

Your Purse...

The first and vital consideration when it comes to drug buying is the integrity and capability of the druggist. This being assured the next question is how it will affect your purse.

We believe it pays to treat our patrons liberally, in giving them the best goods that can be bought and the best service we can render.

The Epworth League of North Asheville Methodist church held a social meeting last evening, the members attending in the parlors of the church at her home on Liberty street. The program included piano solos by Miss Daisy Ownbey, Eva Brown, Ethel Wilson and Bessie Johnson; guitar solo, Mrs. C. P. White; violin solo, Miss Ethel Ray; and vocal solo by Rev. E. K. McLarty. The evening was spent delightfully.

The practice of expectorating on the floor of the opera house should receive the attention of the Public Health association. This nuisance is increasing rapidly, and the efforts of the management to check it are unavailing. Its prevalence shows that there are a great many people who lack the primary instincts of gentility. "Don't expectorate on the playhouse floor if you expect to rate as a gentleman." It is a great deal worse than making bad puns.

The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church was held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. H. T. Collins, 303 French Broad avenue. Pastors were read by Mrs. E. F. Campbell and Mrs. W. G. Smith on the subject of the beginning of mission work in the Congo Free State. The society also listened to an address by Mrs. F. Parks of Boston on the Indian missions. Refreshments were served, and a very pleasant afternoon was spent.

A school director from one of the western states visited Bailey street school recently and expressed his appreciation of the manner in which the school was conducted in very complimentary terms. The neatness and artistic decoration of each room was noted, and after listening to the reading and music in the principal's room, he spoke of the close attention, intelligent reading and delightful singing of the pupils; the style of position, pronunciation and graceful deliberation of those who read being especially praised.
