Emulsion of GOD LIVER OIL, With Port Wine.

Under the above title we offer a new combination of Cod Liver Oil in which the nauseous taste of the oil is completely masked by the use of Port Wine and Aromatics. At the same time the tonic and digestive properties of the wine render assimilation easy. From those who cannot take Cod Liver Oil on account of its disagreeable taste and difficult assimilation we confidently solicit a trial. Recommended in Pulmonary Diseases, Coughs, Colds and General Debility.

A CONTINENTAL CONGRESS

THE AUGUST BODY SITS ONCE MORE.
Washington's Birthday Exercises at Orange Street School Last Evening—Pleasant Time and Many Spectators.

There was patriotism everywhere in the big hall of the Orange street school last evening, when the pupils of the upper grades gave their exercises in celebration of Washington's birthday. The walls were profusely and artistically hung with flags and the familiar faces of great men looked down from their frames upon the throng.

About 8 o'clock Principal R. J. Tingle began his endeavors to get the crowd still. He succeeded in a few minutes, and Superintendent Eggleston began the announcements. The program opened with a song by the glee club, which showed good training and no inconsiderable melody-making ability. Miss Maul Waddell recited "The Brightest Name on History's Page," with good effect, and then the session of the Continental Congress began. The time was the exciting hours immediately preceding the signing of the Declaration of Independence. The wise looking members, dressed in faithful reproduction of the costume of that time, took part in the animated discussions and plead their cause with zeal and eloquence. Interest did not wane during the debate and many of the speakers were roundly applauded. Finally, when the Declaration was signed and the liberty bell rung out the peal of independence, there was such a din of applause as might have been created had the scene been real. The parts were well conceived and happily carried out. Those who participated were:

George Washington.....W. Ollie Wolfe, jr
Francis Hancock.....Francis Smith
Wm. Byrd.....Bertie Cooke
Rutledge, S. C.....Herbert Reynolds
Lewis, N. Y.....Fred Miller
Whipple, N. H.....Raymond Haskell
Deane, Conn.....Kito Fitzpatrick
Paca, Md.....James Ware
Bartlett, N. H.....Owen Smith
Stoneman, N. J.....Frank Plunkett
Dickinson, Penn.....Leon Whitlock
Sherman, Conn.....Drayton Miller
Humphrey, Penn.....Will Way
Witherspoon, N. J.....Joe Justice
Penn, N. C.....Milton Reach
John Adams.....Allen Miller
Samuel Adams.....Adonir Schayer
Thos. Jefferson.....Slayton Fakes
Lee, Va.....Edgar McInturff
Ben. Franklin.....Auguston Charles

Chas. A. Webb, esp., followed in an address on "The Crisis in American History." It was pertinent, historical and eloquent and in the young attorney's best style and was punctuated by frequent outbursts of appreciation from the audience.

After a well rendered recitation of "Miss Nancy's Garden" by Miss Mary Nichols, and another good selection by the glee club Lady Washington and a number of distinguished ladies held a reception and the audience was presented. The ladies were prettily costumed and made a handsome picture. Among those giving the reception were:

Lady Washington.....Nora Ware
Mrs. Hancock.....Daisy Cooke
Mrs. Lee.....Della Miller
Mrs. Rutledge.....Lottie Cobb
Mrs. Byrd.....Ger. Walser
Mrs. Penn.....Mabel Randolph
Mrs. Jefferson.....Clara Lipinsky
Mrs. John Adams.....Cora Perry
Mrs. Lewis.....Mollie Bernard
Nellie Cusis.....Lottie Wells
Theodosia Burr.....Ellen Cobb

The reception closed the entertainment. Superintendent Eggleston announced that if there should be sufficient demand the program would be repeated in the opera house or some large hall.

The attendance upon the entertainment was exceedingly large. The crowd would have been comfortably seated in a hall of twice the capacity of the one the exercises were given in. Those who went very early and got seats well forward could see what went on, but back of a few of the front rows the audience had to content itself with hearing. The young lady users did all in their power to seat everybody, but people cannot be seated where there are neither seats nor room. Numbers of people stood in the aisles and many more stood up on the seats. Portions of the audience, apparently the younger element, kept up a chattering and several requests for quiet had to be made by the Superintendent. At one time, in fact, Mr. Eggleston threatened to bring the exercises to a close if order was not restored. But withal the exercises were very enjoyable.

Miss Nora McInturff wrote and furnished the draft of the Declaration that was signed by the representatives during the session of Congress. The bunting was furnished by H. Redwood & Co., and the flags, shields, lamps, etc., by the patrons of the schools, for which the teachers return sincere thanks. The Messrs. Tingle, Guderger and Montgomery and Miss Jennie Bingham.

Colored Schools Celebrate.
The children of the colored schools celebrated Washington's birthday by a speaking contest, the successful contestant winning a silver medal. The exercises took place last evening in the chapel of the Industrial school on College street, before a large and appreciative audience. The Catholic Hill school, the Episcopal school, and the Industrial were each represented in the contest by three girls. The speaking, which was interspersed with appropriate music rendered by the boys, was very creditable. The medal was awarded to Zulu L'ope of the Industrial school. In a neat and complimentary speech the medal was presented by Mayor Patton.

