PARIS BOMB EXPLOSION TWENTY-FOUR PEOPLE ARE INJURED. The Atlanta Constitution gives the particulars of an interesting case in which Frank R. Hewitt of Hewitt's, N. C., a man well known among Asheville business men, is a principal. Mr. Hewitt is charged with libeling W. S. Saul, of the Nantahala Marble and Tale company, who lives in Atlanta. The libel alleged was in a letter written by Mr. Hewitt to L. B. Nelson of Atlanta, the contents of which were found out by Saul. Then Saul filed an accusation in the Atlanta court charging Mr. Hewitt with criminal libel. An application for requisition to Governor Carr of North Carolina, asking the arrest of Hewitt, was filed with Governor Northern of Georgia. The application represented that Hewitt was a fugitive from justice from Georgia. The requisition was granted by Governor Carr and Hewitt was arrested at New Orleans and taken to Atlanta where he gave bond for his appearance before the Criminal court. When the case came up, as learned from the Constitution, Mr. Hewitt's attorneys filed a demurrer, a plea of privilege and a plea of justification, and at the same time filed a motion for protection of the State court upon the ground that the court and laws of the United States provided only for the extradition of fugitives from justice, and as Mr. Hewitt had never been in the state of Georgia, he could not flee there, nor become a fugitive from justice. After the issue was joined and these several pleas filed, with a plea of not guilty, and after the jury had been impaneled and sworn and the defendant put on his defense, the solicitor of the state of Georgia, he could not flee there, nor become a fugitive from justice. PARIS BOMB EXPLOSION (cont.) Three policemen passed the spot at the moment and they soon overhauled the miserant. He shot one policeman and a woman in the throng of the street, but other policemen overpowered the bomb thrower and then had some difficulty in protecting him from the vengeance of a mob. They succeeded, however, in taking him to a police station. "Yes, I am an anarchist," he exclaimed irately in response to reiterated questions, "and the more of the bourgeoisie I killed the better it would please me." It has been ascertained definitely that at least 24 persons were hurt. The name of the bomb-thrower is Leon Breton. The police believe he is a member of an anarchist group. A NICK POINT OF LAW. A Question in Law That is of Interest Here. After the wreck at Bosnia's bridge on the Western North Carolina road more than two years ago, J. C. Brown of Asheville obtained letters of administration on the estate of Samuel Gorman, one of the Asheville firemen killed in the wreck. For some time before his death Mr. Gorman had been in the employ of Mr. Brown and resided in Asheville. Subsequently the plaintiff recovered a judgment against the railroad company for damages in the sum of $2,000. It turned out that some one in Washington City, where the widow of Mr. Gorman resided, also administered on the estate of the deceased and brought suit against the railroad company not far from the time suit was brought by Mr. Brown. The suit in Washington is still pending and one of the defenses relied on by the railroad company is a plea in bar on the ground that the whole matter has been adjudicated here. Charles Leonard Frailay, a Washington attorney, has been here for several days looking up the facts for the purpose of endeavoring to meet the plea in bar. Lawyers say that it is possible that letters of administration on the estate of the deceased might regularly have been granted both here and in Washington, and the same question presented is, if the suit is brought by both for the same cause of action, which administration will be allowed to pursue action to the end? The better opinion, it is said by some, would seem to be that the administrator who first recovers judgment would be entitled to the same. FIRST ANNIVERSARY. Celebration at The Young Men's Institute Last Evening. Last evening the members of the Young Men's institute celebrated the first anniversary of their organization. Although the beautiful building which they occupy was not formally opened until May 1, 1893, the organization properly was effected the 12th of February, and a happy crowd of members and friends filled the spacious rooms of the building to celebrate its birthday. It was an event of more than usual importance, in that it indicated the degree of appreciation there is for the enterprise on the part of those who are its benefactors. Considering the difficulties which have beset the work which promises so much to Asheville's colored citizens, the success so far has been exceptionally noteworthy. Poverty, inexperience, previous training and prejudices have militated against the progress of the work, yet in spite of these obstacles the results are cheering. A roll of more than half a hundred members within less than a year since the building was opened shows marked appreciation and presages a bright future for the work. The members and their guests assembled in the social rooms and parlors of the institute, indulging in conversation and games till 10:30; when the doors of the assembly room were thrown open and supper, consisting of oysters, chicken salad and ham sandwiches, cream, ambrosia and coffee, was served. A number of toasts were delivered, which abounded in hope and enthusiasm.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 13.