AMONG THE INDIANS

Concerning the Cherokee Training School at Yellow Mill.

The news from the Cherokee Indian day. Training school at Yellow Hill is to the effect that the new superintendent, Prof. Potter of Kansas, has set about making examination as to the fitness of everyone in any way connected with the school, and the Indians who are earnestly wishing to see the tribe advance along educational lines are hopeful that the new superintendent will prove satisfactory When the trouble which arose among the band during Prof. Andrew Spencer's incumbency of the superintendency died out, after Prot. Spencer had been trans-ferred, it was hoped by many of the band that it might be possible to have a North Carolinian appointed to the position of superintendent and Indian agent at Yellow Hill. Congressman W. T. Crawford interested himself in the matter and endeavored to secure the apmatter and endeavored to secure the appointment of a North Carolina man. He took the ground that as the appointee would fill the place of agent as well as that of superintendent, and as the agent was not under the civil service commission the appointment of a man to the dual position could be made outside of the civil service. The Indians very much desired this action, believing that it would be better for the tribe and school could they seen the tribe and the terminus of the trible paving.

Proprietor Evans of the Skyland hotel gave an entertainment at his hotel last evening. A number of Asheville people went out to take part, and the entertainment was greatly enjoyed.

Collector Elias' letter to Chief Clerk Rogers yesterday states that the Collector shall be tween north Main and the terminus of the rubble paving.

The superintendent of the Yellow Hil school receives a salary of $1,200 a year To this is added a salary of $200 yearly paid to him as Indian agent. The gov ernment allows $600 for a matron of the school, so that if the superintendent be a married man, and his wife becomes matron, the amount paid for the services to the man and his wife would be $2,000 a year, a very respectable amount in the Indian section.

The superintendent is assisted by three or four teachers, who receive compensa-tion at the rate of $50 a month. The school, under ordinary circumstances. would have opened on the first of Sep-tember, but this was made impossible by the unsettled condition of affairs regarding the superintendency. The usual term of the Indian school is 10 months.

A member of the tribe, talking to THE CITIZEN not long ago concerning the subject, said: "We have become well nigh discouraged in our efforts to get a first rate school among the Indians, and should the new appointee not prove as efficient as we have hopes of his being. many of us will pack up and go to the Indian territory.

There are now, all told, about 1,200 members of the Eastern band of Cherokees in North Carolina. The tribe, it is said, is merely holding its own in numbers, the yearly increase, if any, being
