IMMORTALITY OF THE SOUL

REV. JOHN A. BRUNSON'S DIS-COURSE ON THE SUBJECT.

The Lately Resigned Pastor of French Broad Church speaks At The Adventist Tent Tuesday Evening To A Large Crowd.

The tent in Nellie Park in which the Seventh Day Adventists have been holding their services has been enlarged and removed farther from the street. It was filled last evening on the occasion of the discourse by Rev. John A. Brunson, who recently resigned the pastorate of French Broad Baptist church. Mr. Brunson's subject was "Conditional Immortality," or, Eternal Life Through Jesus Christ," and the talk was based on Genesis 2:7:

And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul.

In opening, Mr. Brunson said that in coming to consider the question it was best not to do so in a spirit of entre-venure. He came as a true seeker and simply laid before the audience the result of his investigations. "The views to which I hold," Mr. Brunson continued, "have been the result of an investigation extending over two years or more. I had considered the question before I left the shores of Japan. When I came to Asheville some six months ago, I was not prepared to say—my views were in abeyance. Two months ago when the tent was erected here and I saw the hand bills on the street, I came seeking the truth and for the first time I knew that their views were like mine. Works bearing on the subject were secured and five or six volumes were read. The views were peculiarly my own.

"I am surprised at the tone of much that has been said in Asheville regarding the immortality of the soul. The doctrine of conditional immortality is spoken of as peculiar to the Seventh Day Adventists. We see that it is as old as the New Testament. I claim, in preaching a conditional immortality of the soul, that I am simply returning to the doctrine taught by Jesus Christ and His disciples.
This belief is not confined to any one denomination. I have been greatly astonished at the ignorance of some who hold themselves up as leaders of religious thought. I am not saying this for a reflection upon any body, but I allege it as an indisputable fact. Whether the doctrine be true or not, it is the duty of every leader to investigate it fully. I do believe that within the next 25 years, if Jesus Christ has not come by that time, the doctrine of conditional immortality will be generally accepted. It is the most rational doctrine. The doctrine of eternal torment is not of Christ but of the heathen philosophers.

"I am not identified with the Adventists; I am not here as the representative of any denomination; simply myself, representing myself. I believe that the life we have is condition of God and dependent upon God. I do not believe man has an inherently deathless principle in him. It is man's independence of God that makes him mortal. If he occupies the same plane that God does, if man cannot die he must live, and if he must live, being a deathless entity, he is self-existent. Throughout the Scriptures, if I read aright, he is absolutely contingent upon the will of God, who gave it.

"If the breath of life means a deathless entity, then we must conclude all animals have it. If the breathing of life into man makes him a deathless soul, then the breathing of life into the little musquito makes it a deathless soul. If we declare so, then all animals to whom breath has been given are as immortal as man. Dr. Woodbridge accepts this and declares that all animals are immortal. How do you know that the soul will never be at rest? Who told you?
Plato, and not Paul. There is nothing in Scripture that implies an indeleable, deathless principle. Man is not a soul, body or spirit, but the three taken together. It is not an immortal soul that sees, thinks and feels. It is the whole man that lives. The whole man dies, the whole man rises again, the whole man is judged.

"Here is the ten of conditional immortality: Man was made by God and immortal by Him. No, he is perfect? No, not in the sense of holiness. Was he immortal? No; but to him was given the power of attaining immortality and perfection. He disobeyed and forfeited immortality.

"Of course we want immortality, but we have mistaken the instant for the possession of the thing itself. God made man; he is not immortal, but capable of attaining to immortality. Then Jesus Christ came to bring light and immortality to life. Through Him and Him alone can we attain immortality."

Mr. Brunson's sermon was full of quotations from noted writers on the subject and passages from Scripture. There will not be services at the tent this evening, but tomorrow evening Mr. Brunson will continue his argument.

HILL TALKS SENSE.

Enough For All Other Senators Single Handed.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—In the Senate today the conference report on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill was agreed to.

At one o'clock the conference report on the tariff bill was called up and Mr.
Caffrey took the floor, resuming his speech begun yesterday.

In the Senate yesterday Mr. Hill went into an elaborate defense of President Cleveland and his letter to Chairman Wilson. Hill said he had known the President for many years. He was a man who said little in conversation. He was a good listener. He formed his conclusions slowly, deliberately, honestly and sincerely. He permitted his party friends to disclose their plans and purposes.
And it was certain to his (Hill's) mind that the President did not bind himself to the provisions of the Senate bill and that he did not approve them.

The President, Hill said, had not included to dictate to either branch of Congress. The letter could not be construed into dictation. It was a suggestion, an exposition, a warning to his party friends not to persist in the Senate bill.
Hill argued that the letter violated no clause of the constitution, and that the President had the constitutional, legal and moral right to send it.

Hill wound up a two hours' speech, bristling all over with the spikes and barbs of his wit and sarcasm, by comparing the Senatorial conspiracy against President Cleveland to that which compassed the assassination of Julius Caesar. In this historical parallel Gorman stood for "Caesar" and hungry Cassius for the Senators. Hill said: "He thinks too much. Such a man is dangerous." Jones of Arkansas for "honest Brutus." Vest for the "envious Cassius." Voorhes for Trebonius, and "the distinguished Senator from Tenn-see," Harris, for Cassius. He carried out the parallel by declaring that these Senators made the same plea which the conspirators of old made—"not that they loved Caesar less, but that they loved Rome more; not that they loved Cleveland less, but that they loved the country more."

