AMERICAN MERCHANTMEN ARE NOT TO BE BULLIED BY MELLO II UNCLE SAM KNOWS HIMSELF AND HE PROBABLY DOES.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Rothschild's banking house has received a despatch from Rio de Janeiro saying that Admiral Da Gama has surrendered.

(Copyrighted 1894 by the United Press.)

RIO JANEIRO, Brazil, Jan. 30.—On Saturday the American barks Any and Good News from Baltimore, and the Julia Rollins gave notice that they were going to Sudrie Piers. Admiral Mello notified Admiral Benham, commander of the American fleet, that if these vessels attempted to go to the Piers he would fire on them. Admiral Benham at once replied that the vessels would go to the Piers and that he would send the Detroit or, if necessary, every vessel of the American squadron to protect them.

Early yesterday morning five insurgent tug and armed merchantmen proceeded to the place where the American vessels were lying at anchor. Apparently waiting for them to get under way when they would fire upon them. At once there was great activity displayed on board the American warships, and at 5 o'clock the Detroit hoisted her anchors and, with shotted guns, steamed in beside the insurgent warships Trajo and Guanabara, both of which were lying close to the Good News.

As the Detroit took up her position a shot from the Guanabara was fired at the Good News. The Detroit at once fired a six pound shot across the bows of the Guanabara, whereupon the latter vessel replied with what is supposed to have been a blank cartridge. The Detroit then turned one of her guns upon the Guanabara and sent a small shell into her stern post, and was on the point of delivering a broadside at the insurgent ship, when the Guanabara signalled that she would stop firing.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Despatches received here today from Rio de Janeiro state that at 10 o'clock this morning Admiral Da Gama having opened fire upon one of the American war ships, a sharp engagement followed with the result that Admiral Da Gama surrendered.

REV. DR. C. D. SMITH DEAD

CLOSE OF A USEFUL CAREER AT FRANKLIN.

The Grip Claims as a Victim Dr. Smith, an aged Minister, Noted Mineralogist and a Good Man In All Respects.

Acting Collector Rogers last evening received a telegram from Franklin stating that Rev. C. D. Smith, D. D., LL. D., of that town, was not expected to live. This morning a telegram came from Dr. Smith's son, C. C. Smith, bringing the sad intelligence of Dr. Smith's death, which occurred at 3 o'clock this morning.

Dr. Smith a year or more ago while crossing Nantahala mountain, fell from his horse, and remained where he fell, in a helpless condition, overnight. From the effects of the fall and the exposure Dr. Smith never recovered fully, although he was able to be up and go from his home to Franklin at intervals. A short time ago, however, he contracted the grip and this disease was the cause of his death.

Dr. Smith was about 82 years of age and the greater portion of his life was a very active and exceedingly useful one. He entered the ministry early in life, as a preacher in the Holston conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South. He was for years a presiding elder in several of the Holston's districts. He presided in his semi-annual sermon, celebrating the 50th anniversary of his entry into the ministry, before the Holston conference in Central church, this city, five or six years ago.

For years Dr. Smith was assistant State mineralogist of North Carolina and was for a long time a member of the North Carolina Board of Agriculture. He was an enthusiastic mineralogist, and was always eager to perform any task that would bring the minerals of this section into public notice. He had gathered a large and very valuable collection of Western North Carolina gems, and these were on exhibition in Asheville for some time. They are now stored at the Asheville Female college.

The life of Dr. Smith was one worthy of emulation. He was a consecrated Christian, a generous, whole souled man, honest, faithful and true, and drew to his friends wherever he went. He is related to many Asheville people and has here besides these an unusually large circle of friends, and the news of the passing away of their beloved relative and honored friend will cause great sorrow.

Dr. Smith was married in Knoxville, Tenn., about 1845 to Miss Margaret R. Bearden, a sister of M. J. Bearden of Asheville. Mrs. Smith and five children survive the deceased. The children are Frank T. Smith, postmaster at Franklin; C. C. Smith, general storekeeper in the revenue service, stationed in Asheville; Mrs. Emma Baird of Franklin, and Messrs. Canaro and Marcus Smith of Texas.

