THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1894.

This Washington prediction of a cold wave are given a warm reception in this locality.

The most enterprising men in this country at present are the highway robbers. Not content with holding up trains and bank officials in isolated sections, one of the holders sort a few days ago held up a woman in a stage on Fifth avenue, New York, and got a fat purse for his plucky wickedness.

It is natural that the people should want the present Democratic administration to be expeditious in reforming and correcting the wrongs which the Republican party has put upon the country, but it is unreasonable to think or expect that Democracy can undo in a few months what it has taken the Republicans thirty years to do.

While no blame can be attached to the street railway company's employes for the fatal accident of yesterday, the fact remains that, as THE CITIZEN has often pointed out, the running of cars on two tracks on one street increases the liability to accidents very materially.

New York is a big state, and has many big Democrats in it, but New York is not the United States, neither are New York Democrats the Democratic party.

HAS NOT REFUSED

Mr. Maddux Makes a Statement About the Taxes.

President Lewis Maddux of the Asheville Street Railroad company and receiver of the old Street Railway company, gives THE CITIZEN the following statement regarding the matter of taxes discussed by the Board of Aldermen at last meeting:

"From November 11, 1892, to November 11, 1893, the dates during which the Asheville Street Railway company was in the hands of a receiver, it expended for paving $9,462.82; for wages, $13,424.31; for operation and repairs of its track, machinery, etc., $32,557.25. Total expenditure for the above items alone, $55,444.38.

"The company has lost money, steadily, since December 1, last, but notwithstanding this, it continues to give free transfers at the square to all points in the city.

"The receiver has never refused to pay the city its taxes which became due before the receivership expired. He has always professed his readiness to pay the same when he could get funds for that purpose.

"The concert tomorrow evening at the Grand opera house will be one of the first events of the season, as it will mark the reappearance of the Schubert Male quartette, an organization of stars that ranks first in the estimation of those Asheville people who love fine music.

"Grand Rapids, Mich., Eagle: 'They presented one of the finest musical programs ever given in this city. Tennyson's 'Bard Song' was most exquisitely rendered by the Schuberts, and the audience called the quartette back the third time in compliment to their delightful harmony.

"Evansville, Ind., Courier: 'Miss Clark's violin playing won every heart; her touch and harmonic effects were exquisite and her strength and purity of tone unusual in any adult performer.'

"Indianapolis Journal: 'Miss MacCorkle won a round of compliments and applause for her talents as a reader, and later on the program, as a whistler.'

"Dr. G. M. Wetberill will give an illustrated lecture on the World's Fair at the Grand next Monday evening, the 26th. The lecture is spoken of as excellent, and a faithful picturing of the beauties of the wonderful White City which many Asheville people saw and will be interested in looking at again. The prices will be: Adults, 25 cents; children, 15 cents.

THE NEW SUPREME COURT JUSTICE.

It was not the fact that the President selected Mr. White that caused the great surprise exhibited in the Senate, but the fact that he so emphatically announces his surrender to the Senators who have rebuked him for ignoring and insulting the Democratic organization of his own State.

There are two features of Mr. White's nomination that cause it to be a rather remarkable one. In the first place, it shows rank ingratitude to Senator Gray, the ablest and most loyal defender of the Administration in Congress, and it puts on the shelf the most outspoken opponent in the Senate of the Wilson tariff bill.

The President's ingratitude to Senator Gray is bitterly denounced by everybody, and those who know Mr. Cleveland say that it is a most characteristic act. No matter what may be said hereafter, it is a fact beyond all question that Senator Gray eagerly desired the appointment.

The new justice is a Roman Catholic, and is the first of that faith to occupy a place on the Supreme court bench since the death of Roger B. Taney. Some attempt is being made to accuse the President of having made a bid for Catholic support, but there seems to be no reason to suppose that he had Mr. White's religious belief in mind when he decided to appoint him.

Mr. White is a large, florid, handsome man, with brown hair and smooth shaven face, except for two light locks. He dresses well, and is quiet and impulsive in manner. He is six feet high, and weighs about 230 pounds. He is a bachelor, and is said to be engaged to a handsome and wealthy widow of Washington, who is a native of Louisiana, and whose husband, a prominent Washington lawyer, died in this city a year or so ago.

He says there are perhaps as many mortgages recorded this year as last, but the amounts are much smaller, which shows that the indeltness of the people is decreasing.
