IT'S PLAIN OLD PIZEN OAK

DRUGGISTS CALL IT "RHUS TOXICODENDRON."

This was a topic for an interesting discussion by the Pharmacists—A Number of Papers Read—Personal Notes.

Rhus Toxicodendron did much to make things interesting for the visiting druggists at the Battery Park hotel last night and considerable time was devoted to a discussion of its properties. It is a safe guess that Asheville people never considered such a thing worth while, for although this plant is as familiar to Western North Carolina people as the old fashioned dog fennel, they know it and dodge it only as plain poison oak and they would feel inclined to resent that familiarity of the men of science which prompts them to call it "Rhus Tox" for short. The druggists know and revere poison oak partly for its medicinal properties and partly for the length of the scientific name, and these made it an interesting thing to discuss.

It was in the section of the convention on scientific papers that Rhus Tox was considered. Dr. H. M. Whelpley of St. Louis was responsible for its introduction into the meeting. He was down for a paper bearing on it, and he undertook to answer the query that had been given him as to whether or not the poison of the plant is destroyed when the leaves are dried. There is a difference of opinion on this subject, some authorities maintaining one thing and others insisting that these people know nothing about it.

To settle this matter Prof. Whelpley said he had experimented on himself in the interests of science and found that the handling of the dried leaves produced the eruption that is so familiar to every small boy who goes fishing and chit-chatting, and he added that not a shadow of doubt exists in his mind as to the poison of the dried leaf. He said he had learned also that men who handle the dried drug in making fluid extract are sometimes poisoned. A list of diseases for which the drug has been recommended was given in the paper and included chilblains, palsy, delirium, herpes zoster, rheumatism of all kinds, erysipelas, stings of insects, typhoid fever, eczema, and pemphigus. Remedies for the poison itself were also given and included, among many others, warm water and soap, strong coffee, opium, lime water and linseed oil, bromine, copper sulphate, alum, bismuth subnitrate, which hezel, stramonium or plain "Jimson weed," sassafras, alder and horehound.

This paper brought out considerable discussion and many interesting circumstances were related as to the poison. J. U. Lloyd of Cincinnati cited the case of a girl employed in a drug factory, who could not even enter a room where the dried leaf was being handled without being poisoned. On two occasions she was made sick for a fortnight by just stepping inside the room. The cause of the poisoning seemed to be that the effects of the poison in its dry form were merely dependent on individual characteristics, some persons being more susceptible than others.

Other papers read were as follows: "Advance sheets of an analytical comparison with United States pharmacopoeia," by J. B. Nuygevoort of Detroit; "Grain weight, a study of wheat," by J. U. Lloyd of Cincinnati; "Oil of cloves," by C. P. T. Fennel of Cincinnati.

At this morning's session of the section on scientific papers Dr. A. R. L. Dohme of Baltimore was elected chairman for the year to come and George Kaufman of Columbus, O., was made secretary. Among the papers read were the following: "A microscopic and chemical examination of cloves," by Henry Kramer of New York; "Hydrastine and Berberine," by A. R. L. Dohme of Baltimore; and "The relative value of different methods of assaying alkaloidal drugs and galenical preparations," by Lyman F. Kehler of Philadelphia.

Pharm. Notes.

Those who did not go Vanderbilt's on Tuesday's carriage ride went yesterday afternoon. There were 176 in the party and the trip was the same as Tuesday's with the addition of a visit to Connelly's.

The younger element of the Pharmaceutical visitors at the Battery Park enjoyed an impromptu German last night, led by Paul C. Sneed of Durham and Miss Mildred Phillips of Jacksonville.

Halberg and Oldberg are two Chicago boys who go to all the conventions and are always crapping with each other. It is said that an iceberg is between them but this is denied by the friends.

John Patton of York, Pa., is a constant attendant at the conventions. He is a bachelor, bald-headed and a great wit.

Prof. David M. R. Calbreth of Baltimore is the newest benedict of the association and has brought his bride with him. He is a professor of materia medica and botany at the American College of Pharmacy in Philadelphia.

D. A. O'Gorman, editor of the New England Druggist, did more to boom Asheville among New England druggists than anybody else. He distributed 3000 copies of the "Hand of the Sky" pamphlet through his section. O'Gorman is Irish, it is claimed, and has been all over the world. He is a natural wit. The pharmaceutical newspaper men in the city are as good druggists as the best of them and they have the additional advantage of being journalists besides. Chas. W. Blitmer of the National Druggist, St. Louis, is a very young man and a dancer. Caswell A. Mayo is editor of the American Druggist of New York and is a native of Mississippi. He is chairman of the committee on transportation and was enthusiastic wire puller for Asheville. H. M. Whelpley of Meyer Bros' Druggist at St. Louis is one of the leading men in the association, a doctor, a pharmacist, a professor in the St. Louis College of Pharmacy, secretary of the Missouri Pharmaceutical association and came very near being elected secretary of the American association. C. S. N. Halberg of the Western Druggist is professor of pharmacy in the Chicago College of pharmacy, a linguist of note and one of the best toast masters in the United States. H. R. Chears of Plymouth, N. C., represents the Pharmaceutical Era and the Druggists' Circular, and is a dancer and a favorite with the ladies. J. B. Morrison of the Montreal Druggist always attends the meetings and tried hard to secure next year's meeting for Montreal. Chas. Caspari, the new secretary of the association, represents the Pharmaceutical Rundschau of New York. Jon Helfman of Detroit is here in the interest of the Bulletin of Pharmacy. Merck's Bulletin is represented by W. C. Alpers of Bayonne, N. J.

