POPULISTS WILL NOT NOMINATE

NOT STRONG ENOUGH FOR THAT IN THE NINTH.

The Third Party Folk Hold Their Convention and Have Considerable Talk.—Wm. Bumgarner is surely Chairman Now.

The Populists of the Ninth Congressional district held their convention here yesterday. It was livelier than would have been expected of a convention of its size, and furnished an opportunity for the clearing of what to some seemed a mystery as to the identity of Wm. Bumgarner, who was said to be the chairman of the Congressional committee. Incidentally it gave Mr. Bumgarner opportunity to state publicly that he intended to have his critics stopped.

It was nearly 4 o'clock when Prof. G. W. Hahn of Haywood called the body to order and inquired if Mr. Yancey, who was elected chairman two years ago, was in the house. There was no answer in the affirmative and the Professor asked Rev. John Ammons of Madison to take the chair, which the reverend gentleman did after a short speech of thanks for the honor. Prof. Hahn was made secretary. A motion was made that after the appointment of a committee of three on credentials the body should adjourn until 6 o'clock in order to give Chairman Yancey, who was expected on the train from the east, time to get up town. This prevailed and the committee was made up of C. L. Jarvis of Madison, A. D. K. Wallace of Rutherford and A. M. Parker of Jackson.

Ready For Business.—The delegates went into caucus at the Western hotel, and it was 6:10 when they reassembled for work. Committee-man Wallace read the report of the committee on credentials, which showed the following delegates present from the counties named:

Buncombe, Jas. N. Morgan, Samuel Archer, W. L. Henry; Haywood, G. W. Hahn, A. E. Ward; Henderson, Henderson, J. W. Freeman; Jackson, A. M. Parker; Madison, Rev. J. Ammons, J. E. Bryan, C. E. Jarvis; Macon, T. C. Bryson; McDowell, Brown and Patton; Swain, J. W. Roberson.

Chairman Ammons announced that unless some objection to the report was heard he would not deem it necessary to put the question to a vote. There was no objection and the report stood adopted.

Next, the convention wanted a permanent chairman and two delegates nominated Rev. Ammons. In doing this the mover and second sat still and the chair promptly informed them they must rise when addressing the chair. They rose and Mr. Ammons was made permanent chairman by a rising vote. He said if it were not so late he would make a speech, but went no farther than to thank the convention for placing him in the chair.

Prof. Hahn was elected permanent secretary. A Resolution Comes Up.

Delegate Wallace offered a resolution which had Prof. Hahn's signature, and which read as follows:

"Whereas, the State convention of the People's party and the State convention of the Republican party have agreed upon co-operation in the present campaign; and

"Whereas, the strength of the People's party in the Ninth Congressional district is not sufficient to elect a candidate of our own;

"Resolved, That in view of the present situation that this convention make no nomination."

Samuel Archer followed this with an amendment to strike out the preamble, and spoke to it. "I have spoken for the principles of the People's party," he said, "and my votes have been given for those principles. In 1888 we elected nothing in the way of representatives to Congress, although we had 19,000 votes in Missouri and 149,000 in the nation, but in 1892 we elected nine Representatives and three United States Senators. I have been charged with acting contrary to the policy of my party in this campaign, and I helped in Missouri and Cincinnati to formulate the political principles which were mainly adopted by the People's party at Omaha in 1892 and I have lived up to them. I cannot agree to the preamble. It is condemnatory of somebody."

Here Sealborn J. Harris of Rutherford caught up the preamble and going over to Mr. Archer said, amid cheers, "Who is condemnatory in that?"

Mr. Archer read it and said "I beg pardon I had misunderstood the meaning of it, thinking it was another preamble we had under consideration. I withdraw my motion to amend." Continuing, Mr. Archer jumped on coalition in no uncertain way. "It," he said, "we had gone forward without a seeming coalition, we would have received nearly 100,000 votes in the State, and they would not have been for the Republican party, but would have been clean votes."

Mr. Harris made the point of order that there was no motion before the house, but Mr. Archer was allowed to proceed by the chair's ruling. He said: "We might have been successful or we might not, but we would at least have been standing honorable. (There was some cheering here, and a delegate remarked that it must have come from the fact that they vote the way they kick and we are down. Both of the old parties are down on us, don't you know it? These are the indications today, as we know of telegrams passing from one of the Congressional candidates [meaning Richmond Pearson] asking that delegates favorable to coalition be sent here. That is as dishonorable as the signing of the wonderful demands we hear so much of. If for success, it would have been better to stand out for our principles."

