WILSON AND SENATE BILL.

THE HOUSE UPHOLD ITS CONFERENCE.

The Bill as Passed by the House To Be Insisted on—Wilson Stands to His Gun—The Senate Would Not Concede Anything

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19.—The house galleries today bore living evidence of the public interest in the tariff bill. For the first time in nearly a month the seats in all the galleries except the diplomatic were filled in anticipation of the debate on the report of the conferees. There was wide awake interest in the report that Breckinridge of Arkansas had been selected as Minister to Russia, which was evidently discussed on the floor. While the journal was being read Wilson, chairman of the committee on ways and means, with his face entirely hidden by a handkerchief, which bandage he is compelled to wear over his eyes in which is located neuralgic troubles from which he is suffering, came into the house accompanied by Mr. Breckinridge. As they appeared the clerk's voice was drowned by the applause which went up.

Outwaite (Ohio) presented a resolution from the committee on rules providing that when the conferees on the tariff bill report their disagreement it shall be in order to move that the House insist upon its disagreement to the senate amendments in gross; that the motion shall be in order two hours, when, without an intervening motion, a vote shall be taken. If the motion shall be agreed to, the speaker shall name conferees on the part of the House and the bill shall then, for the time being, pass from consideration of the House.

Hopkins (Ill.) attempted to offer an amendment to extend the time to four hours, but objection was made. The previous question was ordered. This gave thirty minutes for debate.

Reed took the floor and offered a word of protest against cutting off debate in this summary manner. He thought there were members on the Democratic side who desired time to express their opinion of the Senate amendments. Then, with something of a twinkle in his eye, he yielded ten minutes to Johnson, the free trade single taxer from Ohio.

Johnson immediately launched a protest against a special order because it gave the House no opportunity to vote separate instructions on different schedules, especially on the sale of sugar. He denounced the discrimination in the sugar schedule in favor of the trust as criminal, and declared amid a burst of applause that if the sugar trust or any other trust was to legislate for the people it made little difference whether that legislation was imposed upon them by the McKinley or the Sherman bill.

The order of the rules committee was adopted and Chairman Wilson was recognized. There was a burst of applause from the Democratic side as he arose with the tariff bill and the disagreeing report in hand. He said that he desired to complete in this statement yet he recognized that there were limitations necessary. But he could say within the bounds of courtesy and propriety that if the Senate conferees had not the house conferees in the spirit of doing good for the whole people an agreement could have been reached in one day. But the Senate conferees came fettered with certain obligations to their colleagues in the Senate—obligations that were against the principles of the House and in line with the demands of great corporate interests. Wilson said this developed irreconcilable differences. The House bill had been framed with the view to redeeming the pledges of the Democratic party, but the bill as it came from the Senate did not recognize the great principles of the party.

Wilson said the main difference had been upon sugar, iron ore, coal, some features of the woolen schedule, some of the iron and steel schedules; "but," said he, "the great difference has been on sugar." He took up the sugar schedule in detail, explaining the differences between the Senate and the House.

"If it be true," said he, "that the sugar trust has been so long that it can say no tariff bill can pass until its interests are protected, then I hope this house will never adjourn."

At 1:40 o'clock the motion by Wilson to insist upon its disagreement to the Senate amendment was agreed to and Speaker Crisp reinstated the former conferees.

WIN, ASHEVILLE!

Show Spartanburg How You Can Play Ball.

The Spartanburg baseball players, primed for their series with the Asheville, came in last night and are stopping at the Berkeley. In the party that came are Geo. W. Hennemann, manager; R. A. Fleming, E. B. King, James James, Gus Christberg, Banks Powell, W. T. Haynes, Bruce Huggins, Walter Thomas, Luther Bennett, Tom Evans, Dick Sullivan, Chas. Ligon, scorer; Jas. P. Wilson, secretary; J. L. Little, Will Caudle and Henry Hollingsworth, mascot.

The Greenville News was so elated over the defeat of Spartanburg by Greenville that it forgot to change the visiting club's name in the score by innings so that it appears from that that Greenville was playing Asheville. The Asheville boys were sure this is a mistake—they have played no games at Greenville, this week at least.

Ordered to Stay Indoors. OAKLAND, Caln., July 19.—Mayor Pardee has issued a proclamation in which he orders crowds of railroad property and requires people to keep indoors, leaving home only in pursuit of their legitimate business. The reason for the proclamation is stated by the mayor to be the condition of affairs in Oakland, threatening destruction of property, disturbance of peace, interference of travel by railroad trains and cessation of commerce.

