CHINA AND JAPAN AT WAR

THE KOREAN KING MADE PRISONER.

A Japanese Victory With Great Loss of Life—Martyrs Lauded to Protect Americans—San Francisco Japs Exalted.

SIANGHAI, July 27.—The statement that war has been declared between Japan and China is generally accepted here as correct.

A Japanese victory, wherein a number of Chinese transports were sunk, was fought Wednesday. The Chinese loss of life was very great.

LONDON, July 27.—A special to Lloyd's from Shanghai confirms the Central News despatches that war is declared between China and Japan.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The Korean king has been taken prisoner by the Japanese, and the marines have been landed from the United States ship Baltimore to protect the American legation at Seoul. This information is conveyed in an official cablegram, dated yesterday, to the Secretary of the navy from Captain Benjamin F. Day, commanding the flagship Baltimore at Chemulpo.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—A committee representing Japanese residents met at the Japan consulate and it was decided to make immediate efforts to raise $10,000 to assist their government in carrying on its war with China. The San Francisco Japanese are prepared to form a brigade, arm the men with American rifles and go to Japan at their own expense if their services should be needed in the conflict.

"THE OPEN DOOR"

Revival Services at Bethel M. E. Church, South.

The text of Rev. Mr. Thomas' sermon at Bethel yesterday morning was from Rev. 3:8: "Behold I have set before thee an open door." The preacher said in the course of the sermon: "This proclamation is left to one of the seven churches of Asia. After condemning this church for its folly he looks out in encouragement for its reformation. We will not stick to this text any farther than it will help us in this work. It is of little moment that God set before this church an open door if it does not concern us. He saves to the church at Bethel, 'Behold I have set before thee an open door.' An open door means that all barriers are swept away and we have free access to God. No priest can stand between the sinner and Christ. There is not one here out may have access into the Holy of Holies."

"You have before you an open door; it represents also a free admission into the grace of God through Jesus Christ. If it was announced that I would lecture here with open doors you would not understand that the doors would be literally open; but that there would be no admission fee. You may come without money and without price. He has not only set before us an open door, but has declared that no man should shut it. While I am dependent upon humanity for everything else, they cannot touch my salvation. Let the priesthood boast that whatsoever they bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, but they cannot shut the gate of life against me. They may refuse admission but I can laugh with impunity for Christ has reserved that right to himself. He has also opened the door so that you can bring others in. If you do not save this community you cannot say that Christ has not provided the means. The very rudiments of christianity is to save others. The door is open to the worst of sinners. He made a most lovely character out of one in whom he found seven devils."

"It is a fearful thought that we so far forget what spirit we are of as to shut the door against some. Recollect what you do; God wants the high, the low, the rich, the poor, the base and vile to come and sit at His feet in His kingdom. But that door will one day be closed. Will you be on the outside?"

At the evening service the congregation was small on account of the rain. The text was from I. John 3:1: "Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us." Mr. Thomas said the whole plan of salvation was a revelation of the love of God. He argued that John did not attempt to analyze or describe this love, but just held it up and said, "Behold." He then discoursed pathetically on how this love was manifested in setting man free when he was bound in the slavery of sin, and how he became one with man in sorrow and suffering so that He might sympathize with him. The services will continue through this week.

TO ASSASSINATE HEUREUX

Plot to Kill the Head of the San Domingo Government.

NEW YORK, July 27.—The steamer San Domingo brings news of a plot to assassinate President Heureaux of San Domingo by a party of young men. The conspirators were not sufficiently cautious about their plans and the President was fully informed of the danger menacing him before the arrangements were completed and put the law in operation against them. Eleven conspirators were arrested and brought before the court. The ringleader, a young man named Broadbill, was condemned to death and shot, and as Heureaux considered this example sufficient, the other 10 were set at liberty.

Good Roads Committee.

Pursuant to this authority Mr. Rankin has appointed the following gentleman to the committee: Geo. S. Powell, M. L. Reed, W. D. Houghteling, J. R. Dubois, R. W. Huchcock.

A BUSY HALF DAY.

A Court Session Full of Unusual Incidents.

Yesterday afternoon was "strictly business" with the Criminal court, and Judge Jones, Solicitor Carter, Clerk Young and Deputy Clerk Erwin were kept busy, interested and sometimes amused. A couple of genuinely unusual incidents went far toward relieving the tedium of routine work and causing the baseball game to be well nigh forgotten.

One of the unusual occurrences came up when Bud Payne, a darkey with a proclivity for getting into the courts, was put on trial on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon and beating his wife. Payne conducted the defence himself, interrogating the witnesses with the adroitness of an old practitioner at the bar, and when the testimony was in he addressed the jury in his own behalf. He said neither too much nor too little and took care of his interests so well that Judge Jones remarked that he ought to be a lawyer. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty. Everybody in the court room watched the proceedings, deeply interested.

The second case out of the ordinary trend of court program was in the matter of the State against James McCarron and Mintie Pritchard, a white couple. Solicitor Carter announced that the case would be taken out of court by the marriage of the pair. The court rested while a messenger went to Register Mackey's office and procured a license. When the paper was brought in Judge Jones called on Justice Frank Carter to perform the ceremony making McCarron and Miss Pritchard husband and wife. The justice remained in court until which the large crowd hung eagerly, and tied the knot tastefully. As he concluded the Justice said: "Gentlemen, salute the bride," but there was no response, probably on account of bashfulness. And the court proceeded to the next case.

State vs. Chas. Underwood, colored, assault with deadly weapon, two cases; defendant submitted and sentenced to six months on the roads in each case.

State vs. Thos. Simmons, retailing two cases; defendant submitted and judgment suspended on payment of costs.

