ABSTRACTS OF TITLE

Any Land in Buncombe County, North Carolina—Plans Furnished—Surveying Done—General Information As to Real Estate Transfers.

Every owner of a piece of land should know its history—the names of all its previous owners, the names of those who have held incumbrances against it; the nature of the instrument by which any and all of those persons conveyed his or her interest, or released his or her claim against it; boundaries of the land, and whether there are conflicting claims in deeds of adjoining property; apparent irregularities in any instrument conveying the land, etc., etc.

There are sometimes clouds, more or less serious, on titles believed by the owner of the land to be perfect.

The careful man never buys land or loans money on real estate of any kind without first requiring an up-to-date Abstract of Title, certified to by an attorney or one whose business it is to be informed in such matters.

VAILLANT GUILTY.

The Man Who Threw the Bomb in Paris.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—The trial of Auguste Vaillant, the anarchist who threw the bomb which exploded in the Chamber of Deputies, commenced today. Just previous to the trial, a report was circulated that a bomb with a burned fuse was found outside the court. The palace of justice in which the trial took place was surrounded by guards, and nobody was allowed to pass through their ranks unless possessed of a pass, and not until their identity was fully established. The court was thronged with people when Vaillant was brought in at noon, closely guarded by policemen. Vaillant was found guilty and sentenced to death.

Kindly remember the 15 cents the carrier will call for Saturday.

SPOKE FOR THE MASSES

CHAIRMAN WILSON AND TARRIFF REFORM.

A Bitter Peroration And Great Applause—Burrows Talks Three Hours, But Is Answered in One Moment By Gen. Black.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Mr. Wilson in the peroration to his tariff speech began with a reference to the legend which, he said, had always been inscribed on the Democratic banner, "Equal rights to all and special privileges to none." The people had brought the Democratic party into power on that broad principle of equal justice to all. "The Democratic party," he concluded, "raises itself as one man, takes up this great cause, plants its standard here to sink or swim; survive or perish, that the Democratic party may continue in power. [Democratic applause.] We will plant the banner here. We mean to have a fight and we will call every true believer in Democracy to rally our side, as we call upon the American people. The silent masses, the farmers scattered, unable to organize, who plowed their way under the burdens of taxation.

"Our petition boxes are filled with protests of the trusts and combinations of this country. Let us be true to our faith. Let us go forward until we make this a country where every man shall see the gateway of opportunity opening before him. Then every man shall see before him the opportunity to rise to such influence, and to such prosperity as his own merits justify, not weighted down with burdens of taxation. Let us labor for a country free to all, equal to all, and with opportunity planted in every home and in every humble fireside in the land."

As he finished the Democratic side broke into cheers, and a wave of applause swept over the galleries. The applause continued for fully two minutes. Mr. Burrows of Michigan replied to Mr. Wilson. His Republican colleagues gave him close attention and punctuated the points of his speech with liberal applause. The Democrats, too, listened to it with evident interest. Mr. Burrows spoke for almost three hours. At the conclusion of his speech there was a great outpour of Republican applause, so long continued as to call forth a rebuke from the chair. After order had been restored, Gen. Black of Illinois, ex-Commissioner of Pensions, took the floor. He referred to Mr. Burrows' picture of dire disaster in this country and said the suffering depicted by him existed for 30 years of laws written by his own party. Not a law has been placed on the statute books by the Democratic party since 1860. The Democratic party's responsibility for the law comes only with this Congress. Before we took charge the present condition of affairs had begun. As that condition is due to existing laws you cannot say we did it. So far the law is responsible for the present conditions it is the law of high protective tariff.

THE INCOME TAX BILL.