The caucus of Democratic Senators yesterday afternoon reached no conclusion.

GREAT CLOUD BURST.

A World of Water in and Near Knox Mountain.

KNOXVILLE, July 25.—Col. Frank Mc-Nulty, proprietor of the Imperial hotel, returned yesterday from Cranberry, N.
C., where he spent Sunday with his wife.
Col. McNulty reports a terrific cloud burst, which was accompanied by much hail, on Sunday morning. The rain fell last Friday night. So hard did the rain fall that the road was washed out in places from four to five feet deep and was rendered impassable.

The continued rain ever since has rendered it impossible to repair the road so that traffic over it could be resumed.
When this ceases it will take some three or four days to put the road in traveling condition again.

The crops in the vicinity of the cloud burst were also damaged to some extent and the streams are all overflowing their banks.

HALF A MILLION LOSS.

Big Fire in Washington—Three Firemen Killed.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—At 2:20 this morning fire was discovered in the warehouse and stables of the George W. Knox express company. The building and contents were destroyed and 205 horses were burned to death. Eight two-story houses were also destroyed.

Three firemen were killed by falling walls and four were seriously injured.
One of the Knox stable employees was badly injured and will probably die.
The warehouse was packed from basement to roof with furniture and merchandise, many families having their entire household goods stored in the building. The loss is about half a million.

of the British bark William Lelachur off Cape St. James on Provost Island, 600 miles from Singapore. The vessel left Singapore for Hong Kong May 4th to load for San Francisco. Her bones now are bleaching on the rocks off Cape St.
James while the bodies of her crew are strewn along the shore. Out of a crew of twelve not a man lives to tell the tale.
The crew consisted of four Englishmen and eight Chinese.

Henderson and Long the Vic ers.

STATESVILLE, July 23.—The friends of Armfield and Turner concede the nomination of Long for judge and Henderson for Congress. Telegraphic information received here today from the counties of Lincoln and Cabarrus give Henderson 166 votes, necessary for a choice 147, Long 172, necessary for a choice 122. Callahan is strongly in the lead for the solicitorship, the indications pointing to his nomination.—Charlotte Observer.

BETTER COUNTY ROADS

BUNCOMBE TAKES ANOTHER
STEP THAT WAY.

Meeting In The Court House Addressed By Col. Roy Stone Of The Agricultural Department—
The Railroad Question.

The double meeting held by citizens of Buncombe for the purpose of considering the railroad and county road questions was called to order shortly after 12 o'clock today in the court house by J. E.
Rankin, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners. Will Aiken was made secretary. There was a good attendance of the people of city and county.

The railroad meeting was the first to take action, by the adoption of a motion made by Capt. Natt Atkinson, to the effect that the chairman should appoint a committee to communicate with the authorities of Transylvania county and with persons who would undertake building of the proposed railroad from Brevard to Asheville. This committee is to be composed of Chairman Rankin, three committees from Asheville township and one from each township outside the city.

At the conclusion of this business the question of bettering the roads of Buncombe county was considered, the County Commissioners as a body taking part in the conference. Chairman Rankin introduced Col. Roy Stone, special agent and engineer of the Bureau of Road Inquiry, a branch of the Department of Agriculture at Washington. Col.
Stone made an address that went right into the details of the momentous question of building county roads, and relating instances showing in various States how great a benefit had accrued from the adoption of measures for road improvement. The address was plain, practical and instructive.

Questions on particular points were asked by Col. Frank Cox, W. S. Cushman, W. P. Bondeloch, W. G. Corpen-ing and others and Col. Stone gave the benefit of his information upon the subject. At the close of the talk Col. Stone gave out copies of road literature published by the Agricultural department.

Geo. S. Powell offered the following, Which was adopted:

"Resolved, That we have heard with pleasure and benefit Gen. Stone's remarks on good roads; that one of the great needs of Buncombe county is better roads, and as a step in that direction be it

"Resolved, That the Board of County Commissioners be, and are hereby requested to appoint a committee of citizens for the purpose of investigating the question of better roads for Buncombe county. Said committee to report their investigations with recommendations to the Board of County Commissioners."

Upon the adoption of this the meeting adjourned.

VISITING FLORIDANS.

Welcomed By The Mayor—Cold Storage For—?

The North Carolina Florist's association met this morning in the Y. M. C. A. lecture room. The president of the association is J. Van Lindley.

The address of welcome to the visitors was delivered by Mayor Patton. He made a very happy little speech. He said that Florida was called the land of all waters, but thought it was a mistake, as North Carolina had a greater variety of native flowers than Florida.

A committee was appointed to see if the United States would not buy Roan mountain for a National Park. The committee is to send a delegate to the Society of American Florists which meets in Atlantic City, August 21-4.

There will be a regular business meeting in the Y. M. C. A. lecture room at 9 o'clock this evening. The florists went to Vanderbilt's this afternoon and will be given a reception at the Mayor's residence at 7 o'clock.

The visitors are loud in their praise of the "cold storage room" at the Lilewild greenhouses. They pronounce it the best in the United States, if, indeed, not the only one.

Debs' Case Goes Over

CHICAGO, July 25.—The Debs, Howard, Woods delivered a brief opinion formally overruling the motion of the defense to quash informations against the A. R. A. officers.