State vs. Luke Conig and John Allison, colored, larceny; five months each on the roads.

Rufus Hager, colored, who purloined three volumes of Hugo's works from Solicitor Carter a few days ago, was sent to the roads for a year.

Clare C. Gies, colored, submitted on a charge of larceny and was sent to the roads for 18 months.

State vs. Henry Moore, colored, affray; submitted and sentenced to four months on the roads.

State vs. Henry Smith, colored, false pretense; six months on the roads.

The case of State vs. John Whitmore and Robert Brown, colored, larceny, Whitmore submitted and was given six months on the roads, Brown was found not guilty by the jury.

State vs. Noah Brady, assault with deadly weapon, submitted, judgment suspended on payment of costs.

John Henson, colored, for stealing chickens from C. P. Whitson, was sent to the roads for two years.

State vs. Henderson Hill, colored, embezzlement; not guilty.

State vs. Ed McGehee, affray; submitted, judgment suspended on payment of costs.

State vs. Emory West and John Green, affray; submitted, judgment suspended on payment of costs.

State vs. Jack Blanton, colored, affray; on trial.

N. C. FLORISTS.

Review of the Work of the Association Meeting.

The North Carolina Florists' association adjourned yesterday, after a session of two days, and the visiting florists left for their homes in the afternoon. The meetings were of a very interesting nature throughout. One of the most important measures before the body was the starting of a movement having for its object the acquisition of Roan Mountain by the United States for use as a National park.

One reason for this, as urged by Col. B. W. Wren, was that the body, as that of Prof. Asa Gray, one of the most noted botanists of the world, has said that on this mountain may be found every plant that can be found nowhere else in the world.

Another thing the association says in this connection is another attraction is that Roan and the section around is said by great writers to have been the first land sighted after the flood began receding and Noah looked out of the ark.

Rev. Dr. Thos. Lawrence and Mayor Patton, who became members of the association during its meeting, will probably go with J. W. C. Deake to the meeting of the Society of American Florists at Atlantic City, August 23-24, to present the park question, and eventually to lay the movement in proper shape before Congress.

The next meeting of the State association will be held at Newbern next February during the fish fair. At this meeting Mrs. I. B. Deake and Rev. Dr. Lawrence of Asheville and H. Steinmetz of Raleigh will read papers on subjects of interest to the association.

The visitors expressed themselves as delighted with the attentions shown them here. President Van Lindley said in his closing address that in 15 years of attendance on these meetings he had never spent two days more pleasantly than those he spent on this trip.

The decorations, which were very tasteful and pretty, in the Y. M. C. A. hall, where the meetings were held, were furnished by the Brownhurst and Idlewild greenhouses. A vase of seedling French carnations from Idlewild attracted especial attention from the visiting florists.

The meetings were pleasant and profitable to all who participated.

CARTER, JUST AS EASY

NOMINATED ON THE SECOND BALLOT.

The Nomination Made Unanimous—Ferguson and Kope Elias Make Speeches—Jones Succeeds Himself.

DILLSBORO, N. C., July 27.—[Special.]—H. B. Carter was nominated for Judge by the Democrats of the Twelfth Judicial district yesterday on the second ballot, the vote standing Carter, 115; Ferguson, 79; Shuford, 14.

The first ballot stood: Carter, 94; Ferguson, 83; Shuford, 31. The nomination was made unanimous and great enthusiasm.

C. A. Moore placed Carter in nomination in a handsome speech, and Kope Elias threw the convention into convulsions by declaring that the Democrats could not fail of success with Crawford in the middle and Carter and Jones on either end.

Ferguson was placed in nomination by Marshall W. Bell of Cherokee, seconded by W. T. Lee and F. A. Hall of Haywood. D. L. Love of Jackson nominated Shuford and Ralph Zachary of Transylvania seconded it in the best speech of the convention.

On announcement of the result Ferguson was called for and made a fine speech, full of patriotism and hope.

There was a slight squabble over the delegates from Madison county, because of claimed irregularities in their county convention, but everything was amicably adjusted.

Geo. A. Jones of Macon was unanimously nominated to succeed himself as solicitor. R. D. Gilmer was reelected chairman of the district executive committee with power to select his associates.

DANGER POINT PASSED

A Democrat Tariff Bill Will Be Passed.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—All indications point to one result—that the tariff bill will be sent back to the conference today without instructions.

Stewart has declined to set with the Republicans, who thought to defeat the bill with his vote, and left the city early this morning. The question before the Senate is on Gray's point of order that the motion of Washburn to instruct the conferees to recede from so much of the Senate's amendment to the sugar schedule as puts a differential duty of one-eighth of a cent a pound. The chair will decide it in order and appeal will be taken on the question: "Shall the decision of the chair be sustained as the decision of the Senate?"

Upon this 32 votes will be cast on each side. Under parliamentary rules a vote causes a proposition to fail, and the query in the minds of Senators is, will the tie vote with in this case, the decision of the chair ruling Gray's point to be in order, fail. At least it may lead to some interesting debate.

The Republicans admit that the bill must go back to conference; they cannot prevent that, and there is little likelihood of any effort being made uselessly to consume time. They say, however, that the end is not yet, and that when the bill comes back on the next conference report, the whole field of debate will be opened up anew. Meanwhile the Republicans have not lost their hope of ultimately defeating the bill. On the other hand the Democrats say the danger point has been passed and that their bill will soon become a law.

Duel—French—Unusual Result

PARIS, July 26.—A duel between Deputy Clemenceau and Deschanel was fought with swords at 10:30 this morning in a secluded spot. Two rounds were fought, in the second of which Clemenceau pierced the right cheek of his antagonist. The wound, though painful, is not considered serious.
