

THE ASHEVILLE DAILY CITIZEN

PRINTED DAILY (EXCEPT SUNDAY) AND WEEKLY... SUBSCRIPTION RATES: One Year $5.00, Six Months $3.00, Three Months $1.50, One Month in Advance .50

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1894.

Another New York bank clerk has confessed to having stolen a large sum from the bank, his work extending over a term of years.

Gladstone has good good luck on the big London dailies that it may almost give him a new lease of life if he could get it.

The CITIZEN recently printed a telegram stating that the United States Supreme court had decided that oleomargarine could not be shipped out of the state in which it was made.

Queer things break out in Knoxville than anywhere else. Here is part of the advertisement of a clothing dealer just going out of business:

"I absolutely brought tears to my eyes... when one thing on earth could possibly give me more pain than to part with this business—the pride of my life—and that one thing is this: If my wife should bring suit against me for divorce for non-support or other causes she may have occasion some time to do, it might cause me more pain. My clothing dealer in Knoxville will in a few days be out of order for all time to come."

OLD FORT MASONS. Unfortunately combination of Christmas, liquor and shot.

MARRIAGE. N. C. Dec. 27.—The Masons of Old Fort install their officers for 1895 in the Presbyterian church at that place tonight.

Mr. Thos. Grier who lived near Mt. Wood was killed by a mule last Saturday and died from the injuries.

About one-half mile from Old Fort on Christmas day, Ed Crawford, Geo. Sartin, Lin. J., Henry Ray, white boys and Steve Hemphill, (col.), each about 16 or 18 years of age, were out rabbit hunting with shot guns and corn cobs.

Mr. Finch, the marshal of Old Fort, brought the negro to Marion yesterday, where he is in charge of the authorities.

THREE MASKED MEN MORTALLY WOUND A FARMER.

NEW LISBON, O., Dec. 28.—Last night three masked men entered the house of William Johnson, six miles south of this place.

The Christmas Eve Pandemonium. Editor THE CITIZEN:—Whence originates the present satanic mode of celebrating the night before Christmas?

Advertisers' Maxims. The road to success is paved with good advertisements.

The first ad should be like a needle—an introduction to what follows.

The Supercilious Magnum. From the Indianapolis Journal.

Our Thriving Suburb. The Observer says: "Charlotte has gotten big enough for two horse sales to go on within a couple of blocks of each other."

IT'S A MILLSTONE. About a young man's neck to be a sufferer from nervous exhaustion, nervous debility, impaired memory, low spirits, irritable temper, and the thousand and one derangements of mind and body that result from, unnatural, pernicious habits, contracted through ignorance.

For a magazine which gives an amount of reading matter, an approach to in quantity, and unsurpassed in quality by any other periodical, the subscription price ($3.00 a year) is cheap.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

Burglars got $550 from the safe of M. Salkey, a Wilmington merchant, Saturday night.

The movement for a reformatory for young criminals is now so strong and earnest that it is a fair prospect that the Legislature will establish this much-needed institution.

New Journal: Monday, February 18, the Eastern Carolina Fish, Oyster, Game and Industrial Association begins its eighth annual exhibition in this city.

The Staves Springs property, in Warren county, has been sold to a syndicate of Northern sportsmen for $10,000.

The statement was made, on what appeared to be good authority, that each of the cotton mills in what is known as the "Laid trust," had made $30,000 during the past 12 months.

States' Landmark: Judge Arnold returned Saturday night from Corchaige, Moore county, where he held his last court.

WORRY A DIMME MADE. Mistake of Ten Cents in $1,000,000 Created a Peak of Trouble.

Once in a great while one of the 30 old bank clerks who are daily delegated to read into the Providence clearing house the accounts of their respective banks makes an error in his "figures."

At noon the clearing house telephone, which is that of the Roger Williams bank, began to ring, and from that time until the session was concluded bank after bank called up to know if its entries had gone to Canada and had left everything but a balance against the bank.

Farmers living 15 miles down Kingston pike could come to town yesterday with a 4,000 pound load of wheat in less time than the farmer living five miles out could with a 1,000 pound load, over his unimproved road.

This isn't talk either. The farmer 15 miles away could not have used up his team as the other fellow did with one half of the load.

Ye Hypocrites! In general of our nearby cities at this time crusades have been organized against fallen women.

Little And Big Thieves. Here is an incident that ought to strike as bitterly as a poniard thrust at the heart of the community:

HE WALTZED IN PERU.

Not Knowing What Etiquette Demanded, He Had a Haircut.

This one is told by a navy officer on himself. One of our handsome ships, with her handsome officers, was cruising in Peruvian waters, and while in port the grand ball in honor of the wife of the president of the republic was given.

The young officer was there in full uniform, which is worn enough at any time, but which, in a ballroom, after a number of waltzes in a giddy waltz, such as the Spanish descendants in Peru put up, is anything but an ice cooler.

After several turns about the room he began to feel the heat. The young man was burning up. "Will she never stop?" asked the young officer under his breath.

The Peruvian waltz lasts 30 minutes. That is a long time in a tight fitting uniform in a tropical climate.

Breakfast. The Watchman says: It may be almost said as goes breakfast so goes the day.

Marriage Ceremony—Finland. Marriage fees in Finland, as in Norway, are often prolonged for several days, even among folk of humble rank.

A Modern Digress. A man had a quarrel with his wife which led to a breach of the peace.

JAPANESE PAGODAS.

Earthquake Proof, and Therefore Able to Stand the Severest Shock.

The absence of buildings of any size and antiquity in Japan is ascribed to the destruction of them by the frequent earthquakes which occur.

There are many pagodas which are 700 or 800 years old and as solid as when first built.
