

COMING AND GOING.

Personals About People in and Out of Asheville.

J. H. Whitner of Knoxville is at the Swannanoa.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Willard of Augusta, Ga., are at the Battery Park.

Among the guests of the Swannanoa today is B. F. Eberts of New York.

Miss Lillie Buxton of Lenoir is visiting at Judge E. J. Aston's, 63 Church street.

Burt Denison has returned from Lowell, Mass., where he has been for several months past.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Conant left yesterday for Cincinnati and Chicago. They will spend the month of October at the Fair.

George R. Collins was a World's Fair passenger on No. 11 yesterday. He will do the White City for two or three weeks.

W. G. Maxwell, of the United Industrial company, New York, arrived in the city yesterday, and is stopping at the Battery Park.

Miss Stella Davenport, stenographer and typewriter in Chas. McNamee's office, left yesterday to visit her mother in Marietta, O.

J. C. Lipe has returned from Nashville, Tenn., where he has been buying oak and ash lumber for the Asheville Wood-working company.

Rev. K. P. Campbell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, C. E. Graham and W. H. Westall left for the Columbia Fair this afternoon.

J. M. Terrell of Sonoma, a brother of T. W. Terrell, of the Asheville, arrived in the city yesterday on his way to Emory and Henry college.

Lieutenant Robert P. Johnston, engineering corps U. S. A., left this afternoon for Willets Point, Long Island, where he will be stationed for the next two years.

David B. Scott of Providence, R. I., a brother of George F. Scott, is visiting the latter. Mr. Scott is chief electrician of the Old Colony and New York, Hartford and New Haven railroads.

The westbound train as it pulled out this afternoon carried Rev. Dr. James Atkins and daughter, Miss Love Brainerd Atkins, and Miss Jessie Breece, who go to the Fair for a 10 days' inspection of it.

A SWEEPING CHALLENGE.

Capt. M. J. Fagg to the North Carolina Farmers.

Capt. M. J. Fagg, who is as thorough a farmer as he is a fox hunter, has determined to issue a challenge to the farmers of North Carolina, with a view to seeing just what the lands of the Old North State can do when given a chance.

The challenge is sweeping, and the contest is open to every farmer in North Carolina who cares to enter. It is that he will sow one acre of ground in wheat, and will defy any farmer to beat him in the yield. The land he proposes to use in this contest is a portion of his splendid property on North Main—his "pocoy farm," as he calls it. He will not use a pound of fertilizer on the ground, but will allow the other competitors in the contest to use as much manure or fertilizer as they wish. The only conditions he imposes are that the land used in the contest shall be carefully laid out by disinterested parties and that the yield shall also be measured by persons who have no part in the contest. Capt. Fagg has his ground nearly ready now, and believes that the yield on the acre thus set apart by him will take the blue ribbon against all comers.

Capt. Fagg is in earnest in this matter and will be glad to have his challenge accepted by farmers in any section of the State.

The challenge is out. The idea is a splendid one. Now, who will enter the contest?

SIDEWALK COSTS.

Assessments For Paving Done Lately on Two Streets.

At last Friday's meeting of the Board City Engineer Lee submitted reports of assessments against property owners on Central avenue and Church street for sidewalks put down on those streets. The reports are printed herewith. The cost on Central avenue between Woodfin and Orange streets is:

The assessments on Church street between Patton avenue and Willow street are:

Johnston estate.....$134.42
Carter & Graham..... 42.93
Presbyterian church..... 189.49
Asheville Library..... 37.67

THINKS IT'S ALL RIGHT.

Collector Elias on the Question of His Confirmation.

Collector Elias, who returned yesterday afternoon from a trip which included Chicago and the National capital, when asked this morning about the question of his confirmation by the United States Senate, said there was no doubt in his mind that the confirmation would be made all right, probably next week or the week after. He also said in reply to a question, that he did not know upon what grounds Senator Vance was basing the opposition to him.

The collector says the Fair is a great exposition—in fact, too great for a visitor to grasp in a few days' stay. He was weary almost the first day he spent there.

FREIGHT IS LIVELY.

Three New Big Engines Put on the R. & D.

For the past week or two freight on the Western North Carolina branch of the R. & D. road has been rushing. So heavy has the traffic been that the railroad authorities have secured three of the largest engines in use, commonly spoken of among the "boys" as "hogs." These big engines will carry across the mountains one-third more freight than will the ordinary freight engines used on this road. Chief Dispatcher Neveill says that recently the R. & D. has received on an average 80 cars a day at Faint Rock, which, together with local freights, amounted to at least five trains a day.