—Advice received in this city indicate that a storm approaching in violence to a cyclone swept over Louisiana and Mississippi Monday night and left in its wake many casualties and a vast amount of destruction. Communication with the points most severely affected is interrupted, as all the wires are down and a most meagre report has so far been received. The most alarming reports are from Newton, which place is said to have been wiped off the face of the earth. CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—During yesterday afternoon the storm increased at Chicago, the wind at times rising to a velocity of 70 miles an hour and the snow growing heavier. He was Consul to Oaxaca, Japan, under Cleveland's first administration and the records of the State department show that his grade ran the highest known in the foreign service. Among the other appointments were: W. T. Blackwell, postmaster at Durham, N. C.; Matthias Manly, Newbern; Edward Barnes, Wilson; J. B. Serrill, Concord. Collector of customs at Wilmington, William R. RIO DE JANEIRO, Feb. 13.—Admiral Saldanha Da Gama, the rebel commander, who was wounded in the neck and arm during the battle of Armacao on Friday last, is in a critical condition. CAIRO, Feb. 13.—Hans Von Bulow, the distinguished German pianist, is dead. JUST IN NORTH CAROLINA. —Lincoln Courier: Wiley, a son of Jno. M. McGinnis, went to Aderholt's mill on last Saturday. He wore a rubber coat, and while getting too near a running shaft he was caught and whirled about at a fearful rate for awhile. After being rescued from his perilous position it was found that his thigh had been badly broken, it having received a compound fracture. The boy is doing well, considering the bad wound. —On Thursday night a serious difficulty occurred about two miles north-west of Murphy, in which three young men participated. The fight was about some women. John Berry was knocked down with knuckles and held while Levi Smith proceeded to carve his legs in a fearful manner. Berry had to be brought to town in a hack, as he was unable to stand. It is feared the wounds will terminate seriously. —Murphy correspondence: Hon. Kop, Elias, of Franklin, who was a candidate for the collectorship of this district and who is prominently mentioned for Congress, was here last week. It is probable that he will be a candidate. Hon. Richmond Pearson, a capitalist and well known politician of Asheville, was also here a few days ago. He has congressional aspirations, too. —Durham Sun: Mr. Thos. H. Robert of the Sharon neighborhood, in Orange county, had three fine milk cows. A few nights ago they broke into a tobacco barn in which was stored a quantity of tobacco and they ate very freely of it. In less than 24 hours afterwards all three of the cows died. —Shelby Review: Capt Geo. A. Frick, who has been in Washington City to some weeks, has succeeded in compromising with the government in the case of his client, Mr. L. M. Dillinger, paying a fine of $600. This saves Mr. Dillinger from the loss of several thousand dollars and from prosecution. —The Southern Tariff association has raised a storm among Raleigh property owners by its action in raising fire insurance rates. Raleigh has thought it had one of the best fire departments in the country, and has been an accepted town, the local board making the rates. —Waynesville Courier: The Bryson City Mfg. Co., purchased last fall one of largest excelsior machines in the U. S. and have recently placed it in position in the new mill. They expect to be turning out the finest quality of excelsior by next week. —There is plenty of hog and hominy in this mountain country. In fact, the farmers are in a much better condition than they have been before and in consequence there is much rejoicing. —Wilson Bill: Judge Bynum, in his charge to the grand jury Monday, said that there were over 500 divorce cases now pending in the courts of North Carolina. —The weather in the western counties has been such that farmers and gardeners have been making preparations to plant their crops. —Craven county has made arrangements to work its convicts on the public roads. —The Bryson City Times has again changed hands.

IN AN ATLANTA COURT. (cont.) Mr. Hewitt carried his case to the United States court and his position upon the habeas corpus proceeding, will be that he is in Georgia as the result of a fraud practiced upon the governors of two states and the court of Atlanta; that he has been involuntarily brought within the jurisdiction of the state court under the color of Federal prosecution; that he has in a proper and lawful manner appealed in vain to a state court to enforce in his behalf the supreme law of the land; that the appeal has been denied and that the court of the United States should interfere for his protection. RAILROAD GOSSIP. Why a Ticket Buyer Heated—The A. & J. Sleeper Line. Yesterday afternoon just before train time a man appeared at the ticket window at the passenger depot and asked for a ticket to Frank Darby for a ticket to Harvard's Stand. "First or second class?" Mr. Darby inquired. "Hold on; let me see," the prospective traveler by rail mused; "I might pay for the ticket and the train might come and go before I could get it." As it was five or 10 minutes before the train was due the man had plenty of time to study over it. Presently he bought his ticket, hurried out of the waiting room and—waited till the train came. The line of sleepers between Asheville and Jacksonville will be put into operation tomorrow. The "Pacoles" will make the first trip out from Asheville. NEEDS OF THE NAVY. Not Enough Enlisted Men to Properly Man the Ships. WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 13.—There are not enough men enlisted in the navy to properly man the United States ships which go into commission before the 1st of May, and moreover the limit allowed by law will not permit the enlistment of a sufficient number. The big cruisers Columbia and Olympia, the Marblehead and Montgomery, the Atlanta and Boston, Raleigh, Cincinnati, Alert and Marion are all to be manned, requiring about 1,500 men. About half that number is available. Additional authority will be required from Congress to enlist sufficient men, and the Secretary Herbert will probably lay the matter before that body.
