The New York World has interviewed a large number of manufacturers on the Wilson bill, and they are pretty generally agreed that what is needed now is not a prolonged discussion in the Senate, but the passage of the bill at the earliest possible moment...

The Louisiana Lottery company, which by no other name smells sweeter, ostensibly went out of business so far as the United States was concerned, some months ago. But it has reappeared in Port Tampa, Florida, where a building has been erected especially for its use...

It is stated in a Paris dispatch that the anarchist who recently fired a bomb in the case of one of the hotels was well known in London and that the London police knew when he left that city...

STOP THE QUARREL. Vance and Ransom are already at odds, and now it is, and will be, war to the death with Vance and Simmons. Who is to take care of the people?...

AN OBITUARY. Republican Party Exposed by a Good Republican Authority. From the New York World.

Two of the New England cotton manufacturers whose views of the Wilson bill and the action of the Senate were solicited by the World declared that wages must come down if the bill becomes a law. They must have, they say, "sufficient protection" against English competition.

About that time Secretary Blaine, in a state paper on the consular reports, said: "Undoubtedly the inequalities in the wages of English and American operatives are more than equalled by the greater efficiency of the latter and their longer hours of labor."

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS. Senator Hill declares his ability to defeat the confirmation of Mr. Peckham, nominee for associate justice, and the adherents of the administration are equally certain that they will be victorious.

The postoffice department is preparing to prosecute the Louisiana Lottery company, which, under a new name, has established itself in Florida.

Gov. McKinley was nominated for the Presidency in '96 by the convention of Republican clubs in Columbus, O.

A NORTH CAROLINA CYCLONE

Queer Antics of the Storm Near Durham

From the Durham Sun. About 6 o'clock Monday evening the attention of our people was attracted to a very black, funnel-shaped cloud that arose in a clear sky in the west towards sunset. It increased in volume and those who were nearest to it say it formed about four miles north of Chapel Hill; that when it first started it twisted around on the ground like a whirlwind, spreading out in a skirt-shape at the bottom and top with a small middle. It had the appearance of an hour glass. Then it left the earth and seemed to lose the lower part, assuming the shape of a funnel, with the larger part at the top. It started off in an eastward direction and every now and then would dip down to the earth. In these dips it twisted up trees and everything in the line of its travel, gathering them up and whirling them around like pieces of paper. It traveled in a space of about 100 yards wide, and fortunately missed towns and thickly settled places so far as we have been able to learn. There was a terrible roaring sound, almost like thunder—just some of our people thought it was thunder.

To all appearances here it looked like the black smoke from a tar kiln boiling up and setting in the air. It was a terrible sight and struck terror to the senses as it came.

Near the grown it passed over G. C. Farthington's plantation on which John Ellis was living. Mr. Ellis saw the terrible cloud coming and told his wife to wrap some quilts around the children and get out. She became frightened and began crying without acting. He and two neighbors ran in and held the front door of the house. At this place it blew a one-horse wagon a hundred or more yards and set it down in the front porch. It lay held on to the door, but the faces were blown out on either side. The house was given a good rain shacking, but was not blown down.

MR. PEARSON

Getting Around Among the Republican Brethren.

From the Hendersonville Times. Hon. Richmond Pearson of Asheville, was in our city last Tuesday. The presence of Mr. Pearson recalled vividly to our minds the bitter and never-to-be-forgotten campaign of 1887 which he was waged in Buncombe county, to condemn the methods of a certain set of politicians who had refused to receive at all certain petitions of the people on a local matter. It is needless to say that Mr. Pearson was triumphant, receiving a majority of 1,200 over all opposition. Since that time he has been practically out of politics and has been devoting his time and attention to the management of his business affairs, but we doubt if the people will let him remain so long, as there seems to be a sentiment among all classes who desire more intelligent representation to induce him to enter the race for Congress from this district. Mr. Pearson is a cultured gentleman of rarely polished manners, and personal magnetism, and should be elected to re-entire the domain of politics higher honors undoubtedly await him.

THE LOCAL PAPER

The Best Investment at Community Can Have

Each year the local paper gives from $500 to $5,000 in free lines to the community in which it is located. No other agency can or will do this. The editor, in proportion to his means, does more for his town than any other 10 men and in all fairness with men he ought to be supported—not because you like him or admire his writings, but because the paper is the best investment a community can make. It may not be brilliantly edited or crowded with thought, but financially it is of more benefit to the community than the teacher or preacher. Understand me, I do not mean mentally or morally, but financially, and yet on the moral question you will find most of the local papers on the right side. Today the editors of the home paper do the most for the least money of any people on the face of the earth.

How Fared They Were.

The woolen manufacturers have been badly frightened and hurt by the election of a Democratic President and Congress fully committed to the work of tariff reform. One evidence of their demoralization is that they erected thirty-three new woolen mills last year. The silk manufacturers, too, have shared in the alarm of their woolen spinning and weaving brethren. They put up 10 new silk mills in New Jersey and Pennsylvania alone during the same threatening year. And the afflicted cotton manufacturers built fifty-two new mills, and the desolate knitting men fifty-three. Perhaps, however, they consider that the more mills and manufacturers there are the more the burden of their sorrows and losses will be distributed.

Mr. Ellis a Candidate.

From the Cherokee Scout. Hon. K. P. Ellis of Franklin was in town Thursday and Friday on business. We understand that he told several parties while here that he would be a candidate for Congress before the nominating convention. Mr. Ellis has many friends here who would be glad to see him in the halls of legislation.