The chapel was appropriately decorated with bunting and flowers, while a picture of the "Father of His Country" surrounded by hatched and a branch of the historical cherry tree graced one of the walls and inspired all with patriotism.

Wants an Advance.
LONDON, Feb. 23.—Many Liberals are in favor of the immediate dissolution of parliament in case the Lords adhere to their amendments to the parish councils bill. The Daily News deprecates such a course, as virtually giving a victory to the peers. The Daily Chronicle enthusiastically clamors for this line of action this morning. It says: "Gladstone, let us go on; lead us if you can, but anyhow let us advance."

A STUDIO TEA.

Thoroughly Enjoyable Occasion at the A. F. C.
Washington's birthday was observed by the pupils of Asheville Female college as a gala day. The decorations combined the patriotic and the beautiful. A bevy of bright girls filled the parlors and reception hall. The sunlight was excluded from the dining room, and the lamplight rendered more effective the evening toilets of the participants and the artistic decorations of the tables. On each table was a fine display of hand-painted china and on the sideboard, which by the way is a unique piece of furniture more than a hundred years old, having been handed down to Mrs. Atkins through three generations, was a combination of choice pieces, all having been decorated under the supervision of the art teachers of the college. Prof. Grabau rendered some fine selections on his magnificent instrument which now has a place in the reception hall.

There was present a large number of guests from among the ladies and gentlemen of the city, as well as a number of the young gentlemen of the Bingham school.

The occasion was a studio tea and was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

CUT HIS THROAT.

Savage D. Trenholm Suicides at Flat Rock.
Rev. Scott Rathburn of Flat Rock, who was in town today on his way to Raleigh, was called home by a telegram today stating that Savage D. Trenholm had committed suicide at Flat Rock by cutting his throat.

Mr. Trenholm was a native of South Carolina, about 49 years of age, and belonged to one of the most prominent families of the South. He was a son of Edward L. Trenholm, who was a member of the firm of Jno. Fraser & Co., Charleston, one of the successful blockade runners during the war, and a nephew of Hon. George A. Trenholm, secretary of the treasury of the Confederate States. He was also a cousin of Hon. W. L. Trenholm, controller of the currency during President Cleveland's first term.

Mr. Trenholm removed to Asheville about eight years ago. For two or three years he has made Flat Rock his home. His family live here, in their residence near Montford and Bearden avenues. A wife and four children survive him.

MORE EGGS.

Additions to "The Citizen" Museum Recently.
There reposes in a prominent place in THE CITIZEN museum a lately added curiosity, sent in by Nichols & Ingle, the commission merchants. The distinctive feature about the egg and the one which gets it into the museum is its color, a light mahogany—not in one spot or two, but all over. The egg came from Macon county along with many more of the same kind of fruit. The color, however, was not a freak of the hen but of the man who packed the eggs. The novice packed them in walnut sawdust, and the result can be seen in the sample sent THE CITIZEN. Easter is not near enough to make the eggs sell well.

Willie Chedester yesterday found that one of his hens, probably in her excitement over the Washington's birthday exercises, had performed an unusual thing in the egg line. He brought it to the attention of Nichols & Ingle, who packed the egg when on end looks not unlike a barrel in miniature, minus the hoops.

WIMAN IN DEEP WATER.

Himself in Jail and His Son Dying at Home.
NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Erasmus Wiman has reconsidered his determination not to seek release from the Tombs through a bail bond, and will today make an effort to secure bondsmen for $25,000 bail. Wiman's reason is his anxiety to reach the bedside of his son, William Dwight Wiman, who lies at the point of death from pneumonia, at New Brighton, Staten Island.

Killed The Deputy Sheriff.
THOMASVILLE, Ga., Feb. 23.—Deputy sheriff Tom Singletary was in charge of the jail here, and last evening went to see about the feeding of the prisoners. As he did so one of the prisoners ordered him to hold up his hands, whereupon Singletary felled him with an anchor bar. Henry Spencer, another convict, grabbed the sheriff's pistol and turning it upon him shot him twice in the head. The prisoners then escaped. Singletary died soon after.

In the Name of Anarchy.
PARIS, Feb. 23.—The police court officials are receiving violent letters threatening in the name of anarchism to avenge the death of Auguste Vaillant and the prosecution of Emile Henry. M. Rouiller is informed by letter that he has been marked ever since he helped to send Vaillant to the guillotine and that his fate will be finally sealed by his conduct. In the case of Henry, "You will be the first to go," was the last sentence of the letter.

Beware of Eli.
HENDERSON, N. C., Feb. 21.—Our town was treated to a genuine surprise last night as well as an outrage. Eli Perkins was advertised to lecture here under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian association. Instead of a humorous lecture the large audience was treated to a tirade against Mr. Cleveland and his administration.—Richmond Dispatch.

Will Place a Duty on Silver.
LONDON, Feb. 23.—The Daily Chronicle says today: "Despite Sir William Harcourt's statement the belief recurs that the silver imported into India will be subjected shortly to a customs duty. Therefore it is unlikely that much will be shipped thither before the presentation of the budget."