RANSOM HERE WEDNESDAY

HE OPENS HIS CANYASS IN BUNCOMBE

The Speech Will Be Made In The Grand Opera House And A Vast Crowd Will Be Sure To Be Present.

Asheville is to have a distinguished speaker here next week in the person of United States Senator M. W. Ransom. Senator Ransom will arrive here on the afternoon train Tuesday, the 11th, and will address the people of Asheville and Buncombe Wednesday, the 12th, in the Grand opera house at 1 o'clock p. m. There will no doubt be a vast crowd out to hear the Senator. Everybody is invited to hear him.

MORE FOREST FIRES.

And her Town Destroyed—Finding Out The Dead.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 6.—Seven people were burned to death in the fires at Marengo, a few miles north of Ashland, Wis. The bodies have reached that city, but so badly burned that recognition is impossible.

DULUTH, Minn., Sept. 6.—The relief party which left here to search the eastern line of the forest fires sent word that near Sandstone they found 18 dead bodies in one dugout, into which the victims had rushed hoping to escape with their lives, only to find that they had jumped into a veritable furnace.

CARLTON, Minn., Sept. 6.—Fire last night burned everything at Cromwell except the school house. The flames came upon the place without warning. People saved their lives by getting into a lake. It is feared many settlers lost their lives. A relief train was sent from here at once and brought the people down. Even the ties of the railroad were burned. The fires are still smoldering, and another wind would cause still further disaster.

A PITIFUL SIGHT.

Mr. Sam. Grant's Distress—Merrimon and Stedman.

BRYSON CITY, N. C., Sept. 5.—The victims of the unfortunate accident here, Tuesday, Mrs. Sam. Grant and child, were former residents of this place. Possibly the most pitiable and affecting sight was the frame of father, who, almost deranged by grief, ran up and down the street clasping his breast the dead baby and lamenting his terrible loss. Overcome at last, he fell in a dead faint in the street. Mrs. Grant was the daughter of Elijah Raby of Macon county, and sister of John Raby of this place.

Hon. J. H. Merrimon or Maj. Chas. M. Stedman seems to be the people's choice for United States Senator out this way. It is very likely that Coffin & Macdonald will secure the contract to cut the timber for the late purchasers of the Whittier tract. These gentlemen have had a mill in operation here for a number of years and are thoroughly posted in the art of lumbering in this mountain region.

HUNTING THEM OUT.

The Lynchers Who Shot Six Negroes Near Millington.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 6.—The investigation into the lynching of the six negroes near Millington, this county, is being pushed with vigor. The grand jury returned five indictments late yesterday afternoon and more will follow today. Among those indicted are Detective W. S. Richardson who arrested the negroes and led them into the hands of the mob; A. Atkinson, the man who drove the wagon on the night of the lynching; Jeff Loxton, merchant of Knoxville, supposed to have been the leader of the mob; Mike Strickfadden and Jim Sessly, members of the vigilantes band. Reports from Knoxville and Millington state that the lynchers have become alarmed over the firm stand taken by Governor Turner and Judge Cooper, and many are making preparations to leave the country. A sheriff's posse went to Knoxville last night for the purpose of capturing those suspected of complicity in the lynching.

THE RIGHT TALK.

The Lynchers Of The Millington Negroes To Be Punished.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 5.—Governor Turney intends to punish the members of the mob who lynched the six negroes, alleged incendiaries, at Millington Friday night. The Governor says: "The Millington lynchers must be brought to justice. Such outrages at this Millington affair would disgrace any community and an example must be made of the savages who composed the mob. Lynchings must be stopped in Tennessee, if it is in my power to do so, and I believe that it is."

The North Pole Still Safe.

NORTH SIDNEY, N. B., Sept. 6.—The fishing schooner Rigel of the Gloucester, Mass., arrived this morning with passengers and crew of the ill-fated steamship Miranda, which left New York July 7, carrying Dr. Cook's arctic expedition. Miranda left Greenland August 9 for Holstenberg and struck a sunken rock outside the harbor. She was abandoned August 23, and her crew and passengers transferred to the Rigel.

These are Legal Hangings.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., Sept. 6.—Westry Warner was hanged here this morning for the murder of Lizzie Peak.