A DISTURBANCE

Isn't what you want, if your stomach and bowels are irregular. That's about all you get, though, with the ordinary pill. It may relieve you for the moment, but you're usually in a worse state afterwards than before.

This is just where Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do most good. They act in an easy and natural way, very different from the huge, old-fashioned pills. They're not only pleasant, but there's no reaction afterward, and their help lasts. One little sugar-coated pellet for a gentle laxative or corrective—three for a cathartic. Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Dizziness, Sick and Bilious Headaches, are promptly relieved and cured.

They're the smallest, the easiest to take—and the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

You pay only for the good you get.

JUST IN NORTH CAROLINA.

—Sheriff J. R. Rodeville of Warren has completed his settlement of State taxes, paying in $5,875 61.

—W. D. Bailey, one of Yadkin county's wealthy citizens, is dead, aged 65. He leaves the bulk of his large estate to his married daughter.

—Mr. J. F. Jordan, a leading tobacco-merchant of Greensboro, has within the past few days sold $15,500 worth of Greensboro and Guilford estate.

—Governor Carr appoints Eugene E. Gray of Winston a trustee of the State colored Agricultural and Mechanical college, vice Thomas H. Sutton, resigned.

—The assignment of Mr. S. S. Brown, of Greensboro, was overthrown by Messrs. Shaw & Scales and ex Postmaster White was appointed receiver in place of K. K. Wheeler, trustee.

—Morganton Herald: The storekeeper of the Walden colliery wishes to purchase about 200 bushels of fresh potatoes to be delivered at the store in Valdese. He desires bids to be sent in at once.

—At last Wilson has been given a white postmaster. Mr. Edwin Barnes was appointed on Monday. The people here have been greatly dissatisfied with the government in its tardiness in this matter.

—An executive reward of $100 has been paid for the capture of Jack Horton, murderer of John Tall in Madison, and $100 expenses of his going back from Albemarle to North Carolina, Charles Hensley, murderer of his cousin, Bud Hensley, in Madison.

—Morganton Herald: The Kincaid family in this county is remarkable in one or two particulars. Of the seven children born all are living, the oldest being 75 and the youngest 60 odd years old. All have large families and all could be brought to Morganton on 24 hours' notice.

—The National Farmers' Alliance is to meet at Raleigh next year, the new president says. By that time there will be a monument over the grave of L. L. Folk in Oakwood cemetery, Raleigh, and there will be ceremonies of unveiling. Funds for the collection of funds for the monument has been very slow.

Partly Injured by a Mistake.

CIRCLEVILLE, O., Feb. 13.—For several nights past the family of Charles Cook have been annoyed by the visits of a mysterious tall woman, dressed in black and heavily veiled. On her last visit she left a letter under the door stating that she would have Cook or die. This evening Cook and his family were seated around the fireplace, when they were startled by sudden taps on the window. Looking up Cook saw the outlines of a woman, and seizing a hammer he rushed out, expecting to find the intruder, but were horrified to find Mrs. Hawk, a neighbor, an elderly lady, who had come to make a call. She was taken to her home, and cannot recover.—New York World.

Four More Killed in the Feud.

HARRISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 13.—For two days there have been rumors of another bloody battle in Harlan county between the Turners and the Nolins growing out of the recent killing by Dr. Will No in of two of the Turner boys, and it occurred as may be imagined. Those killed are Dick Nolin, his brother John, a man named Mullins and Mrs. Skidmore, a woman, near whose house the encounter took place. Mrs. Skidmore was endeavoring to escape, but was overtaken by a stray bullet. Nothing from the Harlan county officials has yet been received.—New York World.

A Woman Preacher.

Boston, Feb. 14.—The ordination of Mrs. Amelia Frost, wife of Rev. George A. Frost, as a woman preacher in the Congregational church body in Massachusetts, took place here today. No opposition was made to her ordination. When Mr. Frost was studying for the ministry his health broke down and Mrs. Frost assumed him in various ways. Then she took a full divinity school course at Andover.

Jeremiah Confirmed.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—The Senate has confirmed the following nominations:

Thomas B. Ferguson, of Maryland, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Sweden; John Barrett, minister resident and consul general at San Thomas; R. J. Jernigan of North Carolina, consul general at Shanghai, China.

Overworking The Principle.

From the Indianapolis Journal. Wickliffe—I have given up that homeopathic doctor I had and have gone back to the old school. Wickliffe—What was the matter? Wickliffe—He's a crank. My aunt has a catarrh developing in her left eye, and he recommended her to go to a water-cure establishment.

CANDIED SWEETNESS.

In proportion to population the Southern people consume more fine candy than any other section of the country—Southern women are consummate judges of bonbons—of course New York City is the greatest candy eating center in the world, and the taste is more exacting than elsewhere—no candies are put upon the market in daintier or more attractive form than those of the original

W. L. DOUGLAS

The success of a box of confections as of a dish of food, is largely due to the neatness and elegance with which it is prepared—included in delicate boxes, tied with silver braid, the contents arranged as artistically as the blossoms of an elaborate bouquet, the Tenney candies have won half the battle before they have touched the palate.

Nor is this all, these candies enjoy pre-eminence because of the choicest flavorings and the purest chocolates, sugar and almond paste entering into their manufacture, they are flavored with pure fruit juices imported from France—the odors are fruity and the tastesweet and delicious—these goods can only be found at Dr. T. C. Smith's Drug Store on the Public Square, Asheville, N. C.
