A MILD NEW TARIFF LAW

THE TARIFF FOR REVENUE

CRY.

If This Correspondent Be Correct The Ways and Means Committee Have Not the Courage of the Convictions of the Democratic Voters

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 3.—[Special.]—Your correspondent has made some inquiries concerning the general policy of the ways and means committee, and is able to state that the new law as it comes from the committee will be a great disappointment to the extreme tariff reformers of the Democratic party and will be much more moderate and conservative than the protection wing of that party is dared to hope. Inside information is to the effect that Chairman Wilson and his colleagues upon the committee have decided to make tariff changes so moderate and cautious as to satisfy the business interests and manufacturers that it is not the policy of the Democratic party to injure them or strike them down.

Disappointment Inevitable. As soon as a tariff bill of this description comes from the committee there will be an outburst of indignation from those who favor radical tariff reform, and who interpret the result of last year's election to be that the country demands deep cuts all along the protection line. On the other hand, a moderate and conservative bill will commend itself to the eastern wing of the Democratic party, and also to Republicans and Independents.

Chairman Wilson, it is distinctly understood, works in entire sympathy with President Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle. If the times had been normal, Mr. Cleveland would have advised and used his influence to secure more radical action. But in view of what has occurred in the country during the past six months the President has become convinced that this is an inopportune time to effect radical tariff reform.

Is Mr. Cleveland's Opinion Changing? Furthermore, there are whispers that Mr. Cleveland has to some extent changed his views upon the tariff question since he was before in the White House. We hear that Mr. Cleveland has become a good deal such a tariff reformer as the late Senator Kenyon was. In other words, Mr. Cleveland now believes in limited protection which does not encourage monopoly or cater to greed, but which still protects.

Those Democrats who expect to see the protective principle abandoned in the new bill and a revenue tariff put in its place are doomed to experience bitter disappointment. The bill will contain nothing of the sort.

A Compromise on Sugar. Your correspondent has the best reasons for believing that the new bill will be the old McKinley bill over again, with a few more raw materials and small cuts and shadings here and there throughout the schedules. It will be a bill more remarkable for what it does not do than for what it does do. If present information is trustworthy, the committee has decided, or is about to decide, that it will compromise on the troublesome sugar question—that is to say, it will not abolish the whole tariff which has been so vigorously denounced in Democratic platforms and speeches, but will retain about one-half the bounty and make up the other half by imposing a small duty upon imported sugar.

Gorman's Work. For several weeks Senator Gorman has not appeared on the surface except when he had his tilt with Mr. Wolcott. So far as the ordinary observer could see, he was doing nothing. But Mr. Gorman has been at work, and successfully, too, as the champion of compromise, having for his argument the threatened disunion of the Democratic party in case one side or the other of this battle should lose it all. While Mr. Gorman does not show his hand until the times comes, he is always alert, active and full of purpose.

That moment is now here, and Mr. Gorman is at the front. Passage of a bill that will be on the whole satisfactory to the country, and the same time make some concession to the silver producing states and avert the disaster which hangs over them, will be a great triumph for the leadership of Mr. Gorman in the Democratic party. His friends think it will make him the Democratic nominee three years hence.

Vigorous Senator Vorhees. One reason why the plan to use the Vice-President in forcing a vote never amounted to anything was the fierce opposition thereto of Senator Vorhees, the repeal leader. Mr. Vorhees denounced the plan in language that was more picturesque than that which he usually employs. "No one but a miserable whelp of a plutocrat would ever think of such a thing," said Mr. Vorhees. "No one but a bearded selfish moneybags would ever propose that the Vice-President of the United States purge himself and override the traditions and liberties of the senate. No one but an infernal gold-worshipping scoundrel would ever propose that honorable senators should become party to such a villainous scheme."

When it comes to using English language in a declamatory or denunciatory sense, Mr. Vorhees is without a rival in the senate. When asked a few days ago how long he was willing to continue the battle for unconditional repeal, he replied: "You may say that we are ready to stay here all the fall, all winter and all next summer in order to pass this bill, and if that does not continue the story long enough—why, you may say that we will stay here until the angel Gabriel blows his trumpet."

An Old Tennessee Bank Fails. HARTINGTON, Tenn., Oct. 3.—The bank of Carroll, the oldest bank in the city, has failed. Cashier R. F. Truslow acknowledges using $2,500 of the bank's funds. County funds are locked up, and the public schools may be forced to close. Truslow has turned over all his property.

