WHERE the President refers to Gorman and his band of betrayers as stealing the livery of Democratic reform to wear it in the service of Republican protection...

THE ONLY trouble with the President's letter is that it does not do what it set out to do—justify a refusal to sign the tariff bill. The President has deservedly harsh words for the bill, but he has as many in approval of its best features...

THE SINGLE TAX.

The Raleigh News and Observer has proven, what some of the North Carolina Populists denied, that Senator Pifer introduced a resolution in the Senate reciting, among other things, that "All revenues of the government ought to be raised by taxes on real estate."

The single tax would probably not increase the burden of the farmer, but rather decrease it, for it would make the large unimproved bodies of land held by speculators and railroads pay their just proportion of the expenses of the government...

There are strong objections to the single tax, as a radical departure from time-honored custom, but they are not along the line of an accusation that the burden of the farmer would be increased by it.

A FALSE FLUTTER.

This paragraph from the Charlotte Observer is of the kind that make one weary:

"The Chinese treat Christian nations better than Christian nations treat the Chinese. I have imperially the Chinese who lately killed a Presbyterian missionary from England are to have their devoted heads chopped off, and the missionary property destroyed is to be buried. Yet, when a Chinaman is cruelly murdered in this Christian country, as was recently the case on the North Carolina and Tennessee line, the newspapers make a flutter about it for a day or two and that is the end of the matter."

The Chinaman alluded to was assassinated in North Carolina, but died of his wounds and the exposure, in Tennessee.

The "flutter" the newspapers made was of this extent: THE CITIZEN published all the facts to be obtained by a representative sent to the locality of the crime. He spent several days there and endured no little hardship, with the result that the Chinaman's clothes were found and, later, the body, which was given a decent, if not a Christian burial. His assailants were arrested and two of them were convicted and sentenced to the chain gang.

The city officials of Asheville took a great deal of interest in the matter, and voted money out of the City treasury to pay the expenses of making a search for the body. Every effort was made that a Christian community could make. All the facts in the case were communicated to Secretary Gresham and by him to the Chinese minister who expressed his satisfaction at what had been done after the commission of the crime.

The Answers are Obvious.

Does any man believe that frauds would be unknown if Democratic rule should be displaced by Republic-Populist domination? Is Marion Butler honest than Vance? Is Buck Kitchen better than Ransom? Is Harry Skinner better than Jarvis? Is C. Thompson fitter to govern than Elias Carr?

Mr. Lipinsky would respectfully inform his numerous patrons that his stock of goods will be on sale at the Asheville Clothing Co., 35 South Main street.

MISS LEMON ON DIVORCES.

KANE KREAK N. C. 1894 the Oregus 22th Sittizen Edditor Sir: Miss Lemon she come over to our house last Sunday she did, she stopt high. I seen somethin were the matter long with Miss Lemon. See I to her come in honey, come in, howa Mr. Lemon, have a seat take a cheer & set down sez I, which hits middlin hot wether, hain't it.

Miss Lemon she flopped down in a rockin cheer & commensed fr to rock backwards and forrewards & she kep bitin of her lips & a lookin strate out in front of her, she never sed a word. After I watched her a good while, & she a settin thar & a takin no notiss, & a sorter dammin up, so to speck I begin to git a leetle nervius, I lowed the water mite git 2 biand wash us all offa the pounch when the dam broke luec, I lowed I better spring a leek.

I sez to her, sez I, sorter konsilvatin like, what's the matter honey, sez I, havy Shade Lemon bin aboosin of ver. No sez she, he haint, & he better know it, the old kriter, I reckn I got hams and tinger takes lef, of all my legal rites is done gone, likewise all the rites of my sect. Which she skwared round & stoop rockin of herself, & she put her left hand on her neck, & she done the tawkin with tother, she jess tink out for a fite she did, which her eyes shined like a billy gotes in a dark stabill.

She sklamed 2 me, Dave Hanks sez she, I jess like fer to know how you mean mean, I jess want to see you writters to live under so doggon unfare laws, sez she, which my old man be come back from town last nite he did, with his hed stuck up till it brushed the leaves offa the hams a hangin over the roole. Which be jess manidded for to speck to me when he come in the house, & after supper he sez to me, sez he, Miss Lemon she havy wawk a chawk line after this, I done beered Jedge Shofoot lay down the married law, you wimmin tokes has to be have a plum site better as we men tokes does.

As how sez I, Why sez he, you jess orter seed the marriage nots be outide this eventin, I never seen the like in my hawny days, people settin a round lowed hit beat. Chickyo go all to peaces. Dave Hanks, he went on & told me they was 5 or 6 mean men thar, as jess sez it up in the cote house & whispard to some of them, mean lawyers thar, & the lawyer he jess popped up, he did, & he sez of the cote please, while the jewry air a settin hear waitin, I got a few little divorce cases, we can git three all of the same in 10 minmits. All ritc sez the jedge, imple the jewry Mister Clerk, & then the mean men they jess taken it time about, & they got up thar & sed they rickemembered gittin married some time back to sich & sich a ooman, & that were all they knowed about the case. Now want that so nice & kind, want I say Dave Hanks, which I spose they forgot all about the way ther pore wives worked & slaved, & nussed chillun & all thar.