Condemns the Liquor Traffic. NEW YORK, July 19.—The Tribune says: "Monsignor Sattoli, the Apostolic delegate, has just given a decision condemning the liquor traffic, and especially as it is carried on in the United States, and approving the expulsion of liquor dealers from Catholic societies."

IN REV. DRUMMOND'S CASE.

A Correction—The Editorial in the "Baptist."

THE CITIZEN was in error Tuesday in saying that R. F. Drummond opposed the acceptance of the resignation of Rev. John A. Brunson as pastor of French Broad Baptist church. It was S. P. Davis and Geo. Starnes who opposed the acceptance, instead of Mr. Drummond and Mr. Starnes, as published.

The Western North Carolina Baptist has an editorial headed "Brunson Swallowed by the Adventists," in which, after reciting the points on which Mr. Brunson and the Baptists differed, it says: "Then he is not a Baptist, though he is in the Baptist church, but is an Adventist, though he is not in the Seventh Day Adventist church. Will not the brother be consistent, hand over his credentials, and step down and out of the Baptist church? If he has not been swallowed by the Adventists, he is most Baptist faith and practice are not in sympathy with Adventist faith and practice, and therefore not in sympathy with any person or persons who adhere to them. As a man we love Brunson, but as a Baptist preacher he will not do, if this be his course."

Rev. J. L. White was not far wrong when he said that the "jackasses" had come down to North Carolina to teach, but we are surprised to know that such a man as John A. Brunson has been charmed by their braying.

SATURDAY'S PRIMARIES

Limestone and Black Mountain Returns—In Cherokee.

The Democratic primary for Limestone township was held at Arden Saturday. F. A. Lanier, chairman pro tem., and W. E. Hemphill, secretary. W. R. Powers, T. O. Lambert, T. L. Rickman and J. C. Ducker were elected delegates to the county convention at Asheville Saturday, July 21. On motion the chairman and secretary were added to the delegation.

H. B. Carter was unanimously endorsed for Judge, and Hon. J. H. Morrison for Congress.

The meeting was thoroughly harmonious. Black Mountain township's primary was held Saturday, Geo. F. Adams, chairman, and G. S. Brown, secretary. T. P. Setlow, Columbus Hall, M. M. Stagle and M. M. Jones were appointed delegates to the county convention. The delegation is not instructed, but is understood to be solid for Crawford and Carter.

A primary held at Murphy, Cherokee county, the delegates were instructed to cast their votes in the convention Saturday for Ferguson for Judge, Jones for Solicitor, Crawford for Congress and Ben Posey for the Senate.

NEWS FROM THE A. L. I

How the Home Company Does at Camp Vance.

Surgeon Chas. S. Jordan and Sergeant T. W. Bookhart of the Asheville Light Infantry came in yesterday from Morehead City, where they have been with the Asheville company at Camp Vance. Dr. Jordan says the company has been doing splendidly at the encampment, making a record that it may be proud of. There was a contest between the A. L. I. and the Queen City Guards of Charlotte as to which should be the guard of honor to Governor Carr, but the fact that the Asheville boys had no dress uniforms was against them and Charlotte won the distinction.

The Asheville company will return tomorrow.

Dr. Jordan tells a story of a druggist who started to camp with several lithia water bottles. As he approached camp he ran up against a pocket and was stopped by "Halt! who goes there?" "A friend," was the response. "A friend, friend, and give the countersign." "Bottles," came the reply promptly. "Admirable and uncork." The command was complied with and the sentry looked out for other worlds to conquer.

ARTIST METZ

Beautiful Specimens of His Pen and Ink Work

Metz, the second baseman of the Asheville team, is not only an artist on the diamond, but is a pen and ink artist of great skill. The Citizen has seen several of his sketches, one "Reminiscences" and another "Study of Hydrangeas," that are admirable in execution, delicate in touch and with an attention to detail that denotes the true artist. He also has an envelope covered with stamps, postmarks and addresses sufficient to give a postal clerk a nightmare. Almost all of the work on the envelope was done by Metz, even to one of the stamps, all of which is so real looking as might deceive one of Uncle Sam's experts in the dead letter office.

As much of Mr. Metz's work as THE CITIZEN has seen shows him as an artist of genuine merit in no small degree. He will "make his mark."

FROM OVER THE RIDGE.

Tilman R. Gaines, traveling correspondent of the Shelby Aurora, gave THE CITIZEN a call this morning. He says that in counties in the Ninth district east of the Blue Ridge both Crawford and Cox have many friends. It is thought that the delegates from these counties will come to the convention un-instructed. Mr. Gaines proposes to resume the publication of the Lyeum Magazine in Asheville, volume 3 to begin early this fall.

John Bull Will Object.

