SAVANNAH ESCAPE

Savannah has just had a most narrow escape from repeating the experience of Roonoke, Va., with a lynching mob. A deaf-mute girl was cruelly assaulted by a negro, so that her life may be sacrificed to his brutish passion. The negro was known, but made his escape. One Williams, who most resembled the guilty negro, was arrested, but though he told contradictory stories on being suddenly charged with the crime, it was nevertheless fully proved that he was wholly innocent. The Savannah Press says: "This circumstance should put an end to all future attempts at lynching here. If Williams had not been identified by Mr. Smith and had been brought to Savannah by Mr. Luffenrover, the mob at the depot would undoubtedly have taken him from the officers without waiting for identification, and an innocent man's life would have been sacrificed to satiate the bloody appetite of self-appointed executioners."

"But before the negro would have met his death many of the mob would have been turned into corpses. Sergeant Kilmory and Detective Bossell thoroughly canvassed the situation together and both determined to fire with deadly intent as soon as the rush commenced. In such a crowd, of at least 500, a volley of lead would have furnished lots of work for the undertakers of the city."

The incident again illustrates the fact that too often a lynching mob does not so much demand the life of the guilty man as it does the life of some man, it matters not so much whose, so long as he is accused.

It is generally agreed that the crime of rape is one that calls for the life of the guilty one, but until it can be shown that mob law is lessening that crime, is not demoralizing the community in which the mob works, and does not result in the killing of many innocent men—until then lynching must be denounced by every lover of law and order.

SILVER AND GOLD

Senator Morgan and the erudite editor of the New York Sun have locked horns on an interesting question. Senator Morgan said in a recent speech: "What did the Almighty make gold and silver for? It is very true, that the Almighty seems to have had very great delight in the ornamentation of Solomon's Temple, and that there was a great amount of silver used. It was buried with silver. The vessels were of gold and sometimes of silver."

The Sun goes to the bible and produces these quotations from the Book of Kings: "So Solomon overlaid the house within with pure gold; and he made a partition by the chains of gold, and the table of the oracle; and he overlaid it with gold." "And the whole house he overlaid with gold, until he had finished all the house; also the pole altar that was by the oracle he overlaid with gold." "And the floor of the house he overlaid with gold, within and without." "And Solomon made all the vessels that pertained unto the house of the Lord; the altar of gold, and the table of gold, whereupon the shewbread was." "And the candlesticks of pure gold, five on the right side and five on the left, before the oracle, with the flowers and the lamps and the tongs of gold." "And the bowls and the snuffers and basins and the spoons and the censers of pure gold, and the hinges of gold, and for the doors of the inner house, the most holy place, and for the doors of the house, to wit, of the temple."

The Sun adds: "No mention is made anywhere in this chapter of vessels of silver. The reason of it is given in Chapter X, verses 21 and 27: "And all King Solomon's drinking vessels were of gold, and all the vessels of the house of the forest of Lebanon were of pure gold. None were of silver; it was nothing accounted of in the days of Solomon." "And the King made silver to be in Jerusalem as stones." "But the Sun's last quotation is correct in Second Chronicles, as follows: "And the King made silver and gold as plentiful as stones."

Moreover, the next verse after the one which says silver "was nothing accounted of in the days of Solomon" reads: "Once in three years came the men of Tharsish bringing gold and silver, ivory, apes and peacocks." Showing that silver was, after all, in good standing in those days and in that locality even if nothing was "accounted" of it. In fact, that phrase, one cannot help thinking, has the sound of exaggeration. Elsewhere silver is mentioned side by side with gold; as for instance: 1 Kings, VII, 51: "And Solomon brought in the things that David his father had dedicated; even the silver and the gold and the vessels of the house among the treasures of the house of the Lord."

Savior Morgan was as nearly correct as his critic. No doubt a vast deal of silver was used in building and ornamenting Solomon's temple. There are frequent references to it.

Change The Law.

