PASSED INTO HISTORY
END OF THE WAYNESVILLE REUNION.
It was a Grand Success And The Waynesville People Treated The Old Veterans Handsomely—An Old Battle Flag.
WAYNESVILLE, N. C., Oct. 13.—As this annual reunion of the Confederate Veterans' association of Western North Carolina passes into history the old "vets" shoulder "knapsack and blanket" and go out from the circle of the great blazing camp fire—some of them, perhaps, to gather at no more reunions with these comrades until the long roll beats for the gathering in that other world, and all, officer and private, must alike respond to the last roll call.
The reunion virtually closed last night. The afternoon was taken up by addresses from Judge A. C. Avery, Col. J. S. McElroy and a number of veterans. Those who lived west of Waynesville left for their homes in the evening, while those living in Buncombe and east Haywood remained in camp until this morning.

During the encampment about 3000 veterans have reported. These have been well taken care of by the committee having this entertainment in charge, aided by the people of Haywood county and a small contribution from Buncombe—a contribution which, Col. McElroy said, was made almost entirely by the lawyers of Asheville. The occasion was beyond doubt a pleasant one to those who participated, and served to bind even closer together those old brothers in arms of darker days whose reunions are alas! only too few. May they live to meet each other many times yet.
At the front in the line of march Wednesday was a banner that told a story more pathetic, more thrilling than man could paint with words. It was a flag that had passed through the battle of Chickamauga. Around its edges it was tattered, while the overall hues it plainly told where the bullets of the enemy had made their way. With all of its service the color had been well preserved. At Chickamauga the bearer of the flag was killed, and his colors, B. H. Cantley, first lieutenant Co. K., 33rd N. C., now living at Bryson City, rushed up and picked up the flag, carried it awhile and then gave it over to Wesley Shelton, who upbore it to the close of the war. Mr. Shelton scans the record of the happenings since last they met at Asheville at the age of 20 years.
Pinned upon the hat worn by M. J. Single of Asheville was a $100 Confederate bill. It was a part of the money he received for his services when the war closed, together with the $50 bounty. Under no consideration would Mr. Single part with this relic of the war.
An interested visitor was John G. Len, now of Danville, Va., "then" of Co. C, 3d N. C. regiment, Barringer's brigade. He was with the army at the surrender, and has a fund of anecdotes.
With the Western North Carolina veterans there are few more popular men than Col. J. M. Ray of Asheville. Col. Ray was wounded in the right arm at Chickamauga, and no less than 17 pieces of shattered bones were taken from the wound.
Ex-Clerk J. R. Patterson of Asheville is never at a loss for a story to tell. Some one mentioned the name "Farbell" in camp, which reminded him that the Virginians in the war time would call out to the North Carolinians: "Got any tar?" And the reply would come quick as a flash: "No, we gave it all to Virginia to get her men to stick to the battle."

One of the Rough and Ready (Co. F, 14th N. C.) in camp was W. M. Gaudier of Buncombe. He entered the army in May, '61, and followed the flag until the surrender. He was promoted to lieutenant at Cold Harbor, and was 30 days in the Wilderness. His first vote was cast for Jefferson Davis, and, said he, "I have been putting them in straight ever since."
County Treasurer Courtney of Buncombe, the fier of Co. I, 25th N. C., found an old timer in the shape of a fine made of steel and said to have been in use in Cornwallis' army in the Revolution. The tie belongs to Pinkney McClure of Haywood, and it is said that the claim as to its being with Cornwallis can be fully substantiated. Mr. Courtney manipulated it awhile and pronounced it a good one.
Nobody in camp left more at home and satisfied than Captain A. B. Thrash of Buncombe. He was in demand in every group.
Prof. H. L. King is an expert in making camp coffee. If the Citizens is anything of a judge. He and Col. Ray and the scribe fared sumptuously from the baskets of the two gentlemen first mentioned.
"Major" John Erwin, when asked where he got a $20 Confederate bill which he wore on his coat lapel, replied "Fought for it."
Col. Rutledge took with him to the encampment the old flag of the Cape Creek Rifles. On it in bold lettering were the words: "Liberty and our native soil."
Capt. Stephen Whitaker, Co. B, 1st battalion, Thomas' Legion, came down to the reunion from his childhood home. He went out as a private, but was sent back to recruit a company, which he did, and served through three years of the war. He was through the valley of Virginia with Maj. Starns.
Lieutenant George H. Mills, Co. G, 16th N. C., brought with him the flag of the Rutherford County Volunteers, presented to them by the ladies of Rutherford. In the upper left hand corner were the words: "In God We Trust, Victory or Death."
H. N. Alexander of Buncombe was one of the vets. When he deserted to war, he had just turned his 17th year, and weighed 98 pounds. He is a good deal larger now.

