Ex-Confederates To Support The Flag-A Great Procession. PITTSBURG, Sept. 11 .- Well on towards last midnight, that which, to the mem-

burg members of the organization was Why, the large importation order of perhaps the most remarkable scene since the close of the civil war took place when fine China dinner and tea ware, odd General John B. Gordon, one of the leading commanders of the Confederate army, appeared before the vast number for the obliteration of sectionalism and union soldiers were responsive to Senaator Gordon's plea gives no adequate idea of the reciprocal feeling manifested by the thunderous cheers and hearty hand grasps with which the ex-Confderate general was received.

It was regular meeting night of the Union Veterau Legion and the hall was thronged. General Gordon was the first member of the Confederate army to ever enter the hall. The great crowd gave him three very bearty cheers. General A. L. Pearson, in happy re-marks, introduced General Gordon whom

Turning to the Union dags which prousely covered the speaker's stand he de livered a very cloquent apostrophe, pledging his devotion and that of the ex-Confederates of the South to that banner and all that it symbolizes. He addressed the soldiers as "comrades and countrymen," and every time the Gen-eral, in his calm deliberate tones, used dress three tremendous cheers were

Corporal Tanner responded in an address of no less fervial eloquence, pledging the respect and admiration of all real Union soldiers who fought and suffered, or such loyal patriotic men and soldiers as were represented by Gen. Gordon. Corporal Tanner's remarks were de livered most enriestly and eloquently. He was scated in a chair, the recent amputation of his limbs preventing him from standing on his feet.

Representatives of the surving veterans of the Union army, gathered from nearly every State and Territory, marched this morning through the twin cities of Pittsburg and Allegheny and received the plaudits and homage of more than third of a million spectators.

It was a glorious day. General buishess in Pittsburg and Allegheny, wholesale as well as retail, was entirely suspended. The route selected lay, for the pended. The route selected lay, for the most part, over broad spacious avenues, and there was nothing to interfere with the absolute pleasure and enjoyment of both participants and spectators.

Promptly at 10:15 o'clock, senior Aidede-Camp Silas Barton reported to Commander-in-Chief Adams that the first division was ready to move. There was a roar of cannon, and a blare afterwises.

a roar of cannon, and a blare of trumpets and then, escorting a platoon of police, the pick and pride of Pittsburg's force, astride magnificent animals, the processive processi sion moved down Smithfield street, spanning the roadway from curb to curb. The mounted staff of the commander-in chief moved in columns of fours. It had as a special escort General Lander Post to, 5 of Lynd, Mass, and the post had in turn a mounted escort of nearly 200 local members of the order. TO SUPPORT BRECKINGIDGE They Want His Silver Hairs in the Congressional Butter.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 .- About 80 gov rament clerks employed by the treasury nd war departments and the government printing office left Washington this afternoon for their homes in the Seventh congressional district of Kentucky to lend their work to the support of Colonel W. C. P. Breckinridge in his coming derby and tourists fight at the primaries Saturday next for renomination to Congress in the Seventh Kentucky district. At the office of the Underwear, hosiery, staples, smallailroad company the men were busy buying tickets. To a reporter one said.
"You see we don't travel on passes but pay our way. Another thing, we go unsolicited by Col, Breckinridge and of our own free will and accord. We intend to see his silvery hairs again in the House H. Redwood & Co.,

of Representatives."

Another party of about 40 government employees will leave Washington Thursday, with the same object in view. In the party will be several officials in the departments.

POPE AND KING Remarkable Indications Of Re

conciliation LONDON, Sept. 11 .- Under the caption

Pons Pontificis" the Pall Mall Gazette prints an article with the object of showing that Premier Crispi is rapidly approaching reconciliation between the King and the Pope. Last Thursday, the article says, Signor Crispi's private secre-tary had a long interview with Cardinal Rampelo, the former being the first Italian official who has visited the vatican since 1870. His visit, the Gazette asserts, began a series of negotiations e endearing terms, he was visibly ted. At the end of his cloquent ads three tremendous cheers were in Massowah, immediately following which King Humbert gave his assent to the appointment of Cardinal Sarts of the Pope's nominee to the office of Patriarch, concerning which appointment there has been a prolonged disagreement between Vatican and Quirinal.

The most significant incident of all, however, is the act of Signor Crispi in going out of his way in his speech at Naples yesterday to compliment Candinal San Felix, the rich bishop of Naples and to summon the church and State to join their forces against the common enemy. The presence of Cardinal San Pelix on the platform, says the Gazette, betokened the willingness of the Pope to ome to terms.

THE BREVARD RAILROAD To Begin Soon-A Close Observer's Views

T. S Boswell, the engineer who i naking a preliminary survey of the route for the new railroad in Henderson and Transylvania counties, between the towns of Hendersonville and Brevard, ANTICEPHALALGINE was in Asheville yesterday on a short was in Asieville yesterday on a short business trip. It is expected that active work on the construction of the new line will be commenced within two weeks, probably at Hendersonville, and pushed to as speedy a completion as possible. Henry Warren & Co. are financiering the enterprise, and others interested are Messrs. McNeely, Mears and Jenks. Speaking of this railroad and the fact that it is to go to Hendersonville in-stead of coming to Asheville, an Asheville gentleman who keeps a watchful eye on Il matters pertaining to railroads said oday that in his opinion it was better that the road did not come to Asheville He argued that the line would no doub be a branch of the Southern and that i valley left open for another and more important road that will eventually be built to Asheville. This gentleman furthermore expressed a strong belief that when this Brevard road shall have been completed trains will be run through from Brevard to Asheville, using the track of the A. & S between Hendersonville and this city This is not an unlikely arrangement, and it will be seen that the building of this road will be of much benefit to Asheville although it is not built directly into
