CORBETT LIKE A MAD MAN

HE HAD TO BE PULLED OFF
MITCHELL.

Corbett's Work In The Ring Yesterday Was As Lightning-Like As It Was Brutal—The Champion Near To Fouling.

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 26.—All things considered the battle between James J.
Corbett and Charles Mitchell was the most important event in the annals of the prize fight right. It marked a turning point in the history of pugilism.

Corbett, while not strictly identified with the old bare-knuckle boxers, represented perhaps the most advanced ideas in that line of pugilism.

Mitchell, with the old line, received his earliest impressions and much of his earlier training from the old bare-knuckle boxers.

Every move of Corbett showed the power of the new school idea when coupled with great strength and agility.

The lightning like work of Corbett on yesterday was too rapid for most of the spectators to follow and understand. Mitchell was knocked down three times in rapid succession and left senseless and bleeding, but the question of how it was done was asked by hundreds of men who had been staring at the deed they asked to have explained.

The talk of all the sports is the animal-like fierceness with which Corbett followed Mitchell in the ring yesterday. At one point Corbett utterly lost his head.

It had not been for Referee Kelly's heavy restraining hand he would have lost the fight on a foul. He was frantic to get at his man and finish him, actually struggling with the big referee to dash at Mitchell every time the Englishman got up on one knee.

During the minute's rest, the referee very seriously admonished Corbett about fouling, and his seconds implored him to keep his head and not lose the prize that was plainly his if he did not foul. When the gong sounded Mitchell came up slowly.

There was only one fighter in the ring and that was Corbett. He rushed forward into a corner where after punching him in the nose with his left and drawing blood, he swung his right on his jaw and knocked him down.

Again he lost his head and Kelly and could not keep him away from Mitchell, who was dazed, and the attendants from Corbett's corner jumped into the ring and pushed Corbett away from his victim.

Their arguments fell on deaf ears. The instant Mitchell was up Corbett plunged at him, smashing him in the mouth.
Mitchell fell heavily and the blood gushed from his mouth and nose. Again Corbett's seconds broke into the ring and wound their arms around him, for only in that way could they restrain him, as the referee's hand marked passing 10 seconds.

Some of The Details
At 12:55 two carriages containing Corbett and his party were driven rapidly into the enclosure and 500 and more men and boys outside the arena set up a shout; the audience inside did not take it up, however. There was no enthusiasm manifested up to this point. Prof. Gentry who was arranging the napalm light system, to be used in case the fight should be prolonged till sundown, created a sensation at 1:15 by asking if Col. Cockerell or J. M. Barr was in the audience. As these men were both of legal counsel for the Duval athletic club the audience naturally suspected that some further legal complication had arisen and there was much uneasiness for a half hour afterwards.

Mitchell's seconds were Jim Hall, Pony Moore, Tom Allen and Steve O'Donnell.
Timekeeper, Bat. Masterson. Corbett's seconds were John Donaldson, Billy Dolaney, Jack Dempsey and William Mc-Millan. Timekeeper for Corbett, Ted Foley. "Snapper" Garrison kept time for the club. Referee Kelly and the chief of police examined the gloves to see that they were full weight.

At 2:20 the combatants were called to the centre of the ring and instructed by the referee as they faced each other.
Mitchell dimly looked beside the champion.

E. I. Smith of Denver challenged the winner to fight for $10,000 a side.
First Round, 2:23.—Corbett led with his left on Mitchell's chin. They clinched, exchanged body blows and Corbett reached Mitchell's left eye heavily. Mitchell reached Corbett's ribs. Another exchange and Mitchell clinched. Corbett landed on Corbett's neck and Corbett landed right and left. Just as time was called Mitchell landed a good body blow.
It looked at this point as if it was to be a wicked fight. Honors were easy on this round.

Round 2.—A wild exchange and a clinch opened this round. Corbett upper cut man as they came together.
Mitchell came in hard on the ribs and as Mitchell came in hard, caught him on the head, staggering him. Corbett upper cut Mitchell again and landed with his right on Mitchell's ribs. Mitchell reached Corbett's chin. There was a sharp rally, with Corbett having all the best of it. Mitchell got in twice on Corbett's neck and Corbett knocked him down twice. Then Corbett floored his man cleanly, and knocked him down again as he essayed to rise. The gong was all that saved Mitchell at this point.

Third Round.—Mitchell was rather groggy. Corbett rushed at him, scoring right and left heavily on Mitchell's neck.
Mitchell went down. He took full time to rise and then Corbett rushed at him like a tiger. Mitchell clinched; Corbett threw him off and floored him with a stiff facer. Again he took all time the rules allowed to rise, and when he advanced toward Corbett the latter swung his right with deadly effect on Mitchell's nose. Mitchell reeled and fell on his face helpless. The referee counted "1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10; Mitchell is knocked out!" The referee then declared Corbett winner (the match and champion of the world).

Corbett, Mitchell and some of the members of the Duval club were arrested, the charge being an alleged violation of the law in having fought by "previous appointment," or of having aided and abetted the fighting. This proceeding is of a friendly character to test the law.
Mitchell said, after the fight: "I'm not kicking a bit or claiming anything.
Corbett and everybody else who won or lost on the fight ought not to complain."

QUESTION CARLISLE'S ACT

HAS HE POWER TO ISSUE
BONDS?

The House Judiciary Committee Vote, 9 to 4, That The Secretary Has Not The Power—The Democrats Evenly Divided.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The judiciary committee of the House, by a vote of 9 to 4, today ordered a favorable report on Representative Bailey's resolution questioning the right of Secretary Carlisle to issue bonds.

