MISS POLLARD TESTIFIES SHE TELLS HER STORY UNFLINCHINGLY.

Breckinridge Repeatedly Promised to Marry Her and, At His Request, She Was Willing to Do So.
WASHINGTON, March 16.—Madeline Pollard, attired in the same neat fitting blue gown and little clip bonnet that she has worn every day at the trial of her suit against Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge, was an early comer to the Criminal court room this morning. None of the attorneys were present when Miss Pollard made her appearance. Miss Ellis, her motherly looking companion from the House of Mercy, was with her as usual, and arranged Miss Pollard's chair for her. When Judge Wilson, principal attorney for the plaintiff, entered Miss Pollard gave him a sad smile and then cast her eyes down, resuming her habitual look of dejection. When Col. Breckinridge entered Miss Pollard looked up, but apparently did not see him. There was a whispered consultation for a minute between Calderon Carlisle and his client, and a rumor went around the court room that Miss Pollard would be placed on the stand as first witness. Then Judge Wilson and Carlisle held a confidential talk, during which they examined a number of letters, and the rumor began to be stated as a fact. There was a wait of 20 minutes, and then Miss Pollard, at a word from Judge Wilson, rose from her seat and made her way to the witness stand. "Silence," said the court as a haze of excitement went up. Miss Ellis took her seat next to Miss Pollard, who gave her name in a firm manner and answered Carlisle's questions in a steady voice that sometimes became too loud.

IN A BATH ROOM
Arthur Simmons Dies From a Hemorrhage
Arthur Simmons, who for some time has been at the Asheville hotel, died there yesterday afternoon. Mr. Simmons had been up street in the forenoon and soon after returning to the hotel went into the dining room to dinner. He was a sufferer from consumption and usually when a fit of coughing seized him in the dining room he went into the bath room until it was over. While at dinner yesterday Mr. Simmons began to cough and went to the bathroom as usual. His condition attracted the attention of some of the hotel people and Clerk Morrison was asked to send for a physician. Dr. J. A. Watson, who was standing just across the street, was called, but by the time he reached Mr. Simmons the latter had died from a hemorrhage.

A SLICK SCHEME, THIS
How Some Firms Get Boxes of Fish at a Low Price.

The attention of THE CITIZEN is called to a practice of certain dealers in Central market that is not only "shady" but is harmful to the business of those dealers who refuse to engage in it. It appears that the firms alluded to frequently refuse consignments of fish the day they are received here from Newbern. The Southern Express company is notified and, the fish being perishable, the company must sell them at once and at once to recover at least their charges. Ordinarily a box of fish will cost from $11 to $14, but when sold by the express company is generally knocked down at $6 or $8. In some cases it is believed that the refusal to take the fish ordered is made so that the consignees may, through other parties, get the fish at a cheaper price than if they had taken them direct from the office. In fact, it is said that in one instance a box of fish was refused and the consignee paid a second person $1 commission for buying the fish in at the side, thereby saving several dollars by the transaction. Last week two or three boxes were refused, and another this week. Whether this refusal is with a desire to enable in every case is not known, but it remains a fact that is harming the business of those who are doing a legitimate trade.

$5,000 BICYCLE TRACK
It is To Be Prepared Soon on the Kentworth Grounds.

Dr. W. C. Browning has decided upon building a bicycle track near Kentworth Inn. It will be a cinder track, one-third of a mile, banked six feet at either end and will cost about $5,000. Special arrangements will be made for training bicyclists of national reputation for their great races, with every convenience needed by them. Bicycle men of prominence have expressed the opinion that no climate is more suitable for training work than Asheville's. Mr. Malby, the champion fancy bicyclist, looked over the ground of the new track and said that with the preparations already made it would be the best track in the country. All races on the track will be under the supervision of Asheville's Cycle club. Work is to begin shortly and the track will be ready for the summer bicycling season.

EXPECTED A JOB
Instead Joe Davis Got a Hearing in Court

For some time robberies have been reported as occurring in the public road in the vicinity of Biltmore. Among those who suffered by the depredations of the light fingered gang was P. H. Tolson, whose valise containing several valuable, among them a ladies' gold watch, was stolen from his baggage as he was on his way from the city to his home on the Seconama. The case has been worked up by Geo. Greenlee, a Finon detective, who found that the watch had been sold by Joe Davis, colored, to Tom Morris. This morning Davis met Greenlee by appointment on Eagle street, expecting Greenlee to instruct him as to where he could get a job as coachman. Instead of the job, however, Davis got an arrest. His trial was set for 3 o'clock this afternoon before Justice Frank Carter.

