HAYWOOD RADICAL AND MAD-THRASH'S CRYSTAL PALACE ISON MINISTER.

The Program Carried Out by the Conventions Vesterday-Profane and Dirty Utterances-Col. Lusk's Most

The joint gathering of what J. Wiley Shook calls "the opponents of organized Democracy"-the Republicans and 15 "My Lady Betty" party folk of the Thirty-third Senatorial district—in Asheville yesterday was not a thrilling affair. A little spasmodic enthusiasm was exhibited in some parts of resome of the names of the pretty paper dolls the house, but it all looked as though there was lacking that heartiness which ought to animate a party when it nominates a standard bearer.

> The work of the body was mapped out, and tollowed, of course. And although the honor of being one of the nominees was accorded James Montraville Moody of Hay wood, that stalwart, who cannot snore under the same bed quilt with "Buck" Kitchin, was not there to make a speech and fire the native breast that lugs about a hatred for all hings Democratic.

Two men were named for the Senate, committees were appointed and inci-dentally Harry Rumbough was allowed to hold down the chair and make a leclamation exposing his sores.

About 3 o'clock J. Wiley Shook rapped the delegates to order and submitted a few remarks. He called attention to the fact that the district for which nomina tions were to be made was one of the richest in the State. He alluded to the agreement at Raleigh by which the Reublicans were to recognize all parties who oppose organized Democracy, and was glad to see that part of the citizenship present. He called the agreement a "bargain," and hoped that, although the arrangement might not suit all exactly, differences of opinion would be put aside. Jeter C. Pritchard nominated the permanent chairman, and James Frank seconded it. Col. Lusk, also, took a hand as a second, a second hand, or something of that nature, and solemnly asseverated that to second the nomination afforded him one of the most "plessing pleasures" of his life. When it is known how much the Colonel loves bird hunting the force of this remark will be appreciated. He was glad to welcome such young men to the help if not to the ranks of the Repub-licans. The motion was submitted and carried.

Col. Lusk and Dr. I. A. Harris were appointed to conduct the permanent chairman to the desk, after the assurance from J. Wiley that he would there be ini-tiated and given the right hand of fellowship. Then the chairman drifted into an swept by ingorgeous panoramic display and THE CITIZEN was several times al-uded to, as "the great propagator of ruth," the "one sheet paper," etc. St. sion. Several swear words, really too naughty to be repeated, were interlarded. County government was ripped up the back. Some applause was heard as he

During a breathing spell Editor Roberts moved "a vote of thanks to our worthy chairman for his able and patriotic adoress." The string was pulled Frank Lawson was elected permanent cretary and C. E. Jervis assistant. Mr. awson did not appear at the secretary's

A roll call of counties showed all were represented, and a credentials committee composed of C. B. Mashburn of Madison, G, W. Cannon of Buncombe, and T. L. Green of Haywood was appointed. While the committee was out Lon Wells was called up to say a few words, and he responded very emphatically. A speech like his would never pass quarantine—the most powerful disinfectants would be as effectual as the pouring of water on the back of a duck in an endeavor to drown it. It was a dirty Committeeman Mashburn then re ported on credentials. The committee also reported on the representatives to the Pop. convention—a large body. Haywood sent no delegates, but those present were:

Buncombe-Jus. N. Morgan. Madison-W. P. Jervis, Rev. John Am-

The report was adopted and the nominations were called for. Buncombe, generous soul! had no candidate to offer, generous soul: had no candidate to oller, and Haywood asked to be passed. It was Madison's turn next and Delegate Mashburn placed before the body the name of James M. Moody of Haywood. This was seconded by Delegate Green of Moody's county, who declared Moody able and determined enough to frame and fight for the legislation he thought the people needed. Whether this was a tion by acclamation, which carried, and the chairman announced Moody as the nominee for the 32d district. He changed it to 33d, however.

This much of the program being cared for, J. Wiley suggested that the Populist brethren be allowed to make a nomina tion, in accord with the aforementioned agreement. Then Secretary Jervis took the floor and made a speech nominating Rev. John Ammons of Madison for Moody's side partner. Mr. Jervis' speech was clean and clear—the only stock. These securities are to be given thing wrong was his saying the Democrats would be turned out "as sure as the securities of the old company, on terms fully explained in the plan. the sun shines in the heavens today. (It was cloudy and drizzling nearly all o the afternoon.) Rev. Mr. Ammons had been agreed upon in the caucus of Pops

Maj. W. W. Rollins, in the tremulous voice that has been heard so many times in these parts, seconded Mr. Ammons' nomination. He thought, after the Reps. and Pops. had accomplished the repeal of the county government and election laws they could separate if their pathways should lie apart, but now was the time to stand together. In addition to this he moved the nomination of Mr. Ammons by acclamation. This was carried, although the chairman did not call for a nay vote.

