We call special attention to In a fit of aboration yesterday, consequent upon his ill health, Mr. Belrose, who in former years was a licutenant in the United States navy, took his old navy sword, placed the hilt against a tree and pressed his body against the point. Not satisfied with the result of the first attempt, Mr. Belrose repeated the act a second and third time, with the result that dangerous wounds were inflicted, the point of the sword piercing the liver.

Medical aid was summoned as soon as the attempt at suicide was discovered, and Mr. Belrose's physician, Dr. S. #### DIED AT A GREAT AGE.

The Long and Lovely Life of Mrs Amanda Gray Lee.

Mrs. Amanda Gray Lee, born at Flor da, N. Y., November 23, 1792, died at her home in Cedar Mountain, Transylvania county, N. C., August 16, 1894. having nearly reached the age of 102 years. She was the mother of Mrs. H. Larned of Cedar Mountain and ot D. U. Lee of Asheville, Mrs. Lee had lived under the administration of every President of the United States, and, beginning with Jefferson, had personal recollections of the promi-nent events and general character of each one. She always took great interest in public affairs, and in everything concerning the welfare of the community and country, and this interest continued to the last days of her life.

Mrs. Lee remembered the death of Gen. Washington, and how sad he father, grandfather and others seemed when the news of his death came to them. She also remembered incidents attending the meeting held in the place in commemoration of the sad event.

Bishop Capers, who conductes the fun-

ral services of Mrs. Lee, in alluding impressively to these facts, spoke to the young people of the example of a life so pure, so good and so venerable. He told mmunity, by her life here, with the very beginning of our country's separate xistence. The bishop spoke carnestly, and paying a tribute of heartfelt respect to Mrs. Lee's piety and her character, The funeral services were held August

RANSON AND JARVIS

They Will Engage In No Bitter Personal Figh'

Washington, Aug. 27.-Senator Ranom tells me that as soon as he reaches tome he will at once enter actively into the canvass, and speak in as many coun ties as he can before the election. He is hopeful and confident of Democratic success. Indeed even when the rest of us six months or so ago felt like victory was doubtful or uncertain, Scnator Ran som was always full of faith in the result Like Senator Jarvis he appreciates that this is to be a battle royal, and he is ready to enter it with his old time zeal. Both these distinguished Democrats will be heard on every stump and bey will make personal ambition of sec-

the party that success will be jeopar-dized; and 2. A feeling that, after all, the party ought not to be dependent on any two men, and that if they engage in hurtful warfare, the defeat of both would be salutary.

There is already a feeling that a new man might with propriety be elected as evidenced by the fact that the nominees in Halifax, Northampton, Anson and perhaps others declare themselves against a hundred ton iron furnace, coal mines both. This feeling will grow if the par-tisans of both Senators permit the bit-around Rushville, Ala., was sold at auc-

Knoxville Series - Notes About Players.

The Knoxville players were expected to arrive this afternoon to begin a series with Asheville, but a telegram this morn-Fit of Mental Aberration, With ing to Manager Redwood from Manager An Old Navy Sword-Mr. Belrose Moffett of the Knoxvilles stated that the team had missed the train and therefore Louis Belrose, jr., attempted to take his life yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock at the Bungalow on Hillside street.

Mr. Belrose and family, a wife and two children, came to Asheville about two weeks ago for the benefit of Mr. Belrose's health. In consequence of a typho-malarial attack a few months ago, his health had been thereable and cannot be played here all year is ball cannot be played here all year is pho-malarial attack a few months ago, his health had been thoroughly broken, his lungs gave way and tuber-culosis attacked the brain.

In a fit of aboration yesterday, consequent upon his ill health, Mr. Belrose, who in former years was a lieutenant in the United was a lieutenant in the United of the national game here. That baseball cannot be played here all year is recognized by ball enthusiasts and yet they will regret the computer of those players who do not live here. The Ashevilles have played together till they fell as a band of brethren and they have all done their share in and they have all done their share in making a record that any team may fee a great pride in.

The first to leave will be Stephens and The first to leave will be Stephens and Stanley. George Stephens' work is so generally known and has brought him so close to baseball lovers that it seems a lamost superfluous to say anything further. He is a young man of splendid character, and this is the first reason for his popularity here. That is Mr. Stephens as a man. As a ball player he is deceptive, but only so long as he is in the box facing a batter on the opposing team. He has done his work work well and it speaks for itself. Whatever his calling in life, he will fill it in a praise worthy manner if the energy he puts into his playing be taken as a puts into his playing be taken as criterion.

As to Ben. Stanley (or perhaps "Pat" didn't see him they asked for him. And he was always there, big as life. He has shown by his demeanor here that he is a young man who is bound to make a success of his life—he plays ball just that way. Courteous and friendly to all, he has become known by everybody and admired for his worth aside from his baseball abilities. As to his sprinting—ask the mention whom he has sprinting—ask the mention whom he had not climbed more than 10 feet when a his sprinting—ask the men from whom he has stolen so many bases this season.

To Stephens and Stanley the people of Asheville will tip their hats in an adicuthat carries with it the best of wishes. that carries with it the best of wishes.

McClung can't stop talking about that trip to Wavnesville. He vows that while out there he found a clover stalk that had on it four four-leaved clovers and three that had five leaves cach. They were given to visitors at the hotel. Several of the Asheville boys went trout fishing, Lanier among them, and 32 trout were captured. McClung looked on from the bank (being averse to trout were captured. McClung looked on from the bank (being averse to water) but kept strict count of the fish. The only mishap was when "Mac" fell "off the top of the creek" and scratched his countenance. The boys while on this trip met Wille Standingdeer, Charlie Whippoorwill and other members of the Eastern band of Cherokees.

It is not likely they will nomine the property of t inate a ticket, and while they may not endorse the Populist nominees, the Republicans, white and colored, will be urged to vote with the Populists.