VOORHEES HAD TO GIVE UP
THE ANTI-REPEALERS WORE HIM TO A FRAZZLE
Senate in Continuous Session For 38 Hours and 48 Minutes—Stewart Speaking Today and Good For a Week Probably.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The Senate dragged along until 8:30 o'clock, when Voorhees, chafing under the continued roll calls, demanded to know of Erve of Maine who was in the chair, to what extent the privilege of calling for a quorum could be abused. The scene was a brilliant one. The setting of the fierce struggle in progress on the floor in the dazzling glare of the artificial lights was one to impress the mind and fascinate the eye. The galleries were banked to the doors. In the reserved galleries were many ladies, their bright dresses adding color to the scene. The press gallery overlooking the President's chair, was crowded with busy correspondents, scratching away with persistence. Below on the floor, was the wreck of a parliamentary battle, then 32 years old.
The venerable Senator Stewart looking like a patriarch with his long white beard, was grinding monotonously away while the line of faces around him looked the long strain to which the attempt to force the silvermen to yield by a test of brute strength had subjected the Senate.
"Mr. President, my inquiry," said Mr. Voorhees with head erect, and defiant, "is whether there is any limit or restraint on the rule permitting Senators to make the point of no quorum."
"In the terms of the rule," said Mr. Erve, who was presiding, "there is no limitation, and the chair knows of no power in the presiding officer to place a limitation."
Voorhees sank back in his seat angry, but with no further word of protest.
At 1:40 this morning, however, Mr. Voorhees said:
"Mr. President, I feel that I have done my duty in this matter, and without any ill-will, I now move that the Senate adjourn."
The motion was unanimously agreed to and in instant the Senate chamber was deserted, after a continuous session of 38 hours and 48 minutes.
STEWART HAD THE FLOOR.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—[Special.]—After the reading of the Journal Senator Voorhees moved that the repeal bill be taken up, and Stewart resumed his speech of last night.
SENATOR VANCE'S REMONSTRANCE
It is Indorsed by the Buncombe County Alliance.
At the regular meeting of the Buncombe Farmers' Alliance held here yesterday, the following resolutions were adopted:
Resolved, That we tender to Senator Z. B. Vance our cordial and hearty thanks for the patriotic and manly course he has pursued in regard to one of the members of the Alliance, to-wit: the re-employment of silver, and are proud to see that the members of some of the press belonging to, owned and controlled by the powers of Wall street, have no influence upon him in the many course he has seen fit to pursue in behalf of the downtrodden and oppressed of our common country. We tender our thanks also to all other members of Congress who stood by him.
Resolved, That the Farmers' Alliance of this and adjoining counties be requested to co-operate with the citizens of this section, without regard to party, in urging and inviting United States Senator Z. B. Vance and Judge J. H. Merrimon to address us on the financial questions now agitating the country, at such time as may be convenient to them.
Resolved, That the meetings of the Alliance be carried from one part of the county to another, and that the executive committee and secretary and treasurer select and publish the regular places from time to time required.

THAT IS THAT BANNER THE VIGILANT WILL FLY.
NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—[Special.]—At 9 o'clock the wind was 20 miles per hour and dispelling a thick fog. Both yachts, the Vigilant and Valkyrie, left for Sandy Hook at 8 o'clock. At 10:30 the wind was 30 miles an hour and the signal was given that the course would be 15 miles to windward and back.
Later—the start in the yacht race was postponed to 12:30 as the Valkyrie met with an accident to her gaff. All is now in readiness for a fine race. Wind 30 miles.
1:20 p. m.—The Vigilant appears to be an eighth of a mile ahead and gaining. She is already almost certain to win the final race.
2:15.—The yachts are almost lost in the mist. The Vigilant appears to be a mile ahead and nearing the stake boat.
Read and Reflect.
Visitors to the city hall these days depicted in many places about the building this notice: "Spittoons and sand boxes are provided for those unfortunates who cannot control their saliva, or, if they desire it, medical aid will be rendered them at my cost; but at any rate all parts of this building must be protected." This is signed by Mayor T. W. Patton. In other words, if a tobacco chewer, hunt a spittoon, swallow your quid, or spit the front door.

James C. Darragh, president, and Elmer C. Sattley, cashier of the Kansas City State Deposit and Savings bank, have been indicted on 16 charges each of grand larceny. The bank closed July 10 with $1,500,000 in deposits, of which it will probably pay 25 cents on the dollar.

A FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT
AT LEAST 50 PERSONS ARE KILLED.
An Excursion Train On The Way To The Fair Turned On Pieces By Collision—One Hundred Persons Injured.
JACKSON, Mich., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—An express train collided near here this morning. It is reported over 100 persons were killed.
The wreck occurred at 9:40 a. m. at the station here. The trains were the Delaware and Lackawanna and a day coach excursion train.
A misplaced switch was the cause. In 20 minutes six bodies were taken out; at 11 o'clock 15 bodies were discovered and the dead will number 50. The injured will be at least a hundred.
The trains carried 1,000 excursionists. One car was driven completely through another, and the others turned entirely over.
Governor Brown and staff of Rhode Island are reported on the train.
It is impossible to secure the death list now.
Surgeons are at the scene and the wounded are being taken to the hospital.
It is the most frightful accident of the year.

