A RUNAWAY TROLLEY CAR

THRILLING FLIGHT DOWN A HEAVY GRADE.

A Crowded Car on the W. A. & S. B. Road Dashes into Depot Street and Upside-List of the Injured.

Passengers on car No. 1 on the West Asheville and Sulphur Springs railway had a thrilling ride this morning, the memory of which will be with them for many a day. About 8:15 the car, in charge of Conductor Ed. Suddeth and Motorman J. E. Snider, started down the heavy grade leading into Depot street. It was heavily loaded, Conductor Suddeth having taken up 42 fares, which did not include a number of children.

A few yards from the point where the road emerges from the deep cut the motorman noticed that the car was increasing its speed, apparently because of the slick track. He tightened the brake, but the speed of the car only increased with each revolution of the wheels. The brake was set so hard that the wheels began to slide and the current was reversed. There was no sand on the car. All efforts to stop the car were futile and it kept on a wild run down to Depot street.

The rear platform was crowded with gentlemen, among them being Dr. C. J. Oliveros, B. J. Alexander, J. H. Stelling and E. F. Witsell. As the car struck the curve into Depot street, at the crossing of the Asheville street railroad track, the speed was so great that one side of the car left the rail and the sharp curve was made on two wheels. It ran this way for perhaps 30 yards when it fell over on its side on the granite pavement.

The scene which followed was one of confusion. Women and children screamed about the shock of the fall had passed. The occupants of the car had been thrown upon each other on the lower side of the car and the seat on the upper side had fallen down upon some of them. All of the windows had been put down, otherwise many of these in the car must have been cut by the broken glass. The motorman, who pluckily stuck to his post till the last, was thrown headlong for 20 feet, striking on the paving. Mr. Stelling was also thrown some distance from the track. Conductor Suddeth held his place and his head admirably. Mr. Witsell, it is said, jumped just as the car struck the curve.

Within a moment after the accident Charles Monry and others who were near and saw it, ran to the scene, and with the assistance of the carmen and the gentlemen who had made the trip the work of taking the passengers from the overturned car was completed. It was found that a number were hurt although the injuries of most of them are slight. The list of injured follows:

Mrs. Gilbert F. Dawson, Washington, D. C., severe injuries to back and head.

E. F. Witsell, Charleston, S. C., arm and leg broken.

Dr. C. J. Oliveros, Asheville, leg sprained.

Conductor Suddeth, bruises on leg.

Mrs. Jas. Dickson, Charleston, injured in neck and shoulder.

Miss Fannie O'Rourke, Charleston, arm bruised.

Mrs. John Cruise, Asheville, hurt on shoulder, and several bruises.

Mrs. M. L. Neuffer, Orangeburg, S. C., injuries to neck.

Mrs. Dawson was on her way to Savannah, accompanied by her husband. She was taken to the Glen Rock hotel, where she is attended by Dr. S. Westray Battle.

Mr. Witsell, whose arm and leg were broken when he left the runaway car, was taken to the home of his brother-in-law, Dr. Oliveros, 78 Bailey street. The injury to his leg was so serious that amputation became necessary. The operation was successfully performed before noon, the leg being taken off between the knee and ankle. Dr. Wm. D. Hilliard is in charge of his case. The patient is resting easily this afternoon.

An investigation into the cause of the startling development that at the point where the runaway began, and for some distance below, salt had been sprinkled on the south rail. This had evidently been done last night. The action of the salt caused a slippery rust to form on the rail. A quantity of this salt could be seen in spots along the track some time after the accident. Whether this salt was put on the rail out of a spirit of fun or with a deliberate view to cause a runaway may never be known.

The detailed car was replaced in an hour or so and sent to the shed. The principal damage was the breaking of the journal boxes.

'TIS GOOD TO PUSH.

In This Way Some Electric Cars Are Made To Move

A few days ago Joe Sluder, J. S. Adams and several friends started out on the Montford avenue car line with the intention of bringing down a few of the bats that take a sportman these evenings. "Doc" Baird, manager of the Red line, was along on the car and was starting the party with tales of the large number of bats to be found out towards the river.

By the time the car had reached a point a short distance south of the Montford avenue school building the expectations of the party were keyed to the highest notch. Imagine their feelings, then, when the car stopped suddenly. It was hard luck, and they set around talking about the disappointment consequent on a cutting off of the current. But Mr. Baird found a way out of the difficulty and announced it proudly. "Boys," he said, "there are enough of us here to push the car to the top of the hill. Then it will roll the rest of the way."

Happy solution! Every man "lit out" and putting shoulders to the bug vehicle it was shoved to the crest of the grade. Just then the motorman looked up at the wire and announced: "The trolley's off!"

