Life is Sweet.

This has been a saying used by man for many generations, but it has not been used by things that can't talk until the collars spoke to the cuffs at the Asheville Steam Laundry after using their famous Domestic Finish. The remark was called forth by the experience of the collars and cuffs that they lived so much longer under the new system, than with the Gloss Finish. Customers can have either, but we advise the Domestic. 43 West College street, Telephone 95.

Again, Otto Wilson is made the proxy, official representative, of the railway commission, before Judge Simonton at Wilmington on the injunction matter as regards the reduction of rates on Western Union telegrams. He thought they would pay, but the Attorney General on hand to aid him in representing the State. Now he says he learns that the Governor has, without consultation with him, employed four attorneys in the case. The Governor is notable for lawsuits and attorneys.

The prevalent opinion here all along has been that it was the Governor's purpose to oust two of the commissioners. But he can't do it. Figuratively speaking, they snap their fingers at him, and expect to stay just where they are.

Rev. Dr. P. E. Randall, colored, succeeds Rev. Dr. T. W. Rabb as pastor to the congregants at the Caledonia penitentiary farm on the Rounoke.

If Otto Wilson's Haysseed ever appear again it will give some may read. Some of Otto's friends are saying he will skin Senator Butler and nail his hide against the side of the house. He is certainly a very smart and disgusted with the Senator about this railway commission business.

Now Hansen's report to the State board of tax equalization gives 78,827 acres of land, average value $6.45; 2848 town lots, average value $135.38. The people there appear to be in the sporting phrase, very "shy" on provisions, as only $365 is reported on hand.

It appears that there came very near being trouble at Henderson during and after the execution of Brodie. There was a lot of talk by negroes against the death penalty for a long time.

The State keeps in the arsenal a supply of camp equipment and blankets for the State Guard. As to overcoats they have been in the possession of companies, but so gross is the carelessness regarding them that they are all ordered in and will be here at the arsenal and issued when needed, just as blankets are.

Many changes in the arrangement of the state museum are being made. The natural history collection is to be placed in the room now devoted to minerals, the latter going to the long room where the woods and timber have been shown. The woods are being removed to the lower room in the annex recently completed. An upper room of the annex will be devoted to geological specimens, building stones, etc. The natural history room will be devoted to ethnology.

REPUTATING GOV. RUSSELL

Made a Catspaw to Satisfy Private Grudge.

THE KICKER WAS ON VIEW

THE CRANK TURNED BY A PORTLY GENTLEMAN.

Is S. O. Wilson Good or Bad?—The Governor in Two Minds About It—Can't Oust the Commissioners—Shy on Provisions.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 3.—It is the Republicans who are reputating Governor Russell. Of course they know there is no use talking about impeachment. A Republican said: "He has no friends and no following in our party. It is practically unanimous against him." It is said on all sides that the Governor has been made a catspaw, to satisfy some private grudges, and that he knows he has made a great mistake.

When the railway commissioners entered their office yesterday they found a picture representing a portly gentleman in his shirt-sleeves, turning a crank, which moves a kicking machine, which has six feet, each with a big boot. The wheel as it revolves puts each boot with great force where it "does the most good." Two of these boots bear the name of a Senator, two of a judge, and two of an editor. The picture is framed and on view. There is no name on the portly gentleman, but no such name as an editor.

Is Otto Wilson a good man or a bad one? It is quite a Chinese puzzle. For instance last week he received a document from the Governor concerning his name as a delegate to represent the State at the late Convention at Omaha, September 2, the document expressing complete confidence in his integrity, good sense and loyalty to the people of North Carolina. But next day Otto received from the Governor a notification to appear before him September 1 to show cause why he should not be suspended for high crimes and some misdemeanors.

Again, Otto Wilson is made the proxy, official representative, of the railway commission, before Judge Simonton at Wilmington on the injunction matter as regards the reduction of rates on Western Union telegrams. He thought they would pay, but the Attorney General on hand to aid him in representing the State. Now he says he learns that the Governor has, without consultation with him, employed four attorneys in the case. The Governor is notable for lawsuits and attorneys.

The prevalent opinion here all along has been that it was the Governor's purpose to oust two of the commissioners. But he can't do it. Figuratively speaking, they snap their fingers at him, and expect to stay just where they are.

Death of Mrs. R. W. Pulliam.
News was received yesterday of the death of Mrs. M. C. Pulliam, widow of the late Col. Robert W. Pulliam of this city. Her death occurred in Bay City, Fla., on the 8th of August, and was sudden, due to heart disease. Mrs. Pulliam before her marriage to Col. Pulliam was Mrs. Peebles of Cleveland, O., and was for a few years a resident of Asheville.

LABOR'S RED LETTER DAY

'T'WILL BE NEXT MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 6.

A Great Display Expected on the Part of Business Houses—Sports and Dinner at Lookout Park in the Afternoon.

As Labor day draws nearer it becomes more and more apparent that this the first formal celebration of the wageearner's universal holiday—next Monday, the 6th—will surpass expectations and be alike creditable to the cause. Labor union and the city as well. The committees are working hard to cover every detail of preparation, and if the business houses make the display expected in the parade it will be an event that will not soon be forgotten.

The preparations were continued at a meeting of Central Labor union last evening, at which the work was still further mapped out and assigned to the appropriate committees. Everything is in readiness when Chief Marshal George S. Powell gives the word next Monday morning.

It has been decided that the address feature of the afternoon at Lookout Park will be dispensed with, and the dinner given wholly to the sports of the day. Hon. George Craig and Judge Eug. D. Carter were looked to speak, but their addresses will be delivered in the hall on some date in the near future.