Laid Before the Democratic Ways and Means Members.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The House met at 11 o'clock this morning with a slim attendance on the floor, but there was a good audience in the galleries. Immediately before the first morning hour began Mr. Boutelle again precipitated a heated discussion in regard to his Hawaiian resolution. Then Hopkins took the floor to conclude his speech on the tariff bill begun yesterday. Cummings, from the Naval committee, reported the Boutelle resolution calling on the Secretary of the Navy for information on Hawaiian matters and as to his authority for delegating to Commissioner Blount control of the United States naval forces. The resolution was reported back with an amendment asking for information in the navy department from March 4th, 1892, instead of 1893. Mr. Cummings asked for its immediate consideration. As this required unanimous consent, Mr. Dockery objected. Mr. Cummings then asked that the resolution lie on the Speaker's table without losing its privileges, and this was ordered. The House committee on coinage, weights and measures, today began consideration of the Bland bill, providing for the coinage of the silver dollar, the silver dollar, now in the Treasury. The Bland free coinage bill which was made the order of business for today, was postponed until the seigniorage bill is disposed of.

The income tax bill was laid before the Democratic members of the Ways and Means committee this morning. It was not read. The committee will meet again this afternoon, at which time the measure will be again considered.

REDWINE'S TRIAL.

Nothing Sensational Developed As Yet In It.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 10.—An enormous crowd filling every inch of the court room listened to the second day's proceedings of the Redwine trial. Bank Examiner Campbell took the stand this morning and was minutely examined as to his method of procedure in looking into the affairs of the wrecked bank. His testimony was without special sensational features. The defense, in cross examination, sought to prove by the witness that the directors and officials of the bank were all largely withdrawn, but the court checked this line of inquiry. Campbell swore that when he examined the books of the bank a few days before the discovery of the defalcation he saw and counted some $78,000 in cash. L. J. Hill, former president of the Gate City bank, swore that a check of $1,000 paid to W. S. Patterson for stock held by Redwine in the Suburban Land company had never been entered on the books of the bank. Mr. Patterson testified that the check had been secured to him for stock. The defense tried to show that the bank now owned the stock, but the question was not allowed.

FOR CONGRESS NOW

The Settlement of the Hawaiian 789 Men.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.—No further steps will be taken by the executive branch of the government to carry out the policy of restoring Queen Liliuokalani. Secretary Gresham is authorized to see him in person, he thought that the settlement of the whole Hawaiian question was in the hands of Congress and everything that would aid it in arriving at a conclusion would be submitted by the President.

TO THE EX-COLLECTOR

A Handsome Present On His Wedding Anniversary.

Ex-Collector Kope Elias will tomorrow celebrate the 18th anniversary of his wedding day, at his home in Franklin. One of the presents he will receive on that happy occasion, and one that will without doubt give him much pleasure, will be a silver service presented by the force in the collector's office, formerly under Mr. Elias.

THE LATE MRS. DRURY.

She Was an Estimable Lady and Had Many Friends Here.

Mrs. J. Wilson Drury, who died suddenly in Victoria on Sunday last had many friends in this community. Together with her distinguished husband, she had spent the two last winters at Oakland Heights, where she had arrived about a few days since, apparently in good health, when she was suddenly stricken down.

DON'T PLAY 'FIVE-UP.'

John Forney's Description of the Way the Mayor Plays.

John Forney, Dr. Chas. E. Hilliard's young colored driver, interestingly tells of the game which Mayor Patton plays frequently in court with undersheriffs charged with gambling. John says: "Mayor Patton gets a fellow up here and says: 'You bin gon' in, have you?' 'Yes, sir,' says de fellow. 'Well, den,' says de Mayor, 'we'll play a little game.' Den he reaches into his drawer and pulls out a deck of cards, shuffles 'em and says: 'You wanten out for dead?' 'No, sir,' says de fellow, 'an den de Mayor deals 'em. De Mayor says: 'I don't play no five-up, I plays 'three-up.' Den presently he shows up and it's fifteen or twenty dollars. 'Dat's playin'?"

CAPT. M. E. CARTER AND THE COLLECTORSHIP.

The Newly Appointed Collector, In The Event of His Confirmation, Will Probably Make Few Changes—Confidence In Mr. Elias' Judgment.

Capt. Melvin E. Carter, the newly appointed collector for the Fifth North Carolina district, was slightly indisposed yesterday and did not come uptown. He was up today, however, and has been kept busy receiving the congratulations of his friends. Capt. Carter did not see President Cleveland during his stay in Washington, but saw Secretary of the Treasury Carlisle and Internal Revenue Commissioner Miller. He also talked with Senator Vance, who has been and is still suffering with rheumatism, although he is now improved.
