WILLIAM T. CRAWFORD

He Will Succeed Himself in Congress.

NOMINATED BY ACCLAMATION WEDNESDAY.

MOTION MADE BY HIS OPPOSER, MR. ADAMS.

The slumbers of the Duke of Richmond Hill last night were fitful, and allowed the gentleman who carries his politics in his hat as he would a slab of limburger to ward off sunstroke none of that sweet rest that enters into and soothes the soul that is at peace and confident of a happy culmination of coveted plans. Weird forms flitted about him and the Ghost of a Chance mingled with the phantasms that made a part of his somnolent hallucination. The Duke turned and muttered uneasily in his sleep and faint would have wrestled with the phantom until it gave him some word of assurance that would be oil to the troubled waters of anticipation, but it eluded the eager grasp. Again and again did he seek some comforting word as in this misty panorama he caught sight of some seemingly earthly form, but it profited him nothing. In the long hours of the night this great "Co-operator" wrestled thus until finally with a discordant cry the eyes left him and he awoke. Then with the force of a thunder stroke came to him the memory of an event occurring yesterday, an event pregnant with the certainties of defeat for Chief Man Who Wears His Hat—the nomination of William Thomas Crawford to be his own successor in Congress from the Ninth Congressional district of North Carolina.

The forecast in THE CITIZEN yesterday was correct. Shortly after 3 o'clock Capt. Melvin E. Carter, chairman of the executive committee of the district, called the body to order in the Grand opera house. The pit was reserved for the delegates and it was filled. Bancroft occupied the entire section from aisle to aisle, to the left from the stage, while the block of seats opposite held the Rutlerford and Haywood stalwarts. The other counties were accommodated in the dress circle, while spectators almost filled the balcony and gallery of the building.

When the convention had been called to order, Hon. Walter E. Moore of Webster moved the election of Hon. M. H. Justice of Rutlerford as permanent chairman, and it was made by acclamation. On taking the chair Mr. Justice said he was always proud to be chairman of a convention of Democrats. This was a time when Democrats were all willing to lay down their differences. The campaign coming on he considered a remarkable one. There was what is known as the Third party, People's party or Populists, and when one came to look at its code of principles, one was bound to admit that it was without form and void. As to the Republicans, he was reminded of the anecdote related of Col. Woodfin who, when being asked by an attorney representing a client what the client should do, replied "I think he would better employ a lawyer." "The Republicans will better employ a lawyer. They are willing to make any unholy alliance with anything to beat the Democrats. They tell me friend Pearson is a renegade Democrat. You know what that is. I now declare the convention open for the transaction of business."

Jas. H. Atkin of the Marion Record was elected secretary, and the representatives of the Democratic papers of the district were made assistants. A motion was made that a committee on credentials be appointed, but was amended so that the roll call was proceeded with to ascertain whether there were any contests. There were none and the credentials committee was not deemed necessary. A delegate moved the appointment of a committee on platform, but on a motion to defer, the original motion was withdrawn.

The real business of the convention then began—the naming of men for the Congressional nomination. When Buncombe was called, Hon. H. A. Gudgeon arose and addressing the convention said: "During the days of the Roman empire its eagle was unfurled to every breeze and was recognized by the people of every nation of the world. Its laws were maintained by the most powerful army of the world. Unlike in this, the laws of America are not enforced by great standing armies, but have been upheld by the Democratic party of the country. Yesterday was flashed to every home in this broad land the tidings that the tariff bill had become a certainty and that another Democratic pledge had been redeemed. [Applause.] I congratulate you on it. Already we can see the bright light that will dispel the gloom; we can hear the noise of the hammer and the forge, and before the election we will see a great revival of business throughout the country.

