 We Guarantee
Old Wheat Flour

WE carry more than a million bushels of old wheat over into the new crop. We can give our trade old wheat flour one and two months after other mills are taking their chances on new wheat. And every dealer knows of the yearly trouble with new wheat flour. No wheat of the new crop ever gets into even after it is well cured and through the sweating process, unless it has been scientifically examined by our experts. We have several high priced men who do nothing else but test wheat. Every crop of wheat is different. There are always difficulties with new wheat a life from it being new. And we keep in our elevators a reserve of old wheat large enough to allow our chemists, and millers, and bakers time to carefully experiment with, and accurately analyze the new crop in all parts of Minnesota and the Dakotas. We never use any of this wheat until we know its chemical properties and milling qualities. No wheat of this year's crop will be ground in it.

Pillsbury's Best

which has not been through the most searching test from the samples sent to our own laboratory. This thoroughness in selecting our wheat is followed by the most skillful milling in the world. The practical work of making flour is simply perfect in our mills. All the world knows that we make the most flour of any milling company on the earth (seventeen thousand five hundred barrels a day). And it is just as true that we make the best. We have no wonderful milling secrets, but the downright ability of our millers and the superior quality of wheat used will account for the world wide reputation of our flour. And nobody disputes that

CARTER HARRISON KILLED

MURDERED IN HIS HOUSE BY A "CRANK."

The Murderer Would Have Been Lynched Had He Not Been Securely Jailed—Mayor Had Been Warned, But Failed to Heed.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 30.—Another crazy crank has done his deadly work, and Carter H. Harrison, five times mayor of Chicago, and one of the best known men in the west lies dead in his home, 231 South Ashland boulevard. Three bullets entered his body, two of them making wounds sufficient to cause death.

The murder was committed by Eugene Patrick Prendergast, a newspaper carrier, who declared that Mayor Harrison had promised to make him corporation counsel and had not kept his word. This, he said, was his only reason for committing the crime.

The only person in the house at the time besides Mr. Harrison, was his son, Wm. Preston Harrison, 25 years of age, and the servants.

Prendergast easily gained admittance to Mayor Harrison's residence at 8 p. m. Saturday, and when the mayor appeared to give him a hearing at once opened fire on him and then left the house. Twenty-five minutes later he gave himself up to the police.

The Death Scene

A neighbor, Mr. Chalmers, who heard the shooting, rushed in and was at Mr. Harrison's side almost as soon as Wm. Preston Harrison, the mayor's son, had found where his father lay.

"Are you hurt?" asked Mr. Chalmers, as he and the son of the dying man strove to raise him.

"I've got my death, Chalmers," responded the mayor. I am shot in the heart and I am a dead man," was the only reply.

A moment later he said with a voice which was rapidly losing strength: "Unhobton my vest Chalmers, there's where the trouble is."

The front of the mayor's shirt was soaked in blood which seeped rapidly from two holes, one just above his heart, the other in his abdomen.

"It's through the heart," said the mayor, his voice now scarcely above a whisper. A moment later he sank into unconsciousness, and in 20 minutes after receiving the wounds Mr. Harrison was dead.

Great Excitement in the City.

Meantime tidings of the murder had swept like an electric shock through the city. The telephone wires fairly burned with service as queries and confirmations flew over the circuits. City officials, politicians and business men hurried to the centre of the city, to swell the crowds that clustered about the central police station. Bulletins were posted in prominent down town places and about them eager throngs surged and struggled. Business was, for a time, at a standstill.

Before the prisoner had reached the Hall, news of his coming had reached the crowds about the streets and the station was surrounded. The murderer was rushed through the throng into the dark court yard, before the county and city buildings, and hurried through a private entrance into Chief of Detectives Shea's office. The doors were barred, officers were hurried from adjacent stations to guard the windows, doors and corridors. A few detectives and police officers were called into the chief's office and the examination of Prendergast began.

Just a Crank.

This developed simply that the real murderer had given himself up and that he was a "crank."

"Why did you kill the mayor?" asked the chief.

"Well," the murderer responded, "he told me he would make me corporation counsel, but he did not do it. So I shot him. I went to his door and rang and I went in and shot him. I just shot him. That's all; I shot him."

"What is your name?" asked the detective.

"Prendergast, Patrick Eugene, or Eugene Prendergast, makes no difference which."

"Where do you live?"

"I don't know. I don't know where. Around here somewhere, I guess. But," and the man raised his hand to make his answer more emphatic, "I don't live on the railroad track, I'll tell you that," and no amount of inquiry could induce him to give his place of residence.

We Might Have Been Lynched.

For several hours the examination was continued, but little of importance was developed. Other witnesses were examined, including servants who were in Mr. Harrison's house at the time of the shooting, and people who had arrived shortly after the murder.

