THE OUTRAGE ON LING GUN

A FULL INVESTIGATION TO BE MADE
Attorneys are employed and the case will be placed before Secretary Gresham—Ward and Morris Have Been Arrested

If surmises based upon a considerable array of facts prove correct, then there is a case at Point Rock that will involve not only the authorities of Madison county, but perhaps the United States and China.

It will be remembered that last week THE CITIZEN printed a letter received by Mayor Patton from D. W. Allen of Wolf Creek, Tenn., which letter stated that a Chinaman from Asheville was in the woods near there apparently decimated and badly hurt. The letter said further that the Chinaman had been robbed and beaten, and gave the names of two persons who had a hand in the work.

After talking with the Chinese in this city it was concluded that the injured man was Ling Gun, who had left Asheville only a few days before on his way to Johnson City via Marietta, Ga. On Monday Special Deputy W. R. Gidger went down to Point Rock to investigate the matter, talking with Jim Claude Moon, a Chinaman, and James Johnson, a colored employe in George Wo's laundry. The latter were taken along in the hope that they were seen by Ling Gun he would recognize them and would not run—it having been said that the injured man would run from every person who tried to approach him.

Deputy Gidger and the two men who accompanied him came back yesterday afternoon. So far as getting a glimpse of Ling Gun was concerned, their visit was fruitless. The trip was not without results, however. Deputy Gidger told THE CITIZEN he arrested Carter Ward and Robert Morris, two young white men, on a charge of committing the assault on the Chinese man. The men were tried Tuesday afternoon before Justice Trent, who reserved his judgment until Wednesday afternoon. In the meantime the prisoners were locked up at Marietta.

The story as told by Deputy Gidger reveals a case of most unusual treatment of a harmless, ignorant Chinaman, as well as the manner in which the evidence in the case was handled. It appears that Ling Gun got on a westbound train at Asheville with the intention of going to Johnson City, Tenn. He got on the train at Point Rock, the line between North Carolina and Tennessee, all right. He carried with him a note in which his destination was written. This, it is said, he showed to the conductor in the morning at Point Rock where a crew from the E. T. V. N. R. road took charge of the train. The conductor could not understand Ling Gun's talk when the latter wanted to pay his fare, and the result was that Ling Gun was ejected from the train. At this time the Chinaman was known to have a roll of money containing about $250 in bills. His assault followed, and it is said that two men arrested were seen committing the act. He was struck in the side with an axe, in the chest with a stone, and his arms and legs were brutally lacerated by dogs that were set upon him. When the Chinaman could make his escape he did so, but he was in a most pitiable condition—half dead by pain, in a rough country, unable to talk and unable to speak English—and it is no cause for wonder that the injured man took to the woods.

Ling Gun was seen the next day after the assault moving through the woods, and seeming ready to run in every sound, fearful, perhaps, lest it might be his tormentors coming back to torture him. But now he is believed to have some trace of him. There are those who believe that he made his way into the dense thickets and there, on a night of sound of human being, succumbed to his terrible wounds. There are others who hold that Ling Gun was put out on the way by weighing his body and sinking it in the French Broad. Whichever may be the case, Ling Gun's case will probably become one of importance here if it is done with.

The Chinese here have employed Messrs. Gidger & Pritchard, attorneys, and the case is to be brought to the attention of the United States authorities and the Chinese minister at Washington. Mr. Pritchard, who came up from Marietta yesterday, has written to Secretary of State Gresham, placing the facts fully before him.

Deputy Gidger returned to Point Rock last evening. James Johnson and Wilson Cuthbert are believed to have taken part in the maltreatment of Ling Gun and will be arrested.

HOUSE BANKING COMMITTEE AGAINST THEM

At Least, Chairman Springer Says as Much—He Has a Plan For The Use of Approved Municipal Bonds to Issue Circulation On

Washington, Nov. 16.—"We have been engaged for several months," said Chairman Springer, "in the preparation of a measure which will introduce in the House and have referred to the committee on banking and currency, of which I am chairman. The object is to respond to the reasonable demands of the country for a better system of currency. Any effort, in my judgment, to return to the system of State banks, which prevailed before the war, would be futile. While some States would provide a safe system, the experience of the past shows that irredeemable issues of paper money would flood the country. What is required and demanded by the country is a national currency which shall at all times be convertible into gold on demand, which shall be elastic in character, sufficient in volume, and so distributed throughout the country as to respond to the wants of trade, and prevent congestion in the great money centers."

"I don't think the present national banking system has proved itself adequate to the needs of the country," continued Mr. Springer, "but with proper regulation under governmental control, the banks of the States, of counties and of certain municipalities can be utilized for the purpose of securing a national circulation, and all banks, State as well as national, depositing such certificates ought to be permitted to take out currency to at least 90 per cent of the par value of such certificates."

HOPE DYNASTY
Another Explosion This Time In France.
Massachusetts, Nov. 16.—The bodies of Gen. Mathieu, commander of French army corps, has for sometime been suspended by high walls and about the premises are sentry boxes, with sentry posts by their sides. No one is allowed to approach the place unchallenged. Notwithstanding this, some men managed to get into the house occupied by the French commandant of an infernal machine. At midnight the occupants of the machine and were in the vicinity as reported by a terrific explosion that shook houses in their foundations. The explosion, which was heard in the vicinity of the explosion, had made a hole in the wall.

