Dubose, he asserts, used every means in his power to secure conviction in order to placate the Postons, who were his political enemies. King also charged that Mrs. Gideon J. Pillow and David H. Poston, the murdered man, were intimate.

The publication of the article has caused a sensation. King wrote it for the purpose of arousing public sentiment in his favor in the hope of securing a pardon, but he will fall in his object, as Governor Turner was a member of the supreme court when King's death sentence was affirmed.

"IT IS ALL TRUE."

An Archbishop is Removed From Office by Order of Satoli.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Archbishop Satoli, apostolic delegate, was asked as to the accuracy of the statement that Archbishop Kendrick of St. Louis had been deposed by his authority, and that Archbishop Kain, his coadjutor, had been vested with full archiepiscopal powers. Monsignor Satoli replied:

"It is all true. I have nothing further to say on the subject."

St. Louis, Sept. 25.—The announcement that Mgr. Satoli had deposed Archbishop Kendrick has caused much astonishment here. It was expected by those well informed, but there is little said in the matter by those in authority in Catholic circles.

Archbishop Kain, to whom has been given supreme control, when seen, refused to say a word in regard to the deposition of Archbishop Kendrick. There is no doubt, however, that Mgr. Satoli's mandate has been carried into effect.

TORN TO PIECES.

Two Men Killed and Three Wounded.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—About half past 12 o'clock yesterday morning a terrific explosion, supposed to have been that of a dynamite bomb, occurred at a non-union sailors' boarding house and saloon located on Main street. The sidewalk in front of the building where the explosion occurred was torn to pieces and the buildings in each side of the house badly shattered.

George Holmes and Trick Mason, a non-union sailor was instantly killed. William T. McKenzie was badly burned all over the body. Edward Murphy and Chas. Owen were terribly lacerated from head to foot. All three were badly injured. John Curtin, jr., proprietor of the boarding house was badly burned and bruised. Three union sailors, Jas. Tarrall, Jas. Woods and Clarence Clancy were arrested on suspicion of having caused the accident.

Strange Murder.

FRANKLIN, Tex., Sept. 25.—G. M. Beard, a prominent lawyer, politician and superintendent of the public schools of Robertson county, was killed yesterday while in bed with his wife and baby, by a big stroke over the left eye with some blunt instrument. It is thought the motive for the deed was revenge, as there was no attempt at robbery.

State and National Banks.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Statistics compiled from official data show that from January to September, this year, 560 state and private banks in the United States failed, and that 72 have resumed business. In the same time 155 national banks failed, 70 of which have resumed.

Let Them Consider The Cause.

WAYCROSS, Ga., Sept. 26.—Representative colored citizens have called a State convention to meet at Macon, on October 17, to form an association for the purpose of preventing lynching and other outrages on the negroes.

Killed 15 Rattlesnakes.

DOWNS, Ga., Sept. 25.—Dan Middleton, living near here, while picking up wood in an old graveyard, came upon a nest of fifteen rattlesnakes, all of which he killed. The largest one had 13 rattles and the smallest 4.

$5,000,000 in American Roads.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Baron Hirsch has sold Italian rentes to the amount of $5,000,000 and has invested the money in American railroad securities, including some low-priced stocks which pay no dividends.

No Strike There.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 26.—[Special.]—Engine
