A fox-chase, attended by about 250 ladies and gentlemen, was an event of the day. The fox was a red one and strong, and he was released on carrier bill, just above the old racetrack. About 75 enthusiasts followed the hunt on horseback. Reynard was given a 35 minute start, and S. E. Cunningham's pack of 22 hounds was released on the trail. The chase lasted about 50 minutes. The scent was good and the fox stayed alive. Harry Smith was in at the death and won the brush. He presented the honors to Miss Charlotte Prime of New York, who won them by being the foremost lady rider.