The prisoner was finally placed in a cell under the city hall and additional policemen were stationed about the building for the night. All night long crowds came and went about the place. A bitter feeling against the murderer was manifested. Significant but subdued remarks about convenient lamp posts and swift vengeance were frequently heard.

Young Harrison said: "I told father long ago that something like this would happen. He was too easy in letting people in to see him, cranks and everybody. And all the other members of the family often told him to be careful, but he only laughed."

Prendergast Known to Be Crazy.

"That man Prendergast is crazy," said Corporation Counsel Kraus, who was perhaps the closest friend Mr. Harrison had, "I know him well, and have seen him several times. He called at my office twice, and told me that he was going to be appointed my successor, and that I should resign. The man was so palpably out of his mind, that I did not consider it worth while to talk seriously with him. I spoke to the Mayor about it at one time and he said that he had received threatening letters from the fellow in red ink and gave me the information to them as the man was insane. I never thought of the matter again until I received two postal cards from the fellow a few days ago. They were both written in red ink and gave me the information he was ready to have me resign and step into my position. I always knew

HENDERSONVILLE'S LOSS

THE WAYSIDE INN BURNED TO THE GROUND.

There Were a Few Boarders in Hotel and All Got Out—One Man Badly Injured—Insurance Only On the Building—Little Saved.

HENDERSONVILLE, Oct. 30.—[Special.]—At about 4:30 o'clock this morning Hendersonville was startled by the blowing of the whistle of locomotive No. 61. This caused an alarm on all sides, and soon the people were pouring from their homes into the streets, looking for the cause. At once the Wayside Inn, the new hotel, the pride of Hendersonville, was seen to be in a mass of flames and smoke. Inside of two hours it was a smouldering ruin.

The sky was illuminated for miles around, presenting such a scene as had never before been witnessed in this section.

The hotel was closed for the winter and but few guests were stopping there, but all escaped safely. The fire was discovered in the kitchen wing by James Clark, a station hand, who went to the house and alarmed the sleeping inmates, Mr. Nelson, the landlord, and his family and Mr. J. R. Tierney, tried to put out the blaze with a small hose connected in the house, but the water failed to run, owing, probably, to some one having cut it off.

The city hose cart was soon on the scene, but a great delay was caused by getting the water turned on. By this time the whole house was ablaze and all hope of saving anything except the furniture and some of the furniture was abandoned. The citizens of the town labored energetically in the work of saving household goods and were successful in a large measure.

The building was insured to the amount of $14,500, $10,000 held by Aston, Rawls & Co., of Asheville and $4,500 by C. C. Jordan, agent, Hendersonville.

Mr. Nelson was burned about the hands and face, but not seriously. A young law clerk in W. A. Smith's office, J. W. Pless, was burned by a mass of flaming timbers which fell upon him. He was badly injured, will probably be discharged for life, and may lose his hands.

There was no insurance on the furniture. C. M. Kenyon.

Mr. Nelson, the proprietor of the Wayside Inn, has a number of friends in Asheville who sympathize with him in his loss. Mr. Nelson came to Asheville from Ocala, Fla., and was for awhile connected with the Oakland Heights. When the Hendersonville hotel was sold Mr. Nelson became its purchaser. The Inn was opened only a few months ago, cost about $40,000 and had prospects for a successful business.

F. M. Johnson of Hendersonville came to Asheville this afternoon. He tells THE CITIZEN that the only furniture saved from the burning inn was that on the first floor. Mr. Johnson had a narrow escape from being caught by the burning timbers which injured Mr. Pless, Mr. Johnson standing near Mr. Pless, and jumping just in time to save himself.

The $10,000 insurance on the Inn placed with Aston, Rawls & Co. of Asheville was distributed among five companies as follows: Ethna, $2,000; New York Home, $2,000; Springfield, $2,000; Commercial Union, $2,000; Phoenix of Hartford, $2,000.

REPEAL PASSES THIS DAY

VOORHEES CONFIDENT THE END IS IN SIGHT.

Morgan Bound to Die in the Last Ditch With Peffer Close Behind—Teller Gives Up the Contest—All Amendments Voted Down.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—When the Senate met this morning there was no visible obstruction in the way of the repeal bill, amendments being voted down and the Voorhees bill having been adopted as a substitute to the House bill.

Voorhees confidently expects a vote today on the final passage of the measure and even Mr. Teller, who has for so many long days defied the forces of the opposition, this morning admitted that he saw no reason why a vote should not be had some time between 2 and 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Voorhees said at noon that he expected the vote on the repeal bill before 4 o'clock. It might be delayed beyond that hour, but before the Senate adjourned today the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act will have been accomplished today.