"I rise to nominate a man who has no superior, except, possibly, among the members of this body, [laughter] and who from his youth has fought and opposed every monopoly that threatened the destruction of the very liberties of our people. He started out in life on a farm and was not too proud to sweep out churches and clean lamps. When he went to a sister State to secure an education and returned home he had only $3 with which to pay his expenses. He rode as far as that would permit and walked the remainder of the distance to his own beautiful city in the mountains of Western North Carolina. He has lived in this Queen City and watched it grow and has grown with it. This man has the necessary equipment for this place. He can take the Democratic banner in hand and carry it to victory and you will see 2,500 majority in the Ninth district. This man's character is above reproach; he is pure as a woman and true as steel, and his name is Joseph S. Adams. [Applause.] It is essentially necessary to have a man who can harmonize every element and show the

MR. VEST'S CALCIUM LIGHT

IT REVEALS A MAN THANKFUL TO GROVER

The President Has Relieved Him of the Office Seeker, And Not a Wave of Trouble Rolls Across This Peaceful Vest Threat.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—In the Senate yesterday Mr. Vest turned on his long-promised "calcium light." He said Mr. Hill had accused him of having some private grief, and added:

"Mr. President, I have no private grief, but I wish to acknowledge in the most public manner my gratitude to the President from having relieved me from all responsibility in regard to the appointments in Missouri. Sir, if there is any thing in my public life which has afforded me any pleasure, it has been the fact that the President, in the exercise of his constitutional right, informed me that he no longer desired my advice regarding Missouri patronage. Not again during this administration will I stand in a lumpy, haggard face of expectant office seekers. Not again will I be admitted into the august presence. Nor will I watch the shadows partially produced by indignation that may float across the executive brow and feel my heart sink as each shadow came and went. Not again will I be damned at country post-offices, village corners as an ingrate who has given no office to his friends. So were it not for this tariff debate and this tariff discussion, I would now indulge in the ecstasy of that well known hymn:

"Then shall I have my
In seas of endless rest,
And not a wave of trouble roll
Across my peaceful breast."
"I have nothing to complain of on the part of the President. I am ready to follow him now as the Scotch followed a banner of Bruce when he fought for country and home. I fight for no man, I fight for principle, my party and my country. Men pass away like clouds from the evening sky, but principle must live forever."

LANIER'S GREAT WORK

He Pitched a Beautiful Game—But Wann't Well Supported.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 16.—[Special]—Knoxville won the first game yesterday by a combination of lucky hits in the first inning. The diamond here differs from the Allendale diamond in that the ground slopes toward home and third. Knoxville got four hits, one by Setters being a home run. Asheville made three errors in this inning.

Lanier pitched the finest game ever seen here, only one hit being made off him after the first, but he lacked support at critical stages. He struck out four men in succession in the third and fourth innings.

Flournoy made a fine throw from right in the third inning, putting out Williams, who was running for Green. Asheville was shut out till the fourth, when two men scored.

Metz made the prettiest play of the game in the fifth, by taking Job's fly over second. Asheville made two in the fifth, tying the score. Knoxville made one in the eighth on an error by O'Rourke. Asheville scattered hits and bunched errors. Geo. Denny umpired satisfactorily to all.

THE CONQUEST OF CHINA.

Issue Ambition of Some of the Jingo Japanese.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—A dispatch from Shanghai says Japan is pouring fresh troops into Corea, and that upwards of 50,000 Japanese soldiers are now in Korean territory. The Chinese fleet is remaining passive. In Japan the war fever is intense and universal. The press and popular orators are preaching to excited people of ambitious schemes, including the conquest of China or at least the conquest of the province of Manchuria. The Japanese government enforces complete secrecy in respect to all military movements and a rigorous censorship is observed over all dispatches.

Indiana Democrats.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 16.—In the Democratic convention yesterday G. T. Reinhard and Jos. Daily were nominated by acclamation for the Supreme court judgeship from districts one and two respectively. Secretary of State Myers had a walk away, being nominated unanimously. For State Auditor Jos. Fannoy was alone in the field and he was chosen by acclamation.

Cholera in Prussia.

BERLIN, Aug. 16.—Four fresh cases of cholera were reported in East Prussia yesterday. One man died. Several cases of cholera and two deaths are reported from the district of Kolman. There have been no fresh cases of cholera in Cologne. An examination of the water of the Rhine showed no sign of infection.

TARIFF BILL NOT SIGNED

THE PRESIDENT GONE TO GRAY GAULES.

He is Ill And Needs a Change—The House Free Bills Will Be Referred to The Senate Finance Committee.

WASHINGTON, August, 16.—In the Senate yesterday Harris asked that the House revenue bills be read the second time. To the astonishment of everybody no Senator objected and the House bills to place coal, iron ore, barbed wire, and sugar on the free list were read.