From the Savannah Press. The law's delays are the basis of lynchings. Men who have seen criminals of the most depraved type lie in jail a year or two after the commission of some terrible crime, pending the hearing of motions for new trials on technical grounds, feel that the effects of their subsequent punishment are lost on other men of similar brutal instincts. Actuated by this knowledge, and the desire to teach a lesson that will not be speedily forgotten, they override the law and deal out justice without the intervention of the courts.

THE LOCAL EDITOR AT LARGE SOME MORE.

IN CHICAGO SEEING THE FAIR—Before I came here and while looking at pictures of these great buildings, it was remarked that it was such a pity these enormous piles should have to be razed. I fully agreed then. And I held to it for a while after I entered the grounds. But while I wandered around with neck crained and hands jammed in my pockets, I saw something that caused me to waver a little in wishing that the buildings might stand till old Fr. Time brushed them away. Without giving any thought to the matter, I reckon I had believed that these immense pillars and corners were real iron and stone. But I saw in several places where strips of the columns, made of sheet iron or similar material, had fallen off, thus showing that it was not what the uninitiated would think it. And the splendid white buildings are not of stone at all. Of course, they look lovely as the real stuff, where the ceiling has not come off, but I am not worrying now about tearing the buildings down.

The Manufactures and Liberal Arts building, which cost about a million and a half, has been sold, I hear, for $37,500, and will be removed after the Fair to San Francisco, there to do service as a depot. And a dandy it will be! Some of the buildings cannot be sold at all, and in some instances, it is said, the torch will be applied to buildings which are not worth moving. I don't mind thinking, but it seems too bad to burn anything.

While in the Convent of La Rabida, where are stored the Columbus relics (and by the way, a most interesting part of the Fair) I walked up to look at the genuine commission granted Columbus by Ferdinand and Isabella. There was a small sign on the cabinet, which said that gentlemen should take off their hats in the presence of this ancient and important document. I wouldn't like to say there were no gentlemen about, but I did not see any hats come off. Such is life. And this in spite of the fact that but for Columbus there might never have been a Midway Plaisance!

I am still registering from North Carolina. I made a trip through the Forest building and easily picked out Tar Heels, wherever I looked myself because there were no Tusks on the exhibit in my State inside this department. It is not good, but it gets there, as the boys say. A piece of beautiful polished curly poplar is usually the center of attraction in this exhibit.

Three scenes more since and I have here than I ever saw before in all my life. This refers only to the four-legged sort. I wanted especially to see the Jersey cattle, but for some reason making tests, I believe, the Jersey boys were marked "no admittance." But I rode the camel!

You all have read in the funny papers about the queer way restaurant waiters have of giving orders for meals. I was sitting in a restaurant chewing when three fellows came in and called for a cup of coffee. The waiter went to the door of the cookroom and yelled out: "Three blacks!" And I came in in 10 minutes.

MILLIONS OF HOARDED GOLD

What Nation Has Most of This Enormous Sum?

From the Chattanooga Times. Experts agree that the gold coinage of the world is not less than $5,500,000,000. Of the vast sum the following leading commercial nations hold, in reserves or have in actual circulation, the amounts opposite their names—approximately: Great Britain, $1,345,000,000; France, $425,000,000; United States, $325,000,000; Germany, $250,000,000; Austria-Hungary, $140,000,000; Russia, $100,000,000.

Total, $3,025,000,000. This leaves a balance unaccounted for of $2,475,000,000, gold, actually coined or available for coinage, the gold bars held by the different States named being included in the total supply, as the bullion answers the purpose of coin in international transactions. It follows, that approximately speaking, there is hoarded by the people of different countries, the enormous sum of $2,475,000,000 of this "money of the world!"

The Tobacco Tax

From the U. S. Tobacco Journal. If the payment of the tax on tobacco were merely a "voluntary assessment," why not put a tax on the raw leaf produced in this country? As we produce nearly five hundred million pounds of tobacco, a tax of only 10 cents per pound would yield in one year a revenue of fifty million dollars. In Germany the tobacco growers have to pay such a tax while the manufactured article is free of any tax and the imported leaf pays only 10 cents a pound duty against our $2.