Then the jedge he sez, thattle do, call the nex witness, & then some triflin ooman she got up in the cheer, & the lawyer he sez, sez he, do you know this man's wife, yes sez she, I know her—what do you think of her, sez the lawyer, & then the triflin kriter she pretend like she was that shame she couldn't speck & finally at last she sez I never seen honest wimmin to like she does, git down sez the jedge, draw yer dkerree call the nex case, & so hit went on for some sevole minmits till about 1/2 the female kriter in the Cote house got single agin & to think I to think sez she a bustin to bly-teees, jess to think of all ther pore wite to home that munit a pickin of a norty chicken for dinner nex da fer that mean man to stuff hissel with.

Terreckly she wiped her iz, & she sez, you haint heered the wust of it, which they happened to be a woman up in the Cote house of my own set, she were one of these her down trodden kriteres which they husbands orter been born in the bottom of the C with a mile stone chained a round his neck, which the pore kriter's hart beat life for the last time in 25 year, she got her a lawyer, & sez to him for the lord's sake git me a divorce. Air you husband a mean man sez the lawyer? Mean as pizen sez she. Do anybody hear kin the same, sez the lawyer? Yes, sez she hear is 2 people a knowns of it. Which they went thry the same recigment till they got to a man's mean dewins, then the jedge he up & sez, gum the jewry this here case air a leetle bit diffint, which the law haint the same, the witnesses has to prove wust devlement & no of it, we got to take keer of our wimmin jokes, some haint don't know what to do with divorces when they git the same, I reether jedge most of the fare set wouldn't kin a divorce if they was to meat one in the poud.

Well, sir, Mr. Lemon he sez they proved the wust kind of a kriterker on that man, which he hain't a norty wite from his wife nigh on to a while. Which the jedge he sat to 6 & scratched his hed & terreckly he sez, sez he, as that lady to stand up & let me look at her, & to give ter her I reckon mite we shall have to give you one divorce, he sez, jedge, jedge, sez she, you haint the cost, which I shell natchly specked to hear sumthin about how you behavin of you sez he.

At the liker that Miss Lemon she got up & stomped her foot on the fl, & she sez, sez she, I jess wish I was a furtle be dead as to live in a County whar the men makes all the laws, that's what. See I to her, sez I, Miss Lemon you go home honey, you dont know what you tawkin about, all you got to do air to behave yosef. Never Shade Lemon tries to get a divorce from you sez I, jess let him have it, jess let him have it, my Son Sollomms allwaze sorter tuck to you & Abe Darole loves the yeth you shuze tuck, which she bust into a loud laff & jumped offa the pounch & run off home. Mr. Edditor you better lite all of these here shewies, we cant tell nothin about the same. Dave Hanks.

SALT-RHEUM; FLASH CRACKED OPEN AND BLEED!

MISS LOTTIE CLARK, River Falls, Wis. I give me pleasure to express my faith in the virtue of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Having suffered for three years from salt-rheum, and after having been unsuccessfully treated by a good physician, I began the use of the "Discovery."

The humor was my hands. I was obliged to keep a covering over them for months at a time, changing the covering morning and night. The singing, burning and itching was so intense that at times it seemed as if I would go crazy. When I put one finger, the flesh would crack open and bleed.

Impossible for me to describe the intense pain and suffering which I endured night and day. After taking six bottles of the "Discovery" I was entirely cured.

While the auction continues at Bon Marche, Lipinsky's stock of fancy goods, dry goods and notions will be on sale at the Asheville Clothing Co., 35 South Main street.

Auction at Bon Marche at 11 a. m. and 5 p. m.

The Fundamental Mistake.

From a Chicago Letter. The Rev. Dr. Bolten, the well-known Methodist preacher of Chicago visited Pullman on Saturday. Speaking of the collapse of the Utopian dream that pictured Pullman as the model labor centre of the world he said:

"The fundamental mistake lies in the inability of a workingman in Pullman to own his own home. Disintegrating theories more readily find foothold among men who have no spot on earth they can call their own than among householders, no matter how humble may be their possessions. Pullman might have been a success had every man been inspired by the hope that he might some day own a house in the town. The paternalism of a corporation is an elusive and mischievous influence."

Too Near to Republicanism.

A Farmer in New York World. But why is the Gorman bill marked by "perfidy and dishonor?" Let me tell the Tribune and the Sun why. It is because it is constructed on Republican principles; because it embodies the robber doctrine of Republican protectionism; because it is only a shade less destructive of the agricultural interests of the country than McKinleyism, because it is nearly but not quite as mean and corrupt a surrender to the sugar trust as the McKinley act. It is its imagined Republicanism that makes the Gorman bill perfidiously and dishonor, but Gorman, Smith and Bruce Republican side of the chamber are responsible—not Wilson, Cleveland and the mass of the Democrats who did their best to give the country a better bill.
