What the Packer Says of Premier Peas

Cought young, first delicate settings from winged white blossoms, plucked before they have been hardened by contact with a wicked world. FLAVOR? None has ever been able to put into cold word-phrases the taste of young green peas. Discerning cooking develops this flavor, which can be tasted and enjoyed in its perfection in PREMIER PEAS, but described—never!

Those who would satiate the eye with color will find no brilliant greens in PREMIER PEAS. Foreign Peas are no substitute for use of sulphate of copper. PREMIER PEAS wear their pale green coats with conscious innocence of the chemist's aid.

PEABODY NORMAL LOOKING THIS WAY

Asheville Likely To Become the Summer Home of the College

Professors Bourland and Huntington, Are in the City.

PLANS TO BE OUTLINED AT A MEETING TO BE HELD MONDAY EVENING IN THE COLLEGE CHAPEL.

It is more than likely that Asheville will become the summer home of the Peabody Normal college of the University of Nashville.

Professors Bourland and Huntington of the Peabody Normal arrived in Asheville this morning to discuss the matter of holding the regular summer sessions of the college in this city, and they will outline the plans to members of the board of trade and the citizens of Asheville, including the resident graduates of the Peabody Normal, at a meeting to be held in the chapel of the Asheville College for Young Women Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

President John A. Nichols of the board of trade received a letter from Professor Bourland Thursday in regard to this most promising move for Asheville and yesterday morning while Mr. Nichols, President A. A. Jones and Superintendent J. D. Eggleston were discussing the matter Professors Bourland and Huntington walked into their meeting. The letter is as follows:

"Mr. J. A. Nichols, President Board of Trade, Asheville, N. C.
Dear Sir:—We have been in correspondence with officials of the Southern Railway regarding the location of a summer session at Asheville. Throughout the south we have many hundreds of graduates and other students occupying prominent positions in schools and colleges. Many of these students study during the vacation. So there have been coming from year to year ever stronger demands for the summer session.

"Our plan is not to have an ordinary summer school, but to transfer as far as possible our faculty and college to some desirable summer climate. Work done during the summer will count on a degree just as work done here in the winter. Therefore we believe that the summer attendance would be large if we could get a desirable location with favorable rates from the railroad and the board.

"If we should locate in Asheville the attention of our students in all parts of the south would be turned to your city. I cannot see how you could have a better advertisement, because these thousands are men and women of influence. In a short time a stream of visitors would result. An ordinary summer crowd is variable, but ours would be constant and increase from year to year.

"Our session would be the nucleus for a great educational gathering each season, which in addition to bringing you hundreds of visitors would have a beneficial influence on your community.

"The Peabody Normal college is maintained by the state of Tennessee, and the state of Tennessee has made for the expense of the summer session, and a fund never will be until we can start. If we once do this we hope the board will make an appropriation annually for this purpose, and not have to depend on the important thing is to make a start in some desirable community, where we can have suitable facilities in the way of buildings, board, etc., and the support of the people.

"Please note catalogue sent under separate cover, in our department alone we have 600 students, in all departments about 1400, easily the largest of Southern educational institutions. With proper conditions we ought soon to have 600 or more in regular attendance at the summer session. If so, we could add at least 1200 people to your population during July and August.

"Our committee is planning a visit to your city this week. We would like to meet a large number of your citizens, men and women, Saturday or Monday night. If you can arrange for such a meeting I think the important thing is to make a start in some desirable community, where we can have suitable facilities in the way of buildings, board, etc., and the support of the people.

Besides Miss Gray, Miss Mary Kimberly is a graduate of the Peabody Normal.

Present Nichols earnestly requests that members of the board of trade will attend the meeting Monday evening, and that as many others will come as can be had. It will be a great step for Asheville if it becomes the permanent summer home of such an institution as the Peabody Normal. The college will then be as much an Asheville as a Nashville institution.

TO PUSH CANVASS FOR AUDITORIUM

IMPORTANT MEETINGS OF THE COMMITTEE ON SUBSCRIPTIONS CALLED.

The committee and sub-committee on subscriptions for stock in the Auditorium met yesterday afternoon to plan a thorough canvass of the city. Mr. McNamee being unable to attend, T. S. Morrison presided.

The plan of canvass is set forth in the following motion, which was adopted:

"That the chair appoint the chairman of five sub-committees who shall constitute a committee to be charged with the duty of making a list of all possible subscribers to the stock of this company, individual, corporate and otherwise, and to appoint the names of the membership of the general committee secured through the several sub-committees. And it shall be the further duty of said committee to constitute their several sub-committees from the membership of the general committee, and the chairman of each sub-committee being ex-officio chairman of the committee."

The following were appointed members of the committee: Frank C. Carter, H. Taylor Rogers, T. W. Raoul, F. Stikeleather and John A. Nichols.

This committee held an adjourned meeting and began work at once. As soon as the names can be secured, an active canvass will be inaugurated. It was decided that the best plan would be to allow each sub-committee to canvass its list in whatever manner appears to be most effective.