Prof. Hahn—"I profess to be—"
Harris—"Don't anybody say a word."
Mr. Archer moved to amend the preamble by inserting "on the State ticket" after the word "co-operation," whereupon Delegate Wallace said every sensible man would new the State convention would not nominate a candidate for Congress. Mr. Archer replied: "Mr. Chairman, I am, then, not a sensible man," whereat the convention laughed. Continuing, "Somebody outside of the Ninth district must have nominated him, for I know the people of our party never did it. I shall vote against the preamble and resolution."

Delegate Parker said the adoption of the preamble meant the endorsement of one or the other candidates for Congress.

THE DEMOCRATIC CLUBS MEET

RANSOM AND JARVIS MAKE GREAT SPEECHES.

The former Senator says Congress will take up the silver question next—other speakers add to the interest of the occasion—A Parade.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 21.—Yesterday morning there arrived the following gentlemen who came to attend the meeting of the State Democratic association clubs: Hon. Chauncey F. Black, Lawrence Gardner, Charles H. Mansur and Josephus Daniels. The day was ushered in by the marching of the clubs behind national music. At 11 o'clock the exercises were opened by Col. Julian S. Carr, president, in an eloquent and elaborate setting forth of the demands upon the Southern people to remain with the Democratic party. He was followed by Senator Ransom. The Senator arraigned the Republican party for its neglect of the South and defended the Democratic party and the Senate tariff bill. The Senator said that the currency problem was the only one left to be dealt with by the party and it would be taken up next, before the fourth of March next. He believed in gold and silver being equal and in a redemption of paper money by the metal.

Senator Ransom was followed by Chas. H. Mansur whose effort had a most happy and wholesome effect upon the audience. His speech was chiefly devoted to a detailed and studied defense of the tariff bill, and he closed with a warm allusion to his life-long sympathy with the South and with a beautiful tribute to its people. Adjournment took place until 8 o'clock when the academy was packed to overflowing. Hon. Chauncey F. Black began his remarks by saying, "I am a Democrat from Pennsylvania," which brought down the house. "The reputation of Pennsylvania is none of the best," said he, "in this part of the world." The speaker continued in a happy vein, coming up slowly to a careful discussion of five issues and industrial needs. He was enthusiastically received. Mr. Black was followed by Hon. Lawrence Gardner, who made a rapid review of the Democratic party, pointing to its growth with a challenge for their credit. He urged active work by the clubs and indignantly denied that the business conditions recently existing were in any way chargeable to the Democrats.

Senator Thomas J. Jarvis of North Carolina was the last speaker, and his criticisms claim that he made the effort of his life. He took up in detail each issue before the people, especially those of national importance. The Populists and Republicans present winced and writhed under the mighty blows that he dealt. The enthusiasm of the hour was intense. The convention passed a resolution endorsing fully the Nicaraguan canal project. The meeting was a great success.

RANSOM IN JOHNSON.

The Greatest Speech Ever Delivered in the County.

SMITHFIELD, N. C., Sept. 19.—A large and enthusiastic crowd greeted Senator Ransom here today. He spoke for about two hours and held the undivided and closest attention of the audience. He perhaps made the very best political speech ever delivered in Johnston county. He was loudly applauded throughout, especially at the mention of Cleveland's name. His speech was exhaustive. He discussed every issue before the people, he evaded no question, but met the enemy fairly and "wiped up the earth" with the Third party. Buck Kitchin was here, but made no reply.

Populism is ebbing slowly here and is almost extinct.—Charlotte Observer.

CRAWFORD AND PEARSON.

The Same Old Gags From Pearson.—The Crowd With Crawford.

DILLSBORO, N. C., Sept. 21.—[Special]—Eight hundred people, two-thirds for Crawford, heard the speaking today. They were very enthusiastic. Crawford's majority is estimated at 500 in Jackson. The Duke has but few followers here. Pearson opened the discussion by distributing Alliance cards, but they don't take in Jackson any more than elsewhere. The negro Sixton and the mile age question occupy the remainder of his time. There is no hope for broken-down Democrats out this way. G. W. T.

CALLED OUT AND SHOT.

A Moonshiner's Friends Suspected of the Murder.

BRISTOL, Tenn., Sept. 21.—James Darcy, a merchant at White Top mountain, Virginia, was called by his door and shot by unknown parties Wednesday night. Darcy was suspected of giving information to revenue officers in regard to the location of illicit distilleries, which resulted in the arrest of a moonshiner named Woods. It is believed the murder was committed by friends of Woods.

A WALDENSES FUND.

It is Being Raised in Asheville for the Burke Colony.

The needy condition of the Waldenses in Burke county has been brought to the attention of the public by a Charlotte device who has recently been among these people. A request for help has been made, and a fund has been started in Asheville in their aid by Rev. Dr. Jas. Atkins and others. Donations may be left either at Powell & Snider's or A. D. Cooper's.