BEAUTIFUL SLEEP

is an expression used for sound sleep. Nothing is so gratifying to the nerves, heart, and head, as perfect sleep—a companion of good digestion and a sure way to health. A free digestion fails to assimilate, or take care of, the food we eat. Something lacking is needed for the liver, stomach, and intestines. This is where you will find Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets; the most good they are tiny, sugar-coated pills, scarcely larger than mustard seed, made of concentrated botanical extracts. A VANCE MAN TALKS.

He says Elias' Appointments Are Against The Senator.

Washington cor. Atlanta Constitution. The contest over the confirmation of Kope Elias as collector of internal revenue in North Carolina is waxing very warm. The two Senators are divided. Senator Kasmus is fighting for his confirmation, while Senator Vance is opposing it.

In speaking of this contest Monday a North Carolinian who is very close to Senator Vance said: "Vance is just right in this fight. Any other self-respecting man in his position would do just as he is doing. When Mr. Cleveland first came and the North Carolina offices were being distributed Senator Vance received consideration at his hands as far as some State offices were concerned, but just after the Senate adjourned last spring Senator Vance was at the White House one day to see the President about North Carolina appointments, when the President told him he wanted to talk with him about the silver question. He asked Mr. Vance how he stood on the repeal of the Sherman law. Mr. Vance replied in his characteristic style that he would fight unconditional repeal, that he was a free coinage man and intended to do all in his power for coinage. He announced that he would oppose the repeal of the Sherman law without substituting legislation. From that day to this Mr. Vance has been given a single appointment, within or without the State of North Carolina. Indeed, he has secured but one office in Washington and that was a small place in the interior department which was shortly after the present administration came in.

"Now, as to Elias. He was a candidate for district attorney against R. B. Glenn and H. A. Gudger of Asheville, was an applicant for collector with Senator Vance's endorsement. Mr. Gudger had been a prominent candidate for lieutenant governor and was one of the most prominent Democrats in the State. Mr. Cleveland appointed Glenn for district attorney and then ignored Senator Vance's recommendation of collector and appointed Kope Elias. It seems that the President appointed Elias in punishment to Vance. When Elias assumed the office it became known in the State that no Vance man need apply to him for a position. Every man of influence turned down. Indeed, Elias seems to have been making a fight against Vance in the State ever since his appointment. Had he gone to North Carolina and heaved himself, although Senator Vance had opposed his appointment, he would not have opposed his confirmation. Now, however, Vance will do all in his power to prevent the confirmation of a man that seems to be working to knife him in the State. Any other self-respecting man would do as Vance is doing.

"Senator Vance expects to defeat the confirmation of Elias. He does not expect to have Gunder appointed. He will not ask it, but he does expect that the man who is appointed and confirmed by the Senate will not be politically antagonistic to him." E. W. H.

GLENN SPRINGS WATER

IS A SURE RELIEF TO SUFFERERS.

What Hon. T. D. Johnston says about it:

"About four years ago I commenced the use of the Glenn Springs water, to rid my system of the malaria from which I had been suffering for some time. The water has entirely relieved me and I cheerfully state that I believe it to be as good water as can be found for all ordinary diseases of the liver and kidneys. For a general tonic and renovator of the system I believe it has no equal. Very truly yours, 'T. D. JOHNSTON.'

From John P. Arthur, Esq., Attorney at Law: "I don't know the constituents of the Glenn Springs water, if I did I would make some for myself. Neither do I know how it acts, if I did I would not so myself. It is a well made water and it acts well. I can only say that its effects on me and my forefathers have been beneficial than any other water we ever used, and I am glad it has been put in the reach of as poor a man as JOHN P. ARTHUR. 'JOHN P. ARTHUR, May 23, 1893.'

What C. T. Rawls writes Pelham's Pharmacy, Asheville, N. C.: "Gentlemen—I have used Glenn Springs water and consider it as compared with mineral waters, the best I know of. Everyone in South Carolina knows about 'Old Springs.' In fact it has been most favorably known there for a century. Yours truly, 'C. T. RAWLS.' Asheville, N. C., May 27, 1893.