The vote on the Bailey resolution was as follows: Ayes—Bailey, Texas; Goodnight, Kentucky; Dearmond, Missouri; Democrats, and Ray, New York; Upde-graff, Iowa; W. A. Stone, Pennsylvania; Broderick, Massachusetts; Terry, Arkansas; Childs, Illinois, Republicans; total 9.—Nays—Layton, Ohio; Stockdale, Mississippi; Wolverson, Pennsylvania; Democrats, and Powers, Vermont, Republicans; total 4. Chairman Colburn did not vote.

This discloses that the voting Democrats were evenly divided, Bailey, Goodnight and Dearmond sustaining the resolution and Layton, Stockdale and Wolverson voting to lay on the table.
The six Republican votes turned the scale in favor of the resolution questioning the Secretary's power.

Please have ready your 15 cent subscriptions tomorrow morning.

MARRIED AT SPARTANBURG

A Wedding of Interest To Asheville People.

The Spartanburg, S. C., Herald of yesterday says that "Mrs. L. P. McCloud and daughter, Miss Irene, are at Mrs.
J. M. Nicholls. Mrs. McCloud is one of Asheville's most distinguished educators, and it is said that the young men fitted by her for Bingham's school are among the best prepared to enter there. She is here to attend the marriage of her daughter, who is also a guest of Mrs.
Nicholls."

The paragraph quoted contains more news (that isn't it) than probably any article of similar length ever penned.
The item printed correctly would have read that Mrs. C. E. McCloud, and Mrs.
L. P. McCloud and the latter's sister-in-law, Miss Irene McCloud, were there.

The reference to Bingham's school is something drawn in to make full weight "perhaps." The mission of the ladies mentioned in THE CITIZEN's account was to attend the marriage of Mrs. C. E. McCloud's daughter, Miss Laura, to Dr. Wilbur F. Tillett of Nashville, Tenn. This event occurred at Converse college, Spartanburg, at 11 A.
M. yesterday. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Duncan, of the M. E. church, South. Soon after the marriage the couple left for their home in Nashville.

Dr. Tillett is dean of theology in Vanderbilt university. The bride has for several years occupied the chair of Latin in Converse college. She is an accomplished lady and popular in Asheville.
The Asheville ladies who attended the marriage came home last night.

The little collection will be around for that 15 cents Saturday forenoon.

FROM THE "HUSTLER."

Items About Asheville Folk In The Transylvania Paper.

The Brevard Hustler of this week has a long write up of the establishment of Mustin, Fakes & Co., wholesale grocers, in Asheville, from which this is taken:

"The advantages this firm have over other similar enterprises enable it to furnish goods at considerably lower prices than the same articles can be had elsewhere, and being a home enterprise every merchant in Western Carolina should contribute to make it more extensive and successful in its effort to put in the extravagantries."

The Hustler also prints the following items of interest here:

"While in Asheville last week we visited the elegant, comfortable and pleasant law parlors of Hon H. B. Carter, ex judge of the Criminal court of Buncombe county, and had the pleasure of forming the acquaintance of this polished and highly estimable gentleman.
He is doubtless a very popular lawyer, as scarcely a moment intervened between the exit of one caller and the entrance of another during our entire visit. We have since been informed that Mr. Carter will be a candidate before the next judicial convention for the nomination for judge of the Twelfth district. We have every reason to believe that he would make a popular and successful candidate."

"Geo. W. Wilson, the talented and energetic salesman for Mustin, Fakes & Co., wholesale grocers of Asheville, was in Brevard this week. Our people are always pleased to see George, he is such a perfect model of true manhood."

TWO WERE KILLED

Collision Of Freight Cars On A North Carolina Road

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 26.—An accommodation freight train at Henderson, on the Seaboard Air Line, was run into by another freight this morning at 5 o'clock.
L. Bowman of Richmond and Rev. Mr.
Shaw of Portsmouth were killed and Mr.
Brodie of Warrenton had his thigh broken.

Hanged Twice.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—Geo. H. Painter was hanged this morning for the murder of Alice Martin, generally known as Alicia Martin, with whom he lived. At the first attempt, the rope snapped and the man fell to the stone floor eight feet below. The blood gushed in a stream from his head. He was picked up unconscious, and another noose adjusted and the drop again sprung. This time the hanging was successful.

From a Hustler.

Ye editor was delighted with a pleasant visit to the hustling office of THE ASHEVILLE CITIZEN last Friday afternoon. That journal is a welcome daily visitor to our table, and we hope it may continue to enjoy its present prosperity.

WORK OF THE GRAND JURY

IMPORTANT PRESENTMENTS
BY THAT BODY.

True Bills Against Raynor & Smith for Retaining Without License, and Against Lawrence Fullam for Embezzlement—Pat Singleton's Speech.

The grand jury of the Criminal court has sent in true bills against Raynor & Smith, the druggists, for retaining whiskey without license. There were nine cases, but true bills were found in only six of these. C. D. Blanton, W. H. Wier and P. Macnaughton are named as witnesses.

The grand jury also today furnished some news in the case of Lawrence Pulham, returning a true bill against him for embezzlement. The indictment charges him with the embezzlement of $6,200 from the National Bank of Asheville, of which bank he was cashier. The witnesses named are W. W. Barnard, E.
H. Merrimon, D. C. Waddell, jr., and D.
C. Waddell, sr.

An Unusual Speech.

Pat. Singleton furnished the sensation in the Criminal court yesterday in a speech that probably has never had a parallel here. Singleton, together with Harrison Reeves and Ketta Saunders, was charged with the robbery of F. P.
Jingle's store west of Asheville. The jury's verdict acquitted Ketta Saunders but convicted Reeves and Singleton.
Judge Jones sentenced the men to four years each in the county chain gang.

When the sentence was imposed Singleton made
