President McKinley is indeed to be nitied. After a month of war talk, war planning and planning to avoid war. he went to church Sunday only to hear his minister deliver a war sermon!

Those who are anxious for war-there are a few such perhaps-will be interested in learning that " a buzz saw for the amputation of limbs" has been invented. An electric motor will furnish and it is not likely that Congress or the the power to run the saw, "which will be mounted on a flexible shaft like that which a dentist uses, only larger. The are attached to a handle by which the wreck in obtaining the material for surgeon is able to direct the saw at any angle." Further interesting details are possible a repetition of the to the effect that "not only does the saw cut much faster than a hand tool. but the heat of its rapid cutting sears the flesh and blood vessels, and the processes of nature are advanced to a stage which by the old method is reached only after an hour or two." It is evident from this and other promised nevelties that a modern clash at arms plosion was external Spain must pay for the damage inflicted and for the will be like a buzz saw all the way ives sacrificed. through-from the time the first gun is fired until the last leg is run against the surgeon's whirling exponent of what Gen. ### A Surprise.

ocrat takes of the Ewart investigation is a surprise. It speaks of "mere sprigs of the law" being driven into the fight on Ewart as though the age of the objectors to Ewart's confirmation was a vital point; while it confesses that "as to what they have sworn up to this time we are not informed." If not informed, how is the Democrat in post tion to condemn so freely? The facthat Ewart is too decent for his partyif it is a fact-and that the editor of the Democrat knows nothing but good of him, cannot change the duty of those, be they "sprigs" or ancient "limbs" of the law, who believe he is unfitted for the high position to which he has been nominated. Believing that, they are serving their day and generation with courage, and they are answering an obvious demand and necessity that the bench be kept above reproach. Neither the duty which Frank Carter nor that which Fred Moore has performed, in connection with this investigation has avoided on the ground that the editor sinzas who are known to be slowly of the Democrat knew Ewart 25 years starving to death. At least 3000 more in Set

The editor of the Democrat should remember that Ewart cannot be hurt by this investigation except by his record, and then only unless it is such as makes his aspiring to succeed Judge about 43 each day here. This con-Dick a thing to be defeated on the grounds of lack of fitness. All the cir- the administration at Washington, coenstances of the nomination of Ewart and the composition of the sub-committee are in his favor. He is backed by the President of the United States; his political friends are a majority of innocent man until the contrary is proved in the presence of one of the best lawyers and sharpest questioner urged by Senator Pritchard, another Republican. If Ewart is the man for the place then he will be confirmed, and if he is not, surely neither the editor of the Democrat nor any other good citizen desires his confirmation.

The Situation.

One month ago tonight the battleship Maine was blown up in the Spanis harbor at Havana at an anchorage st lected by the Spanish harbor-maste Since then, to judge by the contents of the newspapers and the leading topic of conversation in all circles of social and business life, we have been trans formed, in the twinking of an eye, int a nation of war rather than of peace There has been placed to the order the chief magistrate of the governmen the enormous sum of $50,090,000 to be expended in defense of the country as may seem to him best. Probably with the purchase of the two Brazilian warships at least one-third of that amount is already expended.

On the part of the War Department we know that a large part of the standing army, infantry and cavalry, is eith er on the way; or ordered to be so soon to the Atlantic coast, with Atlanta as a center, the evident purpose being to guard the fortifications at the coast ci ties and to be ready to get an army of perhaps 30,000 men into Cuba on short notice if that should be necessary. This last operation would call out a large number of the militia of the Atlantic states. Great quantities of munitions of war are being contracted for and shipped to different points on or near

On the part of the Navy Department activity is no less the characteristic. Every available vessel that can be used for open-sea work or as a means of harbor defence is being made ready. and the monitors-floating batteriesare, one by one, taking their places a supposedly strategic points,

It is believed that our Atlantic coas is already in a fairly well fortified condition from Maine to Fiorida. Islands and capes that command the entrances to the large cities, and channels in which warships might lie and throw shells, effecting untold destruction and distress, are believed to present obstacles sufficient to deter an enemy h whatever naval force he might come.

DON'T TRUST CONGRESS? McKinley Wants to Give an Example

of One Man Rule. From a Washington telegram

How to make known to Congress and the American people the findings of he court of inquiry is the question that s causing the deepest solicitude, for the President realizes how much depends upon the temper with which the people may receive the verdict. It is ossible that the President will not send the report to Congress, as he de sires, above all things, to retain control of all phases of the controversy with Spain. It is largely for this reason that he has not sent to Congress the reports from the consular agents in Cuba calid for by the resolution of the Senate and House. It was the intention of the oon as they could be prepared. This determination has been changed, however, and it is now officially admitted that the correspondence will not go to Congress until the report of the board of inquiry is made public, and perhaps not for some time thereafter.

BRAND NEW SUPERSTITION Belief That it is Dangerous to Put a Hat on a Bed. From the Washington Post.

I learned of what is to me a brandew superstition just the other day and I trembled to think of the risks have been running all these years in my ignorance of it. It was at an informal evening entertainment at the house of a woman I know, and in the room set apart for the wraps of the women guests was a maid who was diected to see to it that nobody's hat was placed on the bed, for the laying of hat on the bed, as the hostess explained later, always signifies the aproaching death of an intimate friend of the house. The superstition is, I believe of Sicilian origin, and it's a very good superstition, I think, inasnuch as it tends to preserve the freshness of dainty bed coverings.
