The New York Sun says:

of shaping the course of the Democratic party belongs today, as it belonged before the war, to the Southern States. With the power goes a heavy responsibility, and we are not among those who deny that, up to the present juncture, the responsibility has been for the most part clearly recognized and worthily sustained. We hold, on the contrary, that, from the overthrow of the carpethag governments in the Southern States up to the present session of Congress, the Democratic leaders in that section cannot justly be deemed accountable for a single grave mistake of policy, calculated to injure their party irreparably in their Northern allies, the States of New York, New Jersey and Connecticulated whose co operation in political contests has been hitherto regarded as indispensable.

The Sun goes on to affirm that the little of the state of the courter of the Royal of the state of the goes of the general decision. ### GORMAN'S SPEECH.

Speaking in answer to the complaints of the people and the press that can be seen and heard all over the country, Gorman undertook yesterday to of him his proud lineage taught him that justily the slowness of the Senate in con- his own beloved State and her sister sidering and passing a tariff bill. What sidering and passing a tariff bill. But it seems to us that he made but poor work of his self-his children, he had been assured. In all the years of peace, while he tilled his fields and reared his children, he had been taught to guard assumed task. In fact he"gave it away" this treasure committed to him with almost before he had stated his case, that supreme devotion with which the in admitting that the House, "in obe-dience to the obvious wish of the country passed a tariif bill early in the session." attempt to reply to the charge that certain trusts have had all too much to say in the make up of the Senate tariff bill." They have received some attention," he says. The admission is fatal to Mr. Gorman's plea. Trusts have been under held to her breast his first born; the unthe ban of the law-or would be if Attorney General Olney would do his duty; at all events they have been denounced as having no interests in common with the people. They wax and grow fat on whose love for him was as the love of at all events they have been denounced the people. They wax and grow fat on high profits that come out of those least Jonathan for David; giving him strength able to contribute them; they destroy competition and take the very life blood from trade. And yet Senator Gorman stands up in the Senate and tells us that "they have received some attention!" The fact is, the Senator being less fresh from his people, has yet to read aright the instructions the Democratic party's Representatives in the House received in the last election. Had they been written across the beavens in letters nor and leader; but, as we tenderly think of light they could not have been plainer. Reform the tariff, and the quicker that is done the better! That was the message. There was nothing said about incidental protection; it was tariff for revenue that was called for. And there was a general expectancy that the work was to be done not only quickly, but well. Not in the Republican way either, but speedily. Comparison with Republican performance is interesting, but it does not form a conclusive defense for Mr. Gorman and Hill and the few other obstructionists. The comparison that will inevitably be made will be between promises made and the actual performance. A very small proportion of the Democratic senators is responsible for the sort of betrayal which Gorman has attempted so unsuccessfully to gloss over; but the whole party must suffer if the minority headed by Gorman and Hill succeeds in the effort to disregard the plain mandate

Guar-antees a GUR

Somebody will make a neat sum on sugar when the new tariff goes into effeet. The importation of free sugar, exclusive of beet sugar, are larger than were ever known before. In the four months ending March 31 the amount imported was 277 000,000 pounds in excess of the importations for the correstheir hands, in blessing, upon the head of our Courade, and deepened the halo about his name. If the courage of the most of it has been imported by the su gar trust, the largest dealer in sugar in this country. The profits, when the tax goes on, will be something big. No won-der the sugar trust certificates are high up in price on Wall street.

Sugar Trust Profits

A Buspicious Coincidence

Members of Congress and others at Washington are selling out their holdings of Sugar Trust stock. That is the cause given of the beavy slump in the stock yesterday and the day before. This curiously enough, is coincident with the appointment of the Senatorial investi-gating committee. The game has been exposed, and the gamblers at the capital are dropping their eards and clups and dying to cover.

It is said that among the doctors of the Medical Society at its recent meeting, only two Rausom men could be found. That's somewhat the way in found. That's somewhat the way in these parts, but he's a powerful man to come in under the wire at the right time.

Philadelphia is in many respects the most interesting of the great cities of the country. It has preserved its individual ity to a remarkable extent in the region known as Old Philadelphot, and in the newer portions it exhibits commercial and social phases of life which may be duplicated in New York and Chicago. The new Philadelphia is the home, also, of a strong literary movement made familiar by such names as Owen Winster. Charles Leonard Moore, Agues Repplier Morris, R. C. V. Meyers and Richard Harding Davis. The variou aspects of Philadelphia are treated from the standpoint of a younger member of the old community in an illustrated article in the June Harper's. The writer Charles Pelmont Davis, now consul at Plorence, is a son of Rebecca Harding Davis and a brother to Richard Harding