School News From Supt. Way

County Superintendent Way says if any teacher of a public school comes to the association meeting on the 3d of February and becomes a member, and does not think he has got the "worth of his money," he will refund his membership fee, and answer him to-well, say Wake county.

Prof. Buckner is now having an average attendance of 80 in the public school at Candler. When these boys and girls are men and women that big brick academy will be finished in short order—if it is not done before!

An excellent "public" school house just completed in district No. 69, on Big Ivy. Thanks to the working committee—and Buncombe is not building any more shanties to teach school in.

The Trust Won.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 30.—In a suit brought by the government to test the legality of the sugar trust's absorption of the big Philadelphia refineries Judge Butler today decided in favor of the trust. An appeal to the Supreme court will be taken.

Committee of Ten Reports Slow Progress In Collecting Funds For The Suit, and The Mayor Explains The Situation.

Last evening was not so balmy and pleasant as an evening in June and this fact might have operated to keep some property owners away from the meeting called to hear the report of the Committee of Ten in the court house. There were about a dozen property owners present, nearly all of them from South Main street. Only two of the committee, Chairman John H. McDowell and Treasurer W. T. Penniman, were in attendance.

Chairman McDowell called the meeting to order and Mr. Penniman made a statement for the committee. He thought that, considering the action of the Board of Aldermen Saturday, in granting an extension of time for the payment of the first installment of the assessments, it was probable that many property owners would want to go into the proposed injunction suit, preferring to compromise on the terms suggested in the Blair & Co proposition which he read from THE CITIZEN.

Mayor Patton was asked for his views on the subject, and said that whether the people approve or disapprove what had been done in the past, it was all important that the expenditures of the city be cut down to only what is absolutely necessary, and for that reason he urged the people not to go into a lawsuit. He did not mean for them to give up their rights, but believed their rights could be sustained as easily in the Board as in the Supreme court. Concerning the item of damages charged as a part of the assessments he believed the courts would decide against the city, and he would advise the Board to strike out the damage item. As to culverts, however, the act distinctly fixes that item as a part of the street cost. The people all knew it was not the speaker's law, but it had been adopted by a majority of the voters and now that it was a law it must be carried out. The question now was, Would the people rather pay their assessments or take advantage of the extension of time? As to the provision for the destroying of the unsold bonds he heartily concurred in it. Whether the next administration would do so, or would extend the time, he of course could not say. But it did not, the bondholders were released from their proposition.

In closing the Mayor said: "If there are errors in your assessment come before the Board with your proof and I will give you every assistance in looking over the books for errors. For the sake of the city, for the sake of avoiding litigation I would be glad to have the property owners come to this decision and meet the city half way."

In the general discussion which followed Treasurer Penniman remarked that he had about $100 that had been raised to start the suit and if another committee were not elected "the thing was dead." The committee would not get into any bigger hole. He thought the reason for the small attendance was that nearly everybody had made up his mind to pay the 6 per cent. "This committee," said Mr. Penniman referring to himself, "is quit."

The meeting then adjourned without making any action.

Resolutions Adopted By the French Broad Baptist Church.

The congregation of the French Broad Baptist church has adopted the following resolutions, reported by a committee composed of Jesse K. Starnes and W. J. Hough:

"Whereas, Our beloved brother, J. L. White, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, reached for us very ably and acceptably while we were pastorless, thereby contributing to our spiritual welfare and stimulating our zeal for good work; therefore be it Resolved, That we herein convey to him, our sincere and heartfelt thanks, whereby he may be assured of our full appreciation of his work among us and our high esteem for his character and ability."

A Democratic Committee Votes to Seat a Republican.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The report of the House committee on elections in the Williams vs. Settle contest from the Fifth district of North Carolina was submitted today. The allegations of Williams were that Settle's majority was obtained by irregularities. The report admits the irregularities, but says they were not sufficient to change the result. Settle is the only Republican from North Carolina and the youngest member of the House, being but 27 years old.