Petitions—Insurance. WINSTON, N. C., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The Board of Trade has again petitioned the North Carolina Senators to repeal the Sherman law.

The insurance companies are settling losses on the Hotel Zazendorf by compromise.

ELIAS UP BEFORE VANCE

IN WASHINGTON TO ANSWER THE CHARGES.

The Hearing Was Before The Finance Committee Having The Nomination in Charge to Make a Report Thereon.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The contest between Senators Ransom and Vance over the nomination of Collector of Internal Revenue for the district of North Carolina broke out afresh yesterday evening in the Senate committee on finance, which has charge of such nominations, and of which committee Mr. Vance is a member.

Almost the entire time of the committee was consumed in trying to get a decision of this case and nothing definite was accomplished. Mr. Elias was brought before the committee and himself made a statement, and when the committee adjourned, a sub-committee consisting of Mr. Vance and Mr. Jones of Arkansas, remained to continue the discussion. A full report of all that Mr. Elias had to say was made by a stenographer, and this in connection with some voluminous documentary evidence, will be laid before the committee at its next meeting.

The President has nominated to be postmaster in North Carolina W. G. Turner at Morganton and J. P. Haskitt at Kinston.

Two members of the North Carolina Congressional delegation are in a state of mind to support the nomination of Mr. Haskitt. They think his name was substituted for that of Jno. C. Wooten and a change will be made. Haskitt was but slenderly supported while Wooten had been strongly recommended for the place.

NATIONAL CALAMITY. Coal up to $12 per ton in England.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The English coal famine has assumed the proportions of a national calamity. The suffering among the strikers themselves is appalling. Thousands are starving in the Midlands. The commercial effects already are very severe. Many trains have stopped running on the railroads. The receipts for the past two months have declined $5,000,000. The retail price of coal is now about $10 a ton, and yet the miners' Federation has again voted not to yield.

The decision to allow the men to return at the old rate of wages wherever possible will give some new mines, but will also contribute to the ultimate defeat of the strikers. It is high time that America took advantage of the situation. No coal comes to England from the Continent, on account of the strikes there. Every cargo of bituminous coal sent here from America within the next month, even if the strike immediately collapses, will pay a big profit.

But dreadful as the distress among the locked-out and striking colliers is, the latter are far overshadowed in numbers by the operatives in other industries now thrown out of work by the closing of mills, furnaces, factories and railway shops. General paralysis of manufacturing is costing the country more millions weekly than anyone dares to think of.

It is commonplace to say that nothing like such misery and disaster has ever been known before in England. There is no parallel to it anywhere save, perhaps, in some widespread phase of devastation by war.

TILLMAN'S LATEST SCHEME. He Intends to Place Metropolitan Police in the City.

COLUMBIA, Oct. 3.—Governor Tillman is now firm in his intention so try to saddle metropolitan police on the larger cities in South Carolina under the plea that the local police always oppose his efforts to carry certain measures, especially the dispensary law. The governor seems to think that though the chief of police in Charleston is a great reformer he is unable to work the force exactly in accordance with "retawm" ideas, as there is some other power behind the throne. There is some talk about some of the best justices, he said, that some of them have given the blind tigers warning when the lighting of the spies was about to strike. The governor says that if he can catch up with any such persons he will chop off their official heads without any communication.—Atlanta Constitution.

A House for Mr. Botoll. WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Negotiations are now pending for the purchase for $35,000 of a residence in this city for Mr. Botoll. The matter will be definitely settled at the meeting of Catholic Bishops to be held in Baltimore this month. The house selected was at one time the home of Justice Bradley of the district supreme court.

Memphis Strike Continues. MEMPHIS, Oct. 3.—The strike on the Chesapeake, Ohio and Southwestern, Illinois Central and Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroads has not changed, though the outlook for the disaffection extending to several other roads is more positive.

Our Navy on a Solid Footing. NEW LONDON, Ct., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—New cruiser Montgomery, after completing her trial trip yesterday, struck the rocks later at 4 o'clock this morning. Three hours later she floated. An examination is now being made as to her damage.

Spaniards in Great Danger. MADRID, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Twelve thousand natives surrounded Mellilla today. The army is increasing hourly and the Spaniards may be annihilated.

Getting Out of Jesup. SYDNEY, N. S. W., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Seven Jesup patients were transferred to camp this morning. The exodus is starting. Guards are preventing fugitives from moving into towns.