The important meeting of the auditorium committee was held this morning at which for the purpose of soliciting contributions to the proposed five districts, a committee being appointed to solicit subscriptions in each district.

Very important meetings upon which a full attendance is urged, will take place Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The following are the meetings: District No. 1, J. A. Nichols, chairman, at office of Martin & Webb, library building; district No. 2, H. Taylor Rogers, chairman, at office of Martin & Webb, library building; district No. 3, Frank Carter, chairman, at office of Martin & Webb, library building; district No. 4, F. Stikeleather, chairman, at office of Martin & Webb, library building; district No. 5, F. Stikeleather, chairman, at office of Martin & Webb, library building.

DEWEY IS GETTING THE GRAND LAUGH

Emphasizing His Folly in Dabbling in Politics

Butler Made Dizzy by a Trip Down the Potomac

LOQUACIOUS LINNEY TRIPPED UP IN THE HOUSE BY MR. KLUTZ—STATUS OF PEARSON-CRAWFORD CASE.

Washington, D. C., April 7.—(Special.)—A great many members of congress have been taking pleasant trips down the river to see the submarine boat Holland dive in the waters of the Potomac. Invitations have been extended from time to time to different men in the various departments of the government, and on each occasion two have been named. "Paradise" and "Hell" were the names of the two who were named. One of these is the Sybil, a swift going yacht, which is anchored at the navy yard for the benefit of the president, and the other is the Josephine, a yacht owned by the company which is interested in the construction of the submarine boat Holland.

The North Carolina senators and members have gone down on one or another of these trips, and have seen the Holland dive in the Potomac. He returned to the capital feeling rather poorly, but recovered a little after a good night's rest. He accompanied him from the yacht Sybil to a committee room at the capitol.

There has been lots of festivities about the city, and the friends of Dewey are in a high order, but there has been plenty of comfort and good cheer always for the nation's guests. One of these is the Sybil, a swift going yacht, which is anchored at the navy yard for the benefit of the president, and the other is the Josephine, a yacht owned by the company which is interested in the construction of the submarine boat Holland.

Linney tripped up during the consideration of the Hawaiian bill here this week. Representative Linney of North Carolina was badly tripped up by Representative Klutz. Judge Linney was taking advantage of an amendment in the Hawaiian bill about free suffrage to propose a little campaign material for use in North Carolina. He denounced the proposition as a tax on voters and was starting alone in a jolly way, making the house believe that a similar provision, most odious in its language, was being proposed to the people of North Carolina in a constitutional amendment.

The voice of Mr. Klutz, who is very able in argument, sounded across the house: "I will ask the gentleman if he believes that the proposition is not a very heavy tax on voters in the North Carolina law to any extent after this unexpected interruption."

Representative Roberts of Massachusetts, who will have charge of the Pearson-Crawford contest when it comes up in the house, said today that he had no idea when the case would be called up before the house. When he heard Mr. Klutz's question he did not answer.

"Isn't that so?" queried Mr. Klutz again in a thunderous tone: "Answer."

Judge Linney evaded the question, but he did not emphasize the point clause in the North Carolina law to any extent after this unexpected interruption.

THE LIFE HISTORY OF ZACHARIAS HAYNES

HIS WIFE WAS A DAUGHTER OF ONE OF THE WORLD FAMOUS SIAMESE TWINS.

Zacharias W. Haynes, the father of C. L. Haynes of this city, whose death at Morganton was noted in The Citizen yesterday, was a native of Yadkin county and was 52 years of age. At the age of 11 typhoid fever caused the loss of his hearing. He entered the North Carolina school for the deaf and blind in 1861, and was a pupil of that institution during the civil war.

In 1865 he became a teacher in the school, and in 1868 was elected one of the principal teachers of the colored deaf department, which position he held for 21 years. He was transferred to the white department, and removed to Morganton with the school in 1884, where he faithfully fulfilled the duties of his post up to the time of his death.

In 1873 Professor Haynes was married to Miss Louisa E. Bunker, a daughter of one of the world-famous Siamese twins. A sketch in the Deaf-Mute Voice of April 16, 1886, says: "Some men are great by what they do, others by what they are." Mr. Haynes merits the epithet especially in the latter, for his gentle and manly bearing in and out of the school room, his general good nature, his deliberation and discretion, must bear fruits in the lives and characters of the many hundreds of pupils who have come under his influence during the 30 years of his professional life."

DELIGHTFUL MUSICAL

Given at Normal and Collegiate Last Evening.

The musical given by the pupils of the Normal and Collegiate institute last evening was one of the most successful and enjoyable of the many delightful entertainments of a similar character which have taken place, and was a success from every standpoint. A large and appreciative audience was present and the program was of more than the usual interest.

The musical and recitative features were in admirable taste and rendered in a manner that reflected great credit on the performers.

A new and delightful feature of the program was the recitation of "Paradise and Hell," by a number of young ladies in appropriate costume, accompanied by an admirable reading of the poem by Miss Pearl Clark, the English teacher.

At the conclusion of the program a splendid banquet was given to the pupils and an hour or more was very pleasantly spent in this way.