"Oh—" and with a chorus of chagrin a half dozen "sold" sportsmen climbed on the car and kept right quiet till they got out of the city.

CRAWFORD AND PEARSON

JOINT DISCUSSION AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

It Is To Begin At 8 O'clock This Evening. Mr. Pearson Speaking First—A Great Crowd Will Hear Them.

The first real guns of the campaign will be touched off at the Grand opera house, and there is sure to be an attendance that will crowd the big building.

Congressman Crawford had been invited and consented to address the Democratic club this evening at the court house. But after his arrival here Richmond Pearson sent him a note requesting a joint discussion. The request was referred to the club, and the matter was left to a committee composed of C. T. Rawls, J. D. Murphy, E. R. Hampton and J. P. Kerr for the arrangement of the details.

The result is the following arrangement: The speaking will begin at 8 o'clock. Mr. Pearson leading off in a speech of one hour. Mr. Crawford will reply in an hour's speech. Mr. Pearson will have a rejoinder of 15 minutes and the discussion will be closed by Mr. Crawford in a 15 minutes speech.

The speaking will begin promptly at 8 o'clock and the public are invited.

A Feast of Reason at the opera house tonight—Crawford and Pearson.

DEVELOPMENT OF SOUTH.

Progress of Work For Permanent Organization.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—In the convention to aid in the development of the South Mr. Blackwell made reference to the report that northern commercial bodies were antagonizing the convention. "But we need just that sort of opposition," he said, "to make our project a success."

Loud applause followed this sentiment. The movement was one of immense possibilities, he said. It was like the immense wealth that lay hidden in the mountains of his native Alabama; it needed to be brought to the surface.

Blackwell was elected temporary chairman and T. L. Barrett, West Virginia, temporary secretary.

W. S. White of the Fredericksburg Free Line offered a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee consisting of one member from each Southern State to be known as the committee on business, which shall have power to provide for the organization of a permanent association for the development of the industrial resources of the South. This resolution was adopted unanimously.

A letter from B. H. Warner, president of the board of trade of Washington, D. C., was interrupted by Irvine of Alabama who said that Warner's reference to "loud mouthed Populists" who were injuring the South was out of order, as was any political criticism. The chairman promptly ruled that Irvine's point was well taken. The report of the committee on credentials, admitting as delegates all from the South who were present, was adopted with an amendment providing that representatives of northern, eastern and western bodies to whom invitations had been extended should be admitted to the floor but without right to vote.

The vice-presidents, selected by the state delegations, are as follows: Alabama, J. F. Johnson; Arkansas, W. G. Vincenbeller; Florida, D. H. Yancey; Georgia, Levi Ballard; Maryland, J. M. Carter, jr.; Louisiana, W. H. Wise; Mississippi, S. D. Lee; Missouri, D. B. Hays; North Carolina, E. A. Evert; South Carolina, T. S. Farrer; Tennessee, A. A. Arthur; Texas, E. P. Marshall; Virginia, W. R. Gay; West Virginia, J. L. Berry; District of Columbia, S. S. Yoerger.

After naming a committee to arrange a plan for a permanent organization and the establishment of a permanent southern exhibit in Washington, the convention took a recess until three o'clock.

Joint discussion at opera house tonight—Crawford and Pearson.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT.

W. R. Whitson a Member of the Bureau of Water Powers.

One of the most important bureaus in connection with the Southern Exchange association, which has lately been organized, its aim being the development of the vast resources of the South, is or on water powers. W. R. Whitson, eqy. of this city, is in receipt of a communication notifying him that he has been appointed a member of this bureau by President Hugh R. Garden. "This bureau," says the letter, which is from R. Wayne Wilson, secretary and general manager, "is, practically, a sub-committee of the executive committee, and is designed to divide the labors of the latter in the work of gaining such information as will enable it to thoroughly understand, and intelligently endeavor to improve the condition of and to comprehend the needs of water power owners generally in the South."

The president is aware that, in imposing upon you this grave and important task, of your fitness for which he is thoroughly satisfied, he is exacting, in the name of the Southern Exchange association an arduous service, and he therefore appeals to the same patriotic principle in you which has created this association, from the labors of which the South hopes to derive much benefit.

The other members of the water powers bureau are W. G. Maxwell, New York; Burton Myers, Norfolk, Va.; A. G. Furman, Greenville, S. C.; and Mayor Sibley, Columbus, Ga. The gentlemen of the bureau desire and should have the co-operation of the people who have information concerning waters, and will gladly receive all facts as to location, etc. Those having these facts should communicate with Mr. Whitson. This association will do much for the South and its members should have ready help in matters of this kind.

Primaries Tomorrow.