HELP BRUNSWICK!
Contributions Sent In to "The Citizen" Today.
The $5 sent in to THE CITIZEN yesterday by a sympathizer, to be sent to the Brunswick sufferers, has started a fund that, it is hoped, will grow as the days go by, until Asheville shall have shown that her heart is in the right spot when she is called on to help suffering humanity. That Brunswick is sadly in need of help is a well known fact. The Atlanta Constitution speaking of the situation says:
"Brunswick is in dire need. Fifteen thousand human beings are hemmed in there by a splotchy quarantine. They are on the verge of starvation. Unless replenished their supplies will be exhausted on Saturday. Then they will slowly starve. Georgia has not realized how desperate is the situation of the unhappy people. When the first appeal came the state responded generously and then forgot. Speed must be sent speedily. Every village and town should give something. The greatest need is provisions."
"For three days rations one could only get one-fourth pound bacon, one quart of flour and three quarts of meal, for the rapidly decreasing supplies would not warrant wider distribution."
Mayor Lamb of Brunswick, in his appeal through Governor Northen to the people of Georgia, says:
"The conditions in Brunswick are daily growing worse. It looks as if every man, woman and child in the city, except those who have immunity from the disease, will take the fever. In a few words the situation is—in business, no money, city treasury depleted, sickness and suffering everywhere. We are therefore compelled to ask for aid from a generous public, which up to this time has been kind, but with the fever on the increase and both money and provisions coming in slowly, I am compelled to appeal again for assistance."
Knowing this condition of things, will the people of Asheville who can give, longer withhold their aid? The amounts contributed up to date are:

After Chickens.
Last night Paulina McDowell and her husband saw Sam Bowlin, a middle-aged colored man, coming out of Vance street with what they thought was a bundle under his arm. Sam saw the officers and stopped. A moment later he "got a move on" and eluded the officers, who examined the ground and found a sack full of live chickens, one of which, a large rooster, had been killed. The chickens were taken to the city hall. This morning the officers saw Samuel and arrested him on a charge of stealing the chickens. He was turned over to the county authorities to await trial. Sam, the police say, has been on the chain gang more than once.

NEWS IN OUR OWN STATE.
—Tulacsee Democrat: Stock shipments during the week just passed have averaged one carload for each day, three car loads having gone to Charleston, S. C., one car load of sheep, one car mixed cattle and sheep, and two of cattle alone to Richmond, Va. These make 25 car loads shipped from this station alone this season.
—The Senate has confirmed the following nominations of postmasters, North Carolina: Warren G. Turner, at Morganton; John C. Wooten, at Kingston; T. Kennedy Barnett, at Shelby; John W. Bryan, at Goldsboro; Bennett Hunt, at Rocky Mount; Lewis C. Hanes, at Lexington.
—The Record says a South Greensboro man went to the World's Fair, remained eleven days and spent only $31 for the entire trip. As $29.00 of this was for railroad fare, he spent $10.00 for board and seeing the sights. Evidently he did not see the Midway.
—Statesville Landmark: How much life insurance would you suppose was earned by Statesville parties? A gentleman who has taken the pains to investigate tells the Landmark it amounts to about $75,000.
—There are said to be an unusually large number of revivals in the Methodist and Baptist churches this fall, and the additions to the membership are very numerous.
—In August one firm at Durham bought 9,200,000 of revenue stamps for its cigarettes, ten in a package.
—Bryson City Times: Judge Armfield stopped over here Sunday on his way to Clay county Superior court.
—Nearly all the wheat is sown and the acreage is considerably larger than last year's.

SWEEPING REDUCTIONS!
WE ARE NOT CLOSING OUT.
WE ARE NOT GOING TO CHANGE OUR BUSINESS.
But we intend giving the public the benefit of a TEN TO FIFTY PER CENT. REDUCTION on our elegant and well selected line of druggists' sundries. Our goods are all fresh and clean; were bought for CASH and marked low in the beginning, and this reduction from the market price means COST for most buyers. Five dollar Hair Brushes for $4.25; $3 Hair Brushes for $2.50; $2 Hair Brushes for $1.75; $1.50 Hair Brushes for $1.35; $1 Hair Brushes for 90 cents; 50 cent Hair Brushes for 45 cents. Tooth brushes will share the same fate. All our 25 cents Guaranteed English Bristle Brushes for 25 cents; our 25 cent brushes for 20 cents, and so on.
Lubin's, Pinaud's and Atkinson's extracts, in bottles or bulk, will be reduced in a like proportion. Our American makes, such as Ricksacker, Palmer's and Wadsworth's will be reduced also.
The same reduction applies to our choice line of Ladies' and Gents' Pocket Books and Card Cases. This line is unusually full with nice goods.
Sponges, Chamols Skins and Bath Brushes will also be reduced, in fact, nearly all our sundries will come in on reduced prices.
Don't buy Patent Medicines until you price them at our store. Possibly we may save you 5 cents or 10 cents on each bottle, and that much counts in these hard times. We have already reduced prices on Soaps and Toilet Waters. These prices on Sundries will last for 30 days from date, so call early if you would get the selection.
We want to fill your prescriptions also, and promise if you bring them, only Graduates of Pharmacy will prepare them, the best chemicals used, and you will not be OVERCHARGED.

OPEN EVENINGS TILL 11.
