THE DAILY CITIZEN, Democratic, is published every afternoon (except Sunday) at the following rates: One Year, $6.00; Six Months, $3.50; Three Months, $2.00; One Month, $1.00; One Week, $0.20.

SUBSCRIBERS who fail to receive their paper will confer a favor by reporting the fact to this office immediately.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1893.

When the late Carter Harrison ran for mayor of Chicago every paper in the city save one was against him. He was elected. Every paper in Chicago, save one, was for Judge Garv and he was elected. Will some one kindly figure out the moral?

Where was Tammany when the light went out? Tammany has had all it wanted of the Cleveland administration for months. Hill made several campaign speeches; he explained that McKinley was as pure as the beautiful snow. There could be no doubt of it. The members of the New York City bar association, some of them life-long Democrats, termed mugwumps because they opposed McKinley. They ought to have called it; but somehow it didn't. McKinley ran or dragged—$4,000 behind the ticket; and the ticket dragged. The Democrats have been terribly whipped in New York State; it must have some new leaders there—men called of the people, not bosses set up by themselves for the sake of patronage.

There is one significant feature of the election that should not be lost sight of, and that is the meagreness of the Populist vote. It was feared that the failure of Congress to take any action towards the recognition of silver as money would have made many voters of the Third party. But nothing of the kind has occurred. In Virginia the Populists made dire threats of what they would do in the way of uniting with the Republicans. But the threats did not materialize. The same was true in Kentucky. Nowhere, in fact, did the Populists make any credible showing of strength. The Democrats may as well celebrate from all the evidence now at hand, that it has one party to fight and only one.

This English is now extending "civilization" in Africa after a fashion that John Bull's heart, on a free pretext, they have hauled the whole power of their military in that quarter against a South African native with few followers and followers who would not fight in English ways and English wishes, and are killing them off like so many sheep. A new kind of gun has been invented, the result of which, in that it has no tinuous fire, resembling in fact one of those going. Against this new instrument for wholesale murder, the Matabels throw their hundreds of certain and infallible spears, darts, arrows and arrows. The Englishmen are with this new weapon, with the aid of their natives, who know only how to fight hand to hand, and the "civilizing" work goes merrily on. A cable from London says of a recent fight:

"The Matabels fought with desperate fury, but they found it impossible to stand up against the machine gunners. They lay their dead in the open market. It was not until 2,000 of the Matabels were killed that the remainder retreated and allowed their king's capital to fall into the hands of the Britons."

BEATS GRANDFATHERS

A Clock striking in the Under-licker's (Winston-Salem) North, N. C., Nov. 6.—There is something singular and remarkable about an old clock owned by Mr. Peter Schuman. For years it has been set aside as a worthless piece of property and has not been known to run or strike until recently, when, to the great surprise of the family it struck seven and in one week a member of the family died. A few months later it struck away again and in two weeks another member of the family died. Shortly afterwards it struck twice again and in one week the third member of the family died.

A Rising Market

From Tidbits. "Yes," said the old man, addressing his young visitor, "I'm proud of my girls, and should like to see them all comfortably married, and as I've made a little money, they won't go to their husbands penniless. There's Mary, 25 years old, and a real girl, she should have a thousand pounds when she marries. Then comes Bet, who won't be 35 again, and shall have two thousand; and the man who takes Eliza, who is 40, will have three thousand with her."

The Young man reflected a moment or so, and then nervously inquired: "As I haven't one about 50, have you not?"

Sign Language in the Capitol.

From the Washington Post. A handsomely dressed lady in the west gallery of the Senate conspicuously telegraphed to another handsomely dressed lady in the east gallery on a recent afternoon, and after a full exchange of confidences they both got up and went out. It is said that not long ago the whole "wigwag" code was used to let a girl down on the plaza. Know that her girl chum was up in the dome with an objectionable man somewhere lower down and would she please come and tell him off. And she did.

Too Much on Her Mind.

From the Washington Star. "How long have we been engaged, George?" she asked. "Why, since last August," he answered. "I couldn't tell whether it was August or June," she replied. "You see I keep getting you and Freddie Smithers mixed."

NEWS IN OUR OWN STATE.

Governor Carr has issued his Thanksgiving proclamation. Greensboro Record: Posters from Mt. Airy say snow was disarranging on top of the Blue Ridge Tuesday night.

Revenue collectors at the Statewide stamp office for October were about double those of last month—the amount being $50,000.00.

Bishop Lee, head of the Roman Catholic church, is estimated to have the same number of faithful last Sunday.

Col. Sims from McDowell county obtained the job at the World's Fair. The collection was made by Col. H. C. Deming, and he says $100,000 was offered during the fair and it will not be long before the world will be made.

Hilary Ross, a son of J. V. Ross, passed through the city Saturday on his way to leave an inheritance in the county. The seat was being bought for the well-to-do, but the sale of the county seat of the world will be made.

It is said by Dr. S. M. S. C. P. Phillips, who is in the city, that the city is now in a state of panic. The city is now in a state of panic, and the city is now in a state of panic.