FOUND ON THE TRACK

A Woman, Young and Pretty, Discovered by Flagman on Murphy Road.

Yesterday about 1 p. m. the flagman of the Murphy train found a woman lying on the track at the end of the bridge at the junction of the Murphy branch, near the city. The flagman, who was running in advance of the train, pulled her from the track. She was young and pretty and appeared to be insane or intoxicated. She stated that she was from Pennsylvania and had laid down on the track from nervousness, being weak with hunger. She said she was alone and without money.

The name has not been learned, nor is it known what became of her after the train passed.

TEXAS CLOUDBURST DOES VAST DAMAGE

Colorado River Rises Eleven Feet in Three Hours.

St. Louis Cannonball Train Wrecked at Washout.

$1,500,000 DAM AT AUSTIN BREAKS UNDER THE PRESSURE— CRAZED PEOPLE FLEEING TO HIGH GROUND.

Austin, Tex., April 7.—This section was visited by a cloudburst this morning at 3 o'clock and the entire country is inundated. The Colorado river has risen 11 feet in three hours and is rising three feet an hour. The storm was the most terrific on record, sweeping everything before it.

As a result of the storm the bridge on the International & Great Northern railroad, 15 miles north of here, was washed out, wrecking the St. Louis southbound cannonball train, ditching the engine, mail car, one passenger coach and one sleeper. Quite a number of people are reported burnt, but a list of casualties is not obtainable.

The damage to this section of the state will be in the hundreds of thousands. Another flood is feared, as the coldburst is in the path of the immense flood of last spring which wrecked so many millions worth of property.

The Austin & Northwestern railroad, operating to the northwest from here along the Colorado river, is a serious loser as a result of many of its bridges being washed out and the track being washed away. No trains are being operated today.

Reports from all sections tributary to the Colorado river report great damage to property.

Unconfirmed rumors say a family of six persons living on the river west of here were drowned. Quite a number of people living in the bottoms had to leave their homes at 4 o'clock this morning, water having flooded them to a depth of three feet.

Reports from the Concho river are that the worst storm ever known is raging there, attended by loss of life and property. All water falling there will have to pass here, and it is feared this city's mill and a half water and light plant and dam will suffer, as the water is now within two feet of the danger mark.

THE DAM BREAKS.

Dallas, Tex., April 7.—At 12:30 this afternoon all telegraph and telephone communication with Austin and San Antonio was lost.

A telephone message received from Austin at 11:25 this morning.

The breaking of the dam was something terrible. People along the water line of the river are fleeing for high ground. Smithville reports people of town nearly crazy from fright.

FOUND ON THE TRACK

A Woman, Young and Pretty, Discovered by Flagman on Murphy Road.

Yesterday about 1 p. m. the flagman of the Murphy train found a woman lying on the track at the end of the bridge at the junction of the Murphy branch, near the city. The flagman, who was running in advance of the train, pulled her from the track. She was young and pretty and appeared to be insane or intoxicated. She stated that she was from Pennsylvania and had laid down on the track from nervousness, being weak with hunger. She said she was alone and without money.

The name has not been learned, nor is it known what became of her after the train passed.

THE LIFE HISTORY OF ZACHARIAS HAYNES

HIS WIFE WAS A DAUGHTER OF ONE OF THE WORLD FAMOUS SIAMESE TWINS.

Zacharias W. Haynes, the father of C. L. Haynes of this city, whose death at Morganton was noted in The Citizen yesterday, was a native of Yadkin county and was 52 years of age. At the age of 11 typhoid fever caused the loss of his hearing. He entered the North Carolina school for the deaf and blind in 1861, and was a pupil of that institution during the civil war.

In 1865 he became a teacher in the school, and in 1868 was elected one of the principal teachers of the colored deaf department, which position he held for 21 years. He was transferred to the white department, and removed to Morganton with the school in 1884, where he faithfully fulfilled the duties of his post up to the time of his death.

In 1873 Professor Haynes was married to Miss Louisa E. Bunker, a daughter of one of the world-famous Siamese twins. A sketch in the Deaf-Mute Voice of April 16, 1886, says: "Some men are great by what they do, others by what they are." Mr. Haynes merits the epithet especially in the latter, for his gentle and manly bearing in and out of the school room, his general good nature, his deliberation and discretion, must bear fruits in the lives and characters of the many hundreds of pupils who have come under his influence during the 30 years of his professional life."

DELIGHTFUL MUSICAL

Given at Normal and Collegiate Last Evening.

The musical given by the pupils of the Normal and Collegiate institute last evening was one of the most successful and enjoyable of the many delightful entertainments of a similar character which have taken place, and was a success from every standpoint. A large and appreciative audience was present and the program was of more than the usual interest.

The musical and recitative features were in admirable taste and rendered in a manner that reflected great credit on the performers.

A new and delightful feature of the program was the recitation of "Paradise and Hell," by a number of young ladies in appropriate costume, accompanied by an admirable reading of the poem by Miss Pearl Clark, the English teacher.

At the conclusion of the program a splendid banquet was given to the pupils and an hour or more was very pleasantly spent in this way.