A Plum for Alabama.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Attorney General Olney has appointed Samuel A. Putnam of Birmingham, Ala., assistant attorney in the department of justice at $2,000 per annum.

Gen. Early Better.
LYNCHBURG, Feb. 23.—Gen. Early is better today. He is sitting up and says he feels better.

STILL LACK A QUORUM

THERE MUST BE A CHANGE OF RULES.
Bland Can Get No Action Taken on His Bill And The House of Representatives is At a Stand Still So Far as Work is Concerned.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—In the House yesterday Mr. Cumming, N. Y., rose to a question of the highest personal privilege. He said that at 11 o'clock in the morning, while on the floor of the House, he was approached by the deputy sergeant-at-arms, who told him he was under arrest. He refused, he said, to recognize the service and warned the official or his bosses to touch him at his peril. The record would show that he had been in attendance day after day ever since Congress met last summer, and he denounced the arrest as an outrage. He further stated that it was a disgrace, in his opinion, to hold a session of the House on Washington's birthday; and in honor of the memory of that patriot he moved that the House adjourn.

After some parlying the motion was put on division the House voted, yeas 102, nays 124. The announcement was received with applause on the Democratic side. The yeas and nays were ordered, however, before the question was decided. The motion to adjourn was defeated, yeas 117, nays 140.

The indications are that Mr. Bland had carried his seigniorage bill about as far as is possible to do under existing conditions.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Representative Holman, chairman of the Democratic caucus of the House, will call a caucus for an early day to consider a change in the House rules by which members may be compelled to vote to make a quorum. The call is in response to a written request signed by 104 Democrats. The request is the direct result of an uproarious demonstration in the House yesterday.

CURRENCY COMMISSION.

The Berlin Conference and the Depreciation of Silver.
BERLIN, Feb. 23.—The currency commission appointed by the government to appease the bi-metallists and agrarians, held its first sitting yesterday. Count Posadowsky, secretary of the imperial treasury, presided. In his speech he said that, owing to the recent action of India and the United States in currency matters, and the continued depreciation of silver the subjects to come before the commission were of the greatest importance to commerce and trade of Germany and the world at large.

The questions to be considered by the commission demanded earnest and exhaustive cooperation. The commission's task would be to ascertain whether or not the value of silver could be raised. If it could be raised, what would be the best means to keep the price stable, and what was the best basis for measures that would tend to solve the problem of an efficient agreement of the states?

FIRE IN FORT WAYNE.

Business Houses and a School Building Burned.
FORT WAYNE, Ind., Feb. 23.—At 3:30 o'clock this morning fire destroyed the large shoe establishment of Vodermark & Bro., Calhoun street. Loss, $100,000. The adjoining building of Meyer & Bro., hatters, was also destroyed. Mergentheim's millinery and notion store was flooded with water. The fire was still burning at noon and threatened the entire square bounded by Main, Columbus, Harrison and Calhoun streets. The City street school building, in another part of the city, was also burned today.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Feb. 23.—At 2 o'clock this morning the wholesale grocery house of J. A. Wardlaw & Co., was destroyed by fire. Loss, estimated, $14,000; fully insured.

CONSOLIDATED.

The Two "Advocates" Bought by a Stock Company.
CATAWBA, N. C., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—A joint stock company has bought and consolidated the Western Carolina Advocate, Asheville, and the Christian Advocate, Raleigh. The paper will be published at Greensboro. P. L. Groome.

Phelps Better.
NEW HAVEN, Ct., Feb. 23.—The condition of Prof. Edward J. Phelps is more favorable this morning, though still critical.

JUST IN NORTH CAROLINA.
—The grand jury at Wilson has found a true bill of indictment against a young man of Wilson for throwing an egg at Marlon Butler when he spoke there about a year ago. The egg struck Mr. Butler just back of the neck, but as it was a good egg it did not necessitate a change of raiment. The case will come up at the next term of court.

—The jury in the case of Cashier Foust of Salisbury for the embezzlement of the funds of the Vance Cotton mills, has found a verdict of guilty, as charged in the bill of indictment. The case of the First National bank has not been tried. An appeal was taken and bond given.

—Wednesday morning in Raleigh the 12 years-old daughter of Mr. Luther N. White, who was riding in a wagon, fell out, was run over, and so badly injured that in an hour she died. She was a granddaughter of Mr. J. C. I. Lumden, a well known Raleigh merchant.

—Mrs. Naomi Moore, who was injured in the Boston bridge accident, near Statesville, has died. She never recovered from the shock of the death of her only daughter, who was instantly killed.

—Morgantown Herald: R. K. Pressnell, in looking over some old papers last week, found a deed to 30 acres of land that he had forgotten all about and had been mislaid for years.

—John W. Cotton, grand master of Masons, has appointed Judge Walter Clark orator, and he will deliver the annual address at the next meeting here.

—Dr. William McIlwaine, of Union county, died suddenly while in his seat in church. He was the father of Rev. W. E. McIlwaine.

—The mines of hard coal at Carabonton, which are now being reopened, were first opened in 1864 for the use of blockade runners.
