"Let some one 'fond of figures' count up the cost of holding one days' court in these days where crime certainly is not on the decline. Eigh een for a granal ury, and the like number for the petitury—thirty-six mall, the extra jurors necessary, the States witnesses, solicitors and court officers, the extra service and extra expense, the special venires for capital cases, e.e., all to be paid by the county. Democratic doctrine. I have never been a strenuous partisan, but it is our duty. now at least, to stand in line. We will not deserve to succeed, unless we choose men of high honor, unlinebing character and sound business ability. We have such men in our ranks; let us name them and they will be elected.

A Democratic Man.

Inconsistency in Christians

From the United Presbyterian "Inconsistent men in the church " No party with your consistent sell. They are citizens of the United States, as you are proud to be. They are residents with you of the town or city of whose ulyantous you are want to be some or city of whose ulyantous you are advantages you are wont to boast. Their presence does not drive you from any of these relationships; why should it keep you from the church, where you ought to be, in duty to your God and to yourself?