Fine Candles
The life of a newspaper man is not all bustle and worry, keeping up with court cases, watching the macadamizing and anon respecting the overpay paying. Yesterday THE CITIZEN received from the factories in New York, with the compliments of A. M. Tenney and his agent here, Dr. T. C. Smith, a package of Tenney's finest confections, boullons, etc. The candies are the best that have ever come to THE CITIZEN, pronounced so by willing victims of the candy habit, who know a good thing when they chew upon it. Mr. Tenney and Dr. Smith have the thanks of THE CITIZEN for the treat.

Waite Trying to Find Blood For His Horse's Bridles—Federal Troops On the Ground, But Not to Do Waite's Bidding
DENVER, March 16.—Some years ago the citizens of Denver asked the Legislature to give them a new charter that would take the police, fire and public works departments out of the hands of the municipality and put it in the hands of boards appointed by the governor. This was done to take them out of politics, but Governor Waite tried to make of all of these departments political boards filled with Populist followers. The board of fire and police has been changed repeatedly to suit his whims. Two resisted, but the governor won his case before the Supreme court, which declared that he could remove for cause. When he demanded the removal of Martin and Orr, the police board, recently, he refused to go until the courts should decide. Governor Waite, relying upon the decision of the Supreme court in the first case, declared that the members had violated their trust by plotting special policemen at gambling houses, contrary to law, and he appointed two new members.

The deposed members applied to the district courts and obtained a temporary injunction to restrain the Governor, the Mayor and the new members from taking possession of the office of the police and fire board by force. Then the Governor decided to ignore the injunction and Wednesday night issued an order to the first regiment of national guard of Colorado to assemble at their armory prepared for action under command of Adjutant General Tenney. It was undoubtedly the Governor's intention to install the new commissioners (his appointees) in office by the use of force. Sheriff Barnhill swore in a large number of deputies Wednesday night and closed with the entire police force, reported at the city hall, prepared to resist the militia.

Late Thursday evening Governor Waite made a requisition upon Gen. McCook, commanding the troops from Fort Logan, to put down an "insurrection." Five companies have arrived here. The deposed police commissioners stand in their offices prepared to resist efforts to dislodge them. A call for a mass meeting was circulated to organize a committee of safety, and this meant an attempt by a mob to capture the Governor against whom the most incendiary expressions were heard upon every side.

Fortunately the citizens generally were calm and collected. Leading men began to assemble to consider the situation carefully and this caused a delay that probably prevented bloodshed, rioting and the assassination of Gov. Waite. At 6 o'clock last evening the intelligence that the Governor had called upon General McCook to preserve the peace, settled all fears of a contest between the militia and the police, the latter backed by a fearless lot of deputies sworn in by the sheriff, as could possibly be gathered together. Previous to that time the police stood with guns in hand, ready to charge if necessary, and Chief of Police Stone said he would die before he would surrender. Meanwhile business was practically suspended and the Governor issued an order calling out every company of militia in the state. He declared that peace could only come by the withdrawal of the city hall police. All was quiet today and business was resumed. Advice from the State says that companies of militia are assembled at their armories awaiting an order to come to Denver. Gov. Waite has declared, despite all advice, that will again attempt to take the city hall by force if Commissioners Martin and Orr do not retire peacefully. The Governor is now in consultation with General McCook.

Gov. Waite has addressed a letter to General McCook asking that the government troops be withdrawn from the city because the latter refuses to assist in carrying out the Governor's purpose, but will simply confine himself to maintaining the peace.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—General McCook, at Denver, has informed the war department that he has been called upon by the Governor of Colorado for troops to assist in preserving order in the city, and that he has complied with the request. The action of Gen. McCook was referred to the war department for approval, but Secretary Lamont has not yet advised Gen. McCook as to the position of the department in the matter. Gen. Lamont regards the question as a political one upon which he is unwilling to take action without the formal assent of the President and the rest of the Cabinet, and he has taken the question over to a Cabinet meeting for decision.