One feature of the day that will prove of great interest, to some little folks at least, will be the dinner given to the inmates of the Children's Home, the Asheville Street Railroad company will donate the use of a car for the transportation of the children to Lookout Park, where the dinner will be served about noon. The general dinner will follow, and no charge will be made for anything in this section.

The union cordially invites the wheelmen and wheelwomen of the city to take part in the bicycle race. It is expected that many bicyclists will be in line. S. I. Bean will be the marshal with this section of the parade.

The official list of prizes follows: Men's bicycle race, half mile—First, gold medal, offered by M. M. Field; second, silk umbrella, by H. Redwood & Co.; third, bicycle lamp, by Eugene C. Sullivan.

Ladies' bicycle race, half mile—First, comb and brush set, by H. Taylor Rogers; second, picture and frame, by T. H. Lindsley; third, silk parasol, by the Bon Marche.

Men's foot race, 100 yards—First, silver medal, by the Gazette; second, box fine cigars, by L. E. Blount; third, by the Racket store.

Girls' foot race, 50 yards, open to girls under 12 years—First, picture and frame; second, salt and pepper stand, both by F. F. Bainbridge.

Potato race—First, box cigars, by Pat McIntyre; second, pipe, by A. Trifield.

Tug-of-war—Box of cigars to winning team, by Frank Loughran; Needle race, girls—First, belt and pocketbook, by Oestreicher & Co.; second, sailor hat, by Mrs. Lon Mitchell.

Foot race, 100 yards dash, open to professionals only—Cash prize, by the Boys' foot race, open to boys of 12 to 15 years, 100 yards dash—Prize, fine pocketknife.

Best drilled man in A. L. 1—First prize, medal, by Whitlock Clothing house; second, box of cigars, by W. C. Carmichael.

Bouncing—Men's prize, set of Shakspeare, by F. F. Bainbridge; ladies' silver cup, by B. H. Cosby.

"TIME WILL TELL."

What Collector Harkins Says of His Appointing Power.
Collector Harkins now has his mind made up, if he has not had it made up some time, as to his powers of appointment in certain instances in the revenue department. He holds that he has this power under section 3148 of the Revised Statutes, which reads:

"Each collector shall be authorized to appoint, by an instrument in writing, under his hand, as many deputies as he may think proper, to be by him compensated for their services; to receive such notices of appointment as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue may prescribe; and to require and accept bonds of such securities from such deputies. Each such deputy shall have the like authority, in every respect, to collect the taxes levied or assessed within the portion of the district assigned to him, which is by law vested in the collector himself; but each collector shall, in every respect, be responsible both to the United States and to individuals, as the case may be, for all moneys collected, and for every act done or neglected to be done by any of his deputies while acting as such."

The Collector holds that these deputies should be appointed by him, as he is responsible to government and individual for the acts of these officers, who are his agents. He has already appointed eight out of 15 deputy collectors, and said today that he had not exercised his authority to make all the appointments immediately because of certain conditions that make it to the service's interest not to do so. This district he said, is the most difficult in the United States to operate, and he did not think it wise to make all the appointments at once, preferring to go slowly and gradually to avoid any hitch in the administration of the affairs of the district. "But time will tell," he added, significantly.

The clerkships in the Collector's office are deputy collectorships, with the exception of the office held by R. V. Williams, and according to the Collector are under his appointing power.

LUETGERT'S WIFE'S RINGS

Found in the Vat and Identified by Woman Friends.

ENGAGED TWO DETECTIVES

VISIT TO NEW YORK TO GET TRACK OF MRS. LUETGERT.

Want to Prove One Crotty a Perjurer Two Stories About Detectives.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—At the Luetgert murder trial today the cross examination of Police Captain Schuetter was resumed. Attorney Vincent, for the defense, asked to have stricken from the case the captain's statement that he did not go to New York to find out whether Mrs. Luetgert had been seen here alive, but to look up the reputation of Crotty, a man who said he had met her on Broadway. Vincent said the statement was prejudicial.

The court refused to sustain the motion, and Captain Schuetter told of his trip to New York and his investigation of Crotty's reputation. He said the state wanted to be prepared to prove he was a perjurer in he appeared in the case.

Police Lieutenant George Hutchinson corroborated the testimony of Schuetter as to the visit made by him and Schuetter May 8 to Luetgert at the latter's home to secure from him a statement regarding the disappearance of his wife. He said Luetgert stated he had hired no detective to look for his wife, although he had previously told Richkese he had engaged two private detectives.

Officer Walter S. Dean of Sheffield station introduced the subject of the rings found in the vat in the sausage factory. It was officer Dean who found two gold rings in the vat, in which it was charged Mrs. Luetgert's body was dissolved in caustic potash. The officer told of the examination of the vat and the discovery of trinkets in the same manner as it has been related by other witnesses.

He was followed by Mrs. Ida Harris, who told of a series of witnesses who identified the rings as having been worn by Mrs. Luetgert.

Mrs. Sophie Tuohne testified that she had a conversation with Luetgert May 8 regarding the disappearance of his wife. He told her he had paid $20 to two private detectives and told her there was more money for them if they needed it.

Beware!

Beware of traps set to catch customers, traps baited with a few goods at special low prices, goods nobody wants at any price—once caught in these traps, you pay it all back in exorbitant prices for prescriptions and other goods—remember we sell everything as low as can be sold—to name over the articles and prices would be tiresome as they run into the thousands—we lead the profession in the "war on high prices," and in everything else pertaining to the Drug Trade—we buy more goods and sell more goods, and sell them at lower prices than any drug store west of the Blue Ridge—there is no harm in saying, we buy in quantities and pay cash—this lets us in on the ground floor for Drugs and the public have made the discovery—hence we are all the time busy waiting on customers at Dr. T. C. Smith's Drug Store on the public square—get a move on or you will be left.