JERSEY CITY, Sept. 6.—Bernard Altenberger, who murdered Katie Rupp, was hanged this morning.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 6.—Noel Maizon was hanged here this morning for the murder of Mrs. Sophia Race.

Novelist and Poet.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Mrs. August Webster, the novelist and poet, died at Kew this morning. She was a daughter of the late Vice Admiral George Davies.

Inside History of The Great Railway Reorganization That Formed The Southern Railway—What It Means For The South.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 6.—The greatest combination of private capital ever before enlisted in one enterprise in the United States is supporting the Southern Railway company. From a thoroughly reliable source the Times is informed that the underwriters, as they may be termed, of the reorganization scheme are none other than the Rothschilds of London and Paris, the Vanderbilts of New York—Cornelius and W. K. The reorganization, as is well known, was undertaken and successfully consummated by Drexel, Morgan & Co. of New York, and J. S. Morgan & Co. of London. These two great banking houses interested their richest clients—the Rothschilds and the Vanderbilts. The syndicate represents the greatest aggregation of capital in the world—more than half a billion of dollars. The Rothschilds have one-quarter, the Vanderbilts one-quarter, Drexel Morgan & Co., one-quarter, and J. S. Morgan & Co., one-quarter. The reorganization plan provided for 30 millions of new capital and it is this sum that the new quartette has agreed to supply, and more if necessary. The money is to be used in heavier rails, new bridges, new equipment, terminals, extensions, etc. The first annual meeting of the stockholders is to be held at Richmond, Va., Tuesday, October 2, and bonds to the amount of $120,000,000 on the entire property will be authorized.

Thirty millions of the bonds are to be used in improvements. The expenditure of this large sum of money in the south along the line of the Southern railway will be far reaching in its effects. There is now very little doubt that the Southern railway project is simply the extension of the Vanderbilt system into and throughout the south. The Chesapeake and Ohio will no doubt become a part of the system whatever may be the immediate result of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton people's plans. Through the Cincinnati Southern the Big Four and the Vanderbilt system will be reached at Cincinnati. The controlling stock of the Central railroad of Georgia is held by the Southern Railway and when the property finally gets into the hands of the security holders, which is only a question of a very short time, it will be found that the Vanderbilts are in control.

The plans of the Drexel-Morgan people are now so near fruition that it is now no longer a matter of speculation. The greatest railroad combination on earth is now near completion. Twenty-five thousand miles of the best railroad property in the United States will soon be under control of the Rothschild-Vanderbilt combination. The beginning of the Southern railway is under the most favorable circumstances. The cotton crop will yield near one ten million bales and the South will not only have enough corn for its own use but a great surplus to sell. The general condition of the planters and farmers in the South were never better. Factories and furnaces are resuming in every direction. One order for 20,000 tons of pig iron has just been given the Tennessee Coal and Iron Co. by Matthew Addy & Co., of St. Louis, and in consequence the Cowan furnace has been put in blast, and the South Pittsburgh furnace will also be in blast in a few days. Every factory in the city of Chattanooga is at work.

The feeling that the South is on the threshold of a great era of prosperity seems to be daily increasing in the East. Eastern banks are freely offering money at low rate of interest to the Southern correspondents and large mercantile houses are crowding the South with commercial travelers. The Southern railway has its beginning at a propitious time.

Want To Keep Their Heads.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 6.—Two Japanese spies who were surrendered to the Chinese authorities by the United States consul under whose protection they were, were promptly tried and beheaded. In consequence of this summary action all the Japanese remaining in Shanghai, about 700, decided to leave the city at once.

Fate For The Mother-In-Law.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 6.—William Hayes, a dissolute young fellow, shot and killed his wife and seriously wounded his mother-in-law last mid-night. The couple were married only a year and a half ago.

Fatal Politics.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 6.—At a political meeting at Wayne, W. Va., last night, a row occurred between Camden and anti-Camden adherents in which four men were shot, one fatally.

A Drawn Battle.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 6.—Jack Dempsey and Billy McCarthy of Australia, fought 20 rounds to a draw last night in the arena of the auditorium athletic club.

Condition of Count of Paris.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—A dispatch from the Stowe House at 11:45 this forenoon says that the Count of Paris is rapidly growing weaker.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

—Governor Carr has offered rewards of $100 each for the capture of Bud Harris, Will Downs and Plate Bartlett, three young white men who, with Charles Bridgers, assaulted Jane Bryant in Haywood county some weeks ago. She is a raving maniac by reason of her physical condition and mental anguish. Bridgers has been captured, but the others are at large.

—Dr. J. M. Worth of Asheville, N. C., one of the wealthiest and best known citizens in North Carolina, was visited by thieves Tuesday night while nearly everybody in his house were at church; and he was robbed of $500 in cash and $15,000 in notes and bonds. One of the robbers has been arrested and the other is known. They were negroes.

—The Southern Exchange and Immigration association has been organized at Winston for the purpose of establishing colonies to locate plants, promote industries, negotiate securities, sell and exchange mineral, timber, and farming lands.