A child's life in peril sustained the most dangerous case here being the case of a child named "Dynamite." The child, who is a boy, was found in a cellar in the residence of an Italian, who has been arrested on suspicion of being the author of the outrage. TWO DEAD
A Dispute Over Land Leads to a Tragedy.
Greenville, N. C., Nov. 16.—Abner Slaughter and Dorc Smith had disputed over land. Yesterday Smith ordered Slaughter to stop cutting on the disputed land. Slaughter refused. Smith shot him. Then they climbed and emptied their revolvers at each other, Smith giving Slaughter several blows on the head with a piece of iron. Smith fell dead. Slaughter snatched an empty pistol five times in the forest, of the other Smith, Gen. H. and died at once. The tragedy occurred about nine miles from here.

Trouble on a Murphy Train
CARRON, N. C., Nov. 16.—When the Murphy train passed Addie, a station on the foot of Balsam mountain, yesterday, the agent, W. A. Clayton and Express Messenger Tyson had a dispute as to the settlement of some express charges between them. Today, as the train was returning to the depot, Clayton armed himself with a revolver, and several of the friends were on hand with sticks, one gun and other things, apparently for the purpose of "fixing up" the messenger. Clayton fired and entered the car and threw or struck at Tyson several times, but did not do him much harm. Detective Denver was on the train and will look into the matter.

New York, Nov. 16.—Judge McAdam of the Superior court has annulled the marriage of Lillian Russell to Edward T. Solomon, the composer.

THE NEW TARIFF MEASURE

IT WILL SOON BE BEFORE THE COUNTRY
Southern Iron Men Making a Fight Against Iron Ore Being Placed on The Free List—Work of The Committee.

Washington, Nov. 16.—It is hoped by the Democratic members of the ways and means committee to be able to report their new tariff bill to the public about November 25th or near the close of next week. The popular pressure is so very great for information on the subject and the importunities of interests affected by changes in the bill are so embarrassing to the committee that it has been determined to settle all points upon which uncertainty exists as soon as possible. For this purpose a series of conferences of the full Democratic membership of the committee began today. The work of the sub-committees is to be submitted schedule by schedule, and finally passed upon by the entire membership.

Upon the great questions concerning which the sub-committees have been unable to arrive at a definite conclusion the principal discussion of the members will be first directed. Among the most important of these problems are the question of an income tax, the internal revenue schedules and contemplated additions to the free list. There is a difference of opinion among Democratic members over adding iron ore, coal and salt to the free list, and discussion is shared with the wisdom of such action. Free wool, free lumber and free cotton bagging would be added, though there is some dissent on these points. Alabama Democrats are up in arms against putting coal and iron ore on the free list, and a bill and that their appeals to the committee shall be heard.

Several members of the majority of the Ways and Means committee were kept busy today listening to arguments and appeals from interested persons who desire to have their views upon certain matters incorporated into the new tariff bill. The most important of these were delegations from Alabama and Virginia. The former representing the coal and iron interests of that State. They presented to Chairman Wilson and others, the reasons why, in their opinion, coal and iron ore should not be placed upon the free list.

A VARIED CAREER.
Preacher Who Had Been a Clown Arrested For Embezzlement.
Lynchburg, Ky., Nov. 16.—Rev. I. T. Hall of Johnsonville, Ind., was arrested recently charged with embezzlement. Mr. Hall represented a Louisville furniture firm in Indiana, and until accounts are compared the exact amount of the shortage cannot be stated. Pending investigation Hall was released on $2,000 bond. He was converted by a evangelist about a year ago and since then has been the pastor of the United Brethren church at Sellersburg, Ind. Before that he was a justice of the peace, and while serving as such sentenced his own son to the rock pile. Prior to this Hall was a clown.

ATTACKED BY HYDROPHOBIA, SHE DIES AND BURNS OTHER STOCK.
CLARKSVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 16.—A cow on the farm of W. E. Cooke, at Moseley's Hill, near here, was the cause of much trouble and destruction recently. She had a well developed case of hydrophobia, her eyes were perfectly green, and she became restless of the month. Before she was killed she was killed and injured several head of stock, tore down fences and committed various depredations. She attacked Mr. Cooke, but his life was saved by a ball from his brother's rifle.

ICE GIVEN A WARM WELCOME.
BRUNSWICK, Ga., Nov. 16.—Ice formed in Brunswick this morning and the lightest people are celebrating the event. Last season of the Brunswick epidemic of cholera had, and the town will soon resume its business. At Jessup ice formed a quarter of an inch thick.

Col. Cameron Slowly Improves.
Col. John D. Cameron is slowly improving, but as yet is able to sit up only for a little while at a time. Col. Cameron's illness has been the cause of a general expression of regret on the part of the newspapers, and his many friends in all parts of North Carolina, and he desires to say to all of them that he has a deep sense of appreciation of these expressions. Col. Cameron's friends will each fervently hope that he may regain his health.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.
It is believed that Commissioner Blount was influenced in making his report on the revolution in Hawaii by the knowledge that several months before that event took place, certain men, who afterwards participated in the uprising, visited Washington and had a talk with President Harrison.

Camphorline

CURBS
CHAPPED HANDS! ROUGH SKIN!

After Saving "GOOD NIGHT"
Use Camphorline.

Camphorline has become such a household remedy for all kinds of rough skin and chapped hands that we beg only to call your attention to it during this, the first cold spell of winter. It is no less useful after shaving, especially where the skin is tender or inclined to be sore. The city barbers have found this out and it can now be found at most of the shops. It has become so popular that others have tried to imitate it, not only in name, but appearance and properties. We have succeeded in getting the coined word "Camphorline," trademarked by the government at Washington, so that we can now protect our rights.

The genuine may be known by an unbroken seal. It can be found at nearly all the drug stores in the city, and by the manufacturers, price 25 cents per bottle