Pursuant to the call of Chairman J. D. Murphy the Democrats of the various precincts of Buncombe will meet tomorrow to choose their delegates to the county convention which meets Saturday, the 8th. In the city the primary system will be observed, Democrats voting their preferences for candidates for county offices as well as for delegates to the convention. Polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 9 p. m. the polls of the First and Second wards being in the court house and the Third and Fourth at Carter's warehouse.

IT WAS NOT UNANIMOUS

BUT THE REFS. AND POPS. FINALLY FUSED.

Lusk Arises And Give Thanks—The Platform Declares for What The Pops. Denounce—Pritchard Makes The Speech.

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 31.—[Special.]—The Republican convention credentials committee did not report until 3:30 yesterday afternoon. There were several contests. It was found that some counties who had been voted for as delegates. A majority of the committee were anti-fusionists and reported against these delegates, saying they were only proxies; but the minority of the committee reported in favor of seating them. As this was the fusion side, their report was overwhelmingly adopted.

Speeches were made by T. C. Millikin, J. E. Boyd, George H. White, John C. Dancy, J. M. Moody, J. C. Pritchard and R. Z. Linney.

White, who is colored solicitor of the second district, eulogized Senator Vance as a great and grand man.

Lusk and Moody had rather a lively spot. Lusk was a delegate from Transylvania as well as from Buncombe. It was difficult to ascertain how many counties were represented directly; the secretary said 87.

Oliver H. Dockery was elected permanent chairman of the convention. Loge Harris offered a resolution nominating Worth, Faircloth, Furches, Clark and Conner, just as named by Pops. This resolution was referred to the platform committee of which Harris was made chairman. This soon reported.

The platform reaffirms devotion to the National platform; endorses the protective tariff [which the Pops denounce]; favors international bimetalism and the coinage of the entire product of American mines at a ratio of sixteen to one; favors a tariff for protection of American labor against foreign pauper labor; denounces the new tariff bill and the attempt to place Southern products on the free list; demands the repeal of the revenue taxes on whiskey and tobacco; demands the repeal of the county government system; demands free and fair elections and the count of each vote as cast; demands that landholders and house holders be allowed to deduct, in giving in their taxes, the amount of their indebtedness.

The platform was adopted by acclamation, as was also the resolution in regard to nominations which was referred to that committee. This resolution was an exact copy of the one adopted by the Pop. convention.

R. M. Douglas presented the minority report calling for a ticket a majority of which should be Republican.

There was a love feast after this platform and a resolution was adopted Lusk sprang to his feet and shouted: "North Carolina is redeemed; thank God!"

This was at 7 o'clock last evening, and the convention at once went into the business of electing a chairman to succeed Eaves. A. E. Holton of Yadkin was chosen.

Pritchard's speech made the greatest hit with the convention.

SLASHED WITH A RAZOR.

James Jackson Dangerously Cut Last Night.

James Jackson, a Swannanoa hotel waiter, was dangerously carved with a razor last midnight at Hainey's restaurant, on South Main, by Carolina Peel, a barber in Wilson's shop. One cut was on the neck, extending about 4½ inches, one of six inches on the forehead and cheek, one on the nose and another on the cheek, besides a stab in the side. Jackson's wounds were dressed by Dr. K. H. Bryant. It was thought at first he could not recover from such fearful wounds, but he was better this afternoon and Dr. Bryant thinks he will pull through.

Peel was arrested this morning by Deputy Sheriff Hampton and Patrolman Yeaman, and is being held to await the result of Jackson's injuries. Peel denies doing the cutting.

GETTING BACK TO WORK.

A Very Welcome Change In Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—It is estimated by Joseph Graenlat, statistician of the health department, that three-fourths of the working people who were out of employment a year ago are now earning wages. He bases his estimate on the reports made by the factory inspectors. There are, he says, 800 tailor shops in operation in the city now as compared with half that number last winter—a fair indication of the change which the industrial situation is undergoing.

JULIET, Ill., Aug. 31.—The Lambert and Bishop branch of the consolidated steel and wire company, which has been closed since last July, has given notice that it will start up in 10 days, but with a 10 per cent. cut.

The Illinois Steel Mill will also start in on a reduction of wages.

CORBETT-JACKSON.

It May Be They Will Yet Pummel Each Other.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The morning papers announce the receipt of two certified checks of $2,500 each from the Sioux City Athletic club as a guarantee of good faith in its bid for the proposed Corbett-Jackson fight. Corbett is playing in Providence and Jackson is in Chicago. Both have already agreed to fight in Sioux City providing the conditions of the match are satisfactory. It will therefore be a comparatively easy matter for the club to arrange another meeting between the fighters.