In accord with a motion a campaign committee, composed as follows, with J. Wiley Shook as chairman, was selected:

Nominee Rev. John Ammons was called out and said he came before the people in a new role, although he had been ap-pearing before audiences for 40 years. He did not mean, however, that in taking up this race he would breathe an atmosphere that was different from that which he had breathed for 40 years. He had been born in a Democratic family, nursed at a Democratic breast, rocked in a Democratic gum (cradles were un-known then) and for more than 40 years had voted the straight Democratic ticket. But once he had made up his mind to change, all the powers of the eternal pit could not swerve him. He felt sure of his election—as sure as he could be of anything that was not a developed, material fact before his eyes. At this juncture the proceedings were stopped by adjournment.

JAMES BROWN MURDERED. Terrible Tragedy Nine Miles Fro

STATESVILLE, Sept. 27 .- James Brown superintendent of the Long Island Cotton mill on the banks of the Catawba river, nine miles from here was murdered last night by burglars who entered his premises for the purpose of robbery. It appears that Mr. Brown had been missing articles from his store near by, and last night he informed his family that he would sleep in the store and catch the thief. This was the last seen of him alive.

This morning his daughter repaired to the store, as is her custom, about 6 o'clock, put the key in the door and found it unlocked, opened the door and saw her father lying upon his face in the middle of the floor, a bullet hole in his head and evidences of a fearful stauggle beand evidences of a learner stand Blood the Times Union say that in tween the thief and Mr. Brown. INCOMPETENCY AND CORRUPTION No Wonder China Goes Ahead Very slowly as a War Power.

LONDON, Sept. 29.-Advices from Shanghai to the Central News says the Emperor attributes the recent defeats suffered by the Chinese forces to incompetency and corruption. This fact has caused almost a panic in the palace and has rendered the position of affairs in China extremely serious.

The correspondent of the Central News in Tokio telegraphed that the command-er of the Japanese warship Nawina re-ports that in company with the Akitsu-shima on September 23d, he made a shima on September 23d, he made a search of the gulf of Tairen-wan in Manchuria, and found stranded there the Chinese cruiser Kwangkai. Upon sighting the Japanese ships entering the gulf, the Chinese who were aboard the Kwangkai set their vessels on fire and fad.

About Twenty Per Cent. of the Orange Crop Destroyed in Some Localities-Hotels and Steamboats Damaged-

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 29.-Communications with South Florida is being restored and despatches are pouring in relative to damage done by West Indian cyclone which raged in the State Tuesday and Wednesday. The despatches all tell the same story of houses wrecked and crops destroyed, but no loss of life is

At Tampa several large cigar factories are wrecken. The First Baptist church and the palatial Tampa bay hotel were badly damaged. The total loss on build-ings at Tampa is estimated at $50,000. During the storm at Fernaudina, the British steamship Boston City and Elm-ville collided and were badly damaged. A dispatch from Palatka announces great damage at that place to the river craft. The steamer Princess was sunk between Palatka and Picolata. She is valued at $12,000. The steam yacht Maude was wrecked near Crescent City. At St. Augustine several houses wer wrecked and the losses will run up into the thousands. Nearly all the window in the city were blown in and the houses were flooded with water. The wave dashed over the sea wall and maderivers of the streets. Many wharves were blown away, Between Green Cove Springs and Palatka, on the St. John's springs and Palatka, on the St. John's river, 12 wharves have completely disappeared. Between Jacksonville and St. Augustine not a telegraph pole was left standing. The damage to the orange growers is incalculable. Dispatches to the Times Union say that in the large

All the vegetation was destroyed. No lives were lost. The water went down to its normal condition yesterday morning.

THE CZAR IN A BAD WAY. Ie Must Be Sent to Greece to Recover Ills Health.

BERLIN, Sept. 29 .- The Cologne Gazette today says that news has been received from Spala where the Czar is sojourning The inflamation of the kidneys from which the Czar is suffering has increased and his majestic's breathing is extremely difficult and painful. Prof Leyden, as eminent physician of Berlin, advises that the Czar be sent to Livadia, Greece, as soon as possible.

Breach of Promise Verdict for $10,000 COLUMBUS Neb. Sept. 28,-Miss Lillian Jackson, aged 19, won a judgment in the District court for $10,000 against Robert E. Wilsher, travelling salesman for a St. Joseph (Mo.) house. Miss Jackson as-serted that Wilsher promised, in January, 1891, to marry her; sent her to school to educate her, frequently visiting her in the meantime. In November last he broke the engagement, and had since refused to notice her. The jury was out only ve minutes.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 29 .- Stillwater was visited by a $150,000 firelast night, which destroyed the Stillwater manuacturing plant, the warehouse of the Minnesota Thresher company and four dwelling houses. The fire originated on the ground floor of the shop of the Stillwater Manufacturing company and spread from there to a large three-story frame building owned by the same con pany and used as a warehouse. Done by the Hurricane.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 .- The steamer E Rio which arrived from New Orleans this morning reports stormy weather on the passage. On the 26th she saw a schooner ashore near the Tennessee reef; also a hut down its south steel mill here for an large foreign steamer ashore eight mile indefinite time because of no further orders, throwing idle 1,000 employes.