Columbus discovered a new world where today in millions of homes there is one or more victims of alcoholism. The Houston discovery is a positive cure for liquor, morphine and opium habits that has radically cured thousands. Asheville institute at 53 West College street, cures guaranteed or no pay.

Be sure you get your ticket for the excursion to Charleston on the 28th. Tickets on sale at Wilson & McNamee's, 59 S. Main street.

For oysters in any style go to Mountain Gem Restaurant.

AROUND TOWN.

Mayor Patton had four cases before him today, and the fines aggregated $30.

The change in the schedules on the Asheville Street railway has caused the cutting off of two crews or four men.

President M. M. Lemmond, of the Southern Business college, tells THE CITIZEN that the college night school will open this week, probably tomorrow night.

The track force of the West Asheville and Sulphur Springs railway has been doing some work, notably in the way of filling up gullies, surfacing the track, etc.

B. A. Winkle, who recently graduated from the Southern Business college, has accepted a position as bookkeeper and stenographer for the French Broad Lumber company.

The many friends of Eli Mustin will regret to hear that he is ill at his home on Starnes avenue with jaundice. However, his physician expects to have him out within the next 10 days.

A social is to be given in the Sunday school room of the First Presbyterian church this evening by the Young People's society of Christian Endeavor. Members of the congregation of this church are invited to attend.

The committee of the First Baptist church are busy making preparations for the entertainment of the delegates who will attend the sessions of the Western North Carolina Baptist convention, to be held here October 18 to 22.

The jury sent on Southside avenue yesterday to award damages to the property of the late Mrs. W. W. McDowell, because of the opening of the avenue, will report to the Board Friday allowing damages to the amount of $570.

Thursday morning, the 28th, is the date fixed for the start of Wilson & McNamee's excursion from Asheville to Charleston, S. C. This trip will be a pleasant one for Ashevilleans who wish to go to the seashore, and at the same time, the round trip fare being only $4.

In the jewelry store of A. M. Field, South Main street, are cards which it presented at the exhibit of the Keystone Watch company in the World's Fair. Fair souvenir. Asheville people going to the Fair should get one of the cards, which are given out free by Mr. Field.

C. L. V. S. Lusk came in this morning from Webster, where he had gone to attend Jackson county court. If the court should be held, the account of Judge Arnold's illness, however, the court was not held. Col. Lusk says that a number of suitors were there, but on learning that the term was off, "folded their tents and silently stole away."

Waterworks Superintendent Murray says the supply now is all that could be desired. Everybody has plenty of water and it is pumped into the city mainly by the new water pump. Occasionally the steam pump has to be operated for a few hours at a time. The work of repairing the old water pump will soon be completed and when this is done it is probable that there will be little or no use for the steam pump, except, possibly, in midsummer when the water in the Swannanoa is low.

REV. MR. FORBES.

Died at Beaufort and Buried at Newbern.

Newbern, N. C., Sept. 25.—[Special.]—Rev. Mr. Forbes died at Beaufort yesterday and was buried here today.

Mr. Forbes was a prominent man in the early days of the diocese of North Carolina and one of the best known of the older clergy of the Episcopal church in the State. He was with Bishop Ives in his missionary tours and was greatly interested in the work of the church at Valle Crucis in Yancey county.

TRIP WILL GO BACK.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 25.—H. S. Trout, Mayor of Roanoke, who is here with his wife and son, expects to return to that city in a few days. He has no fear of being molested when he goes back. He will in a few days prepare a statement for publication in which he will give a history of the event which led to the riot and a story of the battle.

Roanoke, Va., Sept. 25.—A citizens' committee of thirteen has issued an address to Mayor Trout, inviting him to return here.

Special Accident Insurance and Railroad Rates for World's Fair. Clark, Grand Central Hotel.

AT THE GRAND.

"Uncle Hiram" is the attraction coming to the Grand opera house tomorrow evening, with Aaron H. Woodhull in the leading role. In rewriting the play Mr. Woodhull has made it a scenic and mechanical production, the principal effects being a saw mill outfit, cutting lumber in view of the audience and the passing of a railroad train. The scenes are laid in Vermont and New York city, and "Uncle Hiram" keeps along with the procession to the end. Tickets on sale at H. A. Lindsey's, 34 Patton avenue.