SHANGHAI, July 18.—Advices from Seoul, capital of Corea, say an attack has been made by Japanese soldiers upon the British consulate and that Consul General Hill and wife were brutally assaulted. A force of British marines has been landed at Seoul to protect consulate from further attack.

Now Arizona and New Mexico

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The Senate committee on territories today decided to recommend the admission of Arizona and New Mexico as States, and instructed the sub-committee who have the bills in charge to make favorable reports.

TROUBLE IS ANTICIPATED

THE STRIKE CRISIS IS NOW IN THE WEST.

The strikers have tied up the Northern Pacific—Miners May Join the A. R. U.—Property Impaired.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 19.—The action of the government in massing troops at Butte and Helena would indicate that the crisis is yet to come in Montana. At Butte everything is tied up. At the Northern Pacific general office it was learned tonight that a special train had left for Assiniboine, via the Great Northern, bearing troops to Helena and Butte, where trouble is anticipated. The available force at Assiniboine consists of two troops of cavalry, one company of Indians and four companies of infantry, numbering in all about five hundred men, and the bulk of these were dispatched under hurry orders and will probably reach Butte during the night. In addition, it is understood that several additional companies will be sent from Omaha.

The trouble lies with the miners, who, it is said, have been quietly making preparation to join the American Railway Union over there and repeat the scenes enacted in Chicago. Unless precautions are taken, much property owned by the Northern Pacific Railway will be destroyed.

AN ANARCHIST THREAT.

Trial of Paul Lega Who Assaulted Premier Crisp.

ROME, July 19.—The trial of the anarchist Paul Lega for attempting to kill Premier Crisp June 16th, began today. The court room was crowded. The prisoner upon being arraigned, said he was animated in his attempt upon Signor Crisp's life much less by hatred of Crisp personally than he was by a desire to strike at the chief of a prepotent society.

"I failed to kill him," he said with a laugh, "it wasn't my fault." The prisoner made a vigorous defence of anarchy and concluded his speech by saying, "I now await your verdict. If you give capital sentence there is always some one ready to avenge his brethren in France or America."

The Pullman Strikers.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 19.—The shops at Pullman will probably be opened in a few days, but the strikers by a large majority do not intend to return to work at the reduced scale of wages until they are forced to do so by the pangs of hunger or the approach of winter. The total number of applications received by the Pullman company from strikers who want to return to work is 75.

Killed Seven Men.

FORTSMOUTH, England, July 19.—This morning the Trinity house boat, having a crew of seven trained wreckers on board, was engaged in blowing up the wreck of the yacht Asada in the Solent, as the wreck was dangerous to navigation. In some manner, which will never be known, a dynamite cartridge exploded and killed seven men.

Dispensaries Again.

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 19.—At the Hampton campaign meeting held Monday Governor Tillman made the first authentic declaration that the State dispensaries would be in operation in about three weeks. He further said that the law would be as vigorously enforced as before.

Nice for the Nice Breckinridge.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19.—Representative Clifton R. Breckinridge, who has represented the second district of Arkansas for twelve years, will be nominated today to be Minister to Russia to succeed Andrew D. White.

Livingston Defeats Candler.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 19.—Hon. L. F. Livingston, present Representative from the Fifth district, yesterday carried Fulton county by over 1000 majority over Hon. John M. Candler. This insures Livingston's re-nomination.

To Give 'Em Hell Columbia.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The cruiser Columbia has been ordered to proceed immediately to Bluefields, Nicaragua, to protect American interests in the disturbed condition of affairs there.

Going Back To Work.

HAMMOND, Ind., July 19.—After a stormy session last night the Hammond branch of the American Railway Union decided to return to work.

The Earth Grin.

APPLETON, Wis., July 19.—An earthquake shock split the earth open at Little Chute for several hundred feet yesterday.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

The contest for the United States senatorship between Senators Ransom and Jarvis waxed lively. The counties which have thus far held nominating conventions express themselves as favoring primaries to determine the choice of the Democrats for senator. Some Democrats antagonize these primaries, and say they will hurt the party.

A singular death is reported in Mecklenburg county. Mrs. Hough was brought into the city by her husband to make some purchases. On their return, as they were driving through some woods, she saw two negro men. In an instant she fell dead. She was a great sufferer from nervousness and had heart disease.

The News and Observer was bought by Mr. J. N. Holding, a Raleigh attorney, for himself, and not for another firm. The sale will have to be confirmed within ten days, and up to that time a higher bid than the one of $6,710, which Mr. Holding made, may be offered. It is thought it will be outbid.

At the State experiment farm there are now being made special experiments in digestion, and also dairy experiments. There are some very fine cattle at the station.

The North Carolina reserve will go to sea in the old Nantucket, which has been turned over to them by the government.