The International Yacht Race. NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The Valkyrie-Vigilant race will be sailed tomorrow. Both yachts were officially measured today.

THE DEATH LIST GROWING

300 PERSONS DEAD FROM MONDAY'S STORM.

Mobile Was Hard Hit, But Has Gone to Work Clearing Up the Wreck—No Communication to New Orleans—Bodies Washed Ashore.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The loss of life on Grand Isle from the storm is placed at 250, a total loss of life to the number of 300. It will be days before communication between here and Mobile is resumed.

The cyclone destroyed Hogan, Ga. Bodies are being washed ashore on the Louisiana and Mississippi coast, showing that the number of sea wrecks were greater than first reported.

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 4.—The details of the storm which broke with such a fury over the Gulf coast Monday morning and raged with increasing fury for over six hours are just beginning to come in, and the indications are that the loss of life in the lowlands east of the city has been very great. The inundated portion of the city early presented its usual animated appearance yesterday and the work of cleaning out the muddy sediment from the stores, deposited by the receding waters, and the debris was pushed from the streets with energy and vigor.

The beautiful shell road which wound along the western shore of the Mobile bay for a distance of nine miles through glades of moss festooned magnolias is almost a total wreck. The route of the storm 12 churches were wrecked, five of them being located at Grand Bay. In Scranton and at East Pascagoula, four miles distant on the sound, houses were blown down, stores flooded and stocks damaged, while at Pascagoula, which is the port of entry, the entire beach is said to have been wrecked. The loss of life is reported to have been very great. It will be some days before the full extent of the damage wrought will be known; but it is feared here the grand total will cause to pale into insignificance the number of deaths reported from the storm which recently devastated the Atlantic coast.

There is no doubt that the damage will reach at least a quarter of a million dollars. This is a very conservative estimate and may be largely exceeded.

PENSACOLA, Oct. 4.—The most destructive storm that Pensacola has experienced in 20 years began at 6 o'clock Monday morning and raged with increasing fury until a late hour yesterday. The rain fell in torrents and was swept in blinding sheets through the streets. No loss of life has been reported, but upon every street uprooted trees, broken fences and roofless buildings testify to the storm's force.

Restrained of Their Liberty. LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 4.—Twenty-five suits in behalf of workmen who were brought here from the east to take the places of the striking shop men of the Nashville and Louisville road have been filed. Ten thousand dollars are asked for in each case. The grounds of the suits are that the plaintiffs were brought here under misrepresentation, to their injury; that they were locked up and restrained of their liberty, and that they were refused transportation back to their homes.

Daughters of the King. BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 4.—The first convention in the United States of the Daughters of the King will be held in Baltimore at Ascension Episcopal church, beginning October 25 and continuing three or four days.

Stolen Money Recovered. MARQUETTE, Mich., Oct. 4.—The entire $70,000 stolen from the Mineral Range train on September 15th has been recovered on confession of thieves who state that they got it from the original robbers.

Militia For Strikers. DECATUR, Ala., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Four companies of Birmingham militia arrived this morning and all is quiet among the L. & N. strikers, although there is said to be an attempt to burn the shops.

Trying a Lawless One. NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The trial of Anarchist Goldman begun this morning, ex-Mayor A. Oakley Hall, her counsel, selecting the jury.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS. A satisfactory arrangement has been made with Canadian railroads and steamships to assure the observance of the immigration laws of the United States.

Justice John M. Harlan believes that future differences between England and the United States will be settled by an equal number of judges from the highest courts of those countries.

A series of demonstrations against the House of Lords has been arranged in several large English cities, and the National Liberal League has been urged not to delay in starting an agitation against the peers.

The epidemic of cholera in Hamburg is decreasing. There have been 119 cases and 58 deaths there since September 15.

Three thousand acres of land recently acquired in Ashtabula, Ohio, is intended, it is said, for the site of a great steel plant, in which the Rockefellers and other Standard Oil people will be the principal stockholders.

Two hundred people of Austin, Texas, have petitioned Governor Hogg to prevent, as they say, the total bankruptcy of the State by accepting the great steel bounty which is accumulating in Washington, and which he has refused.

Miss Madeline V. Pollard is, it is said, at one of the benevolent institutions of Washington, having left her boarding house. She sees no one except the inmates of the asylum and the lawyers who are conducting her suit against Congressman Breckinridge, of Kentucky.