2 p. m.—Norton this time appears good for two hours longer and there is a rumor that Peffer is to follow him. It begins to look as if a vote can only be reached at a late hour.

2:45 p. m.—Morgan has resumed his seat, and Vest has taken the floor.

WAS HUNGRY AND STOLE.

Case of John Jackson in the Criminal Court.

John Long was convicted of assault on Saturday afternoon in the Criminal court and was sentenced to two months on the roads.

John Hinton, assault, guilty; six months on the road. Hinton has served two terms in the chain gang for the larceny of clothing.

John Jackson, larceny, C. A. Webb, enq., told the court that Jackson would submit, and asked for his client a light sentence of not more than thirty days. Jackson acknowledged that he had stolen five dollars' worth of potatoes from the patch of J. C. Brown.

Judge Jones told the prisoner to stand up and asked him: "Why did you steal?"

"Cos I was hungry and was out of work," replied Jackson.

Colonel Lusk, who was sitting within the bar, said: "Your Honor, what could he do? This is a sad case and it excites my sympathy. I've been right here myself and it is a most desperate situation. I believe a man is justified in stealing under such circumstances."

Judge Jones then asked Jackson what he had done with the potatoes and Jackson said: "We cat 'em; my wife and child had nothing else to eat. I tried every where to get work but couldn't get any till the day before I was arrested."

Solicitor Carter suggested that if the court believed the prisoner's story personal recognition be taken to the next term, and Judge Jones told Jackson that he should return on the fourth Monday in January and that if he could then show that his behavior had been good he would be released.

Alexander Hampton was indicted for horse stealing. The defendant is a colored boy and said he didn't know "for certain" how old he is. Judge Jones defended the prisoner and after some questions the age of the boy was admitted to be 13 years. The prosecuting witness stated that he had left his horse hitched to a warehouse lot in Asheville and when he went to feed the animal several hours later it was gone and not found until the next day in Hendersonville in charge of a constable.

Constable Israel of Hendersonville testified that the boy had offered to sell the horse for $40 and finally got the price down to $20, when he was arrested and put in jail. The only statement the boy made was that his mother was dead and that of his father's whereabouts he knew nothing. The jury failed to agree on a verdict and a mistrial was made. The boy's personal recognition was taken for the next term of the court.

The case of Samuel H. Harper, under indictment for murder, was set for Thursday morning, Nov. 2, and the sheriff was directed to summon a venire of 100 men.

Messrs. Luther & Brown, with J. S. Adams, are Harper's attorneys.

Alfred Moore, convicted of an unnatural crime, penitentiary seven years.

Named by the President.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The President today sent to the Senate the following nominations: Edwin F. Uhl, Michigan, to be assistant Secretary of State, vice Josiah Quincy, resigned; James E. Roosevelt, New York, secretary United States embassy, London, Eng., vice Henry White, resigned.

The Yellow Fever.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Oct. 30.—Twelve new cases of yellow fever were reported today.

SWEEPING REDUCTIONS!

WE ARE NOT CLOSING OUT.
 WE ARE NOT GOING TO CHANGE OUR BUSINESS.

But we intend giving the public the benefit of a TEN TO FIFTEEN PER CENT. REDUCTION on our elegant and well selected line of druggists' sundries. Our goods are all fresh and clean; were bought for CASH and marked low in the beginning, and this reduction from the market price means COST for most buyers. Five dollar Hair Brushes for $4.25; $3 Hair Brushes for $2.60; $2 Hair Brushes for $1.75; $1.50 Hair Brushes for $1.35; $1 Hair Brushes for 90 cents; 50 cent Hair Brushes for 45 cents. Tooth brushes will share the same fate. All our 25 cents Guaranteed English Bristle Brushes for 25 cents; our 25 cent brushes for 20 cents, and so on.

Lubin's, Pinaud's and Atkinson's extract in bottle or bulk, will be reduced in any proportion. Our American makes, such as Ricksaker, Palmer's and Wadsworth's will be reduced also.

The same reduction applies to our choice line of Ladies, and Gents' Pocket Books and Card Cases. This line is unusually full with nice goods.

Sponges, Chamois Skins and Bath Brushes will also be reduced; in fact, nearly all our sundries will come in on reduced prices.

Don't buy Patent Medicines until you price them at our store. Possibly we may save you 5 cents or 10 cents on each bottle, and that much counts in these hard times.

We have already reduced prices on Soaps and Toilet Waters. These prices on Sundries will last for 30 days from date, so call early if you would get the selection.

We want to fill your prescriptions also, and promise if you bring them, only Graduates of Pharmacy will prepare them, the best chemicals used and you will not be OVERCHARGED.