Harris then sent to the clerk's desk and had read a letter from Secretary Carlisle just received. The letter reviewed the condition of the treasury and the estimated revenues of the government for the next fiscal year. The figures showed that under the tariff bill just sent to the President, the revenues would exceed the expenditures for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1895, by $15,000,000. The revenues from the sugar, Carlisle placed at $43,000,000, and from coal, iron, ore and barbed wire, $1,000,000. If the House bills were passed there would, Carlisle said, be a deficiency next year of $20,000,000. No action was taken on the free sugar and other House bills. They will be referred to the finance committee.

A number of leaves of absence were granted today to members and the attendance upon the House showed a general departure of representatives from the city. A little routine business was transacted and then the evening recess upon the general deficiency appropriation bill was laid before the House. The item under discussion is that appropriating $1,800,000 to pay a judgment in favor of the Southern Pacific railroad company for the transportation of troops, mail and merchandise for the United States.

President Cleveland left the city early this morning. Private Secretary Thumber makes public the following statement in regard to the President's departure:

"The President left this morning for a few days' absence under the advice of his physician in the hope of shaking off an attack of malaria from which he has been suffering from several days. Yesterday's attack culminated in fever, and this was under control this morning. Dr. O'Reilly, his physician, expressed no doubt that a few days of salt air will recuperate the President sufficiently to enable him to renew his official duties, and he will return to Washington by the middle of next week. He has gone to Gray Gaules and is accompanied by Dr. O'Reilly."

The President, it is learned further, has never fully recovered from the attack of malaria which caused him to make two trips in a light house tender down Chesapeake bay and the outside capes. Anxiety over the tariff situation, and when the matter was ended by the action of the House in passing the tariff bill, a relaxation came and made a change of air necessary.

The President left by the 7:10 train over the Pennsylvania railroad. He took no action upon the tariff bill beyond sending it to the Secretary of the treasury for report, as is customary with revenue bills.

WHO PAYS THE TAX?

Evidence Not The Liquor Dealers of Shelby Co., Tenn.

MEMPHIS, Aug. 16.—The grand jury yesterday found 300 indictments against persons in Shelby county, making 538 indictments found in two days, charged with selling liquor without a license. Investigations of the jury have developed the fact that the county, state and city have lost about $150,000 in the past eight years from failure to collect the revenue. It has been found that not only have liquor dealers enjoyed immunity from taxation, but a great many people in other lines of trade also. When all persons who have not complied with the liquor law for the past year shall have paid up the income will be $250,000.

Good!

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—The Senate today passed the bill for the exclusion and deportation of alien anarchists, which has been agreed to in the conference committee on a like bill heretofore passed.

To succeed Hunt.

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 16.—The Democratic Congressional convention for the Fourth district, held here yesterday, nominated Charles M. Coke of Franklin county by acclamation.

Carno's Murderer Gullible.

LYONS, Aug. 16.—Santa Caesario, the murderer of President Carnot, was gullible at 5 o'clock this morning.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

—The latest crop report says that in the Eastern district the rains damaged cotton and young corn considerably. Rice, tobacco, and sweet potatoes are reported good. In Edgecombe county over nine inches of rain fell in three days. In the southern part of the Central district the hot sunshine which followed rain has caused some "scalding" of crops. The corn crop is the finest in ten years and will bring big prices. Tobacco is fine and the curings good. There are good reports from the Western district, where the rains were not excessive.

—Charlotte News: Mecklenburg county is in better shape politically than in any previous campaign. It is said to be a fact that there is not a Populist in Prueville, Providence or Steel Creek township. In Providence there is one Third party man, but he is not a Populist. Mecklenburg will give the Democratic ticket from 1,200 to 1,500 majority.

—John T. Roach of Rockingham county, has been appointed to a position in the government printing office, the appointment being credited to the influence of ex-Congressman Williams.

—The conferees on the sundry civil bill have agreed on the item appropriating $25,000 to establish a quarantine station at the mouth of Cape Fear river.

—At the Egypt coal mines 100 men are employed. September 1st the coal output will be increased to 400 tons daily.

—There are thirty entries for the August races at the State fair grounds, Raleigh next week.
